BRADSTREET'S COMMERCIAL REPORTS, FOR BANKERS and BUSINESS MEN.

The fourth Semi-annual Volume of this valuable record of credits, which was published on the 15th of January, having been exhausted by a rapid and extensive demand, a second edition of said volume, revised and corrected, has been issued, and is now ready for delivery to such as have not already supplied themselves with the work.

Several hundreds of the best Bankers and Merchants in different cities of the Union have assisted in perfecting this REFERENCE RECORD, thus making it a veracious and reliable compend of the pecuniary condition and prospects and business capacities of about 22,000 MERCANTILE FIRMS, in TWENTY-SIX of the PRINCIPAL CITIES and CENTERS OF TRADE in the United States.

The New-York Merchant or Banker will ascertain by a Key accompanying the Book, the grade of credit, character, habits, and capital of such as will be likely to deal with him, while the out-of-town Merchant will learn with accuracy the exact foundation on which the New-York houses base their business.

To provide for any possible errors that might occur in a work so GIGANTIC IN DETAIL, and to keep purchasers informed of the changes that must necessarily take place, the Proprietors issue a PRINTED SHEET OF CORRECTIONS EVERY WEEK.

The time and trouble such a work must save, the losses it must prevent, and the influence it must have in securing a sound and profitable trade, make it invaluable to Wholesale Merchants, Manufacturers, Note Brokers and Banks of Discount; and yet the whole, including the two Semi-annual Volumes, the Sheet of corrections and the facilities of the Office, are furnished to subscribers at ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS per annum.

Full particulars, not embraced in this advertisement, may be obtained at the Office of the Proprietors and Publishers,

"Within the past six months, business or pleasure has called me into one-half of the States of the Union, and over several thousand miles of railroad, and I have never arrived at a depot ten minutes late, nor lost a connection—thanks to my pocket companion, APPLETON'S RAILWAY GUIDE—a work corrected and published semi-monthly, which is a model of accuracy, and may be relied on implicitly. A study of its contents has beguiled many miles of their tediousness, while the information it imparts reflects the greatest credit on the publishers."

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF
JOHN BROWN;
KEEPER OF THE UNIVERSIVY BILLIARD ROOMS,
CAMBRIDGE, ENGLAND.
1 vol., 12mo. Price, $1.

A remarkable book in every respect, and curiously interesting from beginning to end. John Brown lived "with all his might," and the "Life" he writes is, in its abundance and variety of tragic and comic ups-and downs, as good as a play. His experiences partook of all the quick changes, and boisterous bustle and rude humor of an old English fair; and as they are presented in this volume they afford a picture of the times he lived, and incessantly moved in, which, in much of its bold handling, is not to be surpassed by less spirited pencils than those of Fielding and De Foe. The moral, even as you trace it through the bustling table of contents, is of unmistakable application for every fine young fellow of sound natural principles who has to shoulder his own way to good citizenship and a share of social influence.

As a neglected child, a "juvenile offender," an ingenious vagabond, a shoemaker, a soldier, an actor, a sailor, a publican, a billiars room keeper, a town councillor and an author, Mr. Brown has seen the world for sixty years, and he unhesitatingly describes all that he has seen, with fidelity of memory and straight forward simplicity of style.

"This is a reprint of the English edition of the work unabridged, with all the illustrations admirably executed, in a form placing it within the reach of many readers who might not afford to purchase the English edition of the work."—Christian Observer, Philadelphia.

"Notwithstanding its low price, it is well got up and embellished with numerous illustrations, making a neat 12mo volume of near 500 pages, with a full index."—[New-York Evangelist.

"The pictorial illustrations are numerous and graphic, and add greatly to the value of the the work."—[New-Yorker.

This great work we have just published from the English edition, uniform with our edition of Livingstone's Travels in Africa, with a Map of Africa, giving the routes of Dr. Livingstone and Dr. Barth, making it, altogether, one of the most interesting and valuable books ever published. We want Agents and Canvassers to sell this work, with other popular and salable works in all parts of the United States.

N. B.—Specimen copies sent by mail, free of postage, on receipt of the price, $1 25. J. W. BRADLEY, Publisher,
No. 48 North 4th-st., Philadelphia.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"The volume contains an account of the journeyings, discoveries, and adventures of one of the most enterprising travelers of the age, condensed from his extended narrative, recently published in three large octavo volumes. The work is intended for many who feel a deep interest in Dr. Barth's great expedition, who would know whatever is worth knowing in respect to the condition, the civilization and prospect of men in Africa, but who have neither time nor money to procure and read the scientific, minute and bulky volumes from which the present has been abridged. The work is well printed and illustrated."—[Christian Observer, Philadelphia.

"The English edition of Barth's travels fill five octavo volumes, and the cost is between $25 and $30. The American book condenses the essential portion of the journal, omitting such details as are only useful for scientific inquirers. It is a volume worth having."—Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

"Here we have the entire subject matter issued in a single volume, with map and illustrations, and at a very low price, while from the deep interest of its pages, we predict that it will command what booksellers rejoice to call a "run." The book is also enriched with notes from the expeditions of Richardson, Denham & Clapperton."—Pennsylvanea Inquirer, Phila.

"It is got up in Mr. Bradley's usual style of excellence and beauty. It is pleasant to look at, to handle and to read."—[Columbia (Pa.) Democrat.

"We commend the volume to all who desire a perfect combination of instructive and interesting reading. Beside the contents, the typographical appearance of the work is alike creditable and attractive."—[School Journal, Philadelphia.

WE PUBLISH THIS DAY.
THE LIFE OF
FREDERICK WILLIAM VON STEUBEN,
Major-General in the Army of the Revolution.
By FRIEDRICH KAPP. With an Introduction by GEORGE BANCROFT.

Crown 8vo. 715 pages. Price, cloth, $1 75; half calf, $3.

"The life of Steuben is one of the most interesting and eventful of the many brilliant and stirring scenes of the eighteenth century.

"Sprung from an old, noble, and military family of Prussia, as a child he accompanied his father in his campaign in the Crimea, and during his sojourn in Russia; as a boy he was present at the siege of Prague; and, as a youth, he entered the service of Frederick the Great, the greatest commander of the age, and fought with distinction in the bloodiest engagements of the Seven Years' War. Taken prisoner by the Russians, he spent some time at the Court of St. Petersburg, and when set at liberty by Peter III., he remained, until the end of the war, attached to the personal staff of the great King. The calm which succeeded the stormy events of his youth was not destined to be everlasting. As soon as prospects of fame and active exertions were opened to him at Versailles, he threw up his agreeable but inactive appointment at home, and hastened to America, to devote his military knowledge and experience to the conquest of American liberty, and to fight under George Washington for the independence of the United States. His efforts were crowned with success; and, after the termination of the war, Steuben finally retired into private life, to end a career devoted to the public good, in honorable but unassuming poverty, in a rough log house in the back woods.

"Prague and Kunersdorf, Petersburg and Berlin, Versailles and Philadelphia, Yorktown and New-York, are the landmarks of this existence, which, however checkered and beset with difficulties, has left brilliant traces behind it, and justly deserves to be added to the records of American history, so that, from a solitary example, the student may learn what efforts and sacrifices were necessary to found and protect the state of things, in the enjoyment of which the American nation lives happily and undisturbed."—[Life of Steuben, p. 58.

"The memory of Steuben has many claims upon the present generation. To the cause of our country in the times of its distress, he, at the sacrifice of a secure career, devoted the experience and skill which had been the fruit of long years of service under the greatest master of the art of war of that day. He rendered the inestimable benefit of introducing a better rule into the discipline of the American army, and stricter accountability in the distribution of military stores. He served under our flag with implicit fidelity, with indefatigable industry, and a courage that shrunk from no danger. His presence was important both in the camp and on the field of battle; from the huts of Valley Forge to Yorktown; and he remained with us till his death."—[Introduction by the Hon. Geo. Bancroft.

In a letter to the author, Mr. Bancroft writes: "I have read your Life of Steuben with admiration and instruction. * * * Your book must succeed, for it is thoroughly well done, and is deeply interesting, and a most valuable and now necessary contribution to the history of our Revolution."

LECTURES ON THE HOLY WAR.
BY THE REV. A. S. PATTON, A. M.
1 vol., 12mo. Eight Illustrations. Price $1.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

From The New-York Observer.

"Bold, striking and original in its handling of the subject, it is a book that cannot fail to arrest the attention and make a deep impression on the reader. It brings out the great work of salvation by the various steps of trial, suffering and joy, so that a whole body of practical theology is here discussed, and important truth presented in a way to instruct while it deeply interests the religious mind. It is a book for saint and sinner—for all who have a soul to be lost or saved."

From The Baltimore Patriot.

"The history of the siege so graphically recorded in this volume is one in which every man, woman and child has a fearful interest."

From The Delaware Gazette.

"It is a beautifully written allegory of the Holy War, carrying the Christian hero through dangers and temptations much in the same way that Bunyan leads his. It will, undoubtedly, be widely sought after by Christian readers."

From The Religious Herald.

"Those who have never read Bunyan's Holy War have lost a pleasure of an exquisite sort. Those who have read it will follow Mr. Patton through these lectures with interest. We like the book; our readers, unless we mistake, will like it too."

From Dr. Williams of New-York.

"I have read throughout the manuscript of the 'Directory.' It seems to me on the whole, a felicitous idea to have thus, in a brief and cheap manual, so much of useful and necessary information for the new member at his first joining one of our churches."

By J. B. JONES, Author of "Wild Western Scenes."
1 vol., large 12mo., muslin. Price $1 25.

BORDER WAR: A TALE OF DISUNION.—The Publishers of this novel and powerful tale are confident that the simple announcement of a volume in the vein of "Wild Western Scenes," and by the same author, will arouse an unwonted demand for the new book. "Wild Western Scenes" has not only reached the almost unprecedented sale of 100,000 copies, but its publishers now continue to sell some 5,000 of it annually, although the work was published nearly 20 years ago. So plain a fact (of how few books which have had for the time a large circulation can this be said?) is alone assurance that a work by this author will not be ephemeral, but of a standard character. The new work, BORDER WAR, will undoubtedly, from its peculiar character, at once occupy the undivided attention of a large portion of the thinking and reading population of America. While its disclosures will assuredly create a deep sensation among all reasoning and reflecting bodies, the purely novel reader will, at the same time, be absorbed and diverted with the strange and laughable story. No work having any of the distinguishing characteristics of this surprising production has ever appeared from the press, and its very singularity will produce thousands of readers.

N. B.—The Publishers desire to add that this volume will be issued in April, without fail; and in making up orders, booksellers may rely upon its being ready at that time.

, If taken in quantities, direct from the Publishers, extra discounts and Editorial Copies may be depended upon.
