jn19 tf CHAS. JENKINS, O. S.

The Poetry of Physic—Doses have al-ways been associated in one mind with very bitter, and medicine has ranged from the days of childhood, through life, by nature and custom, its remedies were the worst part of sickness. We expect our doses to taste so bad as to deter us from taking the medicine, and we are surprised in a manner for its relief. Dr. Ayer's preparations form a marked exception. His Cherry Pectoral is like honey on the tongue, and it will be long before the sufferer from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, or Sore Throat, will find a medicine so sweet, so pleasant to the taste, and giving such immediate relief. Dr. Ayer's
