THE FARMER.

"He that by the plough would thrive,
Himself must either hold or drive."

Spring tales and Winter folly.

Every thing upon the farm has a knack of story-telling as well as its owner. The lord of the soil has say, his fine-spun theories, his conjectures and guesses. Sometimes the animals and soil confirm the theories of the cultivator, and again they give him a flat contradiction, to be reiterated with every season, until he believes the story.

Our neighbor Brown has been in a fierce dispute with his cows, these dozen years, the poor animals talking one way with a very mute sort of intelligence, and Brown talking the other with a very positive and dogmatic air. The subject in dispute is the proper locality for cows in the Winter. Brown has asserted with great assurance that the cows would do just as well out doors as in a barn; that the Winter breezes give them a good appetite and made them strong and healthy; that a close atmosphere in the barn made them too delicate and if they put on flesh under such treatment it was rather apt to be bloated. The real ground of this opinion probably lay in the fact that he had not barn-room enough for them, and that he did not think it would pay to build. It was also a fact, that he had great quantities of butts and corn-fodder, poorly cured, which he had observed went off very slowly in the barn, so long as it was fed in connection with red top and timothy. Around the stock-yard, in the keen northwest wind, the animals bit sharper and the corn fodder disappeared.

The cows, on their part, objected to the temperature of the open fields, even under the lee of stack yards and walls. They drew their feet together and arched their backs, so as to present the smallest surface possible to the cold and wet, and shivered like an aspen in the snowy mornings of January. This was very plain talk, but Brown was thick headed, as well as strong willed, and would not take the hint. Every Spring these years back, they have presented him with a dreadful array of thin necks and speaked hip-bones, and porrescent hair, that "would not down," under the severest licking their tounges could give—tongues, by-the-way are the only card their hides ever knew.

We have often talked to Brown about stabling his cattle in Winter. But he always was ready with his standing joke about book-farming. He guessed that he knew as much about feeding stock as they of his neighbors. His father always fed cattle at the stack and he did not see but what they did about as well as those that were kept in the barn. He did not see what folks wanted to make such a fuss about housing dumb cattle for. He really believed "some folks would begin to put petticoats on their cows next, if they should only see it in a paper."

We met Brown this morning, "down in the mouth," more so than we ever saw him before.

"I tell you what it is, neighbor, I never had such luck afore, with my cattle, since I've been a farming. To begin with, you see, I had two great sows that, last year, brought me eighteen pigs; and this year I've only got four. And then six of my cows slunk their calves, and I don't know what to make of it. Some says it is because it has been such a cold Winter the cows hated to go down to the brook through the snow, and got awful dry that when they did go they drank too much cold water and killed their calves. Others say that their is a kind of weed called slink weed, that makes them lose their calves. At any rate, it has had a bad effect on the cows, and every one of their sides looks like a gridiron."

We thought the cows had the best of the argument, and that Brown would not be likely to dispute the question much longer. Six dead calves is a Spring tale that will be likely to make an impression upon the sensibilitiss of our neighbor. We are happy to state that the calves are all buried, and will not find their way to our market.

The question of slink-weed is a new one, and we are inclined to think there is such a weed. We should not, however, locate it in the meadow among the sweet grass, but in the mind of the cultivator. Its favorite soil is a big swamp, called ignorance, and the best manure is a compost of inhumanity and avarice. There is a great deal of slink weed still grown in the country.—N. Y. Times.

Loss of Hogs by Disease.—A writer in a Cincinnati paper giving an idea of the number of hogs that have died this season of cholera, states the losses at the following places thus:

At Ingraham's distillery, from the first of August to the 24th of October, 1285.—At the distillery in Pittsburg since the 18th of October, 2576. Mr. Pate, of Rising Sun, lost 500; Messrs. Gaff of Aurora, 4546. At New Richmond since the disease made its appearance, 10,435 have died, and in the vicinity of Aurora 6000 have died.—Making the aggregate as far as accounts have been received, of 60,000 hogs, valued at $300,000, and when fatted would have been worth $650,000.

☞ A lawyer, on his death-bed, willed all his property to the Lunatic Asylum, saying as a reason for so doing, that he wished his property to return to the liberal class of people who patronized him.

SUFFER NOT,

WHEN A PERMANENT CURE IS GUARANTEED in all stages of SECRET DISEASES, Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Strictures, Gleets, Gravel, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Ankles and Bones, Diseases of the Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body, Female Irregularities, and all improper discharges, no matter of how long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure could be effected by any other treatment, even after the skill of the most eminent physicians had failed, and the disease resisted all other means of cure. The remedies are free from color, causing neither sickness nor inconvenience, and without mercury or balsam. During twenty years' practice, I have restored to health over seventeen thousand patients who were suffering under the worst forms of all the above mentioned diseases, which guarantees me in promising a perfect and most speedy cure. Secret diseases are the greatest enemies to health and happiness, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, &c., and should be a terror to all nations on the earth; for the disease is becoming so common and treatment so little understood, that a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, as a majority of the cases fall into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the malady, but ruin the constitution with corrosive sublimate—a dangerous poison, a preparation of mercury—which, with the remains of disease in the system, produces many of the above named affections, which finally terminate in consumption, and frequently a rapid one; but should it not cause death speedily, and the victim to disease marries, the disease is then conveyed from the parent to the children, causing them to come into the world with scrofula, affections of the skin, eyes, throat, &c., and a train terminates in consumption, and consigns the victim to an untimely grave, between the ages of six months and thirty-five years. Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health; it destroys the nervous system rapidly wasting away the energies of life, causing mental derangement, preventing a proper development of the system, and disqualifying its victim for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness. Female irregularities and all other diseases of females treated in the most skilful and scientific manner. Medicines, with directions, sent to any part of the United States and Canadas, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

DOCTOR HOOFLAND'S
CELEBRATED
German Bitters.

WILL EFFECTUALLY CURE

LIVER COMPLAINT, Dyspepsia, Jaundice Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach Such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fulness or Blood in the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, dimness of Vision, Dots or webs before the Sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c, Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constantly be inings of Evil and great Depression of Spirits.

The proprietor in calling the attention of the public to this preparation does so with the feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article, but one the merits of which stood the test of a ten years trial before the American people and its reputation and sale is unrivaled by any similar preparation extant. The testimony of men of science, as well as that of private individuals, physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of any of his Agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it enjoys.

PENNSYLVANIA TESTIMONY.

Certificate of R. HOOFLAND, Esq., the well known writer for the Dunsters Town Herald, Germantown, Pa.

DUNCANNON, January 11, 1855.

Dr. C. M. Jackson—Dear Sir—I was for five years severely afflicted with Chronic Bilious Dysentery, for which I was attended by several of the best Physicians in the country, but all of no avail. I also used various patent medicines, which I thought would do me good, but I wasted not only your German Bitters, and after taking four bottles of which, I was entirely cured, and am enjoying the best of health.

MORE EFFECTS OF THE GERMAN BITTERS IN DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

Certificates of J. C. CURTIN, Esq., Reporter of the Evening Chronicle, Pittsburg, Pa., who, February 24, 1855, says, "For some weeks past my wife has been using your German Bitters, with a happy effect. She has been afflicted more or less, for several years, with disease of the Liver and Dyspepsia, and until she commenced using the Bitters, nothing had given her most relief. Her health is now rapidly improving, appetite good, and we have every reason to believe she will be perfectly restored. She says it is the best medicine she has ever used."

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

J. M. HUTSINGER, Doylestown, Pa., June 20, 1853 says: "My wife has been afflicted with a nervous debility, since September, 1851, since which time I have been unable to find any physician or medicine that would benefit her in the least, until one day I called at the store of Dr. Harvey, of this town, for some tincture of iron, and described to him the affliction of my wife he then handed me a bottle of paper to read, among which I found one describing your German Bitters. I immediately procured a few bottles from him, and am pleased to state that the use of the Bitters has done her more good than all the medicine she has her tofore taken. I wish you to send me a half dozen bottles

LIVER COMPLAINT.

J. P. WICK, Harrisburg, Pa., May 22, 1854, says:—"With much pleasure I testify to the virtues of your German Bitters. Sometime since, I was severely afflicted with a disease of the Liver, for which I used various remedies, but with no beneficial effect, until I was induced to try your Bitters, which I am now happy to state have entirely cured me."

They are entirely vegetable, free from all alcoholic stimulants, and pleasant in taste and smell. Price 75 cents per bottle.

BUSINESS NOTICE.

HERRING' FIREPROOF AFE—Another Victory

MOUNT BRIDGE, July 4, 1855.

F. B. Boddorm, Esq., London. C. W., Agent for Herring & Co.

DEAR SIR:—I am sorry to inform you that my store with the whole of the contents, furniture, clothing, &c., was destroyed by fire last night. I saved nothing. You will remember I bought one of Herring's Safes from you last March, and I have much pleasure in informing you it stood the fire well, it was perfectly red hot for several hours; the handles and brass plate both melted off, it did after hauling it out of the burning embers we had almost water on it for nearly half an hour before it could be opened. You may fancy my satisfaction at finding my books, mortgages, deeds, notes and cash all right. I had a large amount of valuable papers in it which had I lost, would have completely ruined me.—You will please send me another safe directly, and I will send you the old one that you may show it to all who wish to have a perfectly fire proof safe.

I remain, dear Sir, yours respectfully,

J. W. EMERSON.

☞ The subscribers have on hand for sale, one of the largest assortment of FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES in the world guaranteed to be equal to the above and superior to any other now offered to the public.
