By order of W. S. HAMILTON, Secretary.

NEW-YORK, April 18, 1853.

☞ Notice to the Public.—We, the workmen in the employment of JOHN G. WYMAN & Co., of Broadway, take this method of expressing our esteem for our employers for the magnanimous manner in which they have responded to our request for an advance of wages. Owing to the great advance which has taken place in the price of provisions, and the immense amount we have to pay for rent, we found it necessary to make an application for an advance of wages, to which Messrs. Wyman & Co. immediately responded.

NEW-YORK, April 18, 1853.

GENTLEMEN: We have just received your notice of the advance of the price on the work made in our store. Owing to the advanced price of everything in the way of living, we submit cheerfully to the advance. This is as it should be, and certainly goes very far to show that the employers are not the cause of all the misery that exists, but the principle cause is, the mean and selfe-spirited conduct of the journeymen.

Signed on behalf of the shop meeting.

JAMES McCORMICK, Chairman.

R. SMITH, Secretary.

☞ Notice to the Public.—A report having appeared in Monday's Herald and Express, purporting to give a statement of the proceedings of the Piano-Forte Makers' meeting, held last week at Eagle Hall, it was stated that Messrs. Nunns & Clark were on the list of those who refused to give the advance of prices; whereas, no such report has been made. The report of the Committee was, that they had had an interview with Messrs. Nunns & Clark, and although no definite answer was obtained, the Committee were under the impression that they would be favorable to an advance.

At a meeting of those workmen employed in Messrs. Nunns & Clark's Establishment on Monday morning, 18th inst., a Committee was appointed to wait upon the employers and ascertain their views in respect to an advance in prices, who reported that Messrs. Nunns & Clark promptly and satisfactorily acceded to the advance required. It was

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the above firm, for the courteous and gentlemanly manner in which all Committees have been uniformly received by them, and that they have on all occasions acceded to all just and fair requirements. And it was further

Resolved, That the above proceedings be published in the Times, Herald, Tribune, Express, and National Democrat.

In behalf of the workmen,

RICHARD TURNER, Sec'y. WILLIAM WALL, Chairman.

BARRY'S FRUIT GARDEN—The FRUIT GARDEN—Sixth Thousand—A Treatise intended to illustrate and explain the Physiology of Fruit Trees, the Theory and Practice of all operations connected with the propagation, Transplanting, Pruning and Training of Orchard and Garden Trees, as Standards, Dwarfs, Pyramids, Espaliers, &c., the laying out and arranging different kinds of Orchards and Gardens, the selection of suitable varieties for different purposes and localities, gathering and preserving fruits, treatment of disease, destruction of insects. Descriptions and Uses of implements, &c., illustrated with upward of 150 figures, representing different parts of trees, all practical operations, forms of trees, designs for plantations, implements, &c.; by P. Barry, of the Mount Hope Nurseries, Rochester, New-York. 1 vol, 12mo. $1 25.

It is one of the most thorough works of the kind we have ever seen, dealing in particular as well as generalities, and imparting many valuable hints relative to soil, manure, pruning and transplanting. [Boston Gazette.

A mass of useful information is collected, which will give the work a value even to those who possess the best works on the cultivation of fruit yet published.

His work is one of the completest, and, as we have every reason for believing, most accurate to be obtained on the subject. [N. Y. Evangelist.

It is full of directions as to the management of trees, and buds, and fruits, and is a valuable and pleasant book. [Albany Evening Journal.

The work is prepared with great judgment, and founded on the practical experience of the author; is of far greater value to the cultivator than most of the popular compilations on the subject. [N. Y. Tribune.

This book supplies a place in fruit culture, and that is saying a great deal, while we have the popular works of Downing, Thomas, and Cole. Mr. Barry has then a field to himself which he occupies with decided skill and ability. [Prairie Farmer.

NEW TREATISE on BOOK KEEPING—For Schools, Retailers, Mechanics, Farmers, &c.—This day published, and for sale by C. M. SAXTON, No. 152 Fulton-st.,

AN ELEMENTARY TREATISE ON BOOK-KEEPING, by Single and Double Entry, designed for Common Schools, by S. Worcester Cutten.

The work has been prepared with reference to the capacity of pupils of "Common" Schools. Its "Grammar" and elucidates the principles of the science, and the application of those principles to the more simple modes of keeping accounts, so that they may, it is believed, be fully understood by the class of persons referred to: at the same time the entries are such as are likely to occur in the actual operations of business in our country, and the language used, though simple, is not puerile in style, so that the work is equally adapted to the use of adults whose business pursuits render an acquaintance with only the more simple forms of book-keeping necessary to them—such as Retailers, Mechanics, Farmers, &c.

The author has embodied in it the methods of imparting a knowledge of the science of book-keeping which an experience of eight years as principal of a large Commercial Institute, and conference with the book-keepers of many of the largest commercial houses in the great cities of our country, have led him to believe are the best. The same general plan is pursued in this as in the author's larger work; and since that has met with the most flattering approval of more than a very best practical accountants in the principal cities of the Union, confirmed by a large and steadily increasing sale, the publishers feel warranted in commending the present publication to the attention of the classes for whom it is designed.

The work is arranged with special reference to the large treatise of the author, and forms a good introduction to the study of either the Counting House or High School edition.

A KEY, which contains all the different Journals, Ledgers, Balance Sheets, &c., that are omitted in the Treatise itself, has been published by E. C. & J. B., for the use of Teachers. E. C. & J. B. have also published BLANK BOOKS for writing out the exercises contained in the work.

The prices of the several works of Mr. C. are as follows:

Common School book-keeping, per copy	42 cents.
Blank Books for Book-keeping, per set	45 cents.
Key to Books for Book-keeping, per copy	25 cents.
Treatise for High Schools, per copy	50 cents.
Treatise for the Counting House, per copy	$1 50

PRISMATICS, by Richard Haywarde. Illustrated with wood engravings from designs by Elliott, Darley, Kensett, Hicks and Rossiter.

"And if it be a mistake, it is only so; there is no heresy in such harmless attractions."—Joseph Glanville.

One handsomely printed volume 12mo., cloth. Extra price, $1 25.

CONTENTS.—The Last Picture, The Beating of the Heart, Aunt Miranda, Hetabel, Orange Blossom, Bunker Hill: an Old Time Ballad, A Chronicle of the Village of Babylon, The Seasons, Old Books, A Babylonish Ditty, The First Oyster Eater, An Evening Revery, On the Habits of Irishmen, La Belle Entrametiche, On the Habits of Scotchmen, The Locket, An Ancient Ballad, On Societies for Ameliorating the Condition of the Rich, Where is the Holy Temple? Alliteration, Album Verses, The Lay Figure, To ——, My Boy in the Country, A Sonnet, Wit and Humor.

The sparkling contents of this agreeable volume will prove a high treat to the public. Its quiet, pungent humor, with an occasional dash of pathos, enlivened by very pleasant descriptive passages, is not the work of a less accomplished writer merely to entertain. He touches the deep feelings of the heart of society, and strives to purify and ennoble them. Nothing like it has appeared since the Knick Knacks.

NOTES and EMENDATIONS to the TEXT of SHAKSPEARE'S PLAYS, from the early Manuscript Corrections in a copy of the folio of 1632, in the possession of John Payne Collier, F. S. A. 1 vol. 12mo., cloth, with fac simile of the Corrections. $1 50.

"It is not for a moment to be doubted, we think, that in this volume a contribution has been made to the clearness and accuracy of Shakspeare's text by far the most important of any offered or attempted since Shakspeare lived and wrote." [London Examiner, Jan. 29, 1853.

"We think we may challenge any one to look at the alterations which they suggest, and not at once perceive that they recommend themselves to adoption by that surest of all criticisms, the judgment of common sense. Like all other truths when once put before us, we are astonished how these things could so long have missed our grasp. We have here, in all probability, a genuine restoration of Shakspeare's language, in at least a thousand places, in which he has hitherto been misunderstood." [London Athenæum, January 8, 1853.
