Attorney that it was his intention to interpose. The plea of not guilty was put in formally only, expressly reserving the right to interpose a plea to the jurisdiction at our pleasure.

Mr. Sickles, after some observations to the same purport, proceeded:

"May it please the Court, I have to say, and it is my duty to say—an unpleasant one, but a duty, as a lawyer bound to do my duty to my client, I must fulfill—I rise to say that my client, Mr. Mulligan, does not feel—does not believe—that in this Court he can receive that fair and impartial trial which the Constitution and laws of the land secure to every citizen. He therefore instructed me, as his counsel, to apply to the Supreme Court for an order removing this case from the Court of General Sessions into the Oyer and Terminer. Acting under his instructions, I have made that application, which has been granted by that Court. I have now to file with the Clerk the order, the affidavit upon which it was granted, and the recognizance requiring Mr. Mulligan to appear at the next term of the Oyer and Terminer."

Recorder—What Judge granted the order, Mr. Sickles?

Mr. Sickles—Judge Sutherland.

Mr. Sedgewick—It is only necessary to say that it required great speed to do this, and that is the reason no notice was given to us.

Mr. Sickles—The statute does not require any notice to be given to the District-Attorney. Mr. Mulligan and his counsel did all the law required, and as a law-abiding citizen, he will do all the law requires.

The District-Attorney, Mr. Blunt, then rose and said: I will inform the counsel who represents Mr. Mulligan that, as all these proceedings are regular, his client will be tried in the Oyer and Terminer, next Monday.

Mr. Sickles replied that Mr. Sutherland's order referred to the next Oyer and Terminer, and not to Monday's sitting, which was an adjourned Oyer and Terminer. However, he would be ready on that day if called upon.

Mr. Mulligan, his counsel, and a host of friends then left the Court.

The following are the "reasons" assigned by Mulligan in the application made to Judge Sutherland, to remove the indictment into the Court of Oyer and Terminer:

Your applicant verily and conscientiously believes that the said Recorder has prejudged his case, and is biased and prejudiced against him, and that he cannot and will not have a fair and impartial trial before said Recorder, for the following reasons:

First: Because of personal difficulty and disagreement between your applicant and said Recorder while they were citizens of the State of California, and which has prejudiced and biased the mind and feelings of said Recorder, and which bias your applicant has no doubt still exists.

Second: Because that, as your applicant has been informed and seriously believes, said Recorder has repeatedly stated that he would send your applicant to the Penitentiary if he was ever brought before him, said Recorder.

Third: Because said Recorder, on his bench, as presiding Judge of said Court on the 11th day of October inst., in the presence of the Jurors summoned to attend said Court and a crowded audience, charged this applicant with having committed a number of offenses within the last year, and was, therefore, deserving of no lenity; and your applicant avers that such statement is utterly untrue.

Fourth: Because the whole demeanor and language of said Recorder on the said 11th day of October instant, toward and against this applicant, evinced great rancor of feeling and prejudice on his part, which has fully convinced your applicant that fair and impartial justice will not be administered to him if he should be tried in said Court, before said Recorder, and that the course pursued toward your applicant by said Recorder was the subject of comment and censure by a number of spectators who were present.

And your applicant further shows and states, that it is not his desire or intention to avoid a trial on said indictment, nor is this application made for the purpose of delay, but with the full conviction and certainty that great injustice will be done him unless said indictment will be removed from said Court.

(Signed,) WILLIAM MULLIGAN.

FROM CAPTAIN POPE'S EXPEDITION.

Correspondence of The Austin (Texas) Intelligencer.

CAMP ON THE PECOS, Aug. 21, 1858.

The order to "pack up" has just been issued, and the "note of preparation" hath already sounded. We leave here on Monday morning, and I have just time enough at my disposal to tell you to expect no more letters from me dated at Pecos. I am almost sorry we are leaving here. I have formed a sort of affection for this turbid, sinuous stream, on whose banks I have shivered and sweltered during the colds and heats of the last four years, and my regret is not lessened by the consideration that our labors so far have been devoid of success.

I believe it is now pretty well understood that the completion of a well in this plain would cost more than Congress would be reasonably expected to appropriate, and it would not be carrying out the intentions of that body when voting the appropriation of $100,000 to expend all that sum at one particular point, to the total neglect of others not less important.

The geological structure of this plain is a singular one, presenting features widely different from anything heretofore known. The greater the depth to which we penetrate, the greater and more entire become the difficulties in our progress. At the depth to which we have attained (1,050 feet) the formation is just as soft, as rotten, and crumbling as the surface, and tubing is still necessary below in order to prevent the soft strata from falling in. But this tubing we find impossible to get down with our present apparatus, and the tubing which we have is not the kind for this work. But you may ask, why not procure the suitable apparatus and tubing? "Ah, there's the rub!" The cost of transportation alone for the necessary material would exhaust the portion of the appropriation not hitherto expended; and as our present material is perfectly available for the works at other points, it is surely more prudent and economical to transfer to some one of them our apparatus and men, and commence operations elsewhere, with better prospects of success.

I believe Gallisteo will be our next encampment, as a well is much needed somewhere in that vicinity.

Although we are compelled to abandon this work unfinished, I am sanguine in my hopes of our being able to accomplish the greater part of the object for which our appropriation was granted. Our difficulties, physical and mechanical, will be much less on the Rio Grande than here, for, beside the geological structure to be penetrated, our iron and machinery will be no longer devoured by the corrosive acids of the Pecos waters.

TUESDAY, Oct. 12—P. M.

The stock market exhibited unusual activity to-day, the business at the First Board reaching some 20,000 shares Stocks and $300,000 Bonds. The quotations were somewhat irregular, but the market was very strong at the opening. State stocks, which came first on the roll, were in demand at full prices. The market continued buoyant until Reading was called, when, stock being more abundant than was anticipated, and there being some appearance that the corner in which the bears have been pinched for the last few days was a little less stringent than yesterday, the market lost its upward tendency, and the subsequent sales in most instances showed a decline. The sales of Reading show a difference of 1 ⅌ cent on sellers' options, thirty days, which is the price the shorts pay for extending their contracts. Central improved to 84¼, but was at the close one of the heaviest stocks in the list, selling down to 83¾@¾ ⅌ cent below yesterday's prices. Pacific Mail and Panama were without change of importance. There are various rumors of competition for the California trade, but nothing which has yet any shape. The Western shares generally were active, but, with the exception of Toledo, fell off from the opening. At the Second Board the market exhibited a marked difference in activity from the morning Board, the transactions being quite limited, and the market very heavy. The advance of the last few days has had the natural effect of bringing out considerable sellers for realization of profits, and it has also encouraged the bear dealers to put out their contracts with considerable freedom, in view of the reaction which always follows a rapid advance. There was more disposition shown to-day to get out short lines than we have noticed since the upward movement commenced, and this disposition is not confined to the brokers of Wall street. The market closed heavy at the following quotations: Pacific Mail Steamship Company, 103¾@104; Missouri 6s, 87¾@87¾; Canton Company, 19½@20; New-York Central, 83¾@83¾; Erie Railroad, 16¼@16¾; Hudson River Railroad, 28¼@28½; Harlem Railroad, 12@12¼; Reading Railroad, 51@51¼; Michigan Central Railroad, 56½@56¾; Michigan Southern Railroad, 24@24¼; Panama Railroad, 117@117½; Illinois Central Railroad, 78¾@79; Galena and Chicago Railroad, 83¾@83¾; Cleveland and Toledo Railroad, 33@33¼; Chicago and Rock Island Railroad, 65@65¼; Illinois Central Bonds, 89@89¼.

The foreign Bill market has been firm for the steamer, to-morrow; the supply of outside bills being light, bankers were asking 110@110¼; sales were made at both rates. Bank signatures sold at 109¾@110, and some commercial names as high as 109¾; other first-class bills were sold at 109¼@¼. About £40,000 were drawn against Government Stock and other securities. The French remitters were buying Sterling for this packet, which stiffened the market. Francs were active and sold at 5.15@5.12½.

The Philadelphia Ledger says that the question of the constitutionality of the sale of the State canals was brought before the Court in the nature of an action, to enforce performance of contract, Peter Cooper, esq., of New-York, having agreed to take $100,000 worth of the bonds of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad Co., which agreement he subsequently refused to perform, until the constitutionality of the sale was decided. The Company was represented by Charles Gibbons, esq., St. George Tucker Campbell, esq., of that city, and Attorney-General Knox. Judge Black, Attorney-General of the United States, and William L. Hirst, esq., appeared on the part of the Commonwealth. All the Judges were present, and the case is held over for argument.
