LAUDERDALE WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Lauderdale County, Miss.—This fashionable and popular Watering Place, the valuable medicinal qualities of which are made the more extensively recognized by the medical faculty and the public, is now ready fully to accommodate visitors of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and lines of the Mississippi River Coaches, connecting North, East and West, was reopened for the reception of visitors on the 1st May.

New accommodations and elegant buildings have been erected, new furniture has been procured, and the entire premises since last season, have undergone the thorough repair and improvement.

The proprietor guarantees his patrons generally, as well as the old patrons of this favorite watering place, that no pains will be spared to make their sojourn at the Springs as some agreeable, delightful and economical as he knows how.

The Old and Mobile Railroad passes within one mile of the Springs, by which facilities are already running which, three years, are one of the cheapest and most convenient ever-way with them, conveying passengers from Mobile to the Springs in some twenty-five hours time. This route will be so much more direct and pleasant, and it is confidently expected that by the first of August the entire Mobile and Ohio Railroad will be in operation.

The time or occasion also commends to Livingston with the Dunspaw and to remember one of four horse pot coaches, and the universities, Choctaw and College lines, also affording on easy terms a conveyance to one of the most valuable and desirable watering places in the South.

The proprietor, grateful for past patronage, will avail himself of every motive for maintaining to the comfort of his guests, and to which, from his presence in the patronage of invalids and pleasure seekers a complete establishment.
