New Orleans Daily Crescent.

[illegible] MORNING, DECEMBER 4, 1857.

BY NIXON & ADAMS.

OFFICE, No. 82 CAMP STREET.

A COOL ASSUMPTION.

The following, from the New York Herald of the 26th ult., will probably strike our readers as it did us—as being the coolest specimen of downright, unblushing impudence extant:

THE GIBRALTAR OF THE COMMERCIAL WORLD.—The New York banks, with their twenty-five millions of specie, occupy the position of the Gibraltar of the commercial world. The banks of England, France and the Continental States have, in a measure, suspended specie payments, or taken steps which are equivalent to it, in order to save their nations governments, and equally rotten systems of finance, from going by the board. The banks of New York are now the very sound financial institutions in the world. Orginl set our banks at once to resume specie payments, so as to make New York the great central point of foreign exchanges! We have cotton, corn and coin in abundance to make corn the leading commercial metropolis and the leading commercial country of the world. There are other circumstances which may contribute to give us this position.

New York the "Gibraltar of the commercial world!" Well, that is rich and racy. It is funnily false and uniquely impudent. There is about as much truth in the assumption as there would be attractiveness or sense in the play of Richard the Third, with the part of Richard omitted. New York, with fifty-seven suspended banks; New York, with her hundreds and thousands of bankrupt merchants, importers, traders and stock jobbers; New York, with her scores of thousands of starving workmen; New York, with her rotten bankruptcies permeating and injuring almost every solvent community in the Union; New York, the center of reckless speculation, unblenching fraud, and downright robbery; New York, the prime cause of four-fifths of the insolvencies of the country; New York, carrying on an enormous trade with capital mostly furnished by other communities—"The Gibraltar of the commercial world!"

If New York was the "Gibraltar," as aforesaid, the "commercial world" would soon be compelled to bow in abject submission to the conqueror bankruptcy—would, in fact, be right speedily obliterated from existence—and the necessity for the construction of a new "world" would become not only imminent but indispensable.

The New York Herald vaunt lingly refers to the alleged fact that the fifty-seven suspended banks of that city have $25,000,000 specie in their vaults. It has been more than hinted that a very considerable proportion of this specie belongs to special depositers, and not to the banks themselves. But, assuming that it does really belong to the banks, how do they stand in strength when compared with the specie paying banks of New Orleans? A comparison of facts makes the boastings of the Herald as valueless as the idle wind. According to the statement of last Saturday, the specie in nine of the banks of New Orleans—the other two having not yet commenced business—amounted to nearly eight millions of dollars. Now, to make the banks of New York relatively as strong, so far as coin is concerned, as the banks of New Orleans, and proceeding on the Herald's proposition or rather boast, the banks of the former city should have, instead of twenty-five millions, something like fifty millions current coin in their vaults! Thus is expluded one of the principal assertions of the vain-glorious boaster of the "Gibraltar of the commercial world."

The reference to the banking institutions of England, France and the other States of Europe, is on a par with the rest—just about as devoid of fact. But, for a self-constituted champion of suspended banks—banks that toppled over at the very beginning of the commercial crash—banks that were so weak that they could'nt meet a run of forty-eight hours' duration—to stigmatize other financial systems as rotten is the very heights of impertinence.

But, continues the Herald, pursuing untruth with a perseverance that would be admirable in a truthful cause: "The Banks of New York are now the only sound financial institutions in the world." If suspensions of specie payments—if deranging the currency of a continent—if dragging hundreds of solvent institutions down to their own insolvent level—and if giving forth no earnest of an early resumption of debt-paying to the public—make the New York Banks "the only sound financial institutions in the world"—then they are indubitably sound, sound as a drum, a hollow log, or a questionable saddle of mutton.

The Banks of Mobile never suspended specie payments on any of their liabilities. Does the editor of the Herald consider them sound? Evidently not, for he asserts that the suspended banks of New York, are the "only sound financial institutions" which exist anywhere. But three of the nine banks of New Orleans suspended temporarily, and all are now paying specie, and occupy positions that are impregnable, yet if the proposition of the Herald be well founded, they are not as "sound" as the banks of New York because they have not repudiated their obligations to the public and their customers, and suspended! If they would only suspend, perchance some portion of the respectability exclusively enjoyed by the "sound financial institutions" of Gotham might fall to their share.

With one recommendation of the Herald we cordially agree, and hope it may be carried out at an early day, viz: that the Banks of New York "at once resume specie payments." If they, and the Western banks would only resume, the Banks of New Orleans would be enabled to afford that ample relief to the commercial community it so deeply requires. But until they do, any great expansion on the part of our institutions is out of the question.

The products from which the Herald is going to make New York "the leading commercial metropolis" of the world do not happen to be raised in its section of the country. Its premises being wrong, its conclusions must also be wrong. "We have the cotton, corn and coin in abundance," quoth the Herald. Not so. You haven't any cotton at all. All the cotton is raised in slave States, and without cotton your "commercial" fabric would quickly fall to pieces. Perhaps you'll lose the cotton sooner than you imagine. As for corn, according to the last census, the slave States raised three or four millions of bushels more than the free States; and nine-tenths of the coin comes from California. So it appears that the three great products by means of which New York is to be transformed into "the leading commercial metropolis" of the world, are not indigenous to its portion of the confederacy, and the two most important of them—cotton and coin—are liable to be turned into other channels any year. Should a disruption ensue, the cotton of the South will not be employed to build up the mercantile greatness of New York as it now is; and all far-seeing men admit that the probabilities are ten to one that California will set up for herself within a decade, and if she does, she will certainly take care of her own native coin, and build herself up by the use of it—not New York.

Yesterday was another beautiful day, such a one as New York was never favored with in the month of December, though their banks may hold $25,000,000 of coin and not pay their debts. Every thing was lively on our great thoroughfares. The great levee was full of life, bustle and activity. The arrivals of boats from the West and coast were numerous, all bringing full loads of the products of the teeming and prospering regions bordering on the Mississippi. In fact, if England is not forced into a social political revolution by the panic and crisis, we may look for an early improvement in our trade with that country.

We had no regular mail yesterday. To-day is the regular day of failure, Friday.

PROFESSOR VEGAS' BALL TO-NIGHT.—The goddess Terpsichore will to-night open her court for the season, in her chosen temple, Odd Fellows' Hall, and under the immediate supervision of one of her ablest and most favorite ministers, Professor Vegas. The ball has been all the talk, for some time past, among those females who are permitted to cultivate the graces and among not a few of the children of larger growth, who have not forgotten that they once were children, and can draw equal inspiration from seeing the children dance and dancing themselves. One part of the ball—the first part—is to be appropriated exclusively to the children; and the last part to the adult visitors. The balls of Professor Vegas, last winter, were too largely attended, too well managed, and too generally charming throughout, to require us to offer any prediction as to what the ball of to-night will be, only we are certain that it will be crowded, brilliant, and delightful.

THE AMPHITHEATRE.—Mr. Farrenburg had a benefit worthy of the name last night. The house was densely crowded in every part, and the performances gave the most unalloyed delight. The silver goblet put up for the ladies was drawn by No. 51; the lucky holder of the number—a married lady—receiving the prize amidst the heartiest cheering of the audience.

To-night, another strong attraction is offered, for the benefit of Mr. Miner, the gentlemanly and efficient musical director of the Minstrel troupe. He is by no means unknown here, as the first record we have of him dates back as far as 1832—six years, at least, before the new famous "Saleur Boy, only nineteen years old," was born. His numerous personal friends, we are sure, will be on hand to-night, together with as many of the appreciative patrons of the Amphitheater, who know how ably he has assisted the Gymnasia, as can gain admission. We have not the programme before us, but can state, authoritatively, that it is varied and brilliant, and will delight all who go. We are sure that the Amphitheater will again have its capacity tested.

BALLOON ASCENSION.—M. Morat makes his third grand balloon ascension on Sunday from Congo Square. An Indian foot-race is announced as one of the preliminaries of the occasion.

ORLEANS THEATRE.—Halevy's grand opera, "The Jewess," is to be produced to-morrow night. It is acclaimed gorgeous and musically delicious—one of the operas of which the patrons of the Orleans never tire.

ST. CHARLES THEATRE.—The engagement of Mr. Collins comes with this week, and after him we are to have Mr. and Mrs. Stark. To-night, Mr. Collins appears in his great character of Rory O'More, in the drama of that name, introducing the twelfth section of his great song, "Widow Machree." Afterwards, the nautical drama of "Paul Jones" is to be given, with a powerful cast.—Mr. Farren as Long Tom, Mr. Hamblin as Paul Jones, and Miss Kate Reignolds as Kate Pistoden. The two dramas vary widely in character, and consequently the bill is a good one.

ELECTION CONTEMPLATION IN ST. TAMMANY.—At the recent State election, Mr. Gallatier, Democrat, was returned as elected Sheriff of the parish of St. Tammany, by a majority of seven votes. Mr. Robert M. Lanier, the American candidate for the Sheriffalty, contested the election, on the allegations of illegal voting and fraud on the part of the Commissioners. The case was submitted to a jury on Wednesday, and the result was a verdict for the contestant, under which the election has to be submitted again to the people. The majority of the jury, we learn, were Democrats. We obtain this news from a gentleman who came over the lake yesterday.

QUICK PASSAGE.—We learn by a dispatch received this morning from the S. W. Pass that the packet ship Glad Tidings, Capt. Wilson, eight days from New York, has arrived, which, we think, is the shortest passage ever made between the two ports.

FOR MEMPHIS AND CAIRO.—The Memphis packet line steamer H. R. W. Hill, Capt. Newell, connecting through to St. Louis and Louisville by first class packets from Memphis, and by Illinois Central Railroad from Cairo, leaves at 5 P. M. this day. J. H. Fredigh, agent—office under St. Charles Hotel.

☞ W. C. Jewett sells at 10 o'clock A. M., at No. 78 Camp street, coffee, whiskey, sugar, molasses, etc.

SALE OF BOOTS, SHOES AND BROGANS, WINTER CLOTHING, ETC.—We call the attention of the trade to the sale of seventy-five cases of boots, shoes and brogans, winter clothing, white shirts, etc., to take place this day, at 10 o'clock A. M., at Edache & Longmore's auction room, No. 77 Chartres street. Terms, cash.

Senator Albert G. Brown.

The Richmond (Va.) South of the 23d ult. contains the following notice of the re-election of Senator Brown, of Mississippi:

RE-ELECTION OF SENATOR BROWN.—The re-election of the Hon. A. G. Brown as Senator from Mississippi, is another significant indication of public sentiment in the South. Gov. Brown was an original advocate of Mr. Buchanan's nomination, and is now friendly to the administration. But, for all that, he could not find it in his true Southern heart to approve Walker's usurpations in Kansas. So far the contrary, he declared, during his canvass, that he should insist upon Walker's removal, or else hold the President to a share of responsibility for his misconduct. The Legislature of Mississippi met; a caucus of the Democratic party was held; Gov. Brown got the nomination by an almost unanimous vote, and was re-elected to the Senate without opposition. The Democracy of Virginia are not less united and resolute than their allies in the distant South.

Gov. Brown, previous to the late election, canvassed his State very thoroughly; and in all his speeches, so far as we are informed, took occasion to criticise the conduct of Gov. Walker in no very gentle terms, thereby censuring indirectly the course of the President in retaining him in office. But in order properly to understand Governor Brown's position, it should be borne in mind that he was then canvassing for a re-election, and that he was too astute a politician to take such ground as would array the powerful influence of the administration directly against him. Consequently he weighed his words well before giving them utterance, and although they were far more significant than menacing, they were unquestionably agreeable to a vast majority of the people of Mississippi.

But, we predict Gov. Brown will be found any thing but "friendly to the administration" before the expiration of the present session of Congress. He is too true a Southerner to sanction the Kansas swindle; and unless Mr. Buchanan makes explanations that appear to be impossible, in his annual message, it will not be surprising if both Senators and all the Representatives from Mississippi are found arrayed uncompromisingly against him.

Some "Union-at-any-price" journals, here and elsewhere, have been congratulating themselves over the assumed fact that Mr. Brown was an out-and-out Union man. They did not know what they were talking about. Years ago, in the House of Representatives, Mr. Brown boldly declared that he had "calculated the value of the Union," and intimated very emphatically that it had cost and was costing the South more than it was worth to the South. We have reason to believe his views have not changed, but, on the contrary, the events of the last few years have strengthened them rather than otherwise. So, the "Union-at-any-price" gentlemen, to use a very common but expressive phrase, "counted their chickens before they were hatched."

Ordinance in Relation to Vehicles.

As the winter business season has fully set in, we are pleased to see that the Mayor has determined upon a rigorous enforcement of the ordinances in relation to vehicles. During the summer, or in other extremely dull seasons, the "dray street nuisance" is bearable, but when business surges at its full tide, it is not only unbearable but positively dangerous. We allude, of course, to the practice of drivers pushing their animals too fast, turning corners too suddenly, or keeping their vehicles so close together that pedestrians find it alike difficult and perilous to cross the streets, and frequently are obliged to wait many minutes before they are enabled to do so with safety, which is not until the long trains have passed by.

On the 27th ult., Chief Forno, pursuant to instructions from Mayor Waterman, caused hand-bills to be placarded all over the city, addressed to those immediately interested, and containing copious extracts from the ordinances for their guidance. For the information of our readers and the public, we shall take some extracts from the hand-bill. Here is one:

Any drayman, carter, or other driver of any dray, cart, wagon, tumbril, lumber-cart, wood-cart, brick-cart, or other vehicle whatever, public or private, who shall be guilty of running his horses or mules through the streets of the city, or driving at a faster gait than a walk when loaded, and when not loaded at a greater speed than a slow trot or pace, or shall turn any corner faster than a walk, may be arrested by the police or any citizen, and required to pay a fine of from $10 to $25 for each offense; and in default of payment, the driver shall be imprisoned not less than seven nor more than fourteen days; if a slave, he shall receive ten lashes. The vehicle and animals are required to be arrested with the driver, and the vehicle and animals placed in the city pound.

Here is another:

All drivers of vehicles of whatever kind, or any person on horseback, meeting any other vehicle or person on horseback, are required to take the right side of the street or road, until such carriage or vehicle shall have passed. Penalty, a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25; if a slave, not less than ten nor more than twenty-five lashes.

And here is another:

The police are required to prohibit drays, carts or other vehicles from driving nearer each other than ten feet when passing, loaded or unloaded, through any of the streets of the city, in order that pedestrians may not be obstructed at any of the crossings, at the intersections or elsewhere. Any violation of this regulation will be considered an obstruction of the streets, and punished accordingly.

Referring to this subject, the Picayune of yesterday afternoon has the following remarks, which we heartily sanction and endorse:

We will take this opportunity of repeating what we have already had more than one occasion to say, that if the Mayor and the Chief of Police were provided with the force requisite to carry into effect the ordinances of the city, there would be no need of the reiteration of these "old complaints" by the press and the public.

THE CALHOUN.—The officers of the steamer Gen. Rusk report having met at Pensacola on the 1st inst., the steamship Calhoun, Capt. Rathbun, which sailed hence for Key West on the 20th inst. She was three days behind her time, having been compelled by stormy weather to put into Mobile bay, where she lay at anchor until the weather moderates.

HON. JOHN M. SANDIDGE.—A rumor having prevailed that Hon. John M. Sandidge had probably been lost by the burning of the Rainbow, we are happy to learn from Messrs. John F. Wyche & Co. that they received a telegraphic dispatch from him at Memphis, two or three days ago, announcing his safe arrival at that point with his family.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—The State Capitol, in Montgomery, Ala., was entered one night recently by burglars, who, by boring through the floor, succeeded in gaining admission to the Treasury Department. It is supposed that they were scared away before they had time to do any further mischief, as nothing is missing. The burglars left the augur in the room with which they effected an entrance.

A SENSIBILITY HARDLY SENSIBLE.—The Cincinnati Gazette relates the story of a young lady, aged eighteen, who while on a visit to some friends near Columbus, became so attached to a mocking bird there, that when the bird died, she went mad with grief and attempted to commit suicide by stabbing herself with a pair of scissors.

☞ In Paddock's Book of Plates and Illustrated Counterfeit Detector for 1856, he says: "Hostetter's Bitters are really what their name implies, a tonic and gentle stimulant, calculated to act upon the system as a medicine, and not, as is too often the case, a mere invention under which to indulge in tipping. We would not venture to make this statement, did we not feel sure it would be corroborated by the willing testimony of thousands all over the United States, and especially throughout the Western and Southern parts, where certain disorders prevail which require just such a prescription. We are assured by a gentleman of large experience, who is a 'traveled' man, and whose judgment and impartiality may be relied upon, that Hostetter's Bitters are the sure thing on Fever and Ague, that scourge of our newly settled regions; which, indeed, has within the past year prevailed to an alarming extent in sections generally exempt." These Bitters are sold by all druggists.
