THE DAILY CRESCENT

Is the medium which offers the most desirable medium for advertisers, as a Family Paper, it circulates largely, reaching many hundreds of homes in the City, and being read before the opening of business in the morning, and during the evening.

It is the most widely published of any paper in the city.

THE WEEKLY CRESCENT

Is issued every Monday morning at $5 a year, invariably in advance. It is sent to every direction throughout Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, and other States, if required. Its circulation is large, and it is the best medium for advertising in the country. Advertisements inserted for $1 per square.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 26, 1855.

[illegible] persons having a copy of the Crescent of the October 4, 1855, will confer an special favor by leaving the same at this office.

☞ Mr. Hart, purser of the steamship Daniel Webster, has our thanks for manuscripts.

The purser of the steamship Orizaba has claims to under obligations for similar favors.

The clerks of the steamers A. L. Shotwell, Sunrise, and Mayflower have our thanks for papers from Louisville, St. Louis and Memphis.

☞ THE PICAYUNE.—This journal appeared yesterday morning in an entire new and very beautiful dress. It is, certainly, typographically considered, one of the handsomest newspapers published in the United States.

☞ THE ALTAS.—They have been received with the regularity for the past three days. On Monday we received dates regular, and yesterday were favored with same—being from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington of the 19th, Charleston and Savannah of the 21st inst. From the West, we receive mails irregularly, and were it not for the courtesy and attention of steamboat officers, we should be deprived of a great share of our exchanges.

ADVERTISING.—We welcome back to his profession our old citizen, Benjamin Kendig, who has re-established himself at No. 68 Camp street, as general auctioneer and appraiser. From his years' devotion to the business, with his acquaintance in our city, Mr. Kendig offers unusual advantages, knowledge and information, and we feel warranted in recommending him to the citizens of New Orleans. His business embraces sales of real estate, negroes, stock, etc., as also do succession and 3 all sales by auction receive his attention, as well as by private sale. We refer to his card in another column.

ARRIVALS.—Our marine list mentions numerous arrivals on the river yesterday; among them we notice the Memphis packet, Mayflower, with the large load of 3703 bales cotton, 1120 sacks corn, 182 sacks rye, 130 sacks wheat, and 270 barrels flour; also the Vicksburg packet, Magnolia, with the great load of 4840 bales cotton.

We also notice the arrival of the steamer Marion, from Shreveport, being the first boat with cotton from that port for a long while. Red River is fast filling, slowly, which all will be pleased to learn.

BURNING OF THE STEAMER SWITZERLAND.—While the steamer May Flower was rounding to at Natchez, about 12 o'clock on the night of the 23d inst., the steamer Uncle Sam, ascending, and the steamer Switzerland, descending came in collision, causing the Switzerland to run on the bar opposite Natchez. The Uncle Sam and the Flower went immediately to her assistance, and remained with her until everything was done that could be for the safety and comfort of the passengers, nearly all of whom came on board of the May Flower, and were brought to New Orleans; a number of deck passengers were supposed to be drowned, but how many could not be ascertained. The Switzerland lays in three feet water.

MEDICAL COLLEGE.—Both the Medical and Law Colleges of the University of Louisiana are in the full tide of successful experiment, and lectures are daily delivered by the distinguished Professors of each. The footprint of former years have always been able, scientific, profound—remarkable alike for their ability and the amount of practical instruction they conveyed. That those of the ensuing session will equal if not surpass, all previous years, we repeatedly so very of speaking.

Dr. Thomas Hunt, Dean of the Medical College, delivered his first lecture of the session on Saturday. It was neat and fortunate not to be present during its delivery, for from our knowledge of the man, we know it must have been a gem of signal ability, erudition and excellence—full of valuable suggestions, the fruit of laborious research and observation, also arguments and logical conclusions which would have been instructive and valuable to any intelligent man, whether of the profession or not, to listen to.

☞ BARRE, THE ARTIST.—This accomplished artist, for many years a resident of this city, returned home yesterday. During the past summer he has visited the most celebrated galleries of Europe, and familiar with the finished creations of the great masters of art, he is prepared to improve upon his former works, if that indeed be possible. His portraits of many of our citizens are among the finest ever painted in this country. Under the magical influence of his pencil, the counterfeit presentment almost assumes reality. All of his works are distinguished for correctness, delicacy, breadth of coloring, and exquisite finish.

CITY PACKAGE AND BAGGAGE EXPRESS.—The advertisements which appear in another column of this morning's Crescent, announcing the successful operation of a city express, for the purpose of conveying merchandise and baggage between all parts of the city, at a cost so trifling as to be hardly worth note, will be read with a great deal of interest by those who have hitherto been obliged to pay six bits or a dollar for the drayage of articles whose actual cost hardly exceeded that amount.

It is the object of the present company to lessen the cost and increase the convenience of civic intercommunication, in this respect. Packages will be taken from stores and dwellings and delivered at any designated spot for the mere trifle of ten cents. Checks will be given when the property is received, and taken when it is delivered, thereby insuring against losses arising from negligence or dishonesty in transportation. Those who are about crossing the Lake will have their baggage taken down to the depot, and those returning have it taken from there, without experiencing any greater trouble than the payment of their dues. Such a plan has been in operation in other cities for some time, and has met with the greatest success. We are happy to learn that the same thing so far has proved successful here, and entertain no doubt that it will prove profitable in the hands of those whose energy and foresight has led them to the undertaking. The wagons belonging to the company will all be painted red and thereby easily distinguished. Other particulars can be gathered from the advertisement.

ORLEANS THEATER.—This evening two new candidates for popular commendation—two new songbirds, make their appearance at the Orleans Theater—Messrs. De Lagrave, tenor, and Crambada, baritone. They will sing in Donizetti's grand opera "La Favorita," and the natural facility to see them imp their wings under our heavens, will doubtless suffice to draw a crowded house.

☞ BALM OF THOUSAND FLOWERS.—J. Wright & Co., 121 Chartres street, announce in another column that they have a supply of the celebrated Balm of a Thousand Flowers, sovereign for the cure of all eruptions and cutaneous diseases, admirable for shaving and cleansing the teeth. Both ladies and gentlemen are interested in purchasing an important aid for the preservation and augmentation of their personal attractiveness. Fuller testimonials may be gathered from the advertisement, to which we refer.

PERHAPS THE TRUE REASON,

A well-informed gentleman in London writes to his friend in New York as follows, which appears in the Express of the 19th. The ideas communicated are interesting and significant:

"You will be doubtless surprised at the broadside of the "Thunderer" against the United States, and like ourselves wonder what is coming next. But within the past week it seems to be generally understood in the city that there are two reasons, though not apparent on the surface, one is to excite the Spaniards into the Alliance against Russia, the other to create a panic that will alarm holders of American securities to such an extent as to induce them to send their bonds for redemption, for the purpose of placing bullion in the Bank of England. I learn that some stocks and bonds go out by this steamer, but I think when the panic has subsided they will wonder how they have been so easily duped. To this alarm may be attributed the rise in cotton. A war is considered inevitable by many who give credit to all they see in print.—We are all acting very cautiously, as the man is not living who can foretell the future. By next May we may be exporting gold to America, or there may be gold to export.

There may be, and probably is, good reason to credit one of the intimations thrown out above; and in that we may find an explanation of the recent extraordinary conduct of the London Times, in endeavoring to make it appear that war between the United States and Great Britain was imminent. The whole object, very possibly, was to frighten the holders of American securities abroad, in order that they might be sent home for immediate redemption or sale, and the proceeds re-transferred to the other side of the water—all of which, had the amiable plan succeeded, would have aided materially in relieving the money market there, which has been uncomfortably stringent for a considerable length of time, and which bade fair to become painfully so, unless some financial coup d'etat was resorted to. Could the true motive be arrived at, it is very probable that reasons similar to the foregoing would be given.

The idea of a war between this country and England is thoroughly absurd. Nothing could bring about such a result save the last extremity of national disgrace—to which national annihilation, in a last, desperate and noble struggle, would be preferable. Why? Because the United States would suffer damages which hardly a quarter of a century of continued peace and prosperity would suffice to repair, and England would be irretrievably ruined.

These are practical, solvent reasons, which will forever prevent, we trust, the two greatest commercial and maratime nations of the earth from getting actually at loggerheads. It must have a fight, let them join together and give "all the world and the rest of mankind" a tremendous thrashing, not go stupidly to work and commence cutting each other's throats!

WHAT RAILROADS DO FOR FARMERS.

The following paragraph, from the Athens (Tenn.) Post, shows what railways do for farmers. The farmers of the three counties named derive a clear profit this year alone, on the single article of wheat, of more than $200,000 from the railway. Their 400,000 bushels of wheat sell for $200,000 more than it would have realized if there had been no railway to take it off:

WHEAT.—The price continues at $1. One hundred and sixteen wagons unloaded at the depot here on Thursday, the 8th. This county will export, of the late yield of the harvest, one hundred and sixty thousand bushels. Other counties along the line of the railroad will perhaps do as well. The three counties of Bradley, McMinn and Monroe, from the information now in our possession, we have no doubt will sell for export over 400,000 bushels, at an average of one dollar per bushel. Here then, is the snug sum of between four and five hundred thousand dollars diffused among the people of these counties, for the single article of wheat alone, the product of a single harvest. How much would these same counties realize before the railroad was built, and at what price? Not more than 50,000 bushels, and that small amount was sold at an average of fifty cents per bushel. In the meantime lands have quadrupled in value, and the owners have actually received this by the enhancement, almost without an effort of their own.

The foregoing remarks have the same application to Louisiana that they have to Tennessee; and, although none of our railroads have been completed, equally wonderful effects have been produced. Lands that would not have brought a dime per acre three years ago, cannot now be obtained at less than five, ten and fifteen dollars per acre. Large tracts have been brought under cultivation, and larger tracts are being brought under cultivation, the produce of which will find a ready and a remunerative market. Smiling villages have leaped into life by magic, as it were, and population, progress and prosperity now reign, where, not long since, almost primeval solitude prevailed. All this has been effected by our partially completed railroads. And if such glorious results follow uncompleted undertakings, what may we not anticipate on the completion of the whole grand system.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

ORLEANS THEATER.—Donizetti's grand opera "La Favorita," will be performed at the French theater this evening. Messrs De Lagrave, tenor, and Crambada, baritone, are cast in it.

ST. CHARLES THEATRE.—Schiller's "Robbers" will be performed this evening, with Mr. Pope as Charles de Moor. The amusements close with "Hercules."

PERI'S SOUTHERN OPERA HOUSE.—The Campbell Minstrels, with a great variety of negro-songs and dances.

VANNUCHI'S AMERICAN MUSEUM.—Wax figures of distinguished personages and many objects of interest, at 107 St. Charles street.

MERCHANDISE.—Thompson, Allen & Co., Nos. 21 and 23 Common street, have at present in store, and are daily receiving, large quantities of groceries and miscellaneous articles, among which are enumerated, champagne cider, pickles, sardines, sperm candles, etc.

They have, also, a very choice supply of old wines, brandies, whisky and rum, equal to any in the city. In the catalogue will be noticed the Southside Madeira, Hunt's port, Irish and Monongahela whisky, Hennessey & Sazerac brandy, and the pure, anti-Maine-law, moral, New England rum, as it is manufactured at Medford, Massachusetts.

Their stock contains, in addition to the articles above specified, preserved fruits of all kinds, together with every brand of cigars and tobacco as yet approved by the popular voice. Country merchants and retailers, as well as the heads of families, will do well to call on them.

TOBY'S CITY PACKAGE EXPRESS.—We take pleasure in announcing to the public that Mr. S. Toby has established a city package express, to be conducted on the principle of those so successfully carried on in the Northern and Western cities. Mr. Toby has been brought up in commercial pursuits in this city, and is highly esteemed by the entire community as a young man of industry, energy and stern integrity. The convenience to be derived from a well regulated city express must be apparent to every one engaged in the dry goods, fancy or clothing business, and indeed every branch of commerce will find occasion to make use of it. The plan upon which "Toby's City Package Express" is to be conducted, is so complete and simple as not to admit of a doubt, in our mind, of its entire success. We understand that the express will commence business on the 28th. In the meanwhile, those who desire to enter into arrangements can call on the proprietor at No. 76 Gravier, corner of Camp street.

SAZERAC BRANDY.—Our ministering angel, conscious, most assuredly, of the many cares, troubles and anxieties that attend the production of a daily paper, and aware that, sometimes, the flagging spirits have to be put up by putting spirits down, kindly presented Messrs. W. E. Leverich & Co., No. 24 Old Levee street, to favor us with a bottle of their admirable old Sazerac brandy—branded and bottled A. D. 1795;—an article which, having tasted and tested, we are prepared without hesitancy or mental reservation to pronounce as equal to any that ever flowed between our lips—rich, smooth and generous.

Those who are connoisseurs in such matters and who would follow out the sage injunction of sainted Timothy—"a little for the stomach's sake"—should call at No. 24 Old Levee street and secure a supply for themselves.

CHARTS OF THE SCENE OF WAR.—B. M. Norman, at the St. Charles book store, and at his book store No. 14 Camp street, has a supply of Wells' new Map of the Crimea, Sea of Azoff, Panoramic view of Sebastopol, etc., giving all the points of interest in detail. Those who are interested in keeping themselves posted concerning the great war of the present century, should by all means secure a copy of this valuable work.

WINES.—F. W. Cooler, 110 Common street, has a large and excellent stock of choice wines, carefully selected, which will commend themselves to the consideration of all connoisseurs who give them a trial. They are catalogued in the advertisement.

Letter from the Empire Parish.

PARISH OF PLAQUEMINES, Nov. 23, 1855.

Since the result of the election in this parish is known which, by the by, is glorious to the cause of Americanism, little or nothing worth mentioning has been transacted here in the way of politics. It is true that several of the defeated candidates for our several State and parish offices have, or will contest the elections of their successful opponents, but, as far, the people have taken but very little interest in the subject.

The sugar growers in this section are all engaged in the grinding operations. The yield of the cane is far from being very satisfactory.

Our hunters complain much of the scarcity of game this year, and they will not earn half of what they were used to in former years.

The health of the people is good.

RED FISH.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Will the Delta never cease to misquote Col. Christy, as well as the facts connected with the difficulty which took place at the Seventh Precinct on the 5th instant?

In the issue of Saturday last, it is said under the editorial head: "Now, what are the facts of this case of conscience? Briefly these: Messrs. Christy, Horton and Cooke were Commissioners of Election at the Seventh Precinct. After the votes were counted by the tally clerks but before the returns were made up or certified by the commissioners, the ballot-boxes and the minutes of the election were seized and destroyed; and the commissioners made no return of the result of the voting, as declared by the clerks before the outrage occurred."

The facts are precisely the reverse of what is contained in the above quotation, and as distinctly stated by Col. Christy in his remarks referred to. He declared the statements generally which had appeared in the papers, as well as the assumption of facts to be found in the opinion of Judge Cotton, to be utterly false, and that he would at the proper time prove what he asserted. He then proceeded to give the facts as follows: That there had not been a single ticket counted according to law, and as they would have been counted, at the time of the destruction of the ballot-boxes, etc., except what was called the split tickets, which, as stated by the clerks, amounted to about eighty-two; that no announcement of any kind had been made by the clerks who were adding up the tallies, to himself, or Mr. Horton, or Mr. Cooke, to his knowledge, of the result of the tallies; that in fact, the tallies for several of the candidates, (as stated by the clerks) had not been finished; that the tickets which were headed "American and Democratic," and separated into two piles or boxes, had not been examined to ascertain whether they were straight tickets; that the commissioners could not have made their return until this examination had taken place.

And yet, in the face of, and with a perfect knowledge of those facts, this paper will persist in publishing that the votes were "counted by the tally clerks," which is directly false, for they did not count a vote, and that the commissioners made no return of the result of the voting "as declared by the clerks before the outrage occurred."

The Judge, too, in his decree, orders the commissioners to make "a full, correct and complete return of all the votes polled, counted and known, for the respective candidates at said precinct, in conformity with the thirteenth section of an act," etc.; when he had before him the return of Messrs. Christy and Horton, under oath, in which they declare their utter inability so to do, for reasons fully given, and well known to the public.

After this exposé of the vindictive course pursued by this paper towards these gentlemen, saying nothing of the remaining portion of the article in question, which is too contemptible to be noticed, comment would be useless.

PENSION AGENCY.—Delay, inconvenience and actual suffering is caused to that remnant of noble souls still left among us, who served their country during the Revolution, and now living on the miserable pittance of $7 per month granted by Congress in a fit of extreme liberality, by the neglect of our Government to appoint an agent in the city to pay their claims due semi-annually, on the 4th March and 4th September. Mr. Guyot, the late efficient and obliging agent, resigned his office in September last, since which time we have been without one. I have for years collected the pensions of three of these old patriots residing in Texas, free of charge, from the veneration in which I hold them, and in consideration of their poverty in their old age.) and have their papers, sent me two months ago, for their dues up to 4th September last, but can get them no money. President Pierce is a descendant of one of the heroes of the Revolution, who, on more than one occasion, distinguished himself, and I am surprised that he has not prompted or caused an appointment of a paying agent in our city, that the necessities of the fragment of this band of patriots might be to some extent relieved. We, their descendants, owe them a much greater debt than money can discharge, and certainly the niggardly appropriation of $7 per month is not a tenth part of the money to which they are entitled.

ONE OF THE DESCENDANTS.

NEW DRY GOODS STORE.—The grass that is to grow in the streets of New Orleans has not yet begun to sprout, nor is it like to make any rapid advance—except in the neutral ground of Canal and Rampart streets—so long as J. Levois & Co., on the corner of Bourbon and Canal streets, continue to keep on their shelves so complete an assortment of dry goods as is indicated in their advertisement of this morning. Black and colored silks, embroideries, cloaks, mantillas, French and Irish linens, English cotton and silk hosiery, form but a part of the mass of material they are possessed of and willing to dispose of on the most reasonable terms.

As the goods are of their own importation, merchants and purchasers will have a fine opportunity of purchasing the best and most fashionable fabrics at a less cost than if subjected to the taxation of middle-men. We refer to the advertisement in another column.

SPICED OYSTERS.—We are under the pleasant necessity of "making our manners" to Dan Hickok, proprietor of Hickok's Exchange, for a specimen can of spiced oysters, of home manufacture. The oysters themselves must have had a jolly life in their day and generation, if any judgment can be formed from the character of their remains, as rendered apparent to us by a post-prandial, post-mortem examination. Poor oysters, they have departed to that receptacle from whence there is no resurrection for good oysters, with a gulp that had something strikingly epic in its intonation.

The idea of preserving oysters—embalming them in picklo, for the consolation of country friends—has a philanthropic air about it which heightens the gust of the epicureanism with which they are devoured. We cordially commend both the philanthropy and the oysters, and entertain no doubt that this method of transferring one of the amenities of city life into the country will be highly popular.

HARDWARE.—J. Waterman & Brother, hardware merchants, corner of Common and Magazine streets, have one of the largest establishments of its kind in the South-west, if not in the country, and are prepared to fill all orders that may be submitted to them. Those who are in search of articles coming within the scope of their business will act wisely by calling upon them and examining their stock. We are confident that the prices will be found reasonable, and can assure all that the representations made will invariably agree with the result. See the advertisement.

WRITING AND COPYING INKS.—Merchants and all who have need of ink, and desire to obtain that which flows most readily, gives the clearest color and remains legible the longest time, should examine the assortment of Messrs. D. Felt & Stetson, 54 Camp street and 5 Bank alley. They have all of the best kinds, and sell at prices which will commend them to the judgment of purchasers. The inks are indexed in the advertisement.

MEDICAL TEXT BOOKS.—Physicians and medical students will consult their own interests by referring to the advertisement of Thomas L. White, bookseller and stationer, No. 105 Canal street. He has a full supply of medical text books, treatises, etc., concerning all diseases and their methods of treatment. A few of the more general elementary books are named in the advertisement.

LIGHTNING RODS.—We, who live so near the tropics, with lightning for a frequent lamp, are interested in preventing too brilliant an irradiation at the cost of dwelling-houses, stores and other valuable property. A means of averting the wrath of the heavens—discovered by brave old Ben Franklin—can be found at the store of Brewster, Van Benthuysen & Co., 25 and 27 Front, and 36 and 38 Fulton streets, who have the celebrated salamander lightning conductor, and many other articles worthy of notice. Refer to their advertisement.

CARPETINGS.—A. Brousseau & Co., No. 19 Chartres street, are receiving by daily arrivals from the manufactures, fresh supplies of Brussels, Wilton, tapestry, three-ply, and other carpetings. Their assortment is one of the largest and finest in the country, and those who wish to purchase carpeting or any of its concomitants would do well to call on them.

FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.—Leon Leugrio, lately a member of the Paris Bar, and now Professor of the French Language and Literature in the University of Louisiana, is prepared to give lessons in French at his office, in the University buildings, on the corner of Barone and Common streets. Those wishing to become proficients in that language, will hear the fact in mind.

PIANOS AND PARLOR SEYS.—Our friends of the old auction mart, 87 Camp street, will sell at auction today, at 11 o'clock, a large assortment of rosewood and mahogany furniture, pianos and elegant china sets, vases, etc. See advertisement.

FOR YAZOO RIVER.—The good steamer Core No. 2, in charge of that old and well-known navigator, Capt. D. B. Mosby, is again to part and leave again this evening for the upper waters of Yazoo river, as high as they are navigable. Those having freight and those desirous of passage, are reminded no better chance offers than the Core.

Telegraphed to the Daily Crescent.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADA AT BOSTON.

(BY THE SOUTHERN LINE.)

BOSTON, NOV. 24.—The Canada has arrived at this port from Halifax. We gather from papers and letters brought by her the following additional items.

English stocks closed ¼ penny higher in consequence of the approaching half yearly dividend.

The British Government has prohibited the exportation of saltpetre from the East Indies, except to Liverpool or London, and also issued orders directing all vessels loading in English ports with saltpetre or nitrate of soda, to discharge their cargoes.

The losses by the late gales on the English coast amount to over two and a half millions of dollars.

The Wheeling Bridge Case.

The Supreme Court of Virginia has decided in favor of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway company in the Wheeling Bridge injunction suit.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24th, P. M.—Our cotton market has been quiet to-day, with sales of only 800 bales. Flour is quiet with sales at $9 67 for State, $9 94 for Ohio and $10 for Southern. Wheat is dull—sales of Southern White at $2 27, and Red at $2 19. Corn is higher and sales have been made to-day at $1 07½.

DOLBEAR'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, 106 CANAL STREET.—By reference to advertisement, it will be seen that extensive arrangements are made at this institution for the acquisition of a business education. Besides penmanship and book-keeping, there are departments for the acquisition of the English, French, Spanish and German languages, mathematics, surveying, navigation and phonography.

HATS.—D. C. Johnston, No. 79 Poydras street, has just received a large and complete assortment of hats and caps of the best material and most fashionable manufacture. Gentlemen who wish to procure a serviceable and fashionable article, at the lowest price, will do well to notice Mr. Johnston's advertisement, and give him a call. We are confident they will not find better bargains in the city. See advertisement.

DIED:

Yesterday (Saturday) evening, at 5 o'clock, JACOB FRITZ, aged 32 years, a native of Germany.

I. O. F. F.—The members of Germania Lodge No. 19, I.O.O.F., and the order generally, are requested to meet at their Lodge Room, Jefferson Hall, Fourth District, this Afternoon, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our deceased Brother, JACOB FRITZ, which will take place at 3 o'clock, precisely.

By order, JACOB PAUL, N. G.

The members of Red Fire Company, No. 19, and the Fire Department generally, are requested to join the I. O. O. F. in the performance of the funeral rites.

☞ A REPRIEVE.—We do not refer to a reprieve from a capital punishment. There is a slow torture from which a respite is equally desirable. We refer to dyspepsia—a word in which all the horrors of indigestion are summed up. To the soft, gentle, yet powerful hand of Nature, we can hold out not only bright hopes, but the certainty of incomparable relief and permanent cure. Time is a tonic, cordial, and alterative principle in Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, which invariably corrects and changes the morbid action of the stomach and the secretive organs, removes the cause, and restores to health.
