HOPEFUL TO THE LAST.

The Vicksburg Whig, of the 17th inst., has the following suggestive remarks founded on the Pennsylvania election. We commend the observations of our contemporary to the consideration of our readers:

CONTEST OVERDONE.—After all the preliminary excitation and consequency, Mr. Buchanan does lose his own State, or, if he is succeeded in carrying it, the victory is a Pyrrhic victory, which cannot afford a cheer. The party has poured out millions of money in the desperate effort to carry the Keystone State, and if they have succeeded at all, the majority is so small that their victory is equivalent to defeat. We repeat that Mr. Buchanan is overboard.

But, if he should be, he is not the first, if not defeated, he will not be the million to be. He [illegible] Pennsylvania, the fire-eaters, [illegible] Mr. Buchanan is overboard. Pennsylvania, [illegible] Mr. Buchanan is overboard.

TELEGRAPHED TO THE CRESCENT

LATER FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP TEXAS.

BY THE NATIONAL AND SOUTHERN LINES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The Texas, from San Juan del Norte, has arrived. She brought $150,000 in specie.

Walker's troops are concentrating at Granada. The invaders are advancing. A decisive battle was expected near the 20th inst. The enemy numbers about 2,000 men and are daily expecting more.

Walker had eight or nine hundred, but is reinforcing. The attack on San Juan was more important than previously reported. The Americans had 12 killed, including Colonels Cole, Hunt, Reed and Hutchins, and 10 wounded. The enemy's loss was very severe.

Walker has dispatched Maj. Heiss to exchange ratifications of the treaty with the United States, which was confirmed by the Senate.

Lieut. Estelle was shot for the murder of Lieut. Gordon.

Loss of the Brig Stephen Jay.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Brig Stephen Jay, of Philadelphia, for Charleston with coal and railroad iron, foundered on the 7th of Cape Hatteras.

The captain, his wife and child, and crew, have arrived here.

Pennsylvania Election.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—All parties now concede that the Democratic majority is about 3,000. Many townships are not officially returned, yet these figures will be varied but slightly.

Private letters say that the Unionists have determined to contest several precincts of Philadelphia.

Ohio Election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The Republican plurality will reach about 20,000. The increase in the American vote over last October is large.
