A LIVERY STABLE is attached to the Hotel.

PLEASURE BOATS are kept in readiness at all times, and the Proprietor for the Liberal patronage heretofore extended to her, she respectfully requests, when it will be her effort to deserve a share of public favor.

Visitors will be landed at the Wharf of the Hotel, if they notify the Captain of the steamer of their wishes.

Biloxi, May 3, 1852.

☞ No charge for carriage.

GREEN OAKS HOTEL, Biloxi, Miss.—This fashionable and popular Summer retreat, so generally known throughout the Southern country, under the management of Mrs. ELIZABETH PRADAT and her son, JOHN B. PRADAT, is located about a mile and a half from the village of Biloxi, will be opened on the 1st of June for the reception of visitors.

The GREEN OAKS is too well known to need an extended notice. For many years that popularity of the establishment has been annually increasing. The many natural advantages, commanding the Southwest view of the Lake, and receiving the breeze from any point of the compass, have not failed to impress favorably the many visitors from New Orleans, Mobile and the surrounding country.

During the Winter the proprietors have made many improvements and additions. The BAR and BILLIARD ROOMS are thoroughly repaired and fitted up, and SALT ROCK will be at all times at the service of the visitors, free of charge—also CLARK'S Fine Dinner.

CARRIAGES and HORSES may be procured at any moment.

In addition, the celebrated BRASS BAND of New Orleans has engaged, and a BALL may be opened twice every week.

Visitors wishing to stay at the GREEN OAKS, are requested to notify the Captains of the Steamers, who will send them to the wharf of the Hotel.

HOLLYWOOD HOUSE, Eastern Shore of Mobile Bay, FRICHES & SMITH, Proprietors.—This celebrated Hotel, as well and favorably known for its beautiful scenery, cleanliness and any location, is the walks, shady groves, splendid salt water bathing, and water bathing, with the cheap and easy boating and fishing, running in various directions, with the entire abundance of mosquitoes, rendered this one of the most pleasant places to spend the warm season to be found in the Southern country. The fact of its having been crowded from three to four months every season, from the beginning, is good evidence of its being the right sort of place.

The past two seasons excess half the applicants from the city of New Orleans alone could not be accommodated.

Many alterations and additions have been made during the past winter. The DINING ROOM is much larger, and can now seat two hundred and forty persons. A BILLIARD SALOON will be added to the other amusements. Several more SLEEPING APARTMENTS have been erected.

The proprietors will be untiring in their efforts to please. There is now a daily communication by steam with Mobile, and shortly a new low pressure boat will be on the route, and make several trips a day.

☞ Tax cabs shall be in readiness for visitors.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of the State of Louisiana, do ordain and establish this Constitution.

TITLE I.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

Article 1. The powers of the Government of the State of Louisiana shall be divided into three distinct departments, and each of them be confided to a separate body of magistracy, to wit: those which are Legislative to one; those which are Executive to another, and those which are Judicial to another.

Art. 2. No one of these departments, nor any person holding office in one of them, shall exercise power properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances hereinafter expressly allowed or permitted.

TITLE II.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Art. 3. The Legislative power of the State shall be vested in two distinct branches, the one to be styled the Upper Representatives, the other the Senate, and both the General Assembly of the State of Louisiana.

Art. 4. The members of the House of Representatives shall continue in service for the term of two years from the day of the holding of the general elections.

Art. 5. Representatives shall be chosen on the first Monday in November, every two years; and the election shall be completed in one day. The General Assembly shall meet annually, on the third Monday in January, unless a different day shall be appointed by law, and their sessions shall be held at the seat of Government.

Art. 6. Every duly qualified elector under this Constitution, shall be eligible to a seat in the General Assembly; provided that no person shall be a Representative or Senator, unless, at the time of his election, a duly qualified voter of the Representative or Senatorial District from which he is elected.

Art. 7. Elections for members of the General Assembly shall be held at the several election precincts established by law. The Legislature may delegate the power of establishing election precincts to the parochial or municipal authorities.

Art. 8. Representation in the House of Representatives shall be equal and uniform, and shall be regulated and ascertained by the total population of each of the several parishes of the State. Each Parish shall have at least one Representative. No new Parish shall be created with a territory less than six hundred and twenty-five square miles, nor with a population less than the full number entitling it to a Representative, nor when the creation of such new Parish would leave any other Parish without the said extent of territory and amount of population.

The first enumeration by the State authorities under this Constitution shall be made in the year 1856, the second in the year 1858, the third in the year 1860; after which time, the General Assembly shall direct in what manner the census shall be taken so that it be made at least once in every period of ten years, for the purpose of ascertaining the total population in each Parish and election District.

At the first regular session of the Legislature after the taking of each enumeration, the Legislature shall apportion the representation among the several Parishes and election Districts on the basis of the total population as aforesaid. A representative number shall be fixed, and each Parish and election District shall have as many Representatives as its aggregate population shall entitle it to, and an additional Representative for any fraction exceeding one-half of the Representative number. The number of Representatives shall not be more than 100 nor less than 70.

Until an apportionment shall be made, and elections held under the same, in accordance with the first enumeration to be made as directed in this article, the Representation in the Senate and House of Representatives shall be continued as at present established by law.

The limits of the Parish of Orleans are hereby extended, so as to embrace the whole of the present City of New Orleans, including that part of the Parish of Jefferson formerly known as the City of Lafayette.

All that part of the Parish of Orleans which is situated on the left bank of the Mississippi river shall be divided by the Legislature into not more than ten Representative Districts, and until a new apportionment shall be made pursuant to law, the Representatives in the Constitution that part of the City of New Orleans which was comprised within the former limits of the City of Lafayette shall vote for Senators from the Parish of Orleans, and shall form the 7th Representative District, and shall elect two out of the three Representatives now apportioned by law to the Parish of Jefferson; the other Representative Districts shall remain as they are now established.

Art. 9. The House of Representatives shall choose its Speaker and other officers.

Art. 10. Every free white male who has attained the age of twenty-one years, and who has been a resident of the State twelve months next preceding the election, and the last six months thereof in the Parish in which he offers to vote, and who shall be a citizen of the United States, shall have the right of voting, but no voter, on removing from one Parish to another, within the State, shall lose his right of voting in the former until he shall have ac
