TIMOTHY TITCOMB'S
NEW BOOK
Will be published on the 25th of October.
GOLD-FOIL
HAMMERED FROM POPULAR PROVERBS.
By TIMOTHY TITCOMB.
1 vol. 12mo., 369 pages. $1; in Gilt, $1 50.

In this book, the author has taken the nuggets of pure gold from the proverbs of the people—the truths verified by human experience—and hammered them into foil, revealing the extent of their truthfulness and value, and adapting them to the purposes of the life of the present age. It is, in fact, a volume FOR the People, by one OF the People, the People themselves furnishing the texts. The author betrays in this, as in all his preceding works a rare knowledge of human nature, a thorough apprehension of the wants of the every day life of the world, a genuine sympathy with the struggles, doubts and trials of the Christian life, and a faith in humanity that is alike inspiring to him and his reader. The book should find entrance and welcome into every household in the country.

Also, Same Day:
20th Edition TIMOTHY TITCOMB'S LETTERS. 1 vol. $1
14th Edition BITTER-SWEET. By same Author. 1 vol. 75c

FASHIONS FOR NOVEMBER.
With Two Illustrations by VOIGT.

The present Number closes the Nineteenth Volume of HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE. In the Introductory Notice prefixed to the first Number, the Publishers announced their intention to present a periodical "which no one who had the slightest relish for miscellaneous reading, or the slightest wish to keep himself informed of the progress and results of the literary genius of his own age, would willingly be without. And they intend to publish it at so low a rate, and to give it a value so much beyond its price, that it shall make its way into the hands of the family circle of every intelligent citizen of the United States."

How far they have succeeded in carrying out their design the 114 Numbers of the Magazine already published will show. Each of these contains as much matter as an ordinary octavo of 400 pages, costing, if illustrated in the style of the Magazine, at least three dollars. The Nineteen Volumes of the Magazine are thus equivalent to a library of more than a Hundred Volumes, comprising the best productions of the foremost Novelists, Historians, Essayists, and Poets of the day.

Without entering into a comparison with other American periodicals, the Publishers may be permitted to say that HARPER'S MAGAZINE contains 75 per cent more matter than Blackwood's, Fraser's, or the Dublin University Magazine. While giving place to many of the best productions of European Novelists and Essayists, HARPER'S MAGAZINE regularly furnishes a larger amount of original matter than is contained in any other similar periodical, whether European or American. It has published articles from more than Two Hundred American writers, residing in every section, and in almost every State of the Union. By thus welcoming contributors from every part of the country, the Publishers have effectually prevented the Magazine from assuming a sectional character, or becoming the organ of any "motus admiratio," clique or party.

As an Illustrated Magazine, HARPER'S is wholly without a rival. The volumes already published have contained more than Six Thousand Engravings, most of them executed in the highest style of the art, from Original Drawings by DOYLE, PARSONS, HITCHCOCK, FREDERICKS, WALLIS, THWAITES, HOPPIN, GIFFIN, LOSSING, VOIGHT, BELLEW, MCLENAN, STROTHER, HOOPER, DALLAS, and other Artists. For these the Magazine has paid not less than One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Dollars. The cost of its literary contributions has considerably exceeded this amount. HARPER'S MAGAZINE has, therefore, in less than ten years, paid more than a Quarter of a Million of Dollars to American Authors and Artists.

The Publishers gratefully acknowledge that this large outlay has been remunerative beyond their most sanguine expectations. They hoped from the first that the Magazine would "make its way into the hands or the family circle of every intelligent citizen of the United States," but the number of these readers has proved far greater than they anticipated. They believe that the circulation of the Magazine will continue to increase with the growth and population of the country. For the spirit and manner in which it will hereafter be conducted, they can offer no better guaranty than the contents of the Volumes already issued.

SCIENCE OF EDUCATION, AND ART OF TEACHING.
BY JOHN OGDEN, A. M.

A very elaborate, philosophical and thorough work on a great subject, too much overlooked by thinking men. * * * Must be immensely valuable to every parent and teacher.—[N. Y. Observer, Sept. 22.

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

contains, in a single volume, a great deal of valuable material. The whole subject of human culture is laid before the reader, and treated in simple yet comprehensive language. * * * Parents and teachers should be induced to study this excellent work.—[Mass. Teacher, Sept.

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

Has many features, both novel and ingenious, which entitle it to consideration as an original work.—[New-York Century.

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

Enters very fully and closely into the Philosophy of teaching.—[Philade phia Press.

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

Is just the handbook for teachers who intend to be thorough and foremost in their profession. Intelligent parents would find it an interesting and valuable aid in the hours when they "ponder in their hearts" how to bring up children.—[Toronto (C. W.) Colonist.

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

Is a very full and systematic work on the general subject of education, full of suggestive thoughts tersely expressed. They deserve and demand proper consideration, seasoned by that confidence in their author which his evident carefulness and experience beget.—[Rhode Island Schoolmaster (October).

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

Is a sound, judicious and original work. It does not deal in commonly-received notions, but really enters into the profound theories upon which it treats with great strength of bought, keen insight perception, and practical skill.—[Zion's Herald, Boston (Methodist).

OGDEN ON EDUCATION.

The ideas are clearly, forcibly, and often eloquently presented, and the high importance of careful moral culture is ever kept in view.—[N. Y. Evangelist.

Rarely have we seen a book calculated to do more real and permanent good.—[Louisville Courier.

OGDEN ON EDUCATION

Is by far the best work with which I am acquainted.—[Cyrus Knowlton, Principal Hughes High School, Cincinnati.

It should find a place in the library of every family as the most valuable contribution yet made in our language for the advancement of education.—[A. J. Rickoff, late Superintendent of the Cincinnati Public Schools.

A WELCOME BOOK.
CATHARINE.
By the author of "Agnes and the Little Key."

Says The Boston Congregationalist:

"This is not a memoir, so much as a series of sweet meditative records suggested by pensive in the closing life, the parting, and the subsequent absence from the body and presence with the Lord, of a tenderly beloved and very lovely daughter. It is impregnated with scriptural allusion, and breathes the savor of the Gospel from every page, as that which has long been shut up with perfume in a box, exhales that borrowed perfume on every air. It is fitly dedicated to the young ladies of its author's congregation, and to every father having a daughter in Heaven. Such fathers can hardly read it without swimming eyes. God grant that its author's purpose and prayer may find accomplishment in winning such fathers to the life that is hid with Christ in God."

"Catharine" has just been republished in England with the same success as "Agnes."

Fine cloth in the publishers' well known style, 75 cents; antique, $1; gilt, $1 25. Also in calf and half calf.

PUBLISHERS' NOTICE.

In assuming the republication of the "Atlantic Monthly," Messrs. Ticknor & Fields would say to its readers that the Magazine will be conducted upon the same general plan as heretofore. It will be their aim that, under its new management, the Magazine shall not fall short of its present high standard of excellence; and they would bespeak a continuance of the liberal patronage which has hitherto been accorded to it, and which is the best proof of the public appreciation of its merits.

All communications upon the business of the Magazine should, in future, be addressed to TICKNOR & FIELDS.

THE NEW LIFE OF HUMBOLDT.—
[Humboldt, the Scholar.]

Humboldt spent over twenty years of his life in Paris, working up the results of his famous journey to the New World. He produced a multitude of books during this time, many of which are of the highest importance to science. A comprehensive account of these, with extracts from the most important, may be found in the chapter entitled "Books;" nowhere else can even a list of these works be obtained.

A SEQUEL to "L'AMOUR."
IN PRESS:
THE MORAL HISTORY OF WOMEN.
BY ERNEST LEGOUVE, OF THE FRENCH ACADEMY, LECTURER IN THE COLLEGE OF FRANCE; AUTHOR OF "ADRIENNE LECOUVREUR," ETC.
Translated from the Third Paris Edition, by Dr. J. W. PALMER, translator of MICHLET'S "L'AMOUR."

This book presents the legal and historical aspects of the subject, as "L'Amour" does the sentimental and medical, and abounds in curious illustration. The two remarkable works have an interest in common, which renders either incomplete without the other.

The first edition of the above work will be very large, and booksellers wishing quantities, with editorial copies, should at once address RUDD & CARLETON, Publishers,
New-York City.

THE NEW LIFE OF HUMBOLDT.
[Bayard Taylor's Introduction.]

The popular young traveler has never written anything more charming than this introduction; the best critics consider it the finest thing that he has done. Sympathizing in all his tastes with the great Humboldt, he writes of him with affectionate reverence. His account of his interview with him is the most life-like piece of biographical writing since Boswell's Johnson.

"In the matter of illustration we know of few writers so direct and practical as Mr. Kingsley. He has the felicity in this respect of Henry Ward Beecher."—[New-York Century.

THE NEW LIFE OF HUMBOLDT.
[Up the Orinoco.]

The most picturesque portion of the Biography is the chapter "UP THE ORINOCO." It is the noblest specimen of word-painting in any language—a marvellous gallery of Tropic land-scapes, primeval forests, gorgeous with flowers and fruit; majestic rivers buried in the embraces of nature; summer skies steeped in golden sunshine, or glowing with the soft light of Southern constellations—it is a perfect poem.

"Work—work—work,
Till the brain begins to swim;
Work—work—work
Till the eyes are heavy and dim!
Seam, and gusset and band,
Band, and gusset, and seam,
Till over the buttons I fall asleep,
And sew them on in a dream."
