A Charming Summer Retreat.
LAKE MAHOPAC, N. Y., July 24, 1860.

Why should those who are anxious and able to escape from the heated city streets be misled with the idea that a dusty tour to places far away is essential to finding true rural enjoyment? No place has in its suburbs more delightful groupings of rocks, woods, and waters, than New-York. To one who, like the writer, has for some time been conversant with its pleasures, Lake Mahopac seems the most attractive of all near by retreats. To reach it, go only 55 miles from town—a two hours' ride by the Harlem Railroad—to the heart of beautiful Putnam County; stop at the Gregory House, a magnificent building, 230 feet in length, as full of comfort and luxuries as your own city residence; sit within its cool verandahs, and gaze for hours over the silver surface of the lake, flecked with the white sails of boats; then take one of the latter, fish at your leisure, or sail from green island to island, nestling in the waters; ramble in the woods and meadows close by, and drive in the nicest of turnouts through the pleasant roads of the neighborhood; exercise, if you choose, in the spacious billiard and ten-pin saloon just erected; eat at the most bountiful of tables; enjoy all these delights, and you will not begrudge the $2 per diem (which is the highest figure) charged by Dr. Gregory, your courteous entertainer.

All this the writer has done, and hereafter will never be at a loss to answer the universal question, "Where shall I spend my Summer holidays?" A DELIGHTED NEW-YORKER.

Announcement Extra.

MIND AND BODY.

Physiology reveals the intimate connection between the mind and the body, and shows us that without a sound and healthy body the mind cannot properly perform its functions. Having spent fifteen years in feeding the public mind, until apparently an absolute Plethora has come upon it, we now propose to administer for the maladies of the body—"To cure the ills which flesh is heir to." We have issued during our Publishing Life not less than Four Millions of Volumes, several of which have been translated into other Languages, and have found their way to hundreds of thousands of readers in every portion of the habitable globe.

Having been so largely instrumental in disseminating valuable books, which have made an indelible impress for good upon mankind, it is not without a slight feeling of regret that we abandon our calling for another, and we should hesitate in so doing, did we not believe that good can be done in another sphere, and that the body, with its multiform infirmities, needs attending to, (especially in this land of fast livers,) as well as the mind.

A few years since a gentleman of Boston, an invalid, was traveling in search of health, in Peru, the beautiful land of the Incas, the country of mines and minerals. During his stay he spent seven weeks in a convent in the interior; while there he became possessed of the recipe for a medicine which effected his own complete restoration to health. Grateful for the means which had enabled him to live a sound man again, he extended its knowledge as he was able, and in a few years it was so successful as to all the Hospitals and by all the Medical Men of Peru. The effect of the Medicine was so wonderful that he entered into correspondence with parties in this country, who took it up earnestly, and have labored unceasingly for its introduction, until

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP; OR,
PROTECTED SOLUTION

has come to be considered almost a necessity in every family. Its success is extraordinary, proving its great excellence. Notwithstanding its present popularity, it is destined yet to take a higher rank than any curative ever offered to the American People. Its elements are safe and simple, and disintegrated, have been known and recommended by physicians for centuries, but, previous to this discovery, could never be properly combined, so as to be held in solution.

We purpose to devote the next ten years to a thorough and systematic dissemination of this invaluable preparation, until shall be reached and benefited. If our language seems extravagant, we beg the incredulous or the doubting to send for a pamphlet of testimonials from some of the most distinguished men of Peru and this country, who have tested its value, and speak from experience. JOHN P. JEWETT & Co.

The Hydropult,

An invention for throwing water by hand-power, patented by W. T. VOSE. It is one of the most valuable inventions of the day.

THE HYDROPULT

will, by the power of one man, throw water at the rate of eight gallons per minute fifty feet high, with great force. It is the best article ever invented for EXTINGUISHING A FIRE,
PROTECTING A ROOF FROM TAKING FIRE,
WASHING WINDOWS,
SPRINKLING PLANTS,
WATERING GARDENS,
CLEANSING TREES FROM INSECTS,
WETTING SIDEWALKS,
SPRINKLING STREETS,
WASHING CARRIAGES, &c., &c.

This article should be owned by every householder. It does away with the necessity of a hydrant. It is a light portable FORCE-PUMP, always ready, easily used, and will come in frequent use by every farmer, merchant, and mechanic in the community. Please call and examine the article at No. 41 Park-row, Times Building, or address the

A POLITICAL TEXT-BOOK FOR 1860,
1 Vol. Cloth.
Compiled by HORACE GREELEY and JOHN F. CLEVELAND, is now in press and will be issued on 1st August. It is intended to embody every important proposition, vote, document or passage, calculated to shed light on the pending Presidential struggle, and to be specially useful as a book of reference to all speakers, writers and others actively engaged in the canvass. Among its contents are the following:
A SKETCH OF ALL THE NATIONAL NOMINATING CONVENTIONS held in the United States since the first, in 1831, including the Party Platform adopted by each Convention.
A HISTORY OF THE STRUGGLE FOR SLAVERY EXTENSION, OR RESTRICTION IN THE UNITED STATES from the Declaration of Independence to the Exclusion of Kansas from the Union in 1860, mainly from the Journals of Congress, and showing the vote by Yeas and Nays on the most important divisions of either House.
A HISTORY OF CONGRESSIONAL ACTION ON THE QUESTION OF GRANTING FREE HOMESTEADS TO ACTUAL SETTLERS ON THE PUBLIC LANDS, with the Yeas and Nays on all important questions.
THE MONROE DOCTRINE.—Extracts from President Monroe's Message of 1823, in regard to the rights of Foreign Governments on this Continent.
POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY.—Mr. Douglas's Essay (originally published in Harper's Magazine) on the Dividing Line between Federal and Local Authority.
THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.—Mr. Seward's Speech delivered at Rochester in 1858.
MUDSILLS.—Extract from Senator Hammond's Speech, in which he describes Northern Mechanics as the Mudsills of Society.
THE RESOLUTIONS recently passed by U. S. Senate on the powers and duties of Congress in regard to Slavery in the Territories.
A PROPOSED SEDITION LAW.—Extracts from Mr. Douglas's Speech in favor of a law to punish Seditious Publications.
POPULAR OR SQUATTER SOVEREIGNTY.—Extracts from Senator Benjamin's Speech against Squatter Sovereignty and in review of Mr. Douglas's theories on the subject of Slavery in the Territories—also Mr. Breckinridge's speech at Frankfort, Ky., on the powers and duties of Congress in regard to the Territories.
PRINCIPLES OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.—Abraham Lincoln's Speech at Springfield, Ill., June 17, 1858, on receiving the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator.
"UNFRIENDLY LEGISLATION."—Questions and answers; Mr. Douglas's questions to Mr. Lincoln on Slavery, and Mr. Lincoln replies. Also, Mr. Lincoln's questions to Douglas, with Douglas's replies.
LETTERS OF DISTINGUISHED STATESMEN.—Gen. Cass's letter to C. A. P. Nicholson of Tennessee, in which he enunciates the theory of Squatter Sovereignty. Martin Van Buren's letter of 1846 on the Power of Congress over Slavery in the Territories. Greene C. Bronson's letter (1848) declaring Slavery to exist only by the force of local law. Daniel S. Dickinson on the same subject. Edward Bates to the Missouri Delegates to the Republican Convention; also, his letter sustaining the nomination of Mr. Lincoln.
POWERS OF THE SUPREME COURT.—Extracts from the Writings and Speeches of the Fathers of the Republic, and particularly of the Jeffersonian Republican party on the powers and duties of the Supreme Court of the United States.
ELECTION RETURNS.—Full returns of each State by Counties for President since and including 1840; also, the vote of each State by Counties at the last General Election preceding the Presidential Election of 1860.
RESOLUTIONS, &c.—Resolutions of Party State Conventions and of State Legislatures on the subject of Slavery, and such extracts from the speeches and writings of prominent Statesmen and Politicians who are recognized as leaders of their respective parties, as will give a clear idea of the issues involved in the coming Political Campaign, and the positions taken by the various parties to the contest.
