THE EXILES OF FLORIDA; OR,
THE CRIMES COMMITTED BY OUR GOVERNMENT AGAINST THE MAROONS, WHO FLED FROM SOUTH CAROLINA AND OTHER SLAVE STATES, SEEKING PROTECTION UNDER SPANISH LAWS.
By JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS.
EIGHTH THOUSAND NOW READY.

"Mr. Giddings has handled his subject well. Those who may think he has written a series of violent chapters will find, on examination, that they were mistaken. He is a man of sense and experience, as well as an honest man, and knows that the simple truth is the most effective of all things in all statements, and to that he has confined himself." [Boston Journal.

JOSIAH QUINCY,
in a letter to the Publisher, says:

"The work illustrates with great power and unquestionable truth the inherent spirit of the slaveholder—his pride, his cupidity, his disregard of the rights of nature, of the feelings of humanity, and the extinction of the moral sense in every bosom in which the spirit of masterdom predominates. It ought to enkindle in the Free States a feeling, a will and a resolve to relieve the Union of this incubus, which depresses our hopes of the preservation of our free institutions, disgraces our character, and while it brutalizes one portion of our population, demoralizes and makes callous another.

"Mr. Giddings has executed his undertaking with great boldness and skill."

"The Author's
TWENTY YEARS' SERVICE IN CONGRESS has given him opportunity to prepare an authentic history of the Florida War, which was a WAR FOR SLAVERY.

"The work of Mr. Giddings is written in a style at once simple and elegant. That it will be popular there is little doubt, and that its influence will be beneficial there is reason to believe." [Cincinnati Commercial.

The "Atlantic Monthly," in a lengthy notice, says:

"A cruel story this, Mr. Giddings tells us. Too cruel, but too true. It is full of pathetic and tragic interest, and melts and stirs the heart at once with pity for the sufferers, and with anger that sins not, at their mean and ruthless oppressors. Every American citizen should read it, for it is an indictment which recites crimes which have been committed in his name, perpetrated by troops and officials in his service, and all done at his expense. The whole nation is responsible at the bar of the world, and before the tribunal of posterity for these atrocities, devised by members of its Cabinet and its Congress, directed by its Presidents, and executed by its armies and its courts.

"Mr. Giddings has done his task admirably well. It is worthy to be the crowning work of his long life of public service. His style is of that best kind which is never remarked upon, but serves as a clear medium through which the events he portrays are seen without distortion or exaggeration. He has done his country one more service, in entire consistency with those that have filled up the whole course of his honorable and beneficent life."

"EVERY AMERICAN SHOULD READ IT."

CROOKS AND SCHEMS' LATIN-ENGLISH SCHOOL LEXICON.
On the basis of the Latin-German Lexicon of Dr. C. F. Ingerslev. Published by J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co., Philadelphia.

From the Rev. Dr. John McClintock, New-York.

"I am acquainted with Ingerslev's Latin Lexicon, and believe it to be the best of the many School Lexicons now extant in Germany. Whatever commendation may be given to Ingerslev is still more amply due to Crooks and Schems' Lexicon. Their book retains Ingerslev's perspicuous arrangement, but in point of etymological matter, of attention to proper names, of discrimination in the general use of the material, and of adaptation to the wants of students, it is far in advance of its German prototype. The work ought to find its way at once into all our classical schools, and into the lower college classes."

From Prof. Henry B. Smith, Union Theological Seminary.

"It seems to me to be admirably adapted to its object—erring neither on the score of redundancy nor deficiency. * * * The introduction of synonyms, of aymologies, and of proper names, add much to its value. Clearness, conciseness, and remarkable adaptation to use, are among the valuable qualities of your work. * * * I trust this volume may have the success it so richly deserves."

ABUNDANTLY AND BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.
PUBLISHED TO-DAY.

The volume comprises a complete and authentic narrative of the various steps in the progress of this great work of the age. It embodies a sketch of the early history of Telegraphic operations in the United States, gives a general view of the previous attempts to introduce the use of Submarine Cables in different parts of the world, and proceeds to give a complete record of the inception, progress, and successful termination of the Atlantic Telegraph enterprise. In the course of this narrative there are comprehensive memoirs of Mr. CYRUS W. FIELD, of whom an excellent steel portrait is given, of Prof. SAMUEL B. MORSE, and other gentlemen whose names have been intimately associated with the work.

Throughout the volume great care has been exercised in regard to accuracy of dates and the arrangement of events in chronological order; while in the preparation of the preliminary history of the Magnetic Telegraph, a proper degree of attention has been given to the collection and classification of useful information from many different sources.

The necessity of a Hand-Book of this character became so apparent to the publishers that they have spared no pains to present the work in attractive style, in the belief that its permanent value as a volume of reference will be recognized. The universal interest which attaches to the history of the Atlantic Telegraph—the exultant joy with which the news of its success was received in all parts of the country—the direct share of every man in the wonderful effect which this linking of Europe and America must produce, render an authentic record of the great event most desirable.

MRS. SOUTHWORTH'S NEW WORK.
THE TWO SISTERS.
BY MRS. EMMA D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH,
Author of "Lost Heiress," "Missing Bride," "The Deserted Wife," "The Discarded Daughter," "The Curse of Clifton," "Retribution," "The Wife's Victory," "Ishmael," "Vivia; the Secret of Power," "The Three Beauties," &c., &c.

Complete in two volumes, paper cover. Price $1; or bound in one volume, cloth, for $1 25.

THE TWO SISTERS is the most attractive book we have opened for a long time. Whoever reads the first page is sure to be carried on to the last. The author is remarkable for her warm and brilliant invention, her wealth of imagery, her ready flow of ideas, her pathos, and her clear insight into the motives which govern the human heart; and therein lies the charm of her pen-paintings. She gives you live characters, real men and women, so tangible that one almost feels the clasp of their hand, and hears the words they speak. It is the best of Mrs. Southworth's novels, containing deeper thought and embracing a deeper meaning than any of her preceding works, beside being in plot more ingenious and elaborate. It is a work which all may read with profit. It abounds with the most beautiful scenic descriptions; it displays an intimate acquaintance with all phases of human character; and, withal, contains a moral of inestimable value. The story is absorbingly interesting, every character being well drawn, and the incidents exciting. It is a gem that will well repay a careful perusal. It must command a very large sale, as indeed do all the works of this accomplished author.

Booksellers, News Agents and all others will please send in their orders at once for what they may want of this popular work to the Publishers, T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, No. 306 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia.

For sale by all Booksellers in this city and elsewhere.

Copies will be sent per mail to any one free of postage, on receipt of the price.

TIMOTHY TITCOMB'S LETTERS TO SINGLE AND MARRIED.
1 vol. 12mo. $1; in full silt, $1 50.
THE 6TH EDITION READY IN A FEW DAYS.

"The strong common sense which pervades them, the frank and manly utterance of wholesome truths in pointed and beautiful language, and the genial sympathy which the author has for those whom he addresses, cannot fail to commend his work to general favor.

"FOR PURE ENGLISH DICTION AND BEAUTIFUL IMAGERY IT WILL TAKE ITS PLACE AS A CLASSIC WITH IRVING'S SKETCH BOOK."

"This series is one of the best of the kind we have ever met with. The writer is evidently a shrewd observer, and he gives an infinite deal of wholesome advice in a plain, open, straightforward manner. While he inculcates true religious principles, he indulges in no cant, and his style is such as will at once attract the attention of those for whom the work is written." [N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

"Pleasantly told, and couched in such language that it cannot fail to win its way to the hearts of the young. The subjects treated bear upon all the relations of life; and the moral tone which characterizes every page, the earnestness which is breathed into every line, and the genuine love of the good, the true and the beautiful, which casts its halo over the whole work, cannot fail to leave their impress on the mind of the reader." [Buf. Cour.

"We have rarely read a volume which contained more plain, good, common-sense, or practicable advice. It is written in a taking style, and will be a treasure in many a household. In its way it is the best book that has appeared since that of the reverend gentleman (Henry Ward Beecher's Lectures) who is honored with a dedication." [Boston Atlas.

"THEIR GOOD SENSE, SOUND ADVICE AND GENIAL HUMOR COMMEND THEM TO ALL." [Evening Journal.

These works embody the latest discoveries and researches in Physical Science, and excel in their lucid and attractive style—their numerous interesting Scientific facts—their practical application of Science to the Arts and every day life, and their tasteful and copious illustrations (over 700 in number).

Their great merit has elicited hundreds of expressions from eminent Professors, practical Educators and the Press, throughout the Union, all highly favorable with two exceptions, of criticisms of the Philosophy, which were either based upon the inaccuracies of an early impression printed in the author's absence and corrected before the appearance of the reviews, or have been proved to be unfounded in Science.
