An Investment Message

To those who are so fortunate as to have ready money available we are trying to get this message:

Perhaps never again will there be such bargains in investment securities as the market now offers and so we say to all, and this means you,—scrape together all the money you can get without borrowing and buy investment securities—and buy them now.

This letter is directed to those who have already written us and have not received a prompt response. However, we will be glad to have others read it if they care to do so.

First—No one need apologize for asking to be advised how to invest small sums. There are few big fortunes to-day that were not built up from small beginnings and in a single generation. The sooner you become an investor, the sooner and more certain you are to arrive.

Second—You need not apologize for asking our advice about selling the securities you now hold, or about buying other securities that have been recommended to you, but we cannot promise you our advice in all cases.

These latter inquiries have, however, been received in such unexpected numbers that it has thrown us behind in our work, but we are now more fully equipped and will be able to give you our usual prompt service in a day or two.

We said in a former letter—"we will be glad to serve you whether you have one hundred dollars, or a million dollars to invest." Nobody has come in or written in yet with a million dollars to invest, but some have inquired anxiously about security holdings of very large magnitude.

Many of the securities inquired about are a long way from being true investment securities, therefore we have no information about them—and it is not an easy task to get the necessary information on which to base a definite opinion.

It will be impossible to give specific advice about many individual securities inquired about. People who pretend to give advice regarding any security asked about are basing their opinion on wholly insufficient information or merely on irresponsible hearsay evidence. Such advice might prove more of a liability to you than an asset. They think they have to say something or you will think they are not well posted. We are not too proud to say, "We don't know." If we cannot get the necessary information on which to base an opinion, we will have to tell you frankly that we don't know and can't find out.

There are more than 1,800 issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange alone. No one man, or no one house, can possibly give you advice based on definite facts on any large number of these issues except the strictly underlying true investment securities. Most companies issue only a yearly report, and the only data available now is more than a year old and the most important period is therefore missing. We are unwilling to give advice which is based merely on market rumors, or even upon letters from the officers of the companies giving only general information. Some of the issues inquired about are too new to have established a record of performance during a period of normal or depressed business conditions.

Our New York staff consists of more than six hundred people and we are equipped with a regular staff of experts in every department of research who have made hundreds of complete engineering examinations, complete audits and complete property valuations and we are therefore able to make a prompt and accurate analysis of the value of any security if the corporation which issues it can furnish us with the proper reports from reliable sources.

We hope that nothing we have said in this letter will make you reluctant to tell us about yourself and your income, for the more we know the better we can advise. Also, if you want us to advise you about selling or holding securities which you now have, or securities which you contemplate buying, you can aid us in getting information by telling us where you got the advice to buy the securities you now hold or the securities you have been advised to buy. When you go to a lawyer for advice the more you tell him about your case the better he can serve you.

One of our new clients says that for every dollar's worth of business we are creating for ourselves, we are creating twenty dollars worth of business for our competitors. That may be so, but the best dividend an investment security ever earns is peace of mind for its owner—and peace of mind is often only to be had by acting upon the advice of those we have most confidence in. There are many houses in the financial district that have established by years of good performance a record of moral and financial responsibility. If we have created business for them we are glad of it. If they give their clients good advice the clients will make ten dollars for every dollar they make for themselves—and the real purpose of these letters will be accomplished; but to you who have come to us for advice we want to express our most sincere appreciation and assure you that it has increased, if that is possible, the grave responsibility we must always feel as the guardians of the investment funds for so many people.

We regret that we have failed to give our usual prompt service and assure you that the delay is but a temporary matter. If you could see the number, and especially the character, of these responses we know you would agree that nobody could have foreseen the problem and adequately provided for it in advance.

Government Bonds—Liberty Loan Bargains

Long before the war we advocated small bonds for Thrift. The call of the Liberty Bond unconsciously diffused Bond knowledge. Millions for Patriotism bought, millions for need immediately sold. The family lack of money, caused by the departure of earners into the service, compelled the sale and sacrifice. The sacrifice averaged 5%. The small subscriber became, for the Government, a valuable vehicle for distributive sale.

These same Liberty Bonds can be bought now at 15% less than the original price.

The first purchase was a noble response to a Patriotic necessity. The second purchase today is a threefold reward for loss then, and ability to buy now.

There is no safer or cheaper security today than the Liberty Bond.

It removes to the remotest degree the question of loss. THE PRICE WILL RETURN TO PAR.

Begin an Investment Security account with Liberty Bonds. Follow it with well seasoned Railroad or Industrial bonds of high merit.

RECEIVER FOR TRACTION LINE.

Will Take Charge of Maumee Valley Railways and Light Co.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 3.—For the second time in less than a week a receiver was appointed to-day to take charge of a branch railroad of the Toledo Railways and Light Company, a subsidiary of the Henry L. Doherty Company of New York.

Last week the Federal District Court named a receiver for the Toledo and Western, an interurban line running to Pioneer, Ohio, and Adrian, Mich., and another was appointed to-day to take charge of the Maumee Valley Railways and Light Company, a loop line thirty miles long and running around the city and through Perrysburg and Maumee.

BUYS MINE IN BRAZIL.

United States Steel Corporation Purchases Manganese Deposits.

A large manganese mine in Brazil has been purchased by the United States Steel Corporation for a price understood to be around $4,000,000. Manganese ore is an important element in the manufacture of iron and steel, and the corporation has been purchasing much of its supply from the Brazilian mine which it has acquired. The purchase was announced yesterday by Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, who said:

"After long negotiations we have purchased the Morro da Mina properties, about 300 miles from Rio de Janiero, in the State of Minas Geraes, Brazil. This mine contains a very large tonnage of good manganese ore. We are very much pleased with the purchase, as it makes the corporation independent concerning manganese ore, which is an essential in the manufacture of iron and steel. We have been receiving shipments from Morro da Mina for several years."

RELAYS 100 MILES OF TRACK.

Southern Pacific to Improve Main Line in Utah and Nevada.

The Southern Pacific Railroad has started to relay 100 miles of main line track between Lucin and Colin, Utah, and between Argenta and Harney, Nev., with new ninety pound rails. The company is constructing additional facilities at Sparks, Nev., to accommodate Pacific Fruit Express Company's new icing plant.

Those improvements include the purchase of twenty-six acres of additional right of way and the construction of two miles of additional track. The yards at Carlin and at Wells, Nev., are being rearranged and extended.

SPANISH MAIZE CROP GAINS.

Yield of Sugar Beets and Potatoes Also Increases.

MADRID, Jan. 3.—Provisional figures on the Spanish harvest, made public today by the Department of Agriculture, show increases in the crops of maize, sugar beets and potatoes, and decreases in the production of rice, olives and sugar cane during the last year. The production figures are as follows:

Maize, 6,954,000 metric quintals (a metric quintal equals 220.46 pounds); rice, 2,848,000 metric quintals; potatoes, 28,511,000; sugar beets, 15,704,000; sugar cane, 727,000; olives, 13,500,000, and olive oil, 2,632,000.

The decrease in the olive crop is given as 4,659,000 metric quintals, which correspondingly reduces the production of oil.

NO MEXICAN DEPOSIT.

International Bankers Will Not Issue Proposed Call.

The international committee of bankers on Mexico will not call for the deposit of Mexican Government securities, according to Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., alternate chairman of the committee. Mr. Lamont's statement, which was given out simultaneously in London, Paris, Amsterdam and Geneva, was as follows:

"The international committee has had under consideration the question of calling for a deposit of Mexican Government securities. It does not feel, however, that the situation in Mexico has developed sufficiently to make this step desirable at this juncture.

"The committee is observing the situation carefully and stands prepared to take any steps which may seem advisable for the interests of holders of Mexican Government securities."
