DAILY SENTINEL.

MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 4.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

Removal.

The Sentinel office has been removed to the new Sentinel building, on the corner of Meridian and Pearl streets, half a square south of Washington street, and nearly opposite our old location, where we will be pleased to see all Democrats, and others, having printing to do.

☞ The City Council meets to night.

☞ Where was the fire Saturday night last?

☞ Skating now upon White river and upon the canal.

☞ Snow fell throughout yesterday and the sleighing was glorious.

METROPOLITAN.—The greatest of all modern tragic actresses, Emma Waller, commences an engagement to night, as Lady Macbeth.

☞ On the trip from Jeffersonville to this city ten men of the 35th Indiana were frost bitten, five of them so severely that they were sent to the hospital.

☞ Col. Wilson, of the 10th Indiana, commanding a brigade in Beard's Division, has arrived in the city from Chattanooga, on his way home at Lafayette.

A CHEAP LOT.—Lot No. 89, in Dunlop and Tutewiler's addition to Indianapolis, will be sold very cheap, for cash. Inquire at this office. dec25–tf

☞ The 60th New York, Col. Abel Goddard, arrived Saturday, returning home. They are delayed here because of the interruption of railroad traveling consequent upon the recent stormy weather.

☞ There was a story on the streets yesterday that some ten or twelve rebel prisoners, out of a number that arrived by rail road, had frozen to death on the train. No facts could be ascertained.

NOTICE.—All persons indebted to me for medical services are respectfully requested to make immediate payment. Office hours from 2 to 4 o'clock P. M. JOHN M. KITCHEN
January 4, 1864. jan 4 d1w.

MASONIC NOTICE.—The members of Indianapolis Council, 1802, are hereby notified that the annual election of officers of the Council will be held this (Monday) evening at 7 o'clock.
CHARLES FISHER, Recorder.

LOST.—By a lady, on the morning of January 1st, somewhere between the Palmer House and East Market space, a brown Fur Victorine, rubber fastening broken. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at the Journal office.

☞ Chickens roosting in orchard trees in this vicinity were, upon New Year's morning, discovered upside down, hanging by their claws to the twigs, frozen hard and solid. It was raining about the time they went to roost.

LAST NOTICE.—I again notify persons who have left clothing with me to clean, or repair, to call and get them during the present week; otherwise they will be sold for charges.
JOS. HARRIS,
38 South Illinois street.

NEW SUITS.—As this is the season when every person wants a new suit, they should call on G. H. Heitkam, No. 17 North Illinois street, and examine his stock of piece goods and select a comfortable suit for the season. New goods just received. dec1–tf

NOTICE.—Those indebted to Drs Parvin and Fletcher for professional services, are informed that their accounts have been placed in the hands of A. W. Patterson, for collection.
dec18–d2w

☞ The rubicund countenance of Lieutenant Martin Igo, Quartermaster of the 35th Indiana was visible about town yesterday. The service agrees with Martin. It was made for him and he was made for it. He is as queer, tangential, opinionated, resolute and self reliant as ever. In short, he is the same old Igo.

SUBURBAN RESIDENCE FOR RENT.—A brick cottage of five rooms—one mile and a half from the city, on a gravel road—with 14 acres of ground attached, is for rent by Delzell & Jones, Real Estate Agents. The property is well improved and produces a large amount of very fine small fruit.

☞ The anniversary meeting of the Sunday school of the Baptist church at Masonic Hall yesterday was an occasion of great interest. There were devotional exercises, beautiful hymns sweetly sung by the dear little children and their devoted teachers, and addresses pertinent, affectionate and pious.

☞ Railway traveling for the past three days has been very uncertain. Trains over all roads arrived and departed irregularly. On the Indianapolis and Madison road only were all the trains put through, but always considerably behind time. From Lafayette there was no arrival on Friday and Saturday. On all the other roads but one train a day was with difficulty run.

CORNS AND BUNIONS.—The celebrated Chiropodist, Dr Stuart, now at the Bates House, is prepared to apply the most beautiful and scientific mode of treatment to all those who desire to be operated upon systematically, for the cure of Corns, Bunions, diseased Nails, Protuberances, Warts, &c. They are removed without pain or drawing a drop of blood. Ladies may call as well as gentlemen. dec28-d1w&w1w.

SERGEANT KEARNES.—The funeral of this gallant and lamented officer will take place to day at 3 o'clock P. M., from his late residence in this city. Sergeant Kearnes received his death wound at the storming of Lookout and died at Hospital No. 7, Nashville. His remains were brought home by his comrades of company A, 35th Indiana volunteers, and, we understand, the regiment, in a body, will attend the funeral.

MAYOR'S COURT.—The police continue active in bringing offenders before His Honor. On Saturday, there were cases of assault and battery, of intoxication, and keeping houses of ill-fame. Outwardly, at least, the morals of Indianapolis seem to be in progress of official renovation. Every word on this score should be one of encouragement to the ministers of the laws and the ordinances.

POOR GAS.—During these short days, it is frequently necessary to light up before 5 o'clock in the evening, at which time and until after seven, the gas burns very dimly. If this is caused by the company in not putting the full pressure on before dark, it should be remedied—if from any other cause, they should see what it is, to correct, as the gas is just as necessary, in good force, at that hour, as at any other.

A CAPITAL PORTRAIT OF W. H. RILEY.—Davis, the eminent Photographist, on Yew Year's day presented the employees of the Sentinel office with an excellent portrait of the popular and accomplished actor, Mr. W. H. Riley. It is executed in the highest style of art, finished in the minutest detail, and is, indeed, not to be surpassed. Like pictures of many distinguished persons may be seen at Davis' rooms, No 26½ West Washington street.

THE SPENCER HOUSE.—Notwithstanding a very serious mishap on Friday morning—the bursting of the steam and cooking apparatus—causing a delay of breakfast and interrupting the order of things generally, a bountiful and elegant New Year's dinner was spread before the guests stopping from abroad and invited from city. Everything that the market afforded, was upon the tables, and wonderful justice was rendered by every one on the happy occasion. The Spencer under the management of J. W. Cannan & Co., is a hotel foremost in all respects, and eligible exceedingly for sojourners.

☞ It will be seen by a card in another column, that Mr. S. A. Fletcher, Sr., has withdrawn from the banking business in this city. Mr. Fletcher is the oldest banker in the city, and perhaps in the State, commencing in a small room, with a limited capital, and increasing from year to year until his business was the largest and controlled more capital than any other bank in the State. He has enjoyed the entire confidence of all who have done business with him; and has done more to aid worthy young men, in supplying them capital, than any man we know. The gentlemen who succeed him have been reared in the banking office of Mr. Fletcher, and understand the business thoroughly. They are men of sterling integrity, and in every way worthy the confidence and business of all who have heretofore done business at the house, and the public will find no change, either in facilities or ability, in the new firm.

☞ The annual meeting of the Board of Agriculture will be held in the Supreme Court Room in the State House, on Tuesday, January 5th, at 10 o'clock A. M. Eight new members of the Board are to be elected, as also all the officers for the ensuing year. Means and measures are also to be adopted for holding the next State fair.

It is to be hoped that our manufacturers, artificers and farmers will be fully represented, and that errors of omission and commission in the premium lists will be fully corrected. This can only be done by a full representation of all parties interested.

Let all the friends of agriculture and mechanism remember that their vocations and interests represent nine tenths of all the wealth in Indiana and in the United States. Let this interest be fully sustained.

The Board, as at present constituted, is, in our opinion, a very efficient one. Than its Secretary there is no more accomplished gentleman for the place. And the salary of the Secretary, as well as all others, ought not to be merely nominal, but commensurate with the service rendered.

THE THIRTY FIFTH INDIANA.—This gallant regiment (Irish), Col. Mullen, Lieut Col Balfe and Major Duffey—numbering 240 men—arrived on Saturday, and are quartered in the old Sentinel building, South Meridian street. These are the heroes of Perryville, of Crab Orchard, of Dobbyn's Ford, of Stone River, of Snow Hill, of Chickamauga, of Lookout, of Mission Ridge, of Ringgold. To day, at 9 o'clock A. M., at Masonic Hall, a public reception will be given them. Governor Morton, probably, in behalf of the people of the State will do them honor. Gen Carrington, too, it is expected, will address them. After this the veterans under command of their brave and tried and able Colonel, will parade, showing upon our streets the maneuvers and evolutions of trained and approved warriors. Let our citizens give the Thirty fifth a cordial welcome, making its brief stay at home pleasant in recompense for hardships in camp and on the march, and dangers, and wounds and death braved on the battlefield. Col. Mullen, Lieut Col. Balfe and Maj Duffey will immediately enter upon the work of recruiting for the regiment. The Colonel's headquarters will be Indianapolis, at the Oriental; the Lieut Colonel's at Lafayette; and the Major's at Terre Haute.

☞ A part of the 13th Indiana—180 men—under command of Capt. Daniels, arrived Saturday from Folly Island, South Carolina. They were marched to the Capitol, where they were received by Gen. Carrington, who welcomed them generously and patriotically. They are quartered in the Hall of the House of Representatives. The rest of the regiment which has reenlisted, is expected daily. Capt. Daniels went out a corporal, and has won his way by gallantry and soldierly ability. This is the regiment of which Brigadier General Jere. Sullivan went out as Colonel, and every man in it is a hero.

Gen Foster and Gen Noble also addressed the soldiers. Gen Foster, once their commander, (he succeeded Sullivan as Colonel, and the regiment is now commanded by Col. Dobbs) was received with the greatest enthusiasm. The old regimental colors, which, since the battle of Winchester, have been deposited among the mementoes of the war in the State House, were brought forth and hailed with cheer upon cheer. The new flag, ready for some time, was then presented. It is a splendid standard inscribed with the names of the several battles in which the regiment has been engaged, and no doubt each brave who looked upon it unrolled, vowed to stand by it unto death.

COLD WEATHER—GUARDS—SOLDIERS—PRISONERS—RUMORS.—The recent intensely cold weather, preceded by a furious snow storm, occasioned great suffering at the military camps in this vicinity. Not only suffering and permanent disability, but even deaths are said to have taken place. Rumor has it that ten, twelve or fifteen rebel prisoners at Camp Morton succumbed stark and stiff to the frost on the last night of the last year. Also that one of the guard doing duty fell lifeless likewise. Also that an officer, to keep a soldier at his post, tied him to a tree, and he was found dead when his time to be relieved came. Of course this is too barbarous for belief. There are contradictory stories, exaggerated probably as they circulate, and it is impossible to verify or disprove anything in the regard as yet; and we have every reason to believe that the officers in charge are humane men. But it is a fact that soldiers and prisoners exposed that night endured most severely. Men's ears and feet were frozen, although it is said the guard were relieved every hour and oftener if necessary. Several have been sent to the hospital and some of them may never again be fit for duty. At Camp Morton now the guard is relieved every half hour.

At Camps Carrington and Burnside all guards were called in and huge fires built and the men instructed to make themselves as nearly comfortable as possible.

At Camp Fremont (negro) toes were frozen to amputation; heels until they became no longer capable of a march; ears until they will eventually drop off; and noses until they actually burst. It is painful in the extreme to think of the suffering undergone during that terrible night.

BEEVES—The number of cattle marketed is the smallest since August, but the consumption of beef during holiday week is less, consequently a light supply does not affect prices as it would at other times.

The market opened yesterday in the midst of a heavy north east rain storm, which caused the cattle to appear badly, while it made the butchers more anxious to buy as they were not disposed to spend any unnecessary time in the rain and miry filth of the drove yards; the sight of Scarr & Reed, government agents, buying pretty freely, also had its effect to quicken the movements of the butchers.

Prices are fully ½c higher than last week; a few pairs of very choice steers were sold at 13c weight, and of the 2,600 fresh and 300 stale cattle in the yards yesterday morning, nearly all were sold before the close last evening.

There has been less activity to-day at prices a little easier, but all the cattle were fairly sold.

The quality this week averaged fair, some of the cattle being very good. There was but little disposition to speculate, and several of the brokers preferred to do nothing rather than expose themselves to the storm on Monday. About 300 head of prime cattle were taken for government, making a material difference in the supply remaining for the butchers. We quote:

Premium qualities, per cwt	12.50@13.00
Prime, do do	11.00@12.00
Medium to good qualities, per cwt	9.00@10.50
Poor do do	5.50@8.00
General selling prices do	9.00@11.00
Average do	9.75@ —

COWS—Are less active, the demand during holiday week being small, as usual. Prices are steady at about our last figures. We quote:

Best quality, per head	$70@$80
Good do do	55@65
Fair do do	45@50
Com'n do do	35@40

VEALS—The supply this week is very small on account of the failure of the local Harlem R. R. train. The demand is active at our revised quotations. A good many "hobs" were offered this week and sold readily at $2.50@$3.50 per head. We quote:

Good and extra qualities, per pound	7½@8c
Other qualities do	5½@7½c

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Are in active demand and with a limited and insufficient supply; prices are higher. A few very fine sheep were sold at 8c per lb. live weight, and one lot of 120 fat long wool Canadian were bought by George Oliver at $12,70 each, or nearly 9c per lb. estimated to weigh 145 lbs per head.

HOGS—Are in moderate supply, while the inquiry has been active at advancing prices, closing very firmly at our figures, with an unsatisfied demand, particularly for heavy pork. We quote:

	Live hogs.	Dressed.
Heavy prime corn-fed	6¼@6⅞	8¼@8¾
Light do	6@6¼	8¼@8½
Heavy still-fed	6¼@6½	8 @8¼

NEW YORK, January 2.—Arch Bishop Hughes died this morning.

NEW YORK, January 3.—Two brothers named Anson and George Wolf and Benjamin and Enos Hoffman have been arrested and confined in Fort Lafayette for being concerned in the black ade running bussiness. They shipped goods to Nassau per brig Goodhue, which were subsequently found on the captured steamer Margaret and Jessie.

Messrs J. D. Young and J. C. Budd have also been sent to Fort Lafayette, as shippers of contraband goods. Other parties and also visitants of hotels here known as the headquarters of those having secession proclivities have been arrested.

The blockade business here is almost played out.

The steamer Evening Star from New Orleans with dates to the 27th, and Havana to the 29th has arrived.

Gen. Fitz Henry Warren with a considerable force had embarked on the steamer Warrior and crossing Matagorda Bay, and occupied Indianola without opposition.

Some important rebel documents were captured, among them Gen Magruder's address to the people of Western Texas.

An expedition of three negro regiments and one white regiment and a battery of artillery under General Ullman had gone from New Orleans to the mouth of Red river.

A sensation dispatch from Albany says that the new Police Commissioners will probably appoint Nelson J. Waterbury Police Superintendent, and that two thirds of the Police Captains will report to him, and that the government will order out the entire militia of the city to support the claims of the new board.

Advices from Folly Island by the Arago say that our guns at Cummings Point opened on Charleston Christmas morning. The cannonade lasted from one to three o'clock. Several fires were kindled in the city which destroyed considerable rebel property. The rebel batteries replied without much damage.

The U S gunboat Marblehead was fired into by a rebel battery, in Stono Inlet. Two men were killed and five wounded. Assisted by the Pawnee, she compelled the rebels to abandon their works. Lieut Gordon with a detachment of men landed later in the day and took possession of the works. The guns were subsequently carried away by the commander of the Pawnee; they are two 8-inch sea coast howitzers. The rebels had one killed and five wounded.

Advices from Havana by the Evening Star include Mexican dates to the 20th ult:

Gen Diablado is reported to have given in his adherence to the French occupation of Meonelia, Celago, &c

It is reported by way of San Francisco and confirmed that the French forces were en route for Guanajuata.

There has been no fighting beyond slight guerrilla skirmishes.

Advices from Cumberland Ford to the 1st inst say that our pickets near Winchester, Va., had been driven in to Bunker Hill.

At midnight—this hour—the wind is blowing a northerly gale. The thermometer is standing 10 degrees above zero.

From Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, January 2.

METEOROLOGICAL.—Thursday—Barometer at noon 29 62; soon afterward commenced rapidly falling, reaching 28 85 at 8 o'clock, and in the afternoon resulting in a violent snow storm from the northwest. On Thursday night at 10 o'clock the barometer was rising and had reached 29 10; and on Saturday night at 6 o'clock 29 95.

The thermometer at Thursday noon was 47° above zero—falling between that and 10 o'clock in the evening to 1° above zero. On Friday morning at 9 o'clock the mercury was 19½° below zero and continued below zero all day. Saturday was more moderate—at 7½ o'clock in the morning the mercury stood 3° above zero, and at the same hour in the evening 14° above zero. Nothing like this was ever known in Kentucky.

The Journal's statement this morning respecting the freezing of five Confederate prisoners at Jeffersonville is entirely incorrect. The prisoners were well cared for, and neither death or suffering occurred amongst them.

From St. Louis.

ST LOUIS, January 2.—Very little business was transacted to-day on account of the weather. Since the heavy snow storm of Thursday the weather has been intensely cold, the mercury having fallen 24 deg. below zero. This is unparalleled in this region.

All the railroads leading out of the city are blockaded with snow. No trains arrived or departed for two days.

The river is closed this morning. Teams and pedestrians crossed on the ice this afternoon.

A large number of cattle and hogs were frozen to death on the trains of the North Missouri Railroad.

Quite a number of frost bitten cases are reported by the newspapers, some of them of a series character.

From Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Jan. 3.—A very severe snow storm has been raging here since Thursday night, the wind blowing a gale from the west.

The water in the lower part of the city is the highest that has been known for a year.

Two hundred feet of the Niagara Railroad, near this city, have been washed away. No cars have left the depot here since Thursday. Trains, however, are running from Black Rock to Suspension Bridge.

Business in the city is almost suspended.

The worst of the storm is now over, although it is still snowing this afternoon. The weather is intensely cold. The thermometer at midnight on the 31st of December stood 42° above zero; last evening it was 5° below; this morning at 9 o'clock, 9° below.

Telegraphic communication with the west is interrupted.

Foreign News.

CAPE RACE, Jan. 2.—The steamer City of Baltimore, from Liverpool 23d, and Queenstown 24th, passed here this morning.

The London Times says that Arch Duke Maximillian will not accept the Mexican Crown, and that Napoleon will cast him off for some one else.

King and Heenan had appeared before magistrates for breaking the peace, and both were bound over to appear at Quarter Sessions.

The London Globe cautions its readers against the statement that Lord Lyons had telegraphed to Earl Russel, predicting the termination of the war in six months.

Napoleon, in response to the address voted to him by the French Senate, asserted that he was actuated solely by good and pacific motives in his proposition for a Congress.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, January 3.—Gen. Butler left here for Washington on the steamer City of Hudson.

The steamer Western Metropolis from Newport for New Orleans, has put into Hampton Roads for repairs.

From Boston.

BOSTON, January 3.—The first anniversary of President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation was celebrated here yesterday by a salute of 100 guns and a public meeting in Tremont Temple. Speeches were made by D. Kirk and several colored orators.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.

Bryant's Commercial College

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT FOR THE RECEPTION of Pupils in either Department. Price of Tuition much reduced, and is now less than any other similar Institution in the world.

Advantages of this Institution over other similar Schools, which are invaluable to the Student.

The President of this School devotes his entire undivided attention to it, and is always personally present and teaching, while most others trust their wits inexperienced boys, whose principal pay is the name of "Professor," and devote their own time to drumming up scholars, being more frequently on the cars than at the desk.

The President of this School is believed to be the only person who is teaching in the State, if not in the West, who has ever had actual experience as a practical accountant in a bank or other first class business house.

It is the only School in the State, if not in the West, that has a first-class Penman permanently connected with it, and has the only Penman in the State who has ever taken a first premium on Penmanship of any kind at the State Fairs of this State, if not at those of any other State.

The system of Book-keeping used in this School is not the mere imagination of a single inexperienced theorist, which has never been applied or adopted in a single business house; but is the joint work of many of the very best practical accountants taken from real business and actual experience, and is now in constant use in four-fifths of the first class business houses of the United States.

One hundred graduates of this School are now acting as actual accountants in first class business houses, for every one from any other school in the State, and the graduates of this School get fifty per cent. more for their services than those of any other School in the State.

It is believed to be the only School of the kind in the State that has regular lectures, or in which all is taught that is advertised and charged for as a part of the regular course.

Full particulars of anything pertaining to the College will be sent to any person on receipt of a red stamp to pay return postage, and we will thank any person who will send us the name and address of any number of gentlemen or ladies who may possibly attend a Commercial College.

☞ Be careful to give the names of the Post Office, County and State, and Address
