LIBERAL MEDITATIONS.

People in general think that, judging thoughts from actions, the meditations of the Liberal leaders at present are about as follows:

That perhaps it was mistaken policy to snub and then slander the workingmen.

That perhaps it would have been better to give Salt Lake work to Salt Lake workmen.

That the doubling and trebling of all city expenses, without improving the city service, was possibly a mistake.

That permitting a few politicians and registrars to ride about on the back of the party as if the latter were a docile jackass, was probably an "error of judgment."

That the open bribe to corruption the ring made by placing registrars on the ticket, was possibly objectionable to conscientious Liberals and might lose votes; consequently, a mistake also.

That squandering the large surplus in the city treasury, and thus delaying the erection of the city and county building, was also "bad judgment."

That failing to inaugurate a single reform in city affairs, except in the small matter of street sprinkling, and even that at an immense expense, was possibly short-sighted politics.

That keeping men in the council in positions to which they were never elected, and thus keeping out men whose ability would have "held the council level" was, after all, a foolish act.

That running trains to P. V. and elsewhere for registering and bringing in "qualified voters" was not so smart as it then seemed.

That paying $10,000 to POWERS, and unknown amounts to the other "workers," and footing bills aggregating $50,000 for red fires and torchlights, all for the pleasure of having city affairs mismanaged and taxes doubled, was not a mistake, but a blunder.

That insulting old workers in the cause, and antagonizing the workingmen, since it must sooner or later defeat the old party altogether, was the greatest mistake of all.

That Monday night may show a Liberal defeat by the workingmen, and then good bye to the spoils the ring had hoped to capture.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY-GENERAL TYNER thinks TOLSTOI's "Kreutzer Sonata" indecent and hence orders its exclusion from the mails. The book may be indecent, but it isn't so indecent as the haste of REED and the Republican party in enacting important legislation without consideration or debate.

IN THE Forum for August Dr. BROWN-SEQUARD discusses the question, "Have we two brains or one?" We dislike to say it, doctor, but after a careful study of your elixir of life theory, we are convinced you haven't any at all.

WORKINGMEN'S OPPORTUNITY.

The workidgmen in this county will be wise if they stand together in this election, and they will be very unwise if they do not stand together. We do not know that the workingmen—by this we mean the men who labor with their hands for day wages—are in the majority as voters. It is claimed by some that this element outnumbers all others combined; we question the claim, though admitting the possibility of its correctness. But nobody will doubt that the workingmen hold the balance of power. They can dictate to any and all parties now existing or which may come up. They can control the politics of this county from next Monday until the end of time. They can control the city and county governments, naming a majority if not all the officials. They can overcome and defeat any combination that can be formed against them.

But in order to do these things, in order to wield an influence in politics and have a voice in the government they must stand together as a party, and if they are not powerful enough to carry their point in spite of opposition, they must fetch others to terms by a union of forces. To amount to anything the workingmen must be united. They cannot divide, some going with one party, some going with another and others acting independently. By such a course they wil never win, but always lose; they will never gain a point, never get an office, never become a force or factor in politics commanding fear or even respect. They will always be used by shrewder politicians, as the monkey used the cat for drawing the chestnuts from the ashes. Suppose the workingmen shall divide next Monday, a considerable number of them voting the Liberal ticket, and thus defeating the Independent Workingmen's ticket. We don't think the laboring men are going to seperate and waste their strength, but if they should and defeat were to follow, what kind of a figure would the Workingmen cut in local politics in future? How much power would they wield in political contests? What party would fear them? What party would treat with them as a separate and distinct organization? Would they not be the but of Liberals, jeered at and insulted? Would they not be discouraged against ever again coming to the front and demanding their rights as citizens to a fair share of the offices and an equitable voice in the direction of public affairs?

THE HERALD tells the workingmen that they have the power, if they will stick together, but they are weak indeed, forceless and valueless if they split up and take sides against each other. This is their opportunity and they will be lacking in ordinary political wisdom if they do not take advantage of the favorable situation to firmly establish themselves as the controlling political organization of Salt Lake county. If they fail now future efforts will count for little, for the party will have a record back of it which will invite others to deny it the consideration which present success will forever command. THE HERALD confidently expects the workingmen will be true to themselves on this occasion faithfully supporting the ticket they have made, and establishing themselves as a party which will command respect and consideration by reason of the power which it has displayed.

A TABOOED BOOK.

Assistant Attorney-General TYNER, of the postoffice department, has decided that a certain popular novel by Count TOLSTOI, recently issued in this country "is of an indecent character, hence it is forbidden circulation in the mails." General TYNER is undoubtedly correct in his estimate of the story, which is rather more indecent and immoral in its tone than the average of TOLSTOI's productions; but the novel is no worse than many of the stories of recent years which have made their authors, male and female, famous and rich. If all these realistic writings had been excluded from the mails it would have been proper to keep out TOLSTOI's; or if the intention is turn over a new leaf and keep the unclean writings out of the mails it will be well enough to make a beginning with this one; but it will be wrong to jump afoul of the Russian novelist and let the weaker and equally nasty writers in our own and other countries employ the mails for distributing their vile trash among the people. So far as this particular book is concerned the action of the postal authorities in rejecting it will put much money into the pockets of the publishers. Thousands who would not otherwise have heard of the story will now have their curiosity excited to such a degree that they will put forth efforts to procure the volume just to learn how bad it is. We recall that a few years ago the moralists took a stand against a certain book written by a woman and demanded that it be kept out of the mails; the postal people did not think it quite came up to the standard of indecency which the law had erected, and the volume was not decreed against, but the discussion which was aroused made the book one of the best selling works of the year, the author obtaining fame and money and the publisher reaping a handsome cash harvest.

INTIMIDATION AND BRIBERY.

It is rumored that efforts are being made to bulldoze the workingmen into voting the Liberal ticket. It has been said that some frantic Liberal contractors are letting it be known that they will discharge those of their employees who vote the Independent Workingmen's ticket. It has been reported that a contractor who is erecting a large building in this city, when he heard one of his carpenters addressing a workingmen's meeting the other evening, declared that the man could not work for him after Monday.

THE HERALD suggests to the contractors and employers generally that they are treading on very dangerous ground in this business. Intimidation of an elector happens to be a misdemeanor in this country. Section thirty of the election law reads as follows:

Any person who shall offer any bribe, threat or intimidation to any elector for the purpose of influencing his vote, or shall examine any ballot offered or cast at the polls, or found in any ballot box, for any other purpose than to ascertain what candidate has been elected, or who votes more than once at any one election or knowingly offers to vote two or more ballots, or in any manner changes any ballot after the same has been deposited in the ballot box, or adds, or attempts to add, any ballot to those legally polled, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Workingmen should bear in mind that the ballot is free and secret, and also that the man who undertakes to intimidate them by a threat to discharge from employment or in any other way lays himself liable to fine and imprisonment. If any such threat shall be made the workingman should at once report the matter to his committee that the guilty party may be made known and brought to punishment.

There is another section (29) of the statute which we will publish as a warning to repeaters and to fellows from Pratt's siding and P. V. Junction who may be offered money or railroad passes if they will come here and vote.

Any person who shall give, or promise, or, offer to give to an elector, any money, reward, or other valuable consideration for his vote at an election, or for withholding the same, or who shall give, or promise to give such considerations to any other person or party, for such elector's vote, or for the withholding thereof, or any elector who shall receive or agree to receive, for himself, or for another any money, reward or other valuable consideration for his vote at an election, or for withholding the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall also forfeit the right to vote at such election.

If electors will do their duty in reporting the names of the intimidators the bulldozers and bribe-givers, there will be some fun.

TO WORKINGMEN.

Were you, or were you not bribed by "Mormon gold"? The Tribune says you were; we say you were not. You can answer best at the polls.

Are you, or are you not "paid spies"? The Tribune says you are. Will you vote for the Tribune ring?

Have your leaders ever done an "honest day's work in their lives"? The Tribune says they have not, and asks you to desert them.

Have you a right to vote for whom you please? The Tribune brands you as rogues and impostors for doing so.

Do you deserve blackguarding and ribaldry for nominating men for office? The Tribune thinks you do, and applies it to you.

If you are not permitted now to assert your independence of any vicious rule, carpet-bag or otherwise, will you ever be permitted to do so? The Liberal leaders hold that you must support them in everything and do as you are told to do by the Tribune.

The Tribune tells you the men whom you have nominated will employ none but Mormons to work for them, or to work for the county if they are elected. Just inquire of each man you have nominated, or of his neighbors, and you will discover, if you do not already know it, that each of them has hired workingmen in the past without regard to party, and will do so in the future.

Do you know how many Mormons are employed by the Tribune? Just inquire of any compositor at that office, and you will learn something that may astonish you.

The Tribune tells you that Mormons never give employment to Gentiles. Just inquire of the foreman of THE HERALD composing room, and you will have your eyes opened to the infamy and hypocrisy of the Tribune's charge.

The Tribune makes more ado about Gentiles hiring Mormons and then Mormons refusing to hire Gentiles than about all the other issues of the campaign put together. To bring the matter to a test just compare the number of Mormons employed by the Tribune with the number of non-Mormons employed by THE HERALD. You will find in this as in most other cases that where the Tribune has ever given employment to one Mormon, THE HERALD has given employment to ten non-Mormons.

Compare the number of Mormons hired by GEORGE M. SCOTT with the number of non-Mormons hired by FRANCIS ARMSTRONG.

Compare the number of Mormons employed in the fire department to-day with the number of non-Mormons employed under the People's management. Make the same comparison with the men employed on the waterworks, the sewer trenches, or the sprinkling wagons.

In nearly every case you will find that the People's party has been more generous to its opponents than the Liberal party has in the ratio of two to one, and in most cases ten to one.

Pay no attention to the Tribune's threat that Gentile contractors will not hire you unless you vote the Liberal ticket. The Tribune is not running the contractors; they will hire you or discharge you according to the work you do, and not according to the ticket you vote.

Finally, remember that it is your own business, and no one else need know what ticket you vote. We have a secret ballot in Utah.

Exercise your manhood and use your own judgment. Elect the Liberal ticket if it is your choice, and THE HERALD will have nothing to abuse you for. Elect the Workingmen's ticket if it is your choice, and bid defiance to the men who are defaming your leaders for daring to think and speak in your behalf.

Be men.

WHO ARE POLYGAMISTS.

In Friday's HERALD were published extracts from the decision of the United States supreme court in the case of MURPHY and others against the Utah commission, defining who were polygamists within the meaning of the election law. That opinion was handed down in April, 1885, and on the 21st of the month the commission issued a circular of instructions for the guidance of the registration officers. Pamphlet 2 of the circular read as follows:

The disfranchisement operates upon the existing state and condition of the person, and not upon a past offense. It is, therefore, not retrospective. He alone is deprived of his vote, who, when he offers to register, is then in the state and condition of a bigamist or polygamist, or is then actually cohabiting with more than one woman. But a bigamist or polygamist is such a person as is described in paragraph two above.

Paragraph 2, referred to above, was as follows:

—A bigamist (or polygamist) in the sense of the 8th section of the EDMUNDS law is a man who has entered into the state of plural marriage at any time in the past and still maintains that relation—it not having been dissolved by death, divorce, or "other effective manner"—and he is still a polygamist even "though he restricts his cohabitation to but one woman."

It may be as well to state that while registrars have lately departed from these instructions, the circular is in force to-day as fully as the day of its issuance. A good many men's names have been irregularly stricken from the list, on the ground that the men were polygamists, whereas they did not come within that class as defined by the law and by the paragraphs above quoted. Parties whose names have been illegally erased should at once apply to have them restored.

PEACE ON EARTH

Awaits that countless army of martyrs, whose ranks are constontly recruited from the victims of nervousness and nervous diseases. The price of the boon is a systematic course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest and most genial of tonic nervines, pursued with reasonable persistence. Easier, pleasanter and safer this than to swash the victualling department with pseudo-tonics, alcoholic or the reverse, beef extracts, nerve foods, narcotics, sedatives and poisons in disguise. "Tired Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," is the providential recuperant of weak nerves, and this glorious franchise being usually the consequences of sound digestion and increased vigor, the great stomachic which insures both is productive also of repose at the required time. Not unrefreshed awakens the individual who uses it, but vigorous, clear-headed and tranquil. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney troubles, constipation and biliousness.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup For Whooping Cough.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Proposals will be received at the office of Louis Hyams, city recorder of the city of Salt Lake, Utah territory, up to 12 o'clock m. Monday, the 11th day of August, 1890. Said proposals are for the furnishing of all material and labor for the erection of a joint city and county building in Salt Lake city. Said proposals to be for the entire building complete, or for separate parts thereof—(stone and brickwork, cast iron columns, steel beams, etc., hollow tile, fireproofing, plumbing, plastering, encoustic floor tiling and mosaic floor tiling, and cement work)—all to be in accordance with plans and specifications on file in the office of the architect, C. E. Apponyi, No. 141 Second East street, Salt Lake city, Utah. All bids to be accompanied by a certified check for 2½ per cent. of amount of bid. Said check to be made payable to George M. Scott, mayor of Salt Lake city, and if the successful bidder to whom the contract is awarded shall fail to enter into a contract within ten days after said award is made to him, and fail to furnish a good and sufficient bond in the sum of 15 per cent. of his bid, the said check is to be forfeited to the city and county of Salt Lake, otherwise to be returned. The city and county committee reserve the right to reject any and all bids. LOUIS HYAMS, City Recorder.

SCALY SKIN DISEASES.

Psoriasis 5 Years, Covering Face, Head, and Entire Body with White Scab, Skin Red, Itchy, and Bleeding. Hair all Gone. Spent Hundreds of Dollars. Pronounced Incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, and after using two bottles Cuticura Resolvent, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and one box of Cuticura Soap, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the Cuticura Remedies cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the Cuticura Remedies. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of others who have received great benefit from their use.
