ANOTHER RAILROAD FOR NEW ORLEANS.—A meeting was held at Tuscaloosa (Ala.) on the 22d ult., for the purpose of considering the [project] of constructing a railroad from the Mobile and Ohio Railroad in Lauderdale county, [illegible] the Tennessee river, and also to the [illegible] Railroad.

Delegates were in attendance from the different sections of the State, and from Mississippi; and our fellow-citizen, Wm. H. Garland, being present, was invited to take a seat in the convention. The assemblage was very large.

The contemplated road is a very important one to New Orleans. It is to run in a South-[westerly] direction, passing through Tuscaloosa, and to strike the Ohio and Mobile road where the Vicksburg and Brandon road crosses it, thus forming a connection with the New Orleans and Jackson road. It will, in this way, pass through the great mineral region in the country, where the coal, iron and marble are inexhaustible, and lie on the surface of the earth. Its completion will bring immense accession to the trade of our city. In the course of discussion, a gentleman from Mississippi took occasion to make some reflections on the New Orleans and Jackson road, which were answered by Col. Garland, our representative, vindicating the interests of our city in a masterly manner. If the intelligence and wealth represented in the convention be any guarantee, the road will be speedily made.

YELLOW FEVER IN SHREVEPORT.—We have been favored with the following extract of a letter dated Shreveport, 22d September, written by a young gentleman connected with the office of the "Shreveport Democrat," to a relative in our office:

We have the yellow fever among us very nearly, if not quite as bad as it has been in New Orleans. At least two-thirds of the people have left town, and gone, some to Texas, and others to Arkansas. Up to this time there have been about seventy-five cases of the fever, and about thirty deaths. The mortality in the short space of a week, among a population not more than a thousand, (for everybody has gone that can,) is dreadful; and I am afraid it will be considerably worse before it stops. It is singular how this disease has followed all the water courses connecting with New Orleans. It made me laugh, in spite of the gloomy looks of the people, to see their anxiety to get out of town. They didn't appear to care where they went, so they got out of Shreveport. Every horse, [wagon], buggy, carriage, or anything that could [carry], was pressed into service on this momentous occasion. Those who were not fortunate enough to secure anything that would "carry" in time, were forced to "tramp." There was a continual stream for two days. One wagon passed our office with ten women in it, "dressed to kill," and no protection against the heat of the sun except their parasols; and some were not fortunate enough to have them. It seemed to me there was enough [illegible] in the hot sun done in those two days to give them all the very disease they were running away from. There has been as yet but one case in our office, but there are four or five cases within a few doors of us. You may imagine the stillness that reigns through the town; half the stores are closed, and persons from a distance are afraid to come near the place. I cannot better describe it than by saying it looks like Sunday all the time. Tar is being burned, and lime scattered in the streets, as in New Orleans.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.—We copy the following from the Star:

The Condition of the Texas Bond Question.—It seems to be understood that Attorney General Cushing has rendered to the Secretary of the Treasury an elaborate and carefully weighed opinion upon the law questions involved in the demand of Gen. James Hamilton, that the present Administration shall set aside the decision of Attorney General Reverdy Johnson, Secretary Corwin and President Fillmore, whereby the United States Government determined to withhold $5,000,000 of the Texas indemnity until Texas obtained the release from her creditors required by the law, or at least intended to be so required by the framers of the law, as all well know who are conversant with the history of that act. The whole subject is now said to be in the hands of the President, who is revising the action of his subordinates.

The Discharge of Collier.—Judge Jouett, the Ohio State Judge who issued the writ of habeas corpus, taking James Collier, late Collector of the Port of San Francisco, out of the hands of the United States officers, who were preparing to carry him back to California to be tried under the indictment for feloniously using public funds intrusted to his keeping, has actually discharged him.

SURVEY OF THE LITTLE ROCK AND MEMPHIS RAILROAD.—The Memphis Whig of the 29th ult. learns that a corps of Engineers will take the field in a few days for the purpose of surveying the above route. They are expected here every hour. We learn from reliable sources that a large majority of the people of Arkansas favor this route; and that Memphis will certainly be selected as the eastern terminus whenever the Legislature of Arkansas meets.

OBSTRUCTING A RAILROAD.—The Memphis Whig of the 29th ult. says:

Another attempt was made yesterday to throw the cars off the track as they were coming down from Lagrange, by placing four or five rails across the track a short distance above Germantown; Fortunately the obstructions were discovered in time to prevent any serious damage, although the engine ran over one of the rails, which did some injury to the fire-pan. The fiendish scoundrels have so far escaped detection, but they cannot always elude the vigilance of the company, and woe be unto them if ever they do fall into the clutches of the law, as the penitentiary will be their inevitable fate.

MURDERS IN THE CHEROKEE NATION.—The Fort Smith (Ark.) Herald of the 24th ult. says:

On Saturday night last, there was a row in the Cherokee Nation, seven or eight miles from this place, in which one man was killed immediately, and another mortally wounded. The deed was perpetrated by one man named Young Bird. All Cherokees concerned in the row.

THE COAL AND IRON RAILROAD FROM LOUISVILLE TO MEMPHIS.—The Louisville Courier understands that the reports of the Engineers engaged in a reconnoisance of the Louisville and Memphis Railroad, through the coal and iron region, are far more satisfactory than the friends of the road hoped to hear, and no more reliable men can be found than Messrs. Livermore, Lee and Newall, the engineers engaged in this reconnoisance. The grades throughout the route are light, and remarkably so at Muldrow's Ridge; and the route of the road is so good that one of the cheapest roads in Kentucky may be built on it. Within seventy miles of Louisville, the Engineers say, immense beds of bituminous coal abound, easily worked, and of the very best quality for working iron and other purposes. Cannel coal is also abundant.

CONVEYANCE OF THE CALIFORNIA MAILS.—It is stated that advices have reached Washington of a memorial, now on its way from San Francisco, backed by a strong array of names, including nearly every leading merchant in the city, for the conveyance of the mails by the Nicaragua line of steamers; the complaint being that by the route they are at present sent, they do not reach their destination for three or four days, and in some instances a whole week, after the arrival of the Nicaragua steamer—thus causing mercantile interests a serious loss.

AN INDIAN GOVERNOR.—The Governor of Nebraska, it is stated, has Indian blood in his veins. His father was captured, when a child, by the Wyandot Indians, and married a half-blood Wyandot girl. The Governor, William Walker, is her son. He was educated at Kenyon College, Ohio. He was seventeen years [illegible] Upper Sandusky, Ohio. In 1853 [illegible] of his nation, the Wyandots.

New York Fashions.

Correspondence of the Crescent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26, 1853.

If any male member of the human family should feel tempted to glance his eye over this epistle, let me warn him to desist; for the subject of which it treats, though of vital importance to his female relatives, is to him only of secondary interest. It is a subject which absorbs the time and talents of a large and influential class of citizens; one which makes every female heart flutter, and every male pocket collapse. It is, in short, the fashions. The "opening" of the fashionable milliners has settled this interesting matter for a few months to come; and as your fair readers may like to know what sort of coverings are to embellish or disfigure them during the coming winter, I have kindly resolved to enlighten them.

Bonnets are still worn small in front, and flared at the sides, but a great variety is presented in the other details, some being plain, some shirred, and some with thin fronts; some trimmed with folds, and some with feathers. Talmas, or circular capes of ladies' cloth, are quite in vogue. They are made double, with collars, and without lining. Made of light colored cloth, over a variegated dress, they are tasteless in the extreme. Cloaks are semi-circular in shape; those of velvet, embroidered with sewing silk of the same color, being considered the most elegant. The newest pattern for the cloak collar is three points, one behind and two in front, resembling the largest of the lace collars worn last winter. Velvet trimming retains its hold on public taste.

Rich dark colors, garnet, Mazarine blue and plaids are superceding tan color, which was the prevailing shade during the summer. That such an unbecoming color should have been so universally worn is another proof of the omnipotence of fashion. No creature could possibly be improved by it; on the contrary, even Venus herself, if dressed in tan color, would suffer a partial eclipse; and yet the stern decree of fashion compelled every woman of any pretensions, whether old or young, tall or short, stout or slim, brown or blonde, to array herself in tan color.

Dresses are still worn open in front, with ineffectual chimisettes of honiton lace; a fashion which inspires one of our modest editors with ——virtuous indignation. Flounces have been gaining ground; as the age of a rattlesnake may be known by the number of its rattles, so the importance of a fashionable may be told by the number of her flounces. Some wear as many as twelve on the skirt and seven on the mantilla. Sleeves are either bishop or flowing. No material alteration in evening dresses so far; but it is almost too soon to come to any definite conclusion on this interesting subject, "the season" not having yet fairly set in. CHERRY.

Louisiana Interior.

The (Plaquemine) Young American of the 5th instant has the following items:

We can say with confidence, that the fever here is rapidly abating. We hear of but one or two new cases, and have heard of but one death since Saturday last. Those of our country friends who remain away through fear of sickness, need have no fear whatever, we think, in coming into town. From all accounts, there is and has been more sickness in the country about Plaquemine, than in the town itself, taking everything into consideration.

Bayou Plaquemine continues to rise.

The most of our sugar mills will be in full blast in ten or fifteen days. While there are superb crops in some localities, there are very bad ones in others. This feature, from what we can understand, is peculiarly prominent this year in Iberville.

The Trinity Advocate of the 1st instant has the following items:

TOWN OF TRINITY.—At least $50,000 worth of goods, at invoice prices, will be received here this fall. Large as the amount is, comparatively, it is but a small item compared with the prodigious commerce that will accrue, from her relative position a few years hence. Any discerning man can see that Trinity possesses advantages in respect to enterprising pursuits over any other place in Louisiana. And although she may have had, and may continue to have, trials and difficulties to surmount, they are but momentary, and cannot change her ultimate destiny.

DELEGATES TO THE CONVENTION.—In the arrangement of the late convention, we have been informed a day was appointed for a meeting in an important ward; when two persons met. They waited till a gentleman from another ward rode by, and in his presence they nominated each other as candidates.

From the Ouachita (Monroe) Register, of the 27th ult., we select the following:

THE RIVER.—The river at this point rose about six feet during the past week, but is now falling again. There was a small boat at our wharf on Sunday.

HEALTH.—The health of Monroe still continues good. It is true we have had two deaths in the place, supposed to have been caused by yellow fever; but, in neither case did the disease originate in the place. The one was contracted in the Colony, eight miles distant, the other in Trenton.

THE RAILROAD TAX IN BIENVILLE.—The vote was taken in Bienville parish on Saturday last, on the subscription of $75,000 to the stock of the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Texas Railroad. So far, we have heard but partially from one box—Arcadia. A gentleman who was at the precinct until 3 o'clock in the evening, informs us that there was then about 75 votes polled, and every one in favor of the tax. This is good news from Claiborne. Whe think there is no doubt but the tax has been carried in that parish by a large majority.

The (Harrisonburg) Independent, of the 28th ult., says:

The river has risen several feet, and could now be ascended as high as Monroe or Ouachita City by light draught boats. The steamer Sarah Gordon is the only one in the trade; glad to see the Captain once more at his post—Yellow Jack lost that game.

The health continues good on the uplands, save a few chills, and not so bad along the streams as earlier in the season.

The Caddo Gazette, of the 24th ult., learns that the towns of Campte and Grand Ecore, are entirely deserted. Many small places in the interior of this State, unconnected by navigation with the Mississippi, have also been visited with the prevailing sickness and fearful mortality.

A Howard Association has been established in Shreveport. The Yellow Fever was raging at that place, and the citizens under the influence of a general panic were fleeing in all directions.

The river at Shreveport was rising on the 28th ult., and within the week previous to the above date had risen about two feet.

RAILROAD TAX.—The Caddo Gazette of the 24th ult., says:

The citizens of this town, on Saturday last, voted on a proposition emanating from the Town Council, to impose a tax on propery holders of this place of $30,000, to aid in completing the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Texas Railroad, the vote was overwhelming in favor of the tax.

For the tax, 72—against it, 14.

The Marksville Villager of the 28th ult. says:

The health of the Parish is as good as ever. Candidates and caterpillars hard at work. Printers on a furlough.

FEVER AT BATON ROUGE.—The Advocate of the 6th says:

There is evidently a continued decrease in the mortality attending the epidemic, though, so far as the number of cases of illness from day to day is concerned, we can perceive but slight alteration, if any. We fear for the effects which may be produced by the late chilly and unseasonable change in the atmosphere.

THE CRYSTAL PALACE.—The mineralogical department of the Exhibition is now open. The display of ores and minerals is said to be exceedingly rich, the entire cabinet being valued at $100,000. The gold specimens alone are of the value of $60,000. The number of exhibitors is two hundred and seventy-three. The estimated value of the goods on exhibition in all departments of the palace is set down at $5,000,000.

IMMIGRATION.—Movers, (says the Danville, Ill., Citizen,) in two-horse wagons, movers in ox wagons, movers in old Virginia four-horse wagons, movers in carriages, on horseback and on foot—movers in every conceivable mode of land conveyance, are constantly thronging our streets, wending their way to the fertile plains of Central Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, etc.

LOCAL MATTERS.

INQUESTS.—An inquest was held yesterday on the body of John Baker, aged about 36 years, a native of Ireland, found dead in the Old Basin, Second District. Verdict, "Accidental drowning."

Also, on the body of J. G. Causten, aged 41 years, a native of France, found dead in the New Canal, near the light-house. Verdict, "came to his death by drowning." We learn that he was knocked overboard from the schooner Adeline by the boom, while she was entering the Canal, on the evening of the 6th inst.

A third inquest was held on the body of a white man named Mainhart, aged 45 years, a native of Germany, found dead in a house near the corner of St. Louis and Dorbigny sts, in the Second District. Verdict, "died of intemperance."

RECORDER WINTER'S COURT—First District—BRUTAL TREATMENT OF CHILDREN.—Chas. McCane and his wife, living at 256, Julia street, were yesterday arraigned before this Court under the charge of cruel treatment of a little boy and his sister placed in their care. The children, John and Catherine Donahue, are orphans—the boy 13 and the girl 11 years of age. John Fox deposed that several times during the months of July, August and September, the children had been beaten, knocked down, kicked and bruised so severely as to be rendered speechless, and that the boy had frequently been stripped naked, handcuffed, and otherwise dealt with so harshly that his life had been endangered. He appeared not to understand the nature of an oath, and exhibited the usual effects of such a system of training. It is said also that the kind-hearted and careful Mr. McCane had the boy hired out and pocketed his small earnings. Their benevolent deeds will undergo an investigation on the 12th instant, and they were required to give $500 security to be present on that occasion.

LARCENY.—Chas. Fisher was brought up, charged by M. Precious with stealing money from his house on Liberty street, in this District. His case was postponed to the 8th.

The case of John Johnson, charged with attempting to kill John Hart, was also postponed to the 8th. It appears that Johnson attacked him with a sword, cut him in different places, and used his best endeavors to kill him, pretending at the same time to be a policeman, and only doing his duty. Hart's deposition leads us to believe that this is the same John Johnson who killed so many Turks at the storming of Dunaii.

A BEAR.—Two separate charges were preferred before Recorder Ramos yesterday, against Pierre Lemoine, keeper of an intelligence office on St. Ann street, who seems to have declared war against the weaker sex altogether. One woman, Mrs. Jeannette Victor, deposed that he took the trouble to go into her back-yard for the purpose of abusing and insulting her, and ended by committing an assault and battery upon her person. Ann Maria Finnegan made affidavit that he had swindled her out of a dollar under promise of procuring her a situation, which promise he failed to perform—that when she asked him to refund the money, he dragged her about and otherwise maltreated her. Peter will be held to answer.

THE STABBING CASE.—Martin Logan and John Griffin were arrested on Thursday night on suspicion of being the parties who stabbed Thos. O'Dowd in Chartres street. They were seized in Old Levee street, and Griffin, it is stated, was found, like Guy Fawkes, "under a house," probably arranging a second edition of the Gunpowder Plot. O'Dowd received four stabs in the left side. He was conveyed to the Charity Hospital, and his recovery was considered extremely doubtful. The arrested parties were committed, to await the result of his injuries.

TELEGRAPHIC ITEMS.

Boston, Sept. 30.—We have accounts here from Halifax by mail to the 26th inst.

The ship Osprey, arrived at Halifax from St. Johns, Newfoundland, reports that quite a number of fishing boats, with their crews, have been wrecked and all hands lost, on the north side of Newfoundland, in the terrible gale of the 15th. It is apprehended that immense damage has ensued.

The ship Prince Edward reports that the mackerel fishery has been very unsuccessful, and that all the fleets have been unfortunate. It is expected, therefore, that fish must naturally advance.

American vessels had all had poor luck. A vessel had arrived at Gloucester, after three months' absence, with only 50 bbls. of mackerel. She spoke other vessels who had none.

Boston, Sept. 29.—A convention of working men and the friends of an effective Ten Hour Law met in Washington Hall to-day. It was not fully attended or very enthusiastic. A series of strong resolutions were reported and passed. A spicy address to the workingmen of the State was read and adopted, and the State Central Committee were instructed to interrogate all candidates for office. A plan for districting the State for the coming political campaign was also adopted, and missionaries were appointed to go forth to proclaim the Ten Hour doctrines. There were 190 delegates present.

Boston, Sept. 30.—Judge Bishop has published a letter accepting the democratic nomination for Governor of Massachusetts. He takes high national and broad democratic grounds, and goes in favor of the new constitution.

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 30.—The museum and theatre in this place were totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. The building belonged to Hildreth & Chesley, and was fully insured, but the properties, valued at $5000, were uninsured.

Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 29.—Gov. Thomas this morning commenced his addresses to the jury, and made a most powerful and impressive speech. During four hours he enchained the attention of the jury and an immense concourse of people, with one of those eloquent harangues for which he is so distinguished.

The Governor having closed his address, the court took its usual recess until 3 o'clock. At that hour Mr. Price closed on behalf of the prisoner, when the court adjourned until to-morrow.

Mr. May will then close in behalf of the State. It is understood, however, that he will not occupy more than three or four hours.

His address is anxiously waited for, and to-morrow will find an eager crowd, long before the hours of court, assembled to hear him.

Politics are beginning to wax warm; and now, that both tickets are nominated, we shall have an active canvass between the two parties, with a running fight for Congressional honors, between Gov. Thomas and Mr. Hamilton.

New York, Sept. 30.—A gentleman from Bermuda states that the deaths from yellow fever at St. George's, up to the 25th, amounted to 800, out of a population of 2500. The disease was abating when he left.

Cincinnati, Sept. 29.—J. S. Dye, who was arrested for redeeming fraudulent bank notes, was fined by the court $500, which he paid and was discharged.

MARSHFIELD A SECOND MOUNT VERNON.—The Boston correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says that Marshfield has begun to be another Mount Vernon. We learn directly from Marshfield, that there has been clouds of visitors to the grounds and tomb of Mr. Webster all summer. One week there were 1000 visitors, and 100 a day has been a common number. There cannot have been less than 12,000 visitors there this season. The crowds there still continue, so that the family in the mansion can hardly find time to eat their meals. Many of the visitors do not forget to volunteer presents for the trouble they make, and the aggregate of the money thus given to those who reside on the premises, is quite large. The late rains have made the farm look in its full beauty and glory.—[Boston Post.

The actual amount in cash, expended for benevolent purposes in the United States, during the past year, by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, exceed by seventy-five thousand dollars the united operations for the same purpose, of all the religious denominations combined.

The receipts of the Washington and New Orleans Telegraph Company for the month of August, 1853, amounted to $11,872 06, against $9,239 97 for the corresponding month the previous year, showing an increase of $2,632 19.

The Washington National Monument has attained a height of 142 feet. The last contribution was from the Territory of Utah, consisting of a block of stone about three feet long and nearly two wide, deposited on Saturday last.

The committee appointed at the Metropolitan Hall meeting at New York on the 22d ult., have issued subscription lists to collect funds for a gold medal, to be presented to the commander of the sloop-of-war St. Louis.

Lord Ellesmere has written a letter to Mr. Sedgwick, of the Crystal Palace, denying the report that he and the officers of the British frigate Leander had been inhospitably treated while in New York.

The new clipper ship Edwin Forrest, recently launched at Boston, is to have a full length figure head of the tragedian in the character of Spartacus, in the Gladiator.

CATCHING SHARKS.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Evangelist, writing from Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, communicates the following:

The beach is bold, and the surf unceasingly dashes upon a slope of the purest sand. Sharking is made a business by some of the residents. I went out to witness the capture of these fishy monsters. It was exciting to launch upon a surf sweeping far up the shore, and anchor off among the waves, in pursuit of such game. Our tackle was large as the clothes-lines seen in the dooryards of the country; and three feet from the hook, which was twelve inches from head to point, was a chain three feet long, to receive the teeth of the victims. Baiting with a quarter of blue fish, we dropped the hooks thirty or forty feet to the bottom. Soon A.'s line began to straighten, and we seized the rope with a will. The resistance was slight, excepting the weight of the shark, till his flashing eye rose above the surface, when the battle began. The water foamed, the boat rocked to the beating of the terrified captive, who presented six rows of white and savage teeth for revenge. A well-applied club quickly stunned him, and he was lifted into the boat. We caught three, which, together, weighed not less than six hundred pounds, and spread sail for the shore. The livers are tried for oil, and the bodies used for manuring the land. I saw two mounds which covered, together, one hundred and twenty-three carcasses of the slain, decomposing to be scattered on the soil.

TOO GOOD TO BE LOST.—At a literary dinner in London, where Thackery and Angus B Reach were vis-a-vis at table, Mr. Thackeray—who had never before met Mr. Reach—addressed him as Mr. Reach, pronouncing the name as its orthography would naturally indicate. "Re-ack, sir—Re-ack, if you please," said Mr. Reach, who is punctillious upon having his name pronounced in two syllables, as it spelled Re ack. Thackery of course apologized, and corrected his pronunciation; but in the course of the desert, he took occasion to hand a plate of fine peaches across the table, saying, in a tone which only he possesses, "Mr. Re-ack, will you take a pe-ack?"

The Boston Post says, that "a young man, a member of an Evangelical church," advertises in a New York paper for board "in a pious family where his Christian example would be considered a compensation."

The Steam Fire Engine in Cincinnati has been so successful that it is proposed to increase their number so as to suspend entirely the old mode of putting out fires.

Died:

At Port Lavaca, Texas, on the 20th of September, of the prevailing epidemic, JAMES McALPIN, aged 20 years, son of Andrew McAlpin, of Cincinnati, and brother of R. M. McAlpin, of this city.

INDEPENDENT CLUB—SIXTH WARD, SECOND DISTRICT.—At a meeting of this Club, held on THURSDAY EVENING, the 6th inst., at the Louisiana Hall, corner of Hospital and Front Levee streets, Mr. John Rizzott took the chair and called the meeting to order, when the following named persons were by acclamation unanimously elected officers of the Club, to serve during the ensuing electoral campaign, viz:

John Rizzott, President; Thos. C. Heggarth, Vice President; David A. Yvan, Secretary.

On motion, the following gentlemen were appointed by the Chair a Committee of Arrangement:

George Burges, Henry Carlton, David Keasy, James Dillon, William Davenport, James Clark, George Loyd.

The meeting then adjourned, on motion of Mr. D. Keasy, to meet again on MONDAY, the 10th inst., at 7 o'clock, P. M., at the same place.

OFFICIAL.—BOARD OF HEALTH, New Orleans, September 10, 1853.—The following resolution, passed by the Board of Health, is published for the information of all concerned:

RESOLVED, That, at this time, it is highly dangerous for strangers to visit our city, and very injurious to the health of the city to have new cases to add to the material for the action of the fever, and it is the earnest request of this Board that the authorities of the various cities and towns on the rivers above, as well as the newspapers of the same, to use their influence to prevent the departure of their citizens for our city.

To the Ladies.

MADAM PLATEN

Respectfully offers her services to the Ladies of New Orleans for the treatment of the following diseases: PROLAPSUS UTERI, WHITES, PROFUSE AND PAINFUL MENSTRUATION, ENGORGEMENT AND ULCERATION OF THE WOMB.

The treatment adopted by her is that which has met the approval of the most distinguished Surgeons of Paris, London and New York; and its success here, of which she has ample testimony, and the many respectable ladies she can refer to, justifies her in saying that all diseases of the Uterus, not of a cancerous nature, can be cured.

Madam P. devotes herself exclusively to the diseases of Ladies, and can be consulted DAILY, at her residence,
