the state board of charities and corrections, who was here this week for the purpose of looking up data concerning the financial standing of York county people who are patients in the state hospital for the insane, with a view to ascertaining whether or not any of them were able to pay at least a part of their keep, was able to find only a few who were possessed of any funds whatever. From examination of records made by Mr. Chreitzberg, it is hardly probable that there are more than a dozen York county people in the asylum who could pay even a part of the expenses of their keep or who have relatives who would be able to bear this expense.

Tirzah Warehouse Going Ahead.

Mr. E. M. Williams of R. F. D. No. 2, who was one of the committee recently appointed to look into the matter of soliciting subscriptions to the proposed state warehouse to be erected at Tirzah, said that the work of soliciting stockholders was going forward rapidly and that in his opinion it was a certainty that the warehouse would be erected. Mr. Williams said that several hundred dollars' worth of stock had already been subscribed. It is the intention of the Tirzah farmers to erect a state warehouse which will hold at least 1,000 and maybe 1,500 bales of cotton. The building will very likely be located on lands of Mr. T. M. Oates.

Evangelist Coming.

Rev. W. B. Kinard, who is advertised in another column to conduct a series of services at King's Mountain chapel, beginning tomorrow night, will also very likely conduct a series of services at Philadelphia church when the Chapel meeting has been completed. Rev. Mr. Kinard is a native of Newberry and is well known in the Methodist conferences of the state. He will have a well known musical director with him to look after the devotional services at the meetings. Two services are to be held at the Chapel each day, the first at 11 a. m., and the second at 8 p. m. Rev. F. W. Dibble, pastor of the Clover circuit, is not sure whether or not the meeting at Philadelphia will be held.

A graduated insurance fee is collected, to cover cost of operating. For packages valued up to $5, the rate is 3 cents; between $5 and $25, 5 cents; from $25 to $50, 10 cents; from $50 to $100, 25 cents. Rates for the first and second zones, extending 150 miles, are limited to 50 pounds. Parcels after September 1, must not exceed 84 inches in length. Hitherto the maximum length was fixed at 72 inches. Parcel post charges are fixed at 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent extra for each pound additional in the two zones.

Baptists at Blacksburg.

Forty-three out of the forty-seven churches included, sent delegates to the meeting of the Broad River Baptist association which was held at Blacksburg this week, and the meeting was pronounced one of the most successful ever held. Quite a number of York county Baptists attended the sessions. Among the leading Baptists of the state who addressed the association were Dr. Edwin M. Poteat, president of Furman University; Rev. T. J. Watts, secretary of the state mission board; Rev. J. Dean Crane; J. J. Gentry, former superintendent of the Baptist state hospital, Columbia; Dr. Ramsey, president of the Greenville Female College, and Rev. W. E. Wilkins, state secretary of the Baptist Laymen's movement. Education and prohibition were the principal subjects discussed.

Convicted of Abusing Child.

Frank J. Kirby, a one-armed white man who lives in Rock Hill, was tried before Magistrate Glenn of Ebenezer, yesterday morning on the charge of cruelly beating his little daughter. A jury composed of Messrs. Wm. Campbell, Wm. Matthews, W. T. Nichols, Wm. Adkins and P. J. Burris found the man guilty of the charge and recommended him to the mercy of the court. Magistrate Glenn sentenced Kirby to pay a fine of $50 or serve twenty days' imprisonment. Owing to the fact that Kirby is unable to do physical labor and is without funds, the sentence was suspended during good behavior. H. M. Dunlap, Esq., represented the prosecution, and W. B. Wilson, Jr., defended Kirby. The case really came under the jurisdiction of Magistrate Wingate of Catawba township; but when Kirby alleged that he could not get a fair trial before the Catawba township magistrate because that official was familiar with the details of the case, the matter was transferred to Magistrate Glenn of Ebenezer township.

The Conference at Linwood.

Scores of delegates from Associate Reformed Presbyterian churches in North and South Carolina and other states are at Linwood college, near Gastonia this week, attending the laymen's conference which is being held there. The conference was worked up largely through the efforts of Rev. J. G. Dale, a missionary to Mexico, who has been in this country since conditions have become so disorderly there. The conference began Wednesday and will continue one week. The programme is a lengthy one and in addition to distinguished theologians of the A. R. P. church, who will deliver addresses on various phases of the laymen's movement, noted religious workers have been secured from a distance. Rev. S. D. Gordon, the famous evangelist, who has conducted meetings in a number of towns in this state, is one of the speakers, and the famous Dr. Chapman is another. Dr. M. G. Kyle, president of Xenia seminary in Ohio, is also on the programme. Several York county ministers of the A. R. P. denomination expect to attend at least a few of the sessions of the conference and a number of ministers of other denominations will also be on hand.

Boosters in Rock Hill.

Rock Hill Record, Aug. 26: Somewhere near 75 cars of Columbia "boosters" rolled into Rock Hill about 2 o'clock this afternoon, full of enthusiasm, coming to "A Good Town" to get a "square meal." Soon after their arrival a fire alarm was turned in from the box at Main and Hampton, but it was no fire—several of the visitors probably suffering from over-exertion. Among the visitors were noticed ex-Go. D. C. Heyward, Gen. Wilie Jones, Commissioner E. J. Watson, Speaker Jas. A. Hoyt and Mayor Griffith. There were also a large number of Lancaster men here today to greet the Columbia visitors. The Columbia men did not arrive here in a bunch, Speaker Hoyt told the Record that York had sent a delegation to Columbia yesterday urging the boosters to visit York, and about half of them did so, the balance not being able to find the road to York, came on to Rock Hill. About 2.30 the entire delegation and a large number of Rock Hill men, headed by a band, went out to the grove at Cherry's farm, where a picnic dinner was served under the auspices of the local chamber of commerce, the dinner being largely made up by donations from the ladies of the city.

Wall Street Displeased.—Wall street, says a New York dispatch, is extremely critical of Secretary McAdoo's plan to deposit $30,000,000 in gold in the Federal reserve banks in Atlanta, Dallas and Richmond for the relief of the cotton crop. Bankers generally hold that the proposition is an unfair one in that the banks in the south are to get the money from the reserve banks without having to pay any interest for it, while the opportunity for the New York banks to make loans to the south on its cotton warehouse certificates is thereby blocked. The New York bankers are displeased in that it has always been the banks of this city which have cared for the south in times of stress and local bankers feel that they have always handled the problem satisfactorily.

Last year when the cotton situation was particularly acute it was the banks of New York city which at once raised $50,000,000 for the relief of the south, while the secretary of the treasury experienced great difficulty all over the rest of the country in inducing the interior banks to raise their required quota of $50,000,000 or more.

New York bankers hold that the secretary of the treasury's action is unnecessary, as the banks here are possessed of ample funds to go to the relief of the south and still have enough money left to meet any emergency which may arise. They also believe that the $30,000,000 which Secretary McAdoo had agreed to deposit in the three Federal reserve banks of the south will not prove sufficient to meet the needs in case that any real crisis in the cotton situation arises. It was generally felt in banking circles that the offer was largely of a political nature and was intended as such to win the approbation of the south.

The cotton trade was not disposed to look upon the secretary's offer favorably either. It was pointed out that last year a cotton pool of $135,000,000 was raised and was proved oumbersome and unnecessary, and there is serious doubt as to whether the operations of the pool, had it really been called upon, would have been such as to afford adequate relief to solve the problem. One man who is well in touch with the situation says that should any real crisis arise as regards the cotton crop and its marketing the $30,000,000 would be sufficient to care for only 1,000,000 bales at 6 cents a pound.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS

—Work on Spartanburg's proposed $100,000 passenger station was begun this week.

—Farmers and business men of Alcolu propose to erect a state warehouse which will have a capacity of about 2,000 bales.

—Spartanburg county has warehouse facilities for about one-third of the county's cotton crop.

—T. U. Vaughan is to be taken back to Greenville for re-sentence next Friday.

—The second trial of Geo. W. Tidwell, for the killing of Emmett Walker in Greenville more than a year ago, will be called next Wednesday. Tidwell was convicted of manslaughter at his first trial and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment and the sentence was commuted to seven years by Governor Blease.

—Samuel S. Hallman of Spartanburg, won the state championship on Tuesday in the checker tournament which was held at Chick Springs this week. E. E. Styles of Greenville, won second place in the tournament, and M. L. Feaster of Lancaster, third.

—Columbia special of August 26 to the Greenville News: A vigorous fight on prohibition is going to be made between now and the date of the referendum election on September 14. It became known here tonight that the fight will be carried into every section of the state and an effort will be made to show that South Carolina will be wise to change her present scheme of regulating the liquor traffic. The campaign against prohibition will be carried largely through a newspaper advertising campaign to be systematically and thoroughly handled in a business way in the two weeks or a little more time between now and the date of the election. The situation in states which have voted prohibition and that of the states which have rejected prohibition will be set forth from the side of the anti-prohibitionists. The fight will be carried on by an organization which is known as the local option league of South Carolina. Headquarters of the league have been established in Columbia and the anti-prohibition party have already begun work collecting data for their advertising campaign. It is not likely that any speakers will be put out for it is the intention of the local option league to appeal to the voters through the press, setting forth the arguments in a business manner and without any appeal to passion or prejudice according to an official of the league. The information that the anti-prohibitionists or local optionists are going to make a fight on prohibition will come as a surprise as there have been no evidences up to this time that there was any organized opposition to prohibition. The prohibitionists themselves are active and are making campaigns in all parts of the state. National prohibition leaders, including former Governor Hanley of Indiana and Oliver W. Stewart W. Stewart of Chicago, are stumping the state in several counties. "Flying squadron" speakers are speaking at all principal voting points. The active opposition to prohibition is bound to inject ginger into what up to now has been an apathetic situation.

MERE-MENTION

P. L. Phillips, his wife, son and daughter, were murdered in their home in Graham county, N. C., this week by moonshiners who charged them with giving information regarding the location of illicit distilleries to revenue officers. Two of the murderers have been captured and several others who are believed to have been implicated, made their escape to the mountains....Gustav Kosch, a young German employed in Washington, is charged with taking pictures of United States fortifications. He is being held in default of $5,000 bond.....W. M. Connell of Union county, N. C., is being held under a $300 bond, charged with the theft of a rural free delivery box.....Rev. Edmund Keyser, pastor of St. James Evangelical Lutheran church of Tolleston, Ind., was shot and killed in his home Tuesday night by several persons who bound his body with cord and left it in a nearby lot. Alleged relations of the pastor with a woman of his congregation are said to have been responsible for the murder.....Wylie Brice, a negro, was captured near Charlotte, N. C., Wednesday morning, following his attempt to criminally assault a little 6-year-old white girl. He confessed his crime and is in jail at Statesville, N. C., for safe keeping.....Edward Hoffman, a fireman on the interned German cruiser Eitel Friedrich at Norfolk, Va., was drowned Sunday morning, when he fell overboard from his ship. He was buried in the United States naval cemetery in Norfolk, Wednesday, with military honors.

—Postmaster General Burleson is anxious that manufacturers of cotton twine again avail themselves of the opportunity offered by his action in advertising for proposals to furnish either cotton or jute twine for use in tying together letters in packages during the year beginning November 1, next, says a Washington dispatch of yesterday. Nearly a billion and a half yards of twine will be consumed by the postoffice department during the 12 months' contract period. It is used in large quantity daily both in the postoffices and upon the railway postoffice cars. In pounds, approximately 2,400,000 pounds of jute twine, or approximately 1,600,000 pounds of cotton twine, the former being much the heavier per yard, will be needed. Until last year, jute had the preference. Last summer, after the opportunity had been called to their attention by the postmaster general, several large manufacturers of cotton twine took an interest and bid for the contract now in force. Cotton won and the Beaumont Manufacturing company of Spartanburg obtained the contract on terms involving a saving for the postoffice department over the lowest bid for jute of $83,000 for the year. The South Carolina company has fulfilled its contract to date and the cotton twine has proved in all respects satisfactory to the postal service.

Carrying Unlawful Guns.—Customs officials here today held up clearance papers to the British steamer Waimana, from Marseilles to Buenos Aires, after it was discovered the steamer carried a four-inch rifle mounted on her main deck aft.

Treasury officials at Washington were asked for a ruling as to whether the Waimana was amenable to the agreement between the United States and Great Britain forbidding clearance of armed British merchantmen from American ports.

The Waimana had put into Newport News for fuel coal. Captain Holmes, her skipper, explained that the gun had been mounted as a protection against submarines.

The Waimana is a ship of 10,000 gross tons and carries a crew of 75.—Newport News dispatch, August 26.

We have less than half a dozen of the carload of Tennessee and Kentucky Mules that we shipped to this market about the first of the month. But still we have several nice animals, that we either want to sell or exchange for good Mules that are older. Our belief that there were enough farseeing farmers in this vicinity to buy a car of Mules in the good old summer time has proved to be correct.

Mr. Farmer, if you are looking forward to buying new Mules next Spring let us urge you to buy NOW, because there is every indication and it is the belief of dealers everywhere that the prices of Mules will be out of sight by next Spring. NOW is your best time to buy—WE are folks for YOU to see.
