CRYSTAL PALACE—The New-York Crystal Palace is temporarily closed in order to receive and arrange a world of rare and beautiful articles, from Europe and our own country, preparatory to its grand Reopening, and its popular Reinauguration, on the 4th of May next. Full particulars of the interesting ceremonies of the occasion will be published in due time. Two prizes of one hundred dollars each are offered for the best two ODES in honor of Industry, Invention, and the Arts to be sung at the reinauguration by the New-York Harmonic Society, numbering over three hundred members—the Odes to be sent in by the 25th inst. The Association for the Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations cannot too strongly urge upon all Mechanics, Merchants, Manufacturers and Artists, the overwhelming importance of displaying their choicest specimens in the Crystal Palace.

Arrangements are being made with the various Steamboat and Railroad Companies throughout the country, to carry passengers to the Crystal Palace at greatly reduced rates of fare, and other equally liberal measures will soon be perfected, calculated to secure an enormous number of visitors to this magnificent enterprise.

On the day and evening of the reopening, (4th of May) notwithstanding the extraordinary attractions, the price of admission will be but 25 cents.

Now Ready.
SPIRITUAL MANIFESTATIONS
EXAMINED AND EXPLAINED.
JUDGE EDMONDS REFUTED; OR
AN EXPOSITION OF THE INVOLUNTARY POWERS AND INSTINCTS OF THE HUMAN MIND.
BY JOHN EDYE DODS,
Author of The Philosophy of Electrical Psychology, Immortality Triumphant.
Elegantly bound in Cloth. Price 75 cents.

This is no catchpenny affair, no attempt to put down by ridicule and the cry of Humbug, Collusion, &c., what it is unable to do by soundargument thus strengthening instead of weakening the faith of the believers in that particular delusion which is the rage at the time. But a searching, thorough, calm, and philosophical examination and refutation of the Spirit Manifestations as represented by table turnings rapping mediums &c. &c., written in such plain language that a child might understand it, and yet so logical in its arguments, so sound in its deductions, as to defy the ablest critics to deny its conclusions or to refute its reasonings. The author, Dr. Dods, well known to the community by his celebrated work on the Philosophy of Electrical Psychology, has for twenty years made the wonderful powers and capabilities of the human mind his study, and is probably better qualified than any other living man to solve a mystery which has puzzled the brains of the learned both in this country and in Europe. The so-called Spirit Manifestations had their rise in 1848, in the family of John D. Fox in this State, and claimed through an intelligence derived from knocks or rappings to have opened a channel of communication between the living and the dead. It can easily be seen what a hold such an idea would have on the human mind, curiosity, affection, the fond hope that those we love were near us and holding communication with us: all these combined have caused the delusion to spread with unexampled rapidity from village to village, from city to city, from State to State, until it numbers among its followers not tens, but hundreds of thousands.

Dr. Dods, while he admits that in most cases the mediums are honest, yet contends that they are as much deceived themselves as their followers, and denies that spirits have any agency in the matter, but accounts for the phenomena on pure philosophical grounds and an analysis of the human brain itself, which he shows is divided into two parts. The voluntary, by which we reason, act, &c., and the involuntary, which causes the heart to beat, &c., and which answers to the highest order of instinct in animals, and by the separate action of these two brains or rather by the independent action of the back brain (or the involuntary) when operated upon by Mesmerism, Somnambulism, Electrical Psychology and Catalepsy, all the wonderful things are performed that have been ascribed to an immediate Divine agency. It is a wonderful subject, and is handled in a beautiful manner, with great eloquence and power, by our author, to whom, no doubt, belongs the honor of having first satisfactorily explained a subject of immense importance to the whole world, and which has done and is still doing irreparable injury in the community. The book should be in the hands of every thinking person in the United States, be he or she a believer or unbeliever in Spiritual Manifestations.

The following notice from The New-York Tribune, speaks for itself:

"Few better books in opposition to the so-called spiritual manifestations, have been called forth by the existing controversy on the subject, than the volume before us. It is uncommonly readable, as we can testify from actual experiment—calm and philosophical in its tone, free from noise or ridicule of the spiritualists, and abounding in facts for the support of its views. * * * No one whose mind is given to the investigation of the matter should neglect the perusal of this volume. Apart from the peculiar views it maintains it is both curious and instructive."

Agents wanted, to whom a liberal discount will be made. Sent by mail to all parts of the country, postage paid, for 75 cents.

"This is one of the most important works which has ever appeared in illustration of the Holy Scriptures. The compiler deserves, and will doubtless receive, the thanks of the whole of Christendom for his important work, as its arrangement is applicable to the Bible in any language and any version." [Literary World.

"The whole of the Bible is classified and divided under appropriate headings so that this work is not only an analysis but a concordance and reference Bible of the fullest order. We feel that we cannot commend it too warmly. It is the best of pulpit assistance, and a book for every family that delights to search the Scriptures."
[Christian Intelligencer.

"It is the Bible itself—the entire Bible arranged according to the subjects. The arrangement is simple, and one great advantage is that the passages cited are printed entire, obviating the necessity of turning to the Bible. It is an important space which has not been occupied before by any work sufficiently accurate and comprehensive." [N. Y. Observer.

"The successful extension of the plan on which it is constructed could have proceeded only from herculean labor and pains-taking. It will aid the religious reader as well as the professional student." [N. Y. Tribune.

"The work seems to us be—next to the Bible itself—the most valuable of all books to clergymen, and almost equally indispensable to jurists and all others who never have occasion to fortify an argument by Scripture authority. Dr. West has produced a work which will form an essential part of every library." [N. Y. Commercial.

"In our estimation at least, the purchase of this volume will more benefit the buyer than the seller. It is one of those time and labor-saving helps which every thorough student and economist of time knows how to value." [N. Y. Churchman.

"It will be regarded as one of the foundation stones of a minister's library. It will also be highly prized by heads of families, Sunday School teachers, and persons of all professions."
[Presbyterian Magazine.

THE PURPLE TINTS OF PARIS—By Boyle St. John.—Price muslin, $1.

"Whoever wishes to know how human character appears in Paris and how men live and act there, especially the poorer classes, will find a copious entertainment in Mr. St. John's report of observations." [Evening Mirror.

"A lively, gossiping, sparkling and withal instructive description of life and manners under the 'Imperial Awning'." [Boll's Messenger.

"It is a long time since we have had the gratification of reading any work which so ably and so thoroughly set forth the manners and character of the French." [Boston Post.

"Nobody but an educated Englishman who had resided several years in Paris and been a watchful student of the manners of the French people, could have made such sketches as this book contains of that city, which has been pithily designated 'a hell for horses, a purgatory for husbands, and a paradise for women'."
