New York Stock Market

New York, September 27.—The congestion of the speculative operations in Reading to-day and the suspicion of artificiality in the movement of that stock had a repressive rather than a stimulating effect on the general speculative movement. The tactics of the traders consisted altogether in a watch on the trend of the movement in Reading and in attempts to follow the movements in that stock or guiding their ventures in other stocks in consonance with the fluctuations in Reading.

The news regarding Reading developments was as vague and as various as yesterday, including a revival of practically all rumors which have done duty in connection with market movements in that stock for several years past. The report most dwelt upon alleged a plan for distribution of surplus of segregated assets to stockholders in some such manner as was done in the case of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western to meet the requirements of the so-called commodities clause of the Hepburn law. The full detail assumed by this report set the time for the proposed action to-day. The announcement, therefore, that there would be no meeting of the directors of the company to-day halted the movement, but only temporarily.

United States Steel surrendered its usual primacy of the market to Reading, with a volume less than one-half that of the latter stock, with Union Pacific a poor third in the amount of the dealings. Reading's proportion to the whole market reached 37 per cent. Prices at the end of the day were at the lowest and showed trivial net losses.

The banking community studied with great interest the compilation of national reports to the Controller of September 1, although the subject was not much discussed in the stock market itself. The showing was regarded as demonstrating the wisdom of the drag which was applied to the extension of credits following the appearance of the spring abstract of bank representatives. The progress made towards rectification is evinced with satisfaction, but opinion is not convinced that the process is complete.

As for the $37,000,000 loan expansion which has occurred since June 30, it is considered moderate in view of the needs of the season. Moreover, New York banks account for over $29,000,000 of the loan expansion, although it is known that rediscounting for interior banks and purchase of commercial paper was largely responsible for their showing. The New York banks also have secured more than the total of the two months' gain in cash shown by all the banks. But it is in the yearly comparison that there is found matter for remaining solicitude. There is seen there a loan increase for the twelve months of $338,278,000, while cash holdings are lower by over $2,000,000 than a year ago. The decrease in the same time in the item due to other banks and bankers of $75,122,000 indicates that interior banks are still holding their reserves in their own vaults rather than entrusting them to reserve agents. While this yearly comparison shows less glaring discrepancy in these items than was the case either in the summer or spring comparison, there is seen to be room still for improvement. The influence of the October settlements continued to harden interest rates in the immediate money market. Foreign exchange rates advanced in response to the higher discount rate in London. The Subtreasury has taken $4,291,000 from the New York banks thus far this week. Money on call rose to 2 1-4 per cent.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,731,000. United States bonds were unchanged in the bid price on call.

Total sales of stocks for the day were 484,800 shares.

New York, September 27.—Prime mercantile paper, 5 1-2@6 per cent. Sterling exchange strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8355@$483.65 for sixty-day bills and at $4.8675 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.83 1-4. Bar silver, 53 7-8. Mexican dollars, 45. Money on call easy, 1 7-8@2 1-4; ruling rate, 2; closing bid, 2; offered at 2 1-4 per cent. Time loans firm; sixty days, 3 3-4@4 per cent., and six months, 4 1-2.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, September 27.—The cotton market continued active during to-day's trading with further advance in prices on an increasing volume of outside buying and trade support, which was evidently inspired by bullish estimates of the crop and the apparent readiness with which early receipts are being absorbed in the South. The close was firm at a net advance of 9@26 points. The market opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 3 points, near months responding to indifferent cables and private advices from Liverpool reporting that all negotiations had been broken off between master spinners and operatives in Manchester, while later months again showed evidences of a good speculative, accompanied by bullish estimates of the crop.

Prices quickly worked up to a net advance of about 10@15 points, and while this bulge was followed by a reaction of 8@9 points under realizing, the market continued very firm, selling into new high ground for the day during the afternoon on a continued broadening of outside demand, largely from Western sources and renewed covering. Around 12.00 for January there was a great deal of cotton for sale, enough to check the advance, but barely sufficient to cause any reaction, and closing prices were within 2 or 3 points of the top with a good buying movement in progress right up to the end of business. Weather reports were again considered favorable, but the very bullish average of private crop reports, many of which indicate a yield, but little, if any, larger than last year, appears to have made a very considerable impression on sentiment in connection with the failure of the early movement to cause any depression in Southern markets for spot cotton prices as yet. The Southern spot markets officially reported to-day were unchanged to 1-16c. higher.

The government's condition report will be issued next Monday, and is expected to show considerable deterioration for the month, although few traders believe that the figures as compared with last year will be low enough to substantiate the more sensationally bullish crop estimates now circulating in the trade.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 3,336 bales against 63,059 last week and 87,655 last year. For the week 325,000 bales against 241,946 last week and 380,881 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 6,338 bales against 4,776 last year, and at Houston 24,915 bales against 12,731 last year.

Total since September 1 at all ports—Net receipts, 731,122 bales; export to Great Britain, 187,621 bales; to France, 51,417 bales; to the Continent, 197,756 bales; to Japan, 2,541 bales.

New Orleans, La., September 27.—Cotton—Spot cotton steady and unchanged; middling, 13⅝c. Sales on the spot 437 bales and 1,840 to arrive. The market opened at a decline of 1@3 points in the future department. One or two commission houses sold freely every trading month on the first call and depressed the market, but after the call the market became more active and general buying was good on the hot, dry weather over the belt. Some sections of the central cotton belt report that they have not had any rains in weeks. Under these circumstances there is a decided tendency to reduce crop estimates, and this caused more or less covering among shorts. At the end of the first half hour of trading the market was 6@8 points over yesterday's closing. The market was steady throughout the morning session, at the highest being 12@16 points up. Buying was stimulated by bullish press reports concerning Alabama and Georgia by fear of the tropical storm now in the Caribbean Sea and by the weather reports. Bears attempted to make capital out of a private cable message from Manchester and Liverpool, which stated that it was rumored in those markets that a lockout in Lancashire was certain, but the market was not disposed to place much faith in cablegrams of this tenor. In the afternoon session the market fell off under cablegrams from Liverpool stating that a lockout seemed inevitable in Lancashire, although it might be of short duration, and at 2 o'clock the market stood 7@11 points over yesterday's last quotations. The close was steady at a net advance of 9@14 points. Closing bids: September, 13.41; October, 13.28; December, 13.36; January, 13.43; May, 13.68.
