REVIVAL ON N.Y. MARKET

Trading Breaks Into Great Animation and All Important Stocks Advance.

SPURT IN PENNSYLVANIA

Special Movements Have Far-Reaching Sympathetic Effect Through the List.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—There was a revival of speculative excitement in stocks to-day. There was some uncertainty in the early market as to whether the reaction had been decisively checked by yesterday's late rally, but as soon as this was seen to be the case the trading broke into great animation. The rise was uneven, one point and then another being affected, but in the course of the day's very large dealings, practically all the important stocks came in for their share of the advance. The tide of the market was so strong that room traders became very bold in their operations and dealt in practically unlimited amounts of the violently active stocks. The dimensions of such operations is indicated by the bid made during the spurt in Pennsylvania for any part of 50,000 shares at 137 1-8. The jump in the local tractions was extended and "deal" rumors regarding that group were the influence, in spite of official denials of any merger. The renewed advance in Union Pacific, after a period of hesitation had as a more substantial basis the consideration of the details of the annual report, which was regarded as testifying to the extraordinary prosperity and strength of that system. These special movements had a far reaching sympathetic effect through the list. The United States Steel stocks shared at one time the day's upward movement, but they were late in getting started and did not hold well. The great volume of the room trading made the profit taking the last hour quite heavy. The result was an irregular movement during the final hour and a considerable curtilment of best prices, the leading Western stocks losing practically all of their gains. The closing, however, was about steady.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $6,705,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales stocks to-day, 1,927,500 shares.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 2@3 points on moderate covering. Cables were a little better than expected, and the early weather reports were rather unfavorable. Stars were reported from the eastern belt and private wires indicated frosts at certain points in Texas, Mississippi and Alabama. This probably caused the early hesitation and brought in some covering by shorts and a little demand through wire houses. But reports from the Southern spot markets continued unfavorable, and shortly after the opening it became apparent that large spot interests were hammering prices in his local market. The list turned easier and ruled unsettled pretty much all the rest of the session. The close was steady in tone, owing to an increased demand from shorts, but prices were at practically the lowest, a net decline of 8@10 points. Sales were estimated at 250,000 bales.

Philadelphia interests were believed to be persistent sellers during the entire session.

Receipts at ten ports to-day were 61,807 bales against 70,658 last week and 56,853 last year. For the week 390,000 bales against 394,793 last week and 317,496 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans were 10,633 bales against 11,665 last year, and at Houston, 13,841 bales against 13,733 last year.
