NEW ORLEANS MARKETS.

CRESCENT OFFICE,
SATURDAY MORNING, February 26, 1853.

The principal change in our general market during the past week has been a decline in Breadstuffs, Flour having further given way 12@25c P bbl, and Corn 2@3c P bushel, with an entire nonsale in the latter. In the Provisions line there has been an upward tendency, Pork and Bacon being firmer, with free sales, Sugar and Molasses have been in request, the former for the home being finer. There is no full indication of the Tobacco Market. The account by the steamer Fashion from Havana, received on Monday, and now published in the morning papers of this city, They entered dates from Liverpool to the 19th inst. and reported the receipt of the steamer Arabia with Boston dates to the 12th inst. Cotton was quoted at 4@5d P lb. Flour was quoted at 25@30s P bbl. Corn 30@35c P bushel. Pork 67@70s P bbl. Bacon 32@35s P cwt. Lard 34@36s P cwt. Sugar, the sales for the period amounting to 3,000 bales, of these, 500 were taken for consumption and 1000 for export. Prices were firmer and any quotable change, though limited, tending to advance. For Orleans 6¾@7c, Middling do. 6, Fair Uplands 6¾, and Ordinary Uplands 5¾@6 P lb. Yesterday morning we published a report of the Cotton Market at New Orleans, from the commencement of the season to the 15th instant, per Arabia, and telegraphed to us. These advices report a decline in the Liverpool Cotton Market, for the Middling and lower grades, of nearly ⅛ P lb, but no change for the finer qualities. The quotations were as follows: For Orleans 6¼@7, Middling Uplands 6¼, Fair Uplands 6¾, and Middling Uplands 5¾@6 P lb. The receipts of Cotton at the ports of shipment throughout the Pacific, and the sales of the whole week embraced 20,000 bales, of which 20,000 were on speculation and 500 for export. As there is no fresh news on Cotton had undergone no material change, though slightly easier rates prevailed for some descriptions. Good Middling Orleans was quoted at 7@7¼c P lb Adjournment. The next steamer from Liverpool is due at this port on Sunday inst., which was to have left for Boston, via Halifax, on the 12th inst.

COTTON—The Cotton Market, at the date of our last weekly review, presented a rather firmer appearance, though with little animation in the inquiry. On Saturday, however, several buyers came forward, and factors succeeded in disposing of 10,000 bales at steady prices, of these 2,000 were taken by speculators and 500 bales for export. On Monday the demand was not impaired by the publication of the Pacific accounts early in the afternoon. The sales were limited to about 1000 bales, mostly at lower rates, but almost the smallest for accurate quotations. On Tuesday no improvement was observable, and the few factors showed a disposition to make a concession in order to dispose of their cotton. Sales for only 600 bales taken on Wednesday the inquiry was more general, and 13,000 bales were disposed of at rather shaded prices. On Thursday morning the market opened firmly at our quotations, especially for good Middling and Middling, which grades had been in considerable request for several days previously, and were sought. Factors were chiefly put up their rates for good Middling and Middling, and the tone was firm in demand, and tending the sales of the day 15,000 bales. Yesterday the demand was again good, and tighter rates changed hands, making an aggregate for the week of 40,000 bales, taken mostly for Great Britain. The market last evening closed firmly at our quotations.

The receipts of the week were 50,000 bales, against 50,435 bales for the corresponding week last year, and the total receipts at the ports since the 1st September have been 1,071,196 bales, against 871,076 in the same date last year, showing an increase of 200,124 bales. We now quote as follows:
