MARCH.

BY D. HARDY, JR.

Dying, dying,
Winter's dying
In the lovely lap of Spring
Spirits grieving,
Sad are leaving
Winter haunts on viewless wing.

Coming, coming,
Spring is coming,
For March's breath loud and shrill,
In the valley,
Sport and dally
With the dancing daffodill.

Humming, humming,
Bees are humming,
For flow'r on lightsome wing,
Trees are budding
Spring is flooding
Earth with many a lovely thing.

Singing, Singing,
Birds are singing,
On each budding bush and tree;
Upward rushing,
Downward gushing,
Dance the rivulets in glee.

A suit at law means rags.

A suit at law makes rags.

The greatest rogue generally contrives to get the most credit.

In whatsoever house you enter, remain master of your eyes and your tongue.

Why repent a second time of an action of which we have already repented?

Time may unfold more than prudence ought to disclose.—Washington.

If you wish to pronounce an impartial judgement, never accept any favor.—Zouloy.

Nothing is more common than to try to reconcile our conscience to our evil thoughts by our good actions.—Cotton.

Those who misuse a tendered hospitality are guilty of a gross ingratitude.—Zouloy.

If you wish that your own merit should be recognized, recognize the merit of others.

Those who think that money, will do anything, may be suspected of doing anything for money.

The parent who would train up a child in the way he should go, must go the way he would train up his child in.

He, that has once done you a kindness will be more ready to do you another, than he whom you yourself have obliged.

The very afflictions of our earthly pilgrimage are presages of our future glory, as shadows indicate the sun.—Jean Paul.

A good moral character is the first essential in a man. It is therefore highly important, to endeavor not only to be learned, but virtuous.

Always laugh when you can, it is a cheap medicine. Mirthfulness is a philosophy not well understood. It is the sunny side of existence.

You may as well feed a man without a mouth as give good advice to one who has no disposition to require it, and whose bent, and inclination is only to wickedness.

Our principles are the springs of our actions,—our actions the springs of happiness and misery. Too much care, therefore, cannot be employed in forming our principles.

'Patrick,' said a lady to a slip of green Erin, who was officiating in the kitchen, 'where is Bridget.'

'Indade ma'am, she is fast asleep looking at the bread baking.'

Tom Hood said that when he was a young man he could'nt wink at a girl, but that she took it for an offer of marriage. The consequence was, a good many of the girls got hood-winked.

A contemporary, in noticing the proposals to light the streets of a village with red headed girls says:

'If we lived there we would play tipsy every night, and hug the lamp-posts.'

Pleasure is sometimes only a change of pain. A man who has the gout, thinks he feels first rate when he gets down to the rheumatism again.

'Please, sir, give me a bundle of hay?' 'Yes, my boy. Sixpenny or a shilling bundle.' 'Shilling.' 'Is it for your father?' 'No it ain't that's for the hoss.' 'My father don't eat hay.'

Mr. Geo. W. Curtis, the lecturer spoke of those pious people who clasped their hands so tight in prayer that they could not open them when the contribution come round.

Riches, State and Supremacy, can procure us only a customary respect, and make us the idols of an unthinking crowd, while knowledge and learning will always recommend us to the love of such as are in a superior class who always esteem the merit of a man's understanding, far more than the bare sound of birth and of fortune.

Beware of all the malignant passions.—They are great foes to grace. Envy is devilish. Hatred is murderers. Wrath is cruel. Even peevishness destroys equanimity, and makes connected thought impossible. God's Spirit is a dove, not a bird of prey. He flies from noise and strife. He who rules not his own spirit will be ruled by an evil spirit.

A tall Hibernian gentleman entered the office of a writing master, and inquired 'the price of a 'saison in writing.' 'I charge $25 for the first month, $20 for the second, and $15 for the third,' was the reply. 'Then, sir, you'll be kind enough to put me down on yer list as a scholar for the third month as a commencement,' said the

WETTING BRICKS.—As it is important that every one engaged in building should be well informed in regard to the durability of materials, we publish the following from an exchange paper:

Very few people, or even builders, are aware of the advantage of wetting bricks before laying them, or if they are aware of it, they do not practice it; for of the many houses now in progress in this city, there are very few in which wet bricks are used. A wall twelve inches thick, built of good mortar with bricks well soaked, is stronger in every respect than one sixteen inches thick, built dry. The reason of this is, that if the bricks are saturated with water, they will abstract from the mortar the moisture which is necessary to its chrystalization, and on the contrary they will unite chemically with the mortar, and become as solid as a rock. On the other hand, if the bricks are put up dry they immediately take all the moisture from the mortar, leaving it too dry to harden, and the consequence is that when a building of this description is taken down, or tumbles down of its own accord, the mortar falls from it like so much sand.—Scientific American.

CONGRESSIONAL VIOLATION OF THE SABBATH.—Some of the religious papers are rather severe upon the last Congress for its violation of the Sabbath. The Congregationalist says:

"Though a sad, it was a fit ending for the Congress which has just gone to its grave, 'unwept, unhonored and unsung,' that its last acts should be open and outrageous violations of the Statutes of the King of Heaven. Conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity, distinguished more than any thing else for its gross violations alike of the Constitution, of national faith, and of the Divine Law, it was like itself that it should come to an end in a violent, and wholly needless and inexcusable infraction of the sanctity of the Sabbath. Having wasted, and worse than wasted weeks and months of time, it crowded nearly all the rely necessary and benificent legislation of the session into its last hurried hours, and, upon the pitiful plea that the fourth of March is not the fourth of March until half its hours are sped, it continued its stormy discussion and hurried, and, necessarily, (in many cases) in complete and unjust enactments until high noon of the Lord's Day."

Marry a Woman.

Some young men marry dimples, some ears; the mouth, too, is occasionally married, though not so often. Only the other day a young fellow fell head over heels in love with a braid—braid, I believe young ladies style that mass of hair that falls from the forehead, forms a sort of mouse's nest over the ear. He was so far gone in this infatuation, that he became engaged to this braid; but the organic mode of hair-dressing coming in just then the charm was dissolved, and the match was happily broken off, and there are no present appearances of its being renewed! What do young men marry? Why, they marry these and many other bits of scraps of a wife, instead of the true thing. And then, after the wedding, are surprised to find that though married, they have no wives.

MAGAZIN FRANCAIS.

Family Groceries, Queensware, &c., &c.

FELIX G. BARBENCHON has become proprietor, by purchase, of the Grocery Store of H. B. Hunter & Co., to which he has just added a large and superfine variety of Family Groceries, now arriving and to arrive from Cincinnati, and other marts. In making his purchase he has had in view the accommodation of his friends and discriminating public, for all seasons. He commends to their attention, among other articles, at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction.

CONFECTIONARIES of all kinds, for families and parties.

Candies, Tarragonia Almonds, English Walnuts and Brazilian Nuts, Figs and Dates.

Jellies, and Culatine for Jellies, Prunes, &c.

Of Family Groceries he will only mention Phil. powdered and crushed SUGAR, New Orleans do., TEAS, Rio and Java COFFEE, Spices, Molasses, Golden Syrup, French Chocolate, Mushrooms, Walnuts, Tomato Catsup, a splendid lot of English Dairy Cheese, and other articles too numerous to put down here.

Not to forget, also, Liquors, Brandy for the sick and convalescent, cigars 5 years old, smoking and chewing TOBACCO, Powder and Shot for the Sportsman.

He will keep on hand a variety of Paints, Varnish and Japan of his own manufacture for the trade.

Not least, a large and full assortment of Queensware, Earthenware, French ware and English Glassware, also, Wooden ware, Tubs, Buckets, &c.

☞ He hopes to obtain a fair share of the public favor in his new undertaking, and looks for the approbation and patronage of his friends. Having been compelled to relinquish his former business as injurious to health, he will make a fair trial of this, to see if it will not fill his purse, as well as his health. If the experiment, (to which he will devote his undivided attention) does not succeed, he will be able to be trusty, to serve the public in some other useful capacity.

May 5 1854. FELIX G. BARBENCHON.

DR. JOHN BULL.

SOMETHING NEW AND VALUABLE.

THE most powerful King on the face of the globe now exists superior in the American Republic. The power of the crowned heads of Europe sink into insignificance when compared to that of our American King.

European Kings display the power vested in them to increase the riches of the rich and lordly, and to reduce to greater misery and degradation the poor and dependent. Our American King goes forth with equal willingness to the lordly mansion and humble cabin, ready alike to administer relief and to offer health and happiness to the lofty and lowly, the rich and the poor.

DR. JOHN BULL'S

GREAT AMERICAN KING OF PAIN!!

Is the TRUE WONDER OF THE WORLD, and the greatest blessing ever offered to afflicted humanity; to the suffering millions, the Doctor can say, relief is at your command. You have only to use this magical remedy. All those who still suffer, and will not accept the proffered balm, deserve not the pity of their families.

This wonderful medicine, during the brief period since its introduction, has carried happiness to the hearts of thousands, and made life a charm to many who have often regarded it only as a painful and miserable existence.

To the winds with all Liniments, Embrocations, Pain Killers, and Pain Extractors, and let millions of glad tongues proclaim the merits of the great "American King of Pain," a preparation composed solely of vegetables and roots, produced by America's own rich and bounteous soil.

We would ask the LADIES, who are always competent judges of what is and what is not a valuable family medicine, to do us a special favor by giving the King of Pain a single trial, and if satisfactory, exert their influence in its behalf, by recommending it to their well and often ill friends. Feeling satisfied with their experience in the use of the King of Pain, we can with confidence recommend it to the public. Although there are many physicians who feel a reluctance in having their names appended to the recommendation of any proprietary remedy, notwithstanding they can appreciate of it in the highest degree, there are others who frankly yield their support in favor of a remedy which they know is capable of doing so much good to an afflicted community. As an evidence, read the following from old and respectable physicians, of high standing in the community in which they live:

TESTIMONY.

☞ Testimony like the following renders superfluous all commendation of the efficiency of Bull's Sarsaparilla. From Dr. L. P. Yandell, Professor of Chemistry in the Louisville Medical College: I have looked over the list of ingredients composing John Bull's Compound Extracts of Sarsaparilla, and have no hesitation in saying that they form a safe compound, and from the promises set forth in the recipe, to which it is applicable. L. P. YANDELL, M. D.

Louisville, June 6, 1848

What Dr. Dyer, physician by appointment to the Louisville Marine Hospital, says of Bull's Sarsaparilla:

LOUISVILLE, March 20, 1845.

I have examined the prescription for the preparation of John Bull's Sarsaparilla, and I believe the composition, to be an excellent one, and well calculated to produce an alterative impression on the system. I have used it both in public and private practice, and think it the best article of Sarsaparilla now in use.

M. DYER, M. D.

Resident Physician Louisville Marine Hospital

Better Testimony than was ever Offered in favor of any Medicine.

Rev. E. W. Schon, Rev. E. Stevenson.

LOUISVILLE, May 20th, 1849.

We have used John Bull's Sarsaparilla, and have known it to be used, with entire satisfaction; and we have no hesitation in stating our belief, that it is a safe and valuable medical compound, and calculated to produce much good and relieve much suffering; and therefore would cheerfully and most earnestly recommend it to the afflicted. E. W. SCHON,

(signed) E. STEVENSON.

We earnestly invite all persons who are suffering with any of "the ills that flesh is heir to," to call on Dr. John Bull's agent, and get a copy of Bull's Family Journal containing testimony of a most astonishing character; a single individual will not be found on wishing to give Bull's Sarsaparilla a trial, after reading, and receiving at the same time, that it is impossible for the Doctor to publish the tenth part of the number of certificates of astonishing cures performed by his Sarsaparilla. The amount of testimony voluntarily showered on Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla from well known and distinguished individuals, both in public and private life, has been perfectly overwhelming.

I had several Physicians, took quantities of Quinine, mercury, and I believe all without any permanent relief. At last I tried carter's spanish mixture, two bottles of which effectually cured me, and I am happy to say I have had neither ague or fever since. I consider it the best tonic in the world, and the only medicine that has reached my case. J. LONGDEN.
