LYON'S KATHAIRON.—This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair, is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually! It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively, rich, luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world. D. S. BARNES & CO.,

Shad-ows.—The Mayor has our thanks for a very nice Susquehanna Shad. May His Honor's Shad-ow never grow less.

Come.—Dr. Rea, 79 Main street, has received Mme. Demorest's Spring Fashions, Wilkes' Spirit, Clipper, Irish American, Banner of Light, and the New York Dailies—the World, Herald, Times, and Tribune.

2d Ward!—The Democratic and Conservative Voters of the Second Ward will meet this evening at the Clerk's Office, in the Court House, to appoint Delegates to the Convention at Beckel Hall, to-morrow (Friday) evening; and also to nominate Ward candidates.

Turn Out!—Democrats and Conservative Voters of Dayton! Remember the Ward Delegate Meetings, to-night,! Be active and vigilant! Let your proceedings be conducted with the harmony and energy which will insure success. Make your Ward nominations at the same time, and in the same spirit of determination to succeed.

Turn out to-night!

Potter has 'em.—Potter has just received a choice lot of Fresh Shad, Mackinack Trout, &c., &c., direct from the water, and they are—well, they are entirely too good to talk about! Try 'em—quick! That's our ticket; we've got one! Mr. Childs also informs us that they have received the Oysters, and Eastern Papers, Magazines, &c., already due.

P. S.—Don't forget the Shad and Trout!

Court Matters.—The jury was selected yesterday for the Robbins murder trial, and it was then found that two important witnesses were sick and unable to be present, and the case was continued.

To-day the Court is engaged in the investigation of a dark subject—pertaining to the criminal operations of certain "Americans of African descent." Of course the Court Room presents a gloomy appearance to-day, while the Ethiope drama is being enacted at the expense of the county.

The Last Concert.—The Old Folks had a very large audience last night—an extraordinary turnout, when we consider the execrable weather. We saw Father Gulick just at nightfall, and he feared there would not be much of a crowd at the meetin', but we told him meetin' would be full, rain or snow; and so 'twas. The O. F. gave great satisfaction again last night. There is a demand here for the quaint and interesting style of the entertainments they offer. It is not opera, it is not concert, it is not the drama; it is rather all these—and much more—combined in a melange which is as agreeable as it is novel. Go this evening to Huston Hall. It is the last appearance of the Old Folks; and don't fail to witness their inimitable dashes at New England life—in and out o' meetin'. Secure seats early.

W. W. S.—We have never heard of a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine being for sale in a Second-hand Store, or at sales of household furniture. It is the last article of domestic economy any lady acquainted with its capacities will dispose of; when she has no further use for the machine, there are a dozen acquaintances eager to get it. The W. W. S. never go begging. They are at all times equal to gold, and are in greater demand. By the way, have you called in at the Office of Mr. West, Phillips House, Third st., and examined those improved machines? It would not be improper in this connection to say—for it is true—that some gentlemen, whose families stand in great need of good sewing machines, spend during the current year enough money for tobacco, cigars, and—and other things, solid and liquid—to pay for two or more machines apiece! And, between us ladies, this would be a good string to pull; we think that, in most cases, a machine would be found at the other end.

Why not?—Now that "gold has gone down several pegs," what excuse is there for keeping up the present outrageous prices for breadstuffs, and the other necessaries and comforts of life? We asked this question of a clever dealer in eatables and other necessities, who referred to the decrease in the price of the precious metal as gratifying evidence of the soundness of National Shinplasters. It was evident to us that he did not relish the question, for his hopeful look instantly gave place to a shade of perplexity as he replied: "Well, it won't do to knock prices down now, for the price of gold may pop up again as high or higher than ever; and we would have no margin for profits, in that event." The high price of gold, or the depreciation of paper currency has for a long while been made the pretext by capitalists for demanding outrageous prices for the necessaries of life; and when the currency advances toward par—even though temporarily—they can well afford to sink prices correspondingly.

Door Bells—A new style of Door Bells are being introduced into this community, and those who have tried them express themselves as highly pleased with them. They entirely dispense with wire and joints, the bell being secured inside the front door. It is composed of superior metal, and can easily be heard at the rear of any house of ordinary dimensions; and the cost is trifling. Mr. King, the Agent for these bells, will be in the city again in a short time, and give all who desire it an opportunity of seeing how admirably it works.

Personal.—The numerous friends and customers of Henry Hilgefort—so widely known here in the Grocery Trade for several years past—are hereby informed that he is now established at the old and reliable Wholesale Grocery and Provision House of John Hanitch & Co., No. 44 Main street. Of course he will be pleased to wait on his old customers as heretofore.

Luxuries.—Fresh Shad, Mackinaw Trout, and a swad of other dainties, are just received at the "American," Main street, opposite the Market. Hurry along.

Ætna Life Insurance Company
OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT.
EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE HIS LIFE.
THE Ætna grants policies FOR LIFE, for a term of years, Endowment policies and children's Endowment. Also, Non Forfeiting Policies, on which no payment is required after few years.
Five thousand dollars paid on two losses in this city within the last six months.
Among all the contrivances of men to protect the family circle from want, none can be found more simple in its character, noble in its features, or certain in its results, than Life Insurance. It is the prop which the dying husband leaves to SUPPORT THE WIFE OF HIS BOSOM.
It is the unseen hand of the provident father, reaching forth from the grave, and still nourishing his offspring, and keeping together the family. By it the mother can PROTECT HIS AGED PARENTS,
Even where he has preceded them into eternity, by it the honest debtor satisfies his confiding creditor, when fate seemed least propitious. In a moral and worldly sense, it is one great weapon by which to rob death of its sting.
Let any husband, father, son, ask himself, "If I were to die to-night, would those who are dear to me
BE SAFE FROM THE PANGS OF WANT?"
Would these children have a comfortable home, and the means of education? Would this wife be independent of the cold charities of the world? Would this aged and feeble parent be provided for? Would my estate pay my debts? Would there be no sacrifice of property by forced sales of an administrator to meet the demands of creditors—sales made when the market tends downward, and sure prices cannot be realized? How few can answer these question to their satisfaction! They fear to ask them, and cherish the belief that they have a long lease on life. This is both foolish and cowardly. The brave man
LOOKS THE DANGER IN THE FACE,
That he may grapple with it; the wise man, that he may study its nature and palliate its threatening. The means of palliation are at hand, of easy access to all—it is
LIFE INSURANCE!
Young men just starting in business, whose chief capital is their energy and integrity, should insure their lives to the amount of half their liabilities. Such an act of disinterested honesty, when known to their creditors, would justly increase their confidence in them. It would show that they did not wish to leave their best friends exposed to any avoidable contingency, and the
ANNUAL PREMIUM
Might fairly be regarded as the tribute which an upright heart pays at the shrine of justice.

6-24 Agent for Dayton and vicinity.
