Wing's Farina Crackers.—Mr. WING is the only manufacturer of FARINA CRACKERS in the United States. No other person has a knowledge of the process by which this kind of material is successfully worked, producing such an extremely light and nourishing substance as WING'S FARINA CRACKERS.

Since WING'S CRACKERS have become so popular, one or two individuals have been trying to sell the ordinary kind of crackers which they make, by offering them as being like Wing's Farina, and have copied portions of Mr. Wing's advertisements to induce the belief that their crackers were the same as Wing's. Such attempts at deception should be understood by all.

Errors of this character, however, are usually corrected on being properly exposed.

Mr. WING manufactures nothing but FARINA CRACKERS, on all of which his name is stamped, and these are the only Crackers made containing the true qualities of Farina. Therefore buy no Crackers for Farina but those having the name A. WING stamped on them. These may be had of the best family grocers generally, and at wholesale only of

THE GREAT SUMMER BOOK!!!

LIFE THOUGHTS—LIFE THOUGHTS,

BY

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

There can be no more congenial companion for a Summer tour, than such a book. It will talk to you, yet not weary you, of the soul's desires, of our common wants and common weaknesses, and raise your thoughts to delightful meditation upon things more substantial than those of earth.

The New-York Teacher says:

"From 'grave to gay, from lively to severe,' they seem to compass all bounds of practical, moral and religious thought, and while they contain nothing irreverent there is no cant or Sunday formalism about them. Chief among their beauties is the facility with which he makes use of the commonest phenomena in nature and life to 'point a moral.'"

To those pent up in cities, no better stimulant can be found for the imagination, to fancy ourselves among hills and dales, side of rippling brooks, under the shade of high rocks, breathing the perfume of a thousand flowers, or listening to the warbling voices of the forest birds, than to read "Life Thoughts," where every phase of Nature is so handled and wielded as to impress itself upon you, and where the teaching drawn from it is wove into our very existence.

Says The Daily News, St. Anthony, Min.:

"It takes every man by the hand and cheers him with an encouraging word. It preaches a sermon in five lines, whose truths are clasped in the vines and roses of love, and are redolent with Heavenly odors."

TAKE IT TO THE COUNTRY WITH YOU.

There you can better read

LIFE THOUGHTS,

and appreciate its teachings, its truths, where the very illustrations crowd around you in every form which the strong intellectual mind of

HENRY WARD BEECHER,

has so happily employed to force the soul more firmly to grasp the truths taught by them.

The Daily Wisconsin, Milwaukee, says:

"Buy the book if you want to experience the thrilling influence of great and noble thought, and see what a wonderful force and beauty the human mind possesses."

ARE YOU GOING TO THE SEA SHORE?

Take with you

LIFE THOUGHTS.

And read in it how beautifully from the roar of breakers, from the quiet manner of playful waves, from the silence of the calm, or the horror of the storm, from the anchored vessel, or the bold pilot in his tiny craft hastening to the sea,

HENRY WARD BEECHER

proves everything around us can be made to teach some useful lesson.

The Iowa Farmer says:

"Great thoughts start out from every page, in almost tangible, living form, and speak peace, joy, and hope to the reader. All who have any love for the true and beautiful in religion, philosophy, or nature, who can appreciate the noble and good in human life and action, should make haste to procure a copy of this new work."

THE BEST BOOK FOR SUMMER READING

IS

BEECHER'S LIFE THOUGHTS.

Five minutes' reading of it will furnish material for hours of meditation, and drew our souls into communion with the joys of Nature, and make or find within our own hearts a well-spring of happiness.

TAKE IT WITH YOU

wherever you go, to while away the long Summer day.

The New-Bedford Mercury says:

"This is a volume to take up at hours that come to the experience of all, when the soul craves a glowing thought, or a tender word, and has no desire or leisure for a profound meditation, but is quickened and strengthened by the touch of the right chord under the master's hand. And so this book will be very welcome, for it abounds with such inspirations, and will find its true niche in many a home and heart."

REMEMBER THERE IS NO BETTER BOOK

than

LIFE THOUGHTS,

for Summer reading. It will not idly consume your time, but pay

A LARGE DIVIDEND

on every moment invested in its perusal.

For sale everywhere by booksellers, upon all the cars and steamers, or sent by mail, prepaid, upon the receipt of the price, $1.

THE SCALPEL for JULY, or number 37, vol. II, edited by Edward H. Dixon, M. D., is now ready, at 25 cents. This work is not, and never has been, a medical journal; it is designed exclusively for the instruction of THE PEOPLE. No journal ever published in this country has received more universal approbation by the press, both here and in Europe; and it has repeatedly been said, in every part of the Union, that it reflects no credit upon the man who says he has not read it. During the ten years of its existence it has received twenty-six thousand notices of the press, and yet there are thousands in this city who assume it to be a medical journal and have never opened its pages. Let the reader look over the following table of contents, and then tax his imagination to discover its probable nature. Twenty-five cents may assure him and give him either a higher or lower opinion of his capacity than he has been wont to entertain.

The first eight volumes, neatly bound in four large books of 500 pages each, each one completely indexed and handsomely lettered for the library, may be had of the editor only for $6. They are the cheapest and most useful volumes ever published in this country, and no man who looks over the immense amount of useful and instructive matter, and diverting satire, will ever regret the investment, as the work is eminently didactic, and the contents of the eight volumes are not to be rewritten; if the reader would understand the work and its editor's mode of teaching, he must possess it and use it for constant reference in every question of health. It is written for the library, and does not belong to the category of magazine literature of the day.
