Arrival of the Philadelphia.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

[illegible] Philadelphia, Captain [illegible], arrived at this port yesterday morning, with mail and passengers from California, sailed from the 18th ult. [illegible] Panama on the morning of the 24th instant. The U. S. mail steamship Illinois, Captain Hartstene, left at the same time for New York with the mails, almost three hundred passengers, and $1,000,000 in gold dust.

The steamship Cahawba is expected to be much better than heretofore, and the rainy season is nearly ended.

On the morning of the 6th instant exchanged signals with a Spanish brig of war, cruising off Cape San Antonio. Saw, also, on the afternoon of the same day a steamer, supposed to be English, standing to the eastward.

Left at Anglewood the bark Cuba, Captain Sherwood, discharging coal, and to sail in ten days for Inagua. Also, the ship Omalia, of New York, discharging railroad iron.

The steamship United States was at Aspinwall, when the Philadelphia left, waiting the arrival of the Cortes on the other side.

The following are the names of the passengers by the Philadelphia:

[illegible] Steele, F H Rogers, S M Yarbrough, W S Ford, M M Price, W Woodward, J B Hull, L Lactius, D Wilson, T Bosworth, J Boyston, C Vanderder, H Verlander, M Fitzgerald, C Jones, I H White, H Price, Mrs Irene McBrady, J Cates, J Greenhorn, M Johnson, H Beatty, W McDonald, Geo Phillips, J L Wellington, J N Nelson and boy, and one hundred and twenty in the steerage.

CERTAINTY OF RAILROADS.—The State Journal says that Col. Ross arrived in Sacramento from Carson Valley, and reports snow on the mountains four feet deep. Beyond doubt a large number of persons will have to remain in the valley over winter, and that too with a very limited supply of provisions.

TRANSPORTED SUPPLY OF GOLD DUST.—By far the greatest shipment of gold dust ever made from this city semi-monthly, goes forward to-day from the banking house of Page, Bacon & Co., the amount reaching the enormous sum of $601,354 06. [Union.

EVENINGS.—The Alta California speaks of the influx of strangers into San Francisco as extraordinarily large.

A PERPETUAL EXCITEMENT.—The building of the State Penitentiary having been contracted for at two millions five hundred thousand dollars, a great amount of indignation is poured forth from the press.

FREE SOIL TICKET.—A Free Soil Convention was held at San Francisco and Electors for Hale and Julian were appointed.

GOLD.—The shipments of gold from California from the 1st to the 10th of October, amounted to about $3,000,000.

NATURAL INTELLIGENCE.—Parks' Bar.—Island Bar Company is doing tolerably well, though not so well as they have done heretofore. Their receipts for the last week's operations amount to something more than $2001.

The company adjoining seem to be caused in all their attempts to get into the river. Most of what has been done has been undone some two or three times, and then they are kept out. This company is called the Parks' Bar Mining Company.

The Bonnet company, also in order in the river, is entirely forsaken, there being no one to be found. It is believed, however, differently, and that determination necessary to a successful issue is the great cause of failure.

Other companies following the Bonnet are doing well, and the Mobile Company, just about getting in, is expected to astonish the natives. It adjoins the celebrated Perry-wing-dam, which, during three days' operation, ending Saturday, have taken out 60 pounds of the precious.

Miners are wanted up on Olde Bar.

The Perry-wing-dam took out last night, Oct. 10, 175 ounces of dust—they are working night and day.

From the Isthmus.

We take the following from the Panama Star of the 20th ult:

ARRIVAL OF THE PRISONERS.—On Thursday about noon, General Gamboa with his force arrived in this city, bringing a gang of about thirty prisoners, whom he had captured on the Chagres river, and found Aspinwall and Gorgona. These constitute part of the band of robbers and murderers that have so long infested that region, and it is very probable that some interesting information may be brought to light in the course of their trial.

It is to be hoped that a strong guard will be kept round the prison, in order to prevent those culprits from escaping the sentence and execution of the law.

Too much credit cannot be given to General Gamboa, for the active and efficient services he has rendered to the entire Province in capturing this band of marauders, and we trust the authorities will be as prompt in performing their duties in this matter, as the General has been in discharging his part of the work.

DANGEROUS.—On Tuesday last, we observed some fifty kegs of gunpowder, carelessly piled up in front of the government house, and several laborers stacking as coolly round it, as if it were so much sand. We do not know where the powder has since been stored, but we feel tolerably confident that there are very few warehouses in Panama suitable for the purpose, and we think that the government should establish an special store, (the Consul-at-Kingston, for instance,) in which all such dangerous and combustible articles should be placed. Should a fire accidentally break out in the warehouse, containing these fifty kegs of powder, half the city might be blown up, before a step could be taken to prevent it.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE IN CHILE.—From Lieut. Gillis, United States Navy Commissioner, appointed to make astronomical observations in Chile, who arrived from Chile in the last British steamer, we learn that another dreadful earthquake had been experienced in Valparaiso the night after the steamer sailed. Full particulars of which we shall hear by the coming steamer. Mr. Gillis procured his information from Commodore McCauley, of the frigate Raritan, which vessel sailed from Valparaiso two days after the steamer, and arrived in Callao as the Bogota was about taking her departure from that port for Panama, and as Mr. G. had but a minute's interview with the Commodore, he was unable to procure the particulars relative to this sad calamity.

CONCERT AT ARMORY HALL.—We regret on account of Messrs. Boudet and Jacobs, the slim attendance at their concert at the Armory Hall last evening.

The duet solo, arranged by Furstenau, containing the Fisherman's Chorus from Masaniello with brilliant variations, was most artistically executed by Jacobs, and was alone worth the ticket.

We had out time to remain longer, but would advise all lovers of music not to neglect such another opportunity.

DAN RICE'S HIPPODROME.—Dan opened last night on Baronne street, near Poydras, and, as a matter of course, his spacious pavilion was crowded. He was welcomed back to New-Orleans in the most enthusiastic manner. The entertainment he produced was pronounced, unquestionably, the best ever presented under a canvas in this city. Dan performs again to-night.

STEP AHEAD.—Mr. C. Ellis, with Rhode Island, Bob Cotton, and several other fast ones, arrived here yesterday. Mr. Hoff, also, with several nags not unknown to fame, is on the spot, to contend for anything offered in their line. Our neighbors in Mobile have already advertised their fall trotting meeting, and show an amount in purses worth scrambling for. Most of the fast stock now here, we understand, will rendezvous there in a few days.

ELECTION RETURNS.—Caddo Parish (SOCIAL)—Scott, 244; Pierce, 342—majority for Scott, 2. For Constitution, 409; against, 256—majority for Constitution, 147.

Bossier—Pierce 78 majority.

De Soto—Pierce 50 majority.

Claiborne—Pierce 132 majority.

Bienville—Pierce 115 majority.

Texas—Jefferson county—Pierce, 193; Scott, 73—Pierce's majority, 120.

MCALLISTER, THE WIZARD.—This celebrated magician, whose wonderful performances have been witnessed by our citizens, is now in New York preparing new experiments and remodeling his entire cabinet, which, when he completes it, will be the most splendid one in the world. We learn through Mr. John Weston, the gentlemanly agent of Mr. McAllister, that he will be in New-Orleans some time in December next. He will be warmly welcomed.

Local Intelligence.

FIRST JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.—The election yesterday for First Justice of the Peace resulted in the choice of L. U. Galeuzie. The jurisdiction extends over the First, Second, Third and Fourth Precincts. The following are the figures:

	First.	Second.	Third.	Fourth.	Total.
L. U. Galeuzie.....	225	180	262	277	944
Frank Haynes.....	67	54	147	65	333
H. D. McGann.....	32	19	25	98	175
Galeuzie's majority over all.....					448

FIRE.—A fire broke out at a quarter to ten o'clock last night in a building on the corner of Magazine and St. Joseph streets, occupied as a millinery on the corner and grocery on Magazine street. The house, together with a shanty fronting on St. Joseph street, was entirely consumed. We were unable to learn to whom the property belonged or who were the occupants. They were old, and one-story frame houses, and had every prospect of a good time of it, had it not been for the interference of the firemen, who were quickly on the spot and knocked blazes out of it. Excellent composers are the firemen of this city, at least for fire, they set the affair to music and sung it out so quickly that we had to leave in five minutes for want of light.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—An inquest was held yesterday, by Deputy Coroner Lose, on the body of John Kraus, aged 38 years, and a native of Germany. He was found dead in a Moss Press establishment in Olivet street, between Moreau and Gasquelet streets, Third District. Verdict—"Died of fracture of the frontal and parietal bones of the skull, caused by the accidental falling of a portion of the machinery of the press."

RECORDER'S COURT—First District.—State vs. Thomas Pachecho, Assault with intent to Kill.—Thomas Pachecho, who was arraigned on the 8th inst., on the charge of stabbing John D. O'Neal, and whose trial was fixed for to-day, was yesterday morning brought up before Recorder Winter. There were two affidavits filed in this case, one by O'Neal, the other by Patrick Hart.

O'Neal being sworn, deposed, that on the morning of the 28th of October, at or about 5 o'clock, he went into Poydras Market, and to the stand of the accused, with the intention of purchasing a cigar, but that he could not say what occurred at the first stand; had been up all night drinking; could not state whether he took a cigar or not, or, if taking, whether he had paid for it; had no recollection of having given the prisoner a blow, either with the hand or fist; did not know that any one had inflicted a blow on him, until another party, on coming up, called attention to blood flowing from a wound upon his person, which, on examination, was found to be near the collar bone, and appeared to have been inflicted with a sharp dirk knife; and finally, he could not recognise the prisoner.

O'Neal stated that he was a painter by trade, last from Memphis, Tennessee; had been in the city about six weeks, from which time dated his acquaintance with the persons with whom he was on the spree.

Patrick Hart, being sworn, said, that he was with O'Neal on the morning of the 28th of October, in Poydras Market, and saw the prisoner, who was standing at the stand, and O'Neal went up to the stand, and, in turning, saw the prisoner, whom he recognized, lying prostrated through the market, and from his stand; that he heard O'Neal say, "Hart, I am stabbed," and the prisoner strike the other. Hart went into the market with O'Neal alone, the other two remaining on the outside.

Pachecho, who was a coffee stand in the market, about twenty feet off the stand of Vasbenine, saw O'Neal go up to the stand of the prisoner, and while in the act of leaning over the stand, fall upon it with the appearance of a drunken man; that, at that moment, his attention was called to the wants of a customer, in attending to whom he lost sight of what occurred after.

Two butchers, upon whose testimony the counsel for defence primarily relied, being absent, the case was postponed until this morning, when it will be first in order.

HOMICIDE—State vs. Antonio D'Angelo.—Antonio D'Angelo, charged with the murder of Andrea Cutino, on the evening of the 4th instant, and whose arraignment occurred on the 5th, had his trial before Recorder Winter yesterday. Two affidavits were filed against the prisoner; one by watchman Sheickler, who first arrested him, and one by Mrs. Cutino, the widow of the deceased.

Watchman Sheickler being sworn, stated—that on the evening of the 4th of November instant, and at an early hour, being then on his beat on Philippa street, he heard the report of a pistol, immediately succeeded by alarming shouts and the cry of murder; that proceeding quickly in the direction of the noise, and while in the act of entering Poydras Market from Circus street, he was violently run against by the prisoner, who gave evidence of great consternation, and whose struggles against the watchman in his endeavors to detain him were so great that it was only when the arrival of officer Dunbar that the accused could be held quiet. He said that he did not know that the prisoner had been committing any evil deed, but arrested him on suspicion, on account of his running, which was "so fast as he did run;" that he searched him in front but found no arms upon him. Sheickler stated that D'Angelo was in a different dress from the one he had on in Court; that he wore a red shirt, and that his costume generally bore the appearance of a fisherman or sailor's dress.

Officer Dunbar called: Witness said that on the evening of the homicide he was on duty on Poydras street; heard the report of fire arms, and proceeding in the direction found the prisoner in the hands of watchman Sheickler, and making desperate efforts to escape. Witness immediately laid hold of him, and passing his arms around him took from his person, behind a long Spanish dirk. The dirk before the Court was the one taken from the accused. Officer Dunbar corroborated the evidence of the previous witness relative to the appearance of attempt at disguise, and said that accused seemed very much terrified; that he spoke to him three times but got no answer; that when taken to the watch house he appeared almost in a fainting condition, and it was only after giving him a glass of water that the prisoner in answer to an officer gave his name.

Mr. Leonard, sworn.—This witness said, that on the evening of the 4th instant, a little after dark, while in O'Donnell's coffee-house, he heard the report of a gun or pistol, and going out, saw two men running, the one behind crying "Stop him; he has killed me," or "I am killed—that witness caught hold of him and told Sheickler, who came up immediately after, to arrest him; that deceased was but ten feet behind accused, when on entering the market he tripped upon the steps, fell, and there died in five minutes or less; thinks he recognizes the prisoner, although in a different dress; at any rate, is certain that the watchman (Sheickler) is the one whom he told to arrest accused.

John McIlvenny called.—Witness said that on the evening of the 4th instant, while in O'Donnell's grocery, on Circus street, he saw a flash, followed by the report of a gun or pistol, which flash appeared to be in the middle of the street, and about the height of a man's breast; that he went to the door, but could not leave the store; that he saw two men running, neither of whom he could recognize, and heard cries of "stop him" and "murder;" that he afterwards went to the spot where the flash and report of the shot indicated, and there, in the middle of the street, and in front of the house, picked up the pistol then in court.

Charles Potrie was then called to the stand. Mr. Potrie stated that on the evening of the 4th of November, while standing in the door of his store, just previous to the time of lighting his candles, he heard the report of a pistol or gun quickly followed by the appalling cry of "murder!" that he turned the key of his door, and ran immediately to the scene, and there found Cutino, whom witness well knew, weltering in blood and unable to speak. Told the persons having the prisoner in custody to bring him back to the place where Cutino laid.

Witness further stated that the wound was on the left side, that he saw the blood but did not examine the wound. Witness further stated that the prisoner, with the same watchman Sheickler had hold of, unless he was changed in the watchhouse; that he might, possibly have said the prisoner had on a blue shirt, but that he had either shirt, garment or something that was blue.

Officer Newhouse sworn.—Did not see the accused until the morning of his arraignment, the 5th, when the prisoner was in a red shirt, pea coat and dark pants. The testimony of officer Lynch coincided with the evidence of Newhouse, relative to the dress, and went further to show that the prisoner was in a fainting condition when brought to the watchhouse, and after giving him a glass of water, he answered in a stammering way to questions in the Spanish language, that his name was Antonio D'Angelo.

The Recorder sent the accused before the First District Court, under the charge of murder.

There were a few cases of charges of drunkenness and disorder before Recorder Winter yesterday morning, but of no importance.

STRIKE AMONG STEAMBOAT HANDS—High Wages.—The steamer Magnolia, whose usual hour of leaving port is five o'clock on Tuesday evening, was not, as we learn, enabled to leave port until an early hour yesterday morning, in consequence of the exorbitant wages demanded by white crews. The boat had been paying sixty dollars wages for some time past, and when on the point of leaving port the crew struck with a demand of one hundred dollars per month. They were offered sixty-five dollars, which the captain had determined to have a crew of blacks, and accordingly shipped them at two dollars and a half per day. If things should continue after this fashion, the situation of deck hand on a packet steamer might well be termed a sinecure, and well worthy the attention of the unemployed.

DARING BURGLARY.—On the night before last the mansion house of Commodore Laurent Rousseau, on Canal street, was entered by some daring thieves and robbed of certain plate, candlesticks, etc. The information of the fact having been communicated to the proper authorities, Captain McGovern of the Second District Police, at once suspected the guilty parties and made his preparations accordingly. A colored woman named Bryant, who resides next door to Commodore Rousseau, was suspected of being accessory to the robbery. She keeps a disreputable rookery where all sorts of foul subjects congregate and nightly repair to roost and hatch out villanies of all kinds and of all degrees of enormity. An individual named Jim Smith had been in the habit of hanging out there as a kind of "cavalier servente" to the aforesaid Bryant. Styles, and him Captain McGovern spotted as a character learned in thieving lore, and likely to know something of the affair. Proceeding to the house of Mrs. Styles, Captain McGovern found that that lady knew nothing about the robbery, and was told that Jim Smith had pulled up the stakes and emigrated. Having examined the back yard of the premises robbed, the Captain found two holes in the ground, as if made by the end of a ladder. There was a ladder found on Mrs. Styles' premises that fitted the holes exactly, hence the inference that the robbers had entered by means of the ladder from the house of Mrs. Styles.

It was further discovered that a carpenter's instrument, called a brace and bit, had been used on the door of the house robbed, without success, and that the same instrument had been tried on a door-facing in the house of Mrs. Styles. The robbers had finally effected entrance into the house by cutting the window blinds. A tower, intended to be used for carrying off the booty, and belonging to Mrs. Styles, was found in the house that was robbed.

On this proof by circumstances, Capt. McGovern captured Mrs. Styles and the individual, Jim Smith, the latter of whom had stampeded from the resort, and had taken refuge on board of a steamboat. The pair were conducted to the lock-up.

FINED.—Acting Recorder Andrews, holding Court yesterday in the Second District, laid on the fines on the small offenders with a vengeance—showing an eye to the benefit of the public treasury, as well as an appreciation of the proper argument to put down small offences.

Jacquien Kaufman, who, on the 15th ult., slapped the son of Auguste Natchitly, who resides in St. Peter street, was fined $25. The lad, at the time the slap was given, was standing on the steps of his father's house.

David Sinney, for beating Andre Pesson, to the endangerment of his eye-sight, was fined $10.

Mary Williams, for some topological flings in and about the classic regions of Bourbon street, was fined $30, and in default of payment, sent to tantalize cakum in the Herbs street factory for the term of thirty days.

ASSAULT BY A NEGRO.—Louis Laine, f. m. c., was yesterday examined before Acting Recorder J. W. Andrews, on the charge of having brutally assaulted, without any cause or provocation, J. P. Goderiay, and sent before the First District Court to be tried.

A SHAM ORDER FOR CHAMPAGNE.—A slave named Robert, was yesterday examined before Assistant Alderman Andrews, for presenting a forged order to A. Schnukke, for a basket of champagne, purporting to have been signed by Salvador Prats. The champagne was delivered and the order afterwards discovered to be a forgery. The negro refused to tell who gave him the order and was sentenced to a slight "walloping."

FIRST DISTRICT COURT—Judge Larue.—Samuel J. Marshall, a youth, was tried in this Court yesterday on an information for larceny, in stealing a number of books from a boarder in the City Hotel, on the 15th of July last. He made a statement to the Court, in which he said that he came down the river with about $400 in his possession, with the intention of going to California. On his way down the river, he got drinking and playing cards, and lost all his money. After his arrival here, finding no prospect of bettering his condition, he continued to drink and committed the crime with which he was charged, without knowing what he was about. He was found guilty and recommended to the mercy of the Court.

There were two trials for assault and battery, in which verdicts of "not guilty" were rendered.

The case of Kinney and others, charged with a gold-dust swindle, was continued over to Monday next.

THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT—Parish of Jefferson—Judge Clark—State vs. Beque and Desangles.—The trial of Beque and Desangles before Judge Clark, yesterday morning, upon the charge of selling liquor to slaves, resulted in the jury, after a short absence, returning a verdict of guilty. They will be sentenced on Saturday.
