Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.—JANUARY, 1857.—Stern Winter being upon us again, the benevolent public will, doubtless, feel a deep interest in knowing the extent of the indigence in this great city, and what is being done for its relief. The organization, which covers, with its 881 visitors, the entire city and island, furnishes within the sphere of its action reliable information on these subjects. The following is a summary statement of its aid for the previous month:

Number of families relieved	2,508
Number of persons relieved	10,047
Number of visits	4,407

Since the first of January, the applications for aid have more than doubled, while the receipts have materially diminished. The appropriations for the present month were $8,250, which have so nearly exhausted the treasury that the Association will be obliged to contract its relief, unless enlarged contributions immediately come in.

The usual decrease of employment at this season, and increased expenses of the poor for food, fuel and clothing, have brought multitudes to pinching want, who at other times are self-supporting. Among the needy are very many widows with helpless families; many sick persons; mechanics who by unavoidable causes have been brought to poverty; and others whose charity Winter resources are exhausted. And as the season advances the number of such will increase in fearful ratio until the return of Spring employment.

On this brief statement of facts the Association rests its appeal for enlarged liberality, believing that those more favored by Providence will not withhold from the unfortunate poor the means for the discriminating relief which this system secures.

Supplies of clothing, new or second-hand, or materials for clothing, including bedding, shoes, &c., are much needed. They may be sent to the office, No. 39 Bible House, or on notice, will be called for in any part of the city.

Cash contributions may be made to BROWN BROTHERS & Co., No. 50 Wall-st.; ROBERT B. MINTURN, Treasurer, No. 76 South-st.; to the undersigned, No. 39 Bible House, as per place; or to any of the Officers or authorized Collectors.
In behalf of the Board,
R. M. HARTLEY, Secretary.

A Card.—THE LADIES' HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY beg leave most thankfully to acknowledge the receipt, through the Rev. W. C. Van Meter, of $100, as a donation from the Proprietors and Guests of the Howard Hotel, to aid in providing homes for the destitute. N. MEAD, Missionary.

Dr. Jacob Webber's Invigorating Sanguifier enters the circulation of the blood, enriching it; it makes the sluggish liver active; the sour, bilious and foreign matter in the stomach is neutralized and evacuated, and the enfeebled, prostrated and weak invalid feels appetite, strength of limbs mind and body, and the whole natural functions reanimated. Large bottles, $1 50; two for $4. Those proved poor half price. Depot, No. 197 Bowery. Orders by express forwarded to any part.

Beautiful Teeth, Hair and Skin for 25 cts.—Tale's or JONES'S OLD CORAL HAIR RESTORATIVE (2/) stops falling, makes grow dark, beautifies. JONES'S ITALIAN SOAP (2/) cures eruptions, chapped flesh, is fine for shaving, washing infants, &c. LAFONT'S ALABASTER (2/) for whitening ladies' skin or teeth, purifying breath, hardening gums, &c. These beautiful things are sold at No. 202 Bowery.

Have you seen that "Splendid Monochrome," said to be largest and finest ever executed, at WOOD'S AMERICAN SCHOOL OF DESIGN, No. 231 4th av? It may be seen any day this week, between 9 and 2 o'clock, by such as may wish to improve themselves in art. Mr. W. has room for a few new pupils.

"Laugh and grow fat,
Pay a dollar for that."
ANOTHER BOOK OF RARE HUMOR!
THE PUDDLEFORD PAPERS;
OR, HUMORS OF THE WEST.
By H. H. RILEY.
With Four Illustrations. 12mo; price $1.
It has touched the "ribbles" of the Critics! Hear them:
"Puddleford it 'away out West,' where prairie winds and patriotic wolves howl together, and where man, growing on a soil six feet deep with fatness, grows up like the monster vegetables he plants, into the wildest luxuriance and originality of mind, custom and conduct. Riley is the literary Cruikshank of Puddleford—the Hogarth of the West; his humor as deep and as fat as the soil aforesaid, and his whole book a Western growth of fertile comicalities, a hundred to the chapter." [New-Hampshire Patriot
"The fun is Western—that is, hearty, broad, gushing and plump. The reader is introduced to all sorts of Western life, and where there is 'going on' the author is sure to serve it up capitally. Whoever fails to have his risibles 'shaken,' after he has 'taken' this book in his hand and devoured its contents, must be more or less than human. There are several side-splitting illustrations. It is the book to get if one wishes to roll in a fat laugh." [Boston Daily Bee.
"I cannot be read without giving the cobwebs of the brain a most effectual shaking. Mr. Riley is a keen satirist, and the village of Puddleford afforded a wide range and ample material for the exercise of his peculiar gift. His ludicrous sketches are wrought with a good degree of wholesome thought, and enlivened with well-executed original illustrations, making a handsome volume of 336 pages. All who love fun for its own sake, and a hearty laugh for its genial effect upon body and soul, heart and head, will buy and read the Puddleford Papers." [N. Y. Evening Mirror.

YAHVEH CHRIST;
Or,
THE MEMORIAL NAME.
By Alexander MacWhorter. With an Introductory Letter, by Nathaniel W. Taylor, D. D., Dwight Professor of Theology in Yale Theological Cadmeian. 16mo. Cloth. 62 cents.
The object of this work is to show that the world has hitherto labored under a profound mistake respecting the Hebrew word given as "Jehovah" in the Old Testament. The author undertakes to prove, by a historico-philological argument, that it was not "Jehovah," but Yahveh—that it does not mean "I Am" (self-existence), but "He who Will Be, or Come" (The Deliverer)—in short, that the "Jehovah" of the Old Testament and the "Christ" of the New denote one and the same being.
