Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.—Steps necessarily compose the managers to again appeal to the benevolent. 6,982 indigent families are now on their lists, numbering 27,852 persons, among whom are many widows with helpless children, many sick and dying; mechanics, laborers, seeking work, and who must be assisted or suffer—perhaps perish. The destitution in portions of the city is as great as ever been known, while the receipts have fallen off one half. The mild weather in February checked liberality, insomuch as some supposed less was needed—the fact being overlooked that it chiefly affected those well without affording any other relief. March has set in with unusual severity, and, irrespective of weather, will be a most trying month to the poor. Already the claims on the Association have augmented, while its means are so nearly exhausted that it will be compelled to contract relief and cut off thousands unless enlarged contributions speedily come in.
Who, then, will not give according to their ability?—give at once and freely, though they have given before?—give a little more of their superfluous wealth, or even from their adapted resources, to feed the famishing, clothe the naked, and to minister to the sick and dying?
Contributions may be sent to BROWN, BROTHERS & Co., No. 59 Wall-st.; R. B. MINTURN, No. 78 South-st.; to the office, No. 39 Bible House, or to any of the officers or authorized collectors.
In behalf of the Board,
JAMES BROWN, President.
R. M. HARTLEY, Secretary.

A GREAT NATIONAL WORK.
SOLD BY SUBSCRIPTION ONLY.
AN ABRIDGEMENT
OF THE DEBATES OF CONGRESS,
FROM 1789 TO 1856.

From Gales & Seaton's Annals of Congress, from their Register of Debates, and from the Official Reported Debates, by John C. Rives.
By the author of "Thirty Years' View."
To be completed in 15 volumes, 750 pages each, comprising what is now contained in over 100 volumes.
The price for each volume, in law binding, will be $3 50 (not much over one-half the usual price for law books), or $4 in the best cloth, payable at delivery.
The first volume is now ready, and the work will be continued every two or three months till the whole is complete.
The large expense involved in publishing this work has induced us to offer it by Subscription only, and we therefore specially invite the cooperation of our fellow citizens in all parts of the Union to send us their names early, with directions how the volumes shall be forwarded.
In neighborhoods where we have no agent, we will send a copy of the work, post-paid, on receipt of the price named.
These Debates have been accurate for a period of nearly 70 years, and fill more than two volumes, one-third of them quartos, and cannot be purchased for less than $150, nor read when purchased except as a necessity, nor anything found in them when wanted except upon tedious search. In the mean time they contain the history of the working of the Government from its foundation—showing what has been done and how it was done—and shed light upon the study of all impending questions; for there is not a question of the day, and will not be while the Government continues, which may not be illustrated by something to be found in these Debates.
The following letters have been received:
WHITEHALL, near Lancaster, Nov. 17, 1856.
MY DEAR SIR: It affords me pleasure to become a subscriber to Col. Benton's Abridgement of the Debates in Congress from 1789 to 1856. From the long experience of the Colonel in public affairs, his commanding ability, and his accurate and extensive knowledge of its political history, we may expect that this work will add to his own fame, and prove highly valuable to his country. Yours, very respectfully,
JAMES BUCHANAN.
LEXINGTON, KY., Jan. 6, 1857.
DEAR SIR: In answer to your letter of 24 inst. I have to say that I know of no man in the United States more competent than Col. Benton to prepare an Abridgement of the Debates in Congress, and I take pleasure in becoming a subscriber to the work. Very respectfully, JOHN C. BRECKENRIDGE.
BOSTON, Dec. 20, 1856.
DEAR SIR: I have already subscribed for the Debates in Congress in this city. Col. Benton's eminent talent and reputation as a statesman, his familiar acquaintance with our parliamentary history, and his untiring industry, are a sufficient guaranty for the faithful execution of this great undertaking.
I am, dear Sir, respectfully yours,
EDWARD EVERETT.
Of this work Gov. Chase of Ohio says:
EXECUTIVE OFFICE, COLUMBUS, Dec. 5, 1856.
DEAR SIR: The proposed Abridgement of the Debates in Congress by Col. Benton commends itself to the favor of all Americans. The work itself is most important. It will place within the reach of thousands otherwise inaccessible treasures of historical knowledge. It will make audible to the present generation the discussions of the past—deeply interesting themselves, but even more interesting as exhibiting the beginnings of great traces of events, the procession of which is yet passing before our own eyes.
And no man is so well fitted for the work as the distinguished statesman who has undertaken it. His large experience in the public councils, and his comprehensive judgment, afford sufficient guarantee that nothing will be retrenched which should be retained, or retained which should be retrenched.
Very respectfully yours, S. P. CHASE.
The Hon. Judge Ware, of the United States District Court to Maine, says:
A faithful and impartial Abridgement of the Debates in Congress, from the organization of the Government to the present time, will be a work of very great value to every man who feels an interest in the history of his country. Mr. Benton's long experience in public life, familiarity with all the great questions of national policy which have agitated the country, and been discussed in Congress for the last thirty-five years, and his known industry, eminently qualify him for such a work.
Portland, Feb. 14, 1857. ASHUR WARE.
