The Hydropult.

An invention for throwing water by hand-power, patented by W. T. VOSE. It is one of the most valuable inventions of the day.

THE HYDROPULT

will, by the power of one man, throw water at the rate of eight gallons per minute fifty feet high, with great force. It is the best article ever invented for

EXTINGUISHING A FIRE,
PROTECTING A ROOF FROM TAKING FIRE,
WASHING WINDOWS,
SPRINKLING PLANTS,
WATERING GARDENS,
CLEANSING TREES FROM INSECTS,
WETTING SIDEWALKS,
SPRINKLING STREETS,
WASHING CARRIAGES, &c., &c.

This article should be owned by every householder. It does away with the necessity of a hydrant. It is a light portable FORCE-PUMP, always ready, easily used, and will come in frequent use by every farmer, merchant, and mechanic in the community. Please call and examine the article at No. 41 Park-row, Times Building, or address the Agents wanted throughout the United States to sell the Hydropult. Apply as above.

Valuable Patent Right for Sale.—The sole right to manufacture and sell the "GODENSKI" SKATE, an ingenious yet simple improvement upon all other Skates ever invented. The main feature of its construction is the substitution of a flexibly jointed and elastic metal plate for the unyielding wooden sole-piece now in use. By this contrivance, the fatigue and lameness generally resulting from prolonged exercise on the ice are avoided, and a support for the ankles secured which obviates half the liability and danger incident to beginners. This patent must prove of great and permanent value. Its proprietor puts it into the market because other profitable business engagements prevent his giving to it proper care, capital, and attention. In the hands of a thoroughly energetic and enterprising business man, it would be equivalent to a fortune. A pattern Skate can be seen, and full particulars obtained, on application to L. J. WICKS, Nos. 221 and 223 Fulton-st, New-York.

WORCESTERIAN ORTHOGRAPHY IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE.—In a recent discussion in the Senate, of the bill to carry into effect the treaties between the United States and Siam, China, Japan, Persia and other countries, the following orthographical amendments were made, as reported in the Washington Globe:

Mr. Bayard—There are some amendments, which are merely formal, that I desire to make, at a suggestion of the Department. In line six, section twenty-one, I move to strike out the words "of the Sublime Porte," and insert the word "Ottoman" between the words "the" and "dominions." It is a different mode of description. It is considered better and more effective.

The Presiding Officer—If there be no objection, that modification will be made.

Mr. Bayard—I have another amendment: wherever the word "offense" is spelt with an "s," instead of a "c," to strike out the "s" and insert "c," because it is an offence against the English language to spell it in that way. [Laughter.]

The Presiding Officer—That modification will be made.

Mr Bayard—I move also, in the fourteenth line of the twenty-eighth section, to strike out the second "e" in the word "employee."

The Presiding Officer—It will be so modified.

Mr. Bayard—I have one other formal amendment which is essential. It is, in the ninth line of the first section, to insert the word "invested," instead of "vested."

The Presiding Officer—That change will be made.

The bill was reported to the Senate as amended, and the amendments were concurred in, and the bill ordered to be engrossed and read a third time. It was read a third time and passed.

OPINIONS IN ENGLAND.

"The space of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America."—[London Literary Gazette, Feb 11, 1860.

Letters of similar purport have been received from the following eminent English philosophers, viz: Chas Richardson, the venerable author of Richardson's Dictionary; Herbert Coleridge, Secretary Philological Society; Richard C. Trench, B. H. Smart, and also from the Rev. Dr. Bosworth, Professor of Anglo Saxon at Oxford University, who says:

"In short, it is the most complete and practical, the very best as well as cheapest English Dictionary that I know, and I have, therefore, no doubt of its success."

Prof. W. Whitwell, D. D., Master Trinity College, Cambridge, England, says:

"The Dictionary is more complete and exact than any of its predecessors."

H. R. H. Prince Albert, in an autograph letter addressed to the Hon. Edward Everett, dated Buckingham Palace, May 9, 1860, writes:

"My Dear Mr. Everett: I have to acknowledge the receipt of the very handsome copy of Dr. Worcester's Dictionary, which you have been good enough to send me, and I must beg of you also to assure the publishers that I am very sensible of the kind feeling which they manifested toward me. It is very gratifying to see that the parent language receives such valuable aid for its development and the preservation of its purity in your country."

Several attempts have been made by interested parties to institute a comparison between Webster's Dictionary and Worcester's Royal Quarto, all of which have signally failed. Webster's Dictionary was a good work for its day and generation, and the much talked of new edition is printed on the old plates, with some additions. Worcester's Dictionary is a new work—a correct record of the use and meaning of the English Language at the present time. It is vastly superior to Webster's Dictionary in every particular, and it is so admitted by the literary men both of England and America.

The work has been introduced into the Public Schools of Boston, Providence, New-York, St. Louis, Chicago, and other principal places, by votes of the several Boards of Education.

CAUTION to RAILROAD TRAVELERS.—PASSENGERS on the HUDSON RIVER, NEW-HAVEN, and CAMDEN AND AMBOY RAILROADS, will have to buy this Guide before starting, as it is not sold on these roads by the News Agents on account of its cheapness! These agents sell a monthly guide at 25 cents, deriving 15 cents profit, the publishers selling to news agents at cost, and depending on advertisements to keep them afloat. The August number of a Guide, so called, issued in this city, has not less than thirty "Time Tables", wrong, (the traveler, therefore, must be "wide awake," or by following the "time tables" of these roads in the monthly alluded to, will be left behind), viz: Baltimore and Ohio, changed to 27th July; Jeffersonville, 25th July; Delaware, Sunbury and Erie; New-London Wil. and Palm. McMinville and Manchester; Indiana Central, D. & West; Charlotte and S. C., Penn.
