Grocers and Druggists

WACO, TEXAS.

The method of handling our Customers' Cotton without commission having proved so entirely satisfactory last year, has influenced us in adopting the same plan for the coming season.

We will receive and promptly dispose of, for account, all consignments from our customers—free of all commissions—guaranteeing them the very best possible classifications and highest market prices.

Waco's immense Cotton receipts last year and her advance of 1-2c. to 3-4c. over other markets in the State, established her, beyond all doubt, as THE Cotton market of Texas.

There are several reasons to be assigned for the belief that the receipts for the season beginning September 1, 1885, will be equally as large—if not larger—than the shipments of the previous year. We have now located with us resident Spinners' Agents, who have direct connections with the East and Europe, which virtually throws the Cotton immediately into first hands, thus obviating the heavy expenses, low classifications, delays and increase of freight rates resulting from shipments made through commission merchants of other markets. Our three competitive Railroads afford the finest transportation facilities, and insure us lower through and local rates to and from Waco than any other point in the State.

In conclusion, we would especially call the attention of our friends to our increased and carefully selected stock, which has received our closest attention in readiness for the large FALL trade, which is now fairly upon us, our facilities for handling our goods with promptness and safety, and our guarantee to make every transaction mutually satisfactory as well as profitable.

Thanking our customers for their past patronage and soliciting a liberal continuance of same, we remain,

Yours faithfully,

CAMERON, CASTLES & STOREY.

NATIONAL NEWS.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—Deputy Register Titcomb tendered his resignation to-day, at the request of Register Rosecrans, to take effect on the appointment and qualification of his successor, Mr. Titcomb has been in the treasury department for over twenty-one years. It is understood that Mr. Ross Fish, a former employe of the treasury, but now a clerk in the office of the collector of the District of Columbia will be appointed to succeed him as Register Rosecrans has recommended his appointment. Mr. Titcomb will be retained in the register's office as a clerk at a salary of $1,800 per year.

A Circular to Customs Officers.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—The secretary of the treasury has issued the following circular to customs officers in regard to the annual estimate of customs expenses:

"With a view to presenting to congress, in accordance with the provisions of the act approved August 5, 1882, the annual estimate specifying in detail the number and class of officers and employes that may, in the judgment of the secretary of the treasury, be necessary to properly conduct the business of collecting the revenue from customs during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, it is directed that the blanks transmitted herewith be filled in harmony with the headings thereon, showing the force actually employed on the first day of October, 1885. At the same time there mate to cover contingent expenses which may be incurred during the period."

Good-bye, Mr. Keily, Good-bye.

WASHINGTON, September 12.—Mr. A. M. Keily was at the department of state to-day. He has formally tendered his resignation as United States minister to Austria and the resignation has been accepted.

A Lonely Veteran's Dinner.

BALTIMORE, September 12.—To-day is the seventy-first anniversary of the battle of North Point where General Ross at the head of the British army, was killed and his followers repulsed. The American survivors of that battle have annually, for many years, attended a banquet in commemoration of it. Their number has been gradually reduced till to-day, when one man sat down to an elaborate course dinner at Rennert's. The last man of the old defenders society who is able to leave his home is Jas. Morford, aged ninety years. Five of the veterans are still alive. Morford is one of seven who participated one year ago.

The remnant of the City Guard, a military organization before the late war, celebrated the day by a dinner at Govanstown armory. The survivors are those who wore the blue and the grey in that conflict, but long since they re-united and only the reminiscenses anterior to 1861 are spoken of in their annual reunions. The day being a municipal holiday all the city offices were closed.

Concord Celebrates its Natal Day.

CONCORD, Mass., September 12.—The two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the incorporation of Concord as a town, was ushered in this morning at sunrise with the ringing of bells and the firing of a salute of 150 guns. One of the features of the celebration was a procession which was reviewed by Governor Robinson and invited guests, among whom were Hon. George F. Hoar, Hon. William Evarts, George William Curtis and James Russell Lowell. The procession then marched to the Town Hall where the exercises took place. The exercises opened with prayer by Rev. B. Reynolds Bulkeley, pastor of the Unitarian church and a direct descendant of Peter Bulkeley, the founder of the town. Hon. John Shepard Keyes, then delivered a few words of greeting after which Hon. George F. Hoar delivered an oration. At the close of the ceremonies dinner was served in the Agricultural Hall at which addresses were made by Messrs. Evarts, Curtis, Hoar, Lowell, Lockwood and Governor Robinson.

Miraculous Escape From Death.

DENVER, Col., September 12.—News reached here at an early hour of a wreck on the South Park railway, three miles west of Como. The train, which was the Leadville express, was approaching a slight down grade, when the engineer discovered that the air brakes would not work. With greatly increased speed the train soon struck a sharp down grade curve, when the two coaches broke from the engine, jumped the track and were piled up in a ditch, a complete wreck. All of the ten passengers miraculously escaped injury, except a Mrs. Cronkhite, of Denver, who sustained a fracture of both arms and received severe internal injuries.

Something that O. P.'s Understood.

PHILADELPHIA, September 12.—As the employes of the mint were departing for their homes yesterday afternoon, seven more of them were discharged; each one discharged receiving a notice to that effect as they passed out. This morning ten of the cutters having formed themselves into a committee, waited upon Chief Coiner Steele and said that, being republicans, they were afraid of receiving summary notice of their removal. There were no charges against them, they said, and they had under them the new hands recently appointed in the mint for instruction. They desired protection, they said that they not be interfered with unless for cause. Chief Coiner Steele told them he would communicate with Superintendent Fox, which he did. The men in the meantime returned to their room, but not to work until they heard from the superintendent. About noon, each one of the ten received a note from Superintendent Fox which read:

"SIR:—You are discharged from the mint, instanter, for insubordination and conspiracy to embarrass the business of the institution."

The Present Generation

Lives at telegraphic speed—eats too fast, retires too late, does not rise betimes, smokes and (alas, that we should have to say it!) chews too much tobacco The consequences are dyspepsia, a general absence of that robust and manly vigor which characterized our ancestors, and a manifest proneness to early decay. Regular hours, a due allowance of time for meals, the disuse of excessive smoking, and altogether of chewing tobacco, in connection with a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will in nine cases out of ten efface consequences of the abuses of the laws of health indicated above. A want of stamina, dyspepsia, nervousness and billiousness are among these consequences, and they are bodily ills to the removal of which the Bitters is specially adapted. Nor is the Bitters less fitted to overcome and prevent fever and ague, kidney and bladder is also a fine appetizer and promoter of convalescence.

Russia Re-fortifying Sebastapol and Building Great Barracks.

Pitiful Tales of Polish Suffering Because of Germany's Expells that People.

The Czar of all the Russian's Dare not Sleep on His Own Bed.

He Lives in Continual and Increasing Horror of His Nihilist Enemies.

THE CABLE'S STORY.

Russia and Her Ruler—The Poles. Nihilism, Ecetera.

LONDON, September 12.—The Russian government has decided to transfer the administration of its Black Sea fleet from Nicolaieff to Sebastapol. The harbor at the latter place is being much enlarged and immense forts and other works of defense are being constructed around its approaches. The czar is also organizing a new fleet to be stationed at Batoum on the east of the Black Sea, and this little town is being rapidly enlarged, because of its strategetic importance, as the central point of the Russian defense of the east coast of the Black Sea. This action of the czar in now restoring to Sebastapol the military and naval prestige which it possessed before the Crimean war, is regarded with misgivings in certain British-Indian quarters Besides making the above military changes in the Black Sea, Russia is erecting barracks for the accommodation of 50,000 troops at Rostoff on the river Don, twenty-two miles above its outlet into the Sea of Azov and on the line of railway from Moscow to the Caucasus. These barracks and their accompanying defenses will connect the military works in the Caucasus with those in Central Russia. The Crimea is also being strengthened by the erection of a number of new modern batteries at Kertsch and Taganrog. The latter place is situated opposite the mouth of the Don and on the north shore of the former stands on the strait of Yienfkalo, which connects the Sea of Azov with the Black Sea. A Russian naval commission will soon be dispatched to examine and report upon the condition of the harbors along the Grecian and Turkish coasts.

Many stirring incidents attend the expulsion of the Russian Poles from Prussia, which is now being ruthlessly enforced under the order of Prince Bismarck. The police, who are engaged in this work of expulsion, recently came across a well-to-do Polish gentleman named Yamajski. He owned much desirable land in Posen, but he lived with his family in a beautiful chateau in France a part of his time He was ordered to settle up his affairs and quit Posen. He demurred and then set up a claim to being a French subject and succeeded in having his appeal placed before M. De Freycenet, the French minister for foreign affairs. In his appeal, Zamajski established the fact that he was born in Paris and therefore was a French subject. He had, however, become so identified with the place of his estate in Posen that the French government declined to formally interfere in the case and M. De Freycenet contented himself with informally referring the case to the German government, as one worthy of consideration. The result has been that the Russian authorities have notified Zamajski that he may retain his interests in Germany upon condition of naturalizing himself as a Russian subject and residing upon his estates in Posen. So many terrible injustices have been perpetrated upon worthy Poles by the indiscriminate expulsion which has been carried on against the race of Russian excites residents in Prussia, that portions of the German pres have been stirred up to protest against the whole business. The Berliner Tagblatt denounces the expulsions as utterly opposed to modern rights and hospitality, and says that if they are persisted in they must result in prejudicing Germany's relations with other nations.

While Prussia continues in this work of exiling thousands of Russian Poles who have made their homes in her territory, Austria is encouraging the work which has been organized throughout Gallicia for Austrian Poland of raising subscriptions for the Polish refugees from Prussia's edict The re-approachment between the Czech and Polish populations of Hungary against German ascendency in Austria-Hungary is perceptibly increasing. A Polish delegation of 400 members, from Limburg and Cracow, which recently visited Pesth, was received with demonstrations of enthusiasm by the people of the Hungarian capital and the members of the delegation were entertained by the Polish-Magyar exchange with banquets and speeches brimming over with fraternal expressions. The Pesth Journals, commenting on the incident, agree that the Hungarian and Star elements are becoming reconciled and predict that these elements, united, will soon dominate in Austria.

At the Royal family re-union to be held by King Christian of Denmark at the castle of Fredensburg next week, there will be present the czar and czarina, the prince and princess of Wales, King George of Greece and the duc and duchess de Chartres. The occasion will be the formal betrothal of Marie, daughter of the duc de Chartres and Prince Waldemar, youngest son of King Christian. During the visit of the czar the greatest precaution will be maintained to keep him safe from any evil designs which may be entertained against him by the nihilists. It is stated the czar's fear concerning nihilism, increases daily and as a result, his mind is almost unhinged with dread. He gives no credence at all to the persistent assertions of the police that nihilism is crushed out.

It is related now that during the recent imperial conference at Kremsier the czar and czarina had different sleeping apartments prepared for their use and that they never occupied any of the rooms thus set apart, to avoid all possibility of being located by enemies whom the czar believes perpetually follow him. His imperial majesty it is declared continues to follow this precaution and allows no one to know beforehand where he will pass any particular night and never permits any of his attendants but his necessary body-servants, to know where he is sleeping.

A tour through Wales has been arranged for the Prince of Wales upon his return from Germany. He will first make a general visit through the northern part of the country and will then have special receptions at Cardiff, Swansea, Milford Haven and elsewhere. This tour will be the first formal visit which the Prince of Wales ever made to Wales.

Somewhat of a sensation has been caused by the development of certain scandals in the management of the inventor's exhibition. It appears that a number of speculators have been allowed by the managers to take large spaces in the halls and to then retail these valuable spaces out to the highest bidders. It is also alleged that blackmail has been collected from certain exhibitors who desired to secure prizes. A private inquiry into these charges is now going on.

Editor Sucad again in Court.

LONDON, September 12.—The examination of Mr. Sucad, editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, Mrs. Jarrett, Mr. Bromwell Booth, Mrs. Coombs, Mr. Jacques and Mrs. Maurice, the defendants in the Eliza Armstrong abduction case, was resumed at the Bow street police court to-day. Mr. Russell, counsel for the defense, conducted the cross-examination of the mother of Eliza Armstrong. Mrs. Armstrong adhered to her denials that she had sold the child to Mr. Sucad or any one else, for immoral purposes. Counsel for the defense then asked a few questions tending to prove that the selling of the child was not known to the father; that the witness kept

A Four-Mile Foot-Race.

LONDON, September 12.—The four mile foot-race between George and Cummings, which was originally fixed to take place at Glasgow, was run to-day at Edinburg. The track was in good condition and Cummings expressed himself as confident of winning, but the betting was two to one against him. The race began at 5:30 and was won by Cummings. George led for three miles and then collapsed.

The New Sunday Law.

GALVESTON, September 12.—The Sunday closing ordinance recently passed by the city council and approved by Mayor Fulton, goes into effect to-morrow and the police department declare that they will rigidly enforce the law. The ordinance provides for the general closing of all places of business between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., and fixes the fine for a violation of the ordinance at not less than $20 nor more than $50, for each offence. Drug stores, undertakers establishments, ice vendors, newspaper and telegraph offices, are alone excepted from the enforcement of the new ordinance.

A MEXICAN'S METHODS.

Whipped, He Murders and is Lynched

BISBEE, Ariz., September 12.—Late Thursday night a fight occurred in a gambling house here, in which an unknown Mexican who was the agressor was worsted. He left the place after the row and was not seen again until 4:30 Friday morning when he made his appearance with a repeating rifle and a belt of cartridges. When he arrived there were about forty men in the saloon and the Mexican, who was on the sidewalk, commenced shooting indiscriminately into the crowd. His first shot struck David Hickey in the jaw near the ear and its course tore off a portion of his upper lip, coming out in his mouth. The next shot struck James McCabe in his back; he is not expected to recover. George Sales received the next shot through the left shoulder, but his wound is not fatal. Jack Welch received a shot in the foot, the bullet coming out of the heel. Another shot grazed the elbow of Frank Gardner.

The Mexican fired fifteen shots into the saloon in rapid succession. After clearing out this saloon he went further up the street and fired two shots in Pierce's saloon and sent two shots into Curtis' saloon and then disappeared into the canon. As he was disappearing, a soldier fired four shots at him without effect.

No steps were taken to capture the assassin until daylight when the citizens started in the search about 9 o'clock. He was found in a Mexican house, in bed. After getting all the evidence that was necessary a rope was secured and the assassin was taken up the canon and hanged to a tree.

FIERY FACTS.

A Pull at the Insurance Men.

NEW YORK, September 12.—The oil warehouse and factory of Swan and Feuch at 115 Maiden Lane was destroyed by fire this morning. The flames extended to the southern half of the double building and damaged the stock of leaf tabacco of Lechtenstein Bros., to the extent of about $40,000. Swan & Feuch's loss is put at $250,000, and the loss on the building at $10,000. The insurance covers losses. The fire broke out very suddenly in the factory in the rear.

Winery and Distillery Burned.

FRESNO, Cala., September 12.—The winery and distillery of the Fresno Vineyard company, the property of Lachman, Jacobi & Co. and others of San Francisco, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The total loss is $12,000; partially insured.

A Lawyer's Strange Death

OTTAWA, Ill., September 12.—This city was thrown into excitement this morning by remarks on the street, that Emory A. Storrs, the Chicago lawyer, had died very suddenly at his room, at the Clifton hotel, in this city. For several days he had been suffering slight in disposition, but no serious consequences had ever been thought of. Though medical attention had been him and at no time had he been confined to his room. During the night it was necessary to administer medicine, which was done by Mrs. Storrs This morning upon awakening she found her husband in a dying condition and beyond medical aid. Mr Storr had been in this city about ten days.

Air-Brake Stock is Valuable.

PITTSBURG, Pa., September 12.—The Westinghouse Air-Brake company, of this city, will, at a meeting shortly to be held, increase its capital stock from $600,000 to $3,000,000, from the surplus, with annual dividends of 12 per cent. The company has heretofore paid a dividend of 60 per cent. per year.

Lawyers Didn't Solve the Riddle.

PITTSBURG, Pa., September 12.—William N. Riddle, ex president of the defunct Pennsylvania Bank, was discharged from custody to-day under the incident bond. He was subjected to a rigid examination, but the opposition failed to show that he had a single dollar left. Mr. Riddle said that after his financial affairs were arranged he would be $25,000 in debt, but had no doubt he would recover his losses. Before the failure of the bank Mr. Riddle was supposed to be worth $5,000,000.

They Shoot in Massachusetts, Too.

GLOUCHESTER, Mass., September 12.—In this city this morning about 7 o'clock, Thomas A. Renshaw went to a boarding-house on Prospect street, and, calling out Fred Osgood, immediately and fatally shot him through the head Renshaw then went to the police station and surrendered. Renshaw has resided here about twelve years. He formerly conducted a barber-shop and was assisted by his wife, the place being advertised as the "lady barber-shop." Osgood, who was about 18 years of age, came from Salem and was his apprentice.

Beecher Advocates High License.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., September 12.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher sends the following to the Post-Express from Peekskill, N. Y.:

"I am decidedly in favor of the insertion of a high-license plank in the platform of the republican state convention because absolute prohibition is an absolute impossibility. High license is feasible and equitable, and the moral sense of the community will sustain the demand. The result will be a greater protection to society from the evil of liquor selling than by any other method that can be enforced.

Round Trip to 'Frisco, $50.

ST. PAUL, September 12.—The general passenger agents of the transcontinental association held their first meeting this morning. A round-trip rate was agreed upon of $50 from eastern points to the G. A. R. meeting next year.

The Big Show Coming Soon.

Four performances remain of Barrett's splendid circus—two to-day and two to-morrow—and will doubtless be witnessed by thousands of our people, before whom no show of equal extent and merit has ever before been spread. There are more gems in the program than we have space even to name, and only by the simultaneous use of two rings and platform could it be completed at any reasonable hour. Among the most distinguished performers must be mentinned the peerless bare-back rider, James Robinson, and his accomplished young rival, Stickney; Miss Emma Lake, with her trick horse, and in her superb menage act; the trick donkeys (with almost human appreciation of a joke) and their trainer, Johnnie Saunders; and the two four-horse act by Stow and Stickney. The careful management of the music deserves a word of praise, as an effective adjunct. The politeness of the attendants in seating the thousands of visitors is delightful.—San Antonio Argonaut, July 25, 1885.

Rosadalis is a sovereign remedy for all diseases of the blood. It has no equal for the cure of nervous disorders. Read this:

I would like to bear testimony to the merits of Rosadalis, by saying that some eight years ago I was totally prostrated, and could get no relief from our family physician, but after taking one bottle of Rosadalis, I became entirely restored to health. I now weigh 175 lbs. but when I first took your medicine I weighed only 130. I cheerfully recomend it to all, and especially to those afflicted with nervous debility.
