FARM FOR SALE.
The subscribers offer for sale their farm, situated about two miles from the village of Bellows Falls, on the Chester road, well known as the
JOHN CLARK FARM,
Containing about three hundred and fifty acres of land; two dwelling houses, three barns and two tenant houses, near the railroad track. The tenant houses are new. The large farm house has been thoroughly repaired and painted, with new piazza in front and end, new front fence; all in the most substantial and tasteful manner, making it a desirable residence. Nearly three-fourths of a mile of new water pipe from a never-failing fountain supplies all the premises.
OVER TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS
has been expended within the past two years on buildings and fences, besides the tenant houses. The land is adapted to the raising of all kinds of crops. Some fifty acres are well adapted for tobacco. The land is now under a good state of cultivation, by having been fed out a large amount of hay and grain the past two years, which has been brought on the place, besides that which the farm has produced. The eastern line is the Connecticut river and the farm laying westerly, divided into pasture and tillage land, with a sufficient supply of wood for the premises. Situated so near the village of Bellows Falls—a village growing more rapidly than any place within the State, and with its unlimited water power, which is fast being improved, must continue to increase in a still larger proportion in the future—makes it the most desirable farm in these parts. Possession given immediately, except the mill yard, and that in one year. Inquire of the subscribers on the premises; or Joseph Wilson, firm of J. Wilson & Co., near the depot; or Wilder & Hopkins, at West Rupert, Vt.

BRANDON BUTTER MARKET.—On Friday the price of butter at Brandon was 28 cents per pound. The amount sold for the week was 1800 pounds.

A FAMILY REUNION.—Nearly a thousand descendents of William Tuttle, who emigrated from England to New Haven, in 1635, held a reunion at West Haven, Conn., on Wednesday week. The ancestors of Wm. Tuttle were eminent in the mother country, two of them having been lord mayors of the city of Exeter, at that time a city of greater relative importance than it is now. The meeting was called to order by Deacon Edmund Tuttle of Meriden, who announced the officers of the day. The president, the Rev. Ruel H. Tuttle of Windsor, Conn., delivered a short and appropriate address, giving the history of the family. After singing a hymn of greeting composed by Miss Emily Tuttle of Middlebury, the divine blessing was invoked upon the assembly. The whole party then sat down to a bountiful dinner. The exercises after dinner consisted for the most part of addresses from members of the family in every section of the country.

Winslow Memorial Monument at Williston.

A monument commemorative to lives and labors of the Rev. Drs. Winslow, has just been erected by friends in the cemetery at Williston. It is of superior workmanship, being a pyramidal column eighteen feet high, surmounted with a large and elaborately carved cross. The material used is the famous Isle La Motte stone, harder than granite, and affording a much finer polish. The inscription is partly in raised letters, and the entire engraved work is executed in a most satisfactory manner. The builders are Messrs Walker Brothers of this city. The side of the monument facing the street bears this inscription:

THREE BROTHERS,
Born in Williston, of the seventh generation from the Pilgrim Fathers.
"Their works do follow them."
WINSLOW.

Side No. 2 has this engraved:

MYRON WINSLOW, D. D., LL. D.
Forty-five years Missionary in India, died at Cape of Good Hope, Oct. 22, 1864, aged 74 years.
"Thy life to the Cross was wholly devoted."

Side No. 3 is thus lettered:

HERBERT WINSLOW, D. D.,
Author, Educator, Pastor at Boston and elsewhere, died Aug. 13, 1864.

Side No. 4 reads as follows:

GORDON WINSLOW, D. D., M. D.,

"In the service of his country and for his Master."

Vermonters in Chicago.

The Burlington Free Press, recently published a letter from Chicago which contained the following interesting paragraph relative to Vermonters at Chicago.

Although a thousand miles away, yet when the gun at sunrise indicated the dawn of our national birthday, the sons of Vermont resident in Prairie Land returned in spirit to the "Old Green Hills," drinking inspiration; and while Vermont was aglow with patriotic fervor, doing homage to the memory of her greatest patriot, the hearts of her sons in the great Northwest were beating in unison with those within her borders. Often was heard throughout the day, the expressed wish, "that I were in Vermont," not from homesickness, for they love the home of their adoption, but from a devoted attachment to the home of childhood, so characteristic of every genuine Vermonter. No matter where you meet him, at home or abroad the "Green Mountain Boy" never forgets the proud title, nor the gallant leader, whose bravery at old "Fort Ti," rendered famous the faithful little band of patriots, the original settlers of the "New Hampshire Grants." But while you were paying homage to the departed patriot, we in the West were doing our best to assist the poor fellows rendered cripples by our "late unpleasantness," in properly celebrating the "glorious Fourth." At the invitation of their brethren in Milwaukee, a party of Vermonters residing in Chicago visited the former city, and together they spent the day at the "National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers." I presume most of your readers are aware that this institution was established by the Government, as a home for our disabled veterans.

A Desperate Fight between Two Lunatics.

From the Providence Journal.

We are informed that on Wednesday an old lady of eighty years, living on Bacon street, in this city, visited the insane asylum at Taunton, Mass., with her daughter, to see her son, who has for some time been confined there for insanity from the effects of a wound received during the war. On arriving there the mother was shown into the reception room, where were several more lady visitors and one or two patients, and the son was brought into the same room, when the attendant went out and locked the door. There happened to be in the room at the time a lady who had gone there expecting to secure the release of her husband, but for some reason he could not be discharged on that day.

This was a great disappointment to the wife, but the effect upon the husband when she told him was terrible. He raged and tore round the room in perfect fury smashed up a marble-topped table as it was paper, and commenced operations on the clock. This he had got partially, if not quite, demolished, when the son of the old lady from this city, who had been quiet up to this time, became excited and attacked the infuriated husband. A rough and tumble fight ensued which must have been frightful to witness, and the feelings of those women, shut up in a room with two infuriated insane persons and unable to escape, can hardly be imagined.

After a little fighting, the husband, with a piece of the furniture he had been demolishing, or with his finger nails, cut or scratched the torchead of the son, making a frightful gash, from which the blood flowed copiously, and then catching him by the throat, he choked him till his face turned purple. Doubtless he would have killed him then and there, but the old lady seeing her son's danger, went to the rescue, and after a severe struggle succeeded in making the husband let go his hold. Fortunately the attendant came in, and a stop was put to the proceedings, though it required five men to secure the disappointed and infuriated husband and put him beyond the power of doing harm.
