RATE FOR CALL LOANS REDUCED

The Money Market, As Had Been Anticipated, Relaxed Yesterday.

Movements Confined Mostly to Industrial Stocks of Little Prominence.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The course of to-day's money market justified last week's speculative confidence that the tone would relax after the special requirements of the close of last week had been met. These requirements included those for the turn of the month and for the quarter and also for the very large syndicate transactions which were put through. Syndicate payments on the larger railroad bond issues were evidently re-deposited immediately and became available in to-day's money market. Therefore, instead of Friday's rates for call loans being above 6 per cent. and up to 7 per cent., there was only a momentary demand to-day at 6 per cent. and the free offerings carried the rate down to 5 per cent. In response to this, prices of securities were inclined to advance. Efforts to awaken any animation in the speculation, however, proved mostly abortive.

Movements of any extent were confined to industrial stocks of little prominence and to a few railroad stocks, which have been the subject of pool operations for a long time past. While the action of the money market lessened anxiety regarding any immediate stringency and all of the news was calculated to uphold confidence in the solid foundation of values, it was felt that actual use in money is not to be hoped for at once.

At the end of the day some fractional losses were mixed with the gain as a result of the spotty speculations of the day. The principal activity was confined to the forenoon session and prices sagged in the prevailing dullness of the afternoon.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $3,075,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

Total sales of stocks were 694,800 shares.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE—CLOSE: Money on call firm, 5@6 per cent.; closing bid, 5 1-4; offered at 5 1-2. Time loans firm; 60 days and 90 days, 4 1-2@4 3-4; six months, 4 1-4@4 1-2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 1-2@6 per cent. Sterling exchange easy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85.20@4.85.25 for demand, and at $4.82.25@4.82.30 for sixty-day bills. Posted rates, $4.83 1-2@4.86 1-2. Commercial bills, $4.82. Bar silver, 61 5-8 cents; Mexican dollars, 47 cents.

BALTIMORE STOCK MARKET.

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 2.—Seaboard Air Line common—Not quoted; do. preferred, 48@49.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The cotton market was active and irregular, decided weakness during the early session being followed by partial recoveries after the publication of the ginners' report. The close was steady at a net decline of 2@10 points. Sales were estimated at 650,000 bales. The opening was steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 1 point, but the general list soon yielded under bear pressure and liquidation, inspired by lower cables, October notices and expectations that a bearish ginners' report at midday would be followed by a bearish bureau at noon to-morrow, giving the October condition of the crop. October was relatively heavy all the session, and on the forenoon break declined to the lowest level it has touched since early in last July, or around 10.16, some 18 points below Saturday's finals. Other months were 12@14 points net lower, and following the census report, which was not so bearish as expected, there was a rally to within a point or two of Saturday's finals. Later quotations were irregular with October continuing relatively easy, and sentiment nervous in view of uncertainty as to the interpretation placed upon the ginners' report abroad and to-morrow's crop report.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 56,616 bales against 53,812 last week and 75,575 last year. For the week (estimated) 355,000 bales against 293,523 last week and 402,503 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans were 2,270 bales against 12,821 last year, and at Houston 17,668 bales against 19,523 last year.

Cotton futures opened steady and closed steady.

Futures opened 10@13 points lower than Saturday's finals, and owing to the activity of the bear element about the ring soon dropped 10@ 2 points additional. Prices were fluctuating around these levels when the Census Bureau copy was posted, causing a reaction, which carried the market up to the opening figures. Thereafter realizing sales eased off a point or two. The closing was quiet, net 4@5 points lower.

Danville Tobacco Market.

(Reported for The Times-Dispatch by Dibrell Bros.)

Danville, Va., Oct. 2, 1905.

On Tuesday we had quite a large sale, since which time the weather has been very dry and receipts have fallen off somewhat. Altogether the quality of the new has been quite good, and much better than we had generally supposed. The indications are that in many respects the crop is a very superior one, and will afford a fair proportion of all grades except common fillers. We think the proportion of common and medium smokers will be better than usual, and there will be a fairly good supply of medium to good cutters. The indications are that fine cutters will be very scarce. We find in the crop a good deal of tobacco short in length, and also a good proportion which is unusually leafy. We think the fillers will be exceptionally good, and it will not be difficult to make selections of fine fillers.

We have had on our sales this week some exceedingly good wrappers, and while they appear to be scarce, we are of the opinion that this section will afford a much larger proportion than any other district. We have not yet seen and fine natural leaf wrappers. Prices are firm on all grades and nothing seems to be neglected. There is a good demand for all grades, and the buyers are generally anxious in their purchases. Low grades are generally anxious in their purchases. Low grades are particularly high, while medium to good tobaccos are reasonably low. Good to fine wrappers command high prices, and are very eagerly sought after both in mahoganies and brights. There is a fairly active demand for old tobaccos.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Buying ahead to a more liberal extent was a conspicuous figure with the home trade in the dry goods market to-day. This condition was induced to a certain extent by the operations of exporters whose purchases into next year have led the home trade to operate with more confidence regarding the future. Prices are firm with requests for prompt delivery still unfilled.
