ACADEMY OF MUSIC.
THE HUGUENOTS.
Second and last night of
MLLE. POINSOT,
Principal dramatic prima donna from the Grand Opera, Paris.
Second and last night of
THE HUGUENOTS;
most positively the last night of the season.
The sale of seats for To-Night's Huguenots and To-Morrow's Farewell Benefit of Mlle. Piccolomini, commences
THIS MORNING, AT ALL THE TICKET OFFICES.
The sale for Wednesday's Matinee (after which the Company leave by special train for Boston) commences on Tuesday Morning, at the Music Stores and Hotels.
PARTICULAR NOTICE.—In consequence of the length of the Huguenots, the dress circle will open at 6½, and commence at 7½.
Second and last appearance in America of
MLLE. POINSOT,
Principal dramatic Prima Donna from the Grand Opera in Paris, who will make her second appearance in the great role of VALENTINE IN THE HUGUENOTS,
On MONDAY, Dec. 6, at 7½. Doors open at 6½.
Meyerbeer's grand opera of
THE HUGUENOTS,
with a cast infinitely superior to that of the last season. The three great female parts will be sung by MLLE. POINSOT, MADAME LABORDE, MLLE. GHIONI.
The male roles by FLORENZA, TAMARO, WEINLICH, COLETTI, PIKANESER, DUBREUIL, BARRATINI and CARL FORMES,
who will resume his great part of Marcel.
THE BALLET
will be numerously represented, and will be headed by MLLE. SOTO and Mr. DENNSTEADT.
THE CHORUS AND ORCHESTRA
will comprise the same strength of talent as last season.
TO THE PUBLIC—MLLE. POINSOT.
The departure of the company by special train on Wednesday after the matinee, prevents the director offering to the public another opportunity of hearing Mlle. Poinsot after to-night's performance. No prima donna has appeared under more disadvantageous circumstances. The difficulty in again mounting an opera of such importance as are the "Huguenots" with, for the most part new artists, has limited her debut to the two last nights of the season. The unavoidable postponement, last Friday, had an injurious effect. Saturday evening beside, is the most unfashionable evening of the week. To these may be added the pelting rain storm which alone most sadly interfered with the success of the opera. Yet, in spite of all these most serious drawbacks, Mlle. Poinsot has achieved a triumph which cannot fail to spread rapidly through the country. This remarkable success may not have been expected by the public. Mlle. Poinsot is too young to possess a reputation like Grisi or a Lind. She has never sung in any other city except Paris, which, although the first musical city in the world, unjustly ranks in American estimation as second to London. But this success has been confidently relied upon by Mr. Ullman, who has watched her from the beginning of her career six years ago, and avails himself of the expiration of her Parisian contract immediately to engage her for New-York. He has always looked upon her as the only legitimate successor to Grisi, both as regards voice, musical cultivation, and tragical talent of the highest rank. Flattering as this success must be to the feelings of Mlle. Poinsot and the Director, it is equally creditable to the taste of the New-York public, who in their rapid appreciation of Mlle. Poinsot, have shown that a great artist can succeed without preliminary preparations, for none have been made for Mlle. Poinsot.
In conclusion, the Director expects some credit at the hands of the public, not only for having presented such remarkable stars as are found in his company, but for having presented them in their true light. He has claimed for Mlle. Piccolomini the position of being the most fascinating singer now before the public, for Madame Laborde that of being the most brilliant singer in bravura, and for Mlle. Poinsot that of being a great dramatic artist and a tragedienne of the highest degree. This has been acknowledged by the Press, which, after all, is the true index of public opinion.
TO-MORROW (Tuesday), Dec. 7, close of the season, Farewell Night and Benefit of
Mlle. PICCOLOMINI,
and her farewell appearance in New-York (prior to her departure for Boston, Philadelphia, the West and South).
The sale of seats for Mlle. Piccolomini's Benefit commences this morning.
Mlle Piccolomini's Benefit and Farewell Appearance will comprise two performances, an OPERA ON TUESDAY EVENING,
A MATINEE ON WEDNESDAY, at 12½ o'clock.
The entertainments of Tuesday Evening will consist of the whole of Donizetti's Opera of LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR, when
MLLE PICCOLOMINI,
for the first time in America, will sing her celebrated role of Lucia. On the same occasion, SIGNOR BRIGNOLI
will make his first and only appearance this season, at the Academy of Music.
SIGNOR FLORENZA
will appear for the first time as Ashton.
On the same evening will be given,
FOR THE FIRST TIME IN AMERICA,
the third act of Donizetti's famous Opera of
THE MARTYRS,
including the celebrated prison scene.
Mlle. Piccolomini as.....Paulina
Signor Lorini as.....Polliate

The Committee beg to state that they are now in correspondence with several of our most popular public orators, several of whom have kindly offered their services, and from others a favorable answer is daily expected.

TO THE PUBLIC.
It is now some four years since public attention was first directed to the imminent danger in which Mount Vernon was situated. As regards its possession, all attempts made for the purpose of influencing Congress to secure the Home and Tomb of Washington as the property of the Nation (annually foiled, and it was only when that eloquent and high-minded orator, Edward Everett, formed the country to recognise the disgrace which threatened it, that they evinced any interest in its possession; the result of that awakened interest was the foundation of a Ladies' National Committee, whose object was to raise means for the purchase of Mount Vernon. Though the labor of Edward Everett, and others equally praiseworthy, has realized a large fund, yet the object for which this Association was created has not yet been fulfilled—a larger amount is yet necessary. They believe that a series of Festivals of the character now proposed, given throughout the entire country, will materially increase the fund. They confidently solicit the support, sympathy and cooperation of all true patriots in this most laudable enterprise.
