DAILY SENTINEL

National Democratic Platform of 1864.

THE UNION—THE CONSTITUTION—PEACE—PUBLIC LIBERTY—PRIVATE RIGHTS—FREE ELECTIONS—A FREE PRESS—FREE SPEECH—TRIAL BY JURY—THE RIGHT OF ASYLUM—JUSTICE TO OUR SOLDIERS.

Resolved, That in the future, as in the past, we will adhere with unwavering fidelity to the Union under the Constitution as the only solid foundation of our strength, security and happiness as a people, and as a framework of government equally conducive to the welfare and prosperity of all the States, both Northern and Southern.

Resolved, That this Convention does explicitly declare, as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, during which, under the pretense of military necessity or war power higher than the Constitution, the Constitution itself has been disregarded in every part, and public liberty and private right alike trodden down, and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired, justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities with a view to an ultimate convention of the States, or other peaceable means, to the end that at the earliest practicable moment peace may be restored on the basis of the Federal Union of the States.

Resolved, That the direct interference of the military authorities of the United States in the recent elections held in Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Delaware, was a shameful violation of the Constitution, and a repetition of such acts in the approaching election will be held as revolutionary, and resisted with all the means and power under our control.

Resolved, That the aim and object of the Democratic party is to preserve the Federal Union and the rights of the States unimpaired, and they hereby declare that they consider that the administrative usurpation of extraordinary and dangerous powers not granted by the Constitution, the subversion of the civil by military law in States not in insurrection, the arbitrary military arrest, imprisonment, trial and sentence of American citizens in States where civil law exists in full force. The suppression of freedom of speech and of the press, the denial of the right of asylum, the open and avowed disregard of State rights, the employment of unusual test oaths, and the interference with and denial of the right of the people to bear arms in their defense; is calculated to prevent a restoration of the Union and the perpetuation of the Government deriving its just powers from the consent of the governed.

Resolved, That the shameful disregard of the Administration to its duty in respect to our fellow citizens who now are, and long have been, prisoners of war in a suffering condition, deserves the severest reprobation on the score alike of public policy and common humanity.

Resolved, That the sympathy of the Democratic party is heartily and earnestly extended to the soldiery of our army and sailors of our navy who are and have been in the field and on the sea, under the flag of their country, and in the event of its attaining power, they will receive all the care, protection and regard that the brave soldiers and sailors of the republic have so nobly earned.

From New York.

NEW YORK, November 1.—The Tribune's Washington special says Governor Seymour's Commissioners called upon the President this morning.

They were courteously received, but on the subject matter of their mission he referred them to Secretary Stanton, who had all the evidence in the case.

They then proceeded to the war office, and held a long interview with the Secretary, and reported they were much more courteously received and considered than they had expected.

It is understood they desired that the punishment of Ferry and Donahue should be made as light as possible. But their principal pressure upon the Secretary is understood to have been in reference to Col. North, Perry and Donohue's fate being seemingly of secondary consideration. The Secretary submitted to them such evidence as was before him, and it is said to have somewhat staggered their hopes of an easy escape of their friends by its extent and clearness.

He referred them to the Military Court for further information, and granted them permits to visit the prisoners at the old Capitol. He assured them of a desire to vindicate the most sacred rights of all the soldiers in the field.

To-night the three commissioners had a conference with Assistant Secretary Dana, Colonel Foster, Judge Advocate, Captain Eiles, of the court, and sundry other gentlemen who were present at the interview.

Judge Parker was the principal spokesman and urged as a matter of policy that the prisoners now in confinement here should be released. He stated the great popularity and high social position of Colonel North in the State of New York; that he was an Aid on Gov. Seymour's staff, and enjoyed the confidence of men of all parties, who would not believe him guilty whatever evidence might be adduced and only irritations and strife, and possibly more serious disturbance would be consequent on the trial. The Judge pressed hard to know the evidence in the hands of the Judge Advocate, but to little purpose; he was shown several blanks, sworn to and witnessed as having been signed without any signatures having been inserted which were seized in Col. North's office, and others similar to the ones seized at Baltimore; he then made the point that the fact that these were found in Colonel North's office would not convict him of a knowledge and participation in their execution. The Judge Advocate is understood to have replied that the fact of his guilt or innocence was to be determined only by trial; he deemed it of great importance to Col. North as well as to the government, that it proceed immediately. Judge Parker then pressed to have the trial postponed till after the election. But he found the Judge Advocate equally determined, and to-morrow the court will be occupied with preliminary examination of documents seized, of witnesses, the evidence in their possession. It is surmised that much proof was destroyed, as they had thirty-six hours notice here before their arrest. The Commission will remain until after the trial or definite action is taken. It is said the finding of the Court in the cases of Ferry and Donahue which was submitted to the Secretary of War is much more severe than hitherto conjectured, but the evident indifference of the commissioners as to the fate of the Baltimore victims is in striking contrast with their anxiety for Col. North.

The Times' Nashville special of the 31st, says direct communication with Atlanta, by rail is open and secure, although there are swarms of guerrillas between the Etowah river and Big Shantee.

A telegram from General Gillem this morning represents his last fight as brilliant in the extreme, the entire rebel force was scattered.

Many officers, a full battery and one extra gun were captured.

General Vaughen, commanding the rebels, was severely wounded in two places, and is secreted somewhere in Greene county.

A later dispatch from General Gillem says he is still picking up prisoners. He had buried 70 rebels. His entire loss in both fights was eight killed and twenty wounded.

The guerrillas are exceedingly troublesome on the Cumberland river and North Western railroad.

According to the Herald's dispatch the attention of General Sheridan seems to be at present particularly directed to the apparent designs of the enemy to attempt some important operations in West Virginia, and he is making his preparations accordingly.

The rebel General Breckinridge who is now in southwestern Virginia, is busy in reorganizing his forces with the supposed intention of making a movement to distract the attention of the Union army from Early, who, according to rebel newspapers is to remain in command in the Shenandoah valley.

Arrangements for the safe supply of General Sheridan's army have been perfected, and strong guards for the trains running to the front will hereafter be provided so as to insure them against guerrilla attacks.

A correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer gives a graphic description of the defeat and stampede of Early's army on the 19th.

In the action of Cedar Creek his loss of 57 cannon is admitted.

Richmond papers contain accounts of the fighting south of Petersburg, in the vicinity of the Boynton Plank Road, and also Gen Lee's official report of the operations on both sides of the river. The latter gives, as the result of the day's engagement, repulses of the Union troops at all points, with considerable loss in killed, wounded and prisoners.

The rebel papers say that the attacks of Gen. Butler were easily repulsed, but admit that the movement of our left was a surprise to Lee's men, in which they lost considerably in prisoners; soon, however, it claimed the rebels rallied and drove back Grant's men, making prisoners of about 50.

The fighting at this point is represented to have been severe.

The latest advices Government has had from Sherman were to the effect that he should hold Atlanta in spite of any attempt of the rebels to dislodge him.

It is stated positively that Stanton is to be Chief Justice and Mr. Blair Secretary of War.

Only 300 of Cullen's men and Fairchild's brigades were captured in the charge on the rebel works.

The Richmond papers accounts of the fighting below Petersburg says Gen. Hampton lost one son killed and one wounded. They admit a loss of 400 prisoners.

Gen. Dearing, reported killed, is unhurt.

A dispatch dated headquarters Army of the Potomac, the 30, says the utmost quiet has prevailed to day.

The rebels attempted to play a sharp trick last night on our lines which was only partly successful. The main object of the attack was defeated with considerable loss to them. At the point of connection between the 2d and 5th corps the rebels made an entrance, passing from one post to another, taking all the men prisoners. They then sent forward a heavy force to charge the line of breastworks, in the hope of forcing our center, but our men had meanwhile formed behind the works and received the rebels with such a scathing fire as sent them back in confusion with heavy loss. The firing was kept up all night. Our loss is put down at 387, killed, wounded and prisoners. The enemy's loss must have been heavy, as they advanced within range of our batteries, though it being dark, our men had not good range.
