RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

FRIDAY MORNING, Feb. 26, 1858.

Yesterday the weather was delightful, all that the most fastidious could desire, and pleasant enough to charm any one. A gentleman from the North remarked in our presence it was worth traveling fifteen hundred miles to enjoy one such day.

Business was pretty lively on the levee, and up-freight quite plenty. We hear of no complaints from the boatmen now as to scarcity of freight. They think the rates are still too low, however.

Respecting the rivers, the telegraphic reports state that the upper rivers are closed by ice. The Mississippi is gorged below St. Louis, and on the 24th rose one foot at that point. At Louisville, the same day, it was rising, with, five feet nine inches water in the canal. Our exchanges are of the 19th from St. Louis and 18th from Cincinnati:

The Republican says:

The river at this point is still falling steadily at the rate of six inches in every twenty four hours. This was the amount of its decline yesterday; and the report of the depth out to Cairo is six feet in the channel. The river is still full of heavy ice, but it comes down in small bodies, and boats can manage to come up against it with difficulty. Yesterday was all sorts of a day—in the matter of weather. In the morning it commenced hailing and raining and freezing; towards noon it had changed to rain which continued, with short intermission, all day. The streets and levee were very slippery and wet, and pedestrians were in constant danger of falling. No business was done on the levee yesterday on account of the very bad, disagreeable weather.

The Cincinnati Commercial says:

The weather continues clear and cold—too cold for snow, although the indications are slightly favorable. The river is receding slowly, with seven feet to Louisville, and five feet six inches in the canal. Navigation is still suspended between Wheeling and Pittsburg, but the river is open from Wheeling here.

The present winter is somewhat similar to the winter of 1840. Then, as now, the weather was mild until late in February, with ice here eight inches thick on the 25th of February, the last day of winter.

The rates South continue very fair, with a stiff upper tendency. Southern freights are reported more abundant in the lower Ohio. The holders of coon in the bends in the vicinity of New Madrid are offering full loads at 20 to 25c. per sack. The boats that left with light trips last week procured all the freight they wanted.

The Cumberland river was slowly falling on the 19th inst., with seven feet water on the shoals.

Empress for Louisville.—Let all passengers bound up the Mississippi or Ohio to-day, remember that this truly magnificent passenger packet leaves with the Cairo U. S. mail at 5 P. M., commanded by the experienced Capt. Erwin, with the courteous and correct Mr. C. T. Reeder in the office, aided by the attentive, Mr. B. Mulligan. We take great pleasure in commending the Empress and her clever officers to all our friends. She is every way worthy of patronage.

A. O. Tyler for Cincinnati.—Capt. Dan Collier backs out his new and truly splendid passenger packet to-day, at 5 P. M., for all landings up to the Queen City. We gave an extended description of this fine boat on her last which was her first trip, and need now only announce her as leaving. Passengers can rest assured they will receive courtesy from her gentlemanly clerk, Mr. Jno. Collier.

New Orleans Money Market.

CRESCENT OFFICE, No. 76 Camp street, Thursday Evening, Feb. 25, 1858.

There was no change perceivable in the general tone of the money market to-day. Very little paper offering through brokers, and of course very little bought and sold. Holders of first class paper and securities can dictate their own rates above eight and nine per cent. The banks are discounting with great freedom for their customers. All paper maturing within 90 days. Money is daily accumulating, if we may judge by the increase of deposits with the banks.

In the Exchange market to-day there were several large operations in flowing, with bills selling at 100@101; clear bills were taken at 107@108 and 108¼, with plenty of all classes offering. Bank drafts are held at 109¼@109½. Francs dull, yet very few offering. Northern funds without change. The demand at the banks for checks rather limited. Time bills offered beyond the demand. Sales of sixty days on New York of high grade signatures were made at 1½@1¾ discount. There were also sales at 2@2¼ and 2¼ discount, and some at 2½@2¾ discount; in other grades we have no change to notice.

In Specie there were no sales to-day. In Bonds there were 20,000 City Bonds for Railroads at 75.

The surplus of the loan fax in the hands of the Commissioners of the Consolidated Debt was disposed of to-day.

The proposals for the sale of $200,000 of the Bonds of the City were opened, when the following bids (seven in all) were made known:

D. G. Cook	$25,000 at 88	nett.
D. G. Cook	25,000 at 90	nett.
D. G. Cook	50,000 at 90	nett.
F. W. Bartels	50,000 at 90	and interest.
F. W. Bartels	50,000 at 90	and interest.
F. W. Bartels	50,000 at 91¼	and interest.
F. W. Bartels	50,000 at 91¾	and interest.
J. D. Denegre	100,000 at 85	and interest.
S. Smith & Co	9,000 at 83½	and interest.
S. Smith & Co	10,000 at 84.37	and interest.
F. Rodewald	100,000 at 90	nett.
Pond & Co	9,000 at 84 90	and interest.
Pulfrey & Co	50,000 at 89.90	and interest.
E. J. Forstall	50,000 at 90	nett.
E. J. Forstall	500,000 at 92¼	nett.
	925,000

Average rate of proposals—$925,000 is 90 22½, or say 90¼ per cent. This looks very well. We hope next year the city may have to pay 100.

The award was made to E. J. Forstall for the full amount, being bands dated Jan. 1, 1857, at thirty-five years, due in 1892.

The following was the adjudication for $900,000 on the 15th of May last:

$15,000	at 78.25 and interest, equal to 80.40
$10,000	at 76.95 and interest, equal to 81.12
$10,000	at 79 45 and interest, equal to 81.75
$865,000	at 82

It will be seen that the value of the bonds has steadily increased. The highest figures to May last were $9,000 at 85, and the balance ranging from that to $80.50 per $100.

The annual summary of the condition of the banks of Baltimore has been issued; the following are the comparative results for sixteen of years:

Jan. 1.	Loans.	Specie.	Circulation.	Deposits.
1843	$11,700,000	$2,700,000	$2,281,000	$4,320,000
1847	11,428,000	1,927,000	2,140,000	6,037,000
1848	14,991,940	2,991,000	3,328,000	8,027,000
1851	14,000,000	2,895,000	3,205,000	6,303,000
1853	14,270,000	2,491,000	2,676,000	5,855,000
1854	16,907,000	2,832,000	3,366,000	6,885,000
1857	17,704,000	2,995,000	3,336,000	7,722,000
1858	17,852,000	2,169,000	3,058,000	6,062,000

Since January 1853, the Bank Capital (fifteen banks) has increased from $6,101,000 to $10,140,000. At present the circulation and deposits are about $9,300,000, and the aggregate sports nearly one fourth of this sum.

Commercial Intelligence.

FRIDAY MORNING, Feb. 26, 1858.

Cotton is in better demand, and up to nearly fully extent, the short interval since we issued our annual remarks has served, whether, to illustrate the variable nature of the trade in our great staple, or to confirm the old proverb (but we ventured to think that the business prospect was brightening, but recent crumbling circumstances dictated caution, but anticipations of future prosperity, after past reverses, were only natural, and were freely indulged in, even by the most prudent. None, however, looked or hoped for such a rapid or so favorable a transition as we have witnessed during the eight days intervening, the course of the market has pointed upwards: Middling Orleans, which could easily have been bought at the close of the year at 8¼c., is now commanded 9 3-16c. net.

Various circumstances have contributed towards placing the article in its present position as to value. Spinners commenced the year cautiously, from the fact of some of the United States cotton seaports having to close, and the Texas cotton crop, which usually comes forward in January, not appearing. Then, the failure of one of the Liverpool houses, and the stoppage of the Mississippi River, by ice, for the first time in many years, caused a still further check to the demand, and the prices of cotton in Liverpool, which had ruled high, for the quality, and low, for the quantity, of the crop, gradually yielded to the pressure of the market, and, at the close of the year, the quotations for the leading qualities were 1 to 1½ d. lower than at the commencement of the year. The accounts from Manchester have checked the animation, and, however, though pretty confident feeling, closes the market.

The political state of the East Indies and of China imposed some obstacles to progress, otherwise, all the elements calculated to increase business are in existence. It would seem, that the main question affecting the value of the raw material, waits to be solved by the amount of the supply; some minor considerations may now and then intervene, but, the governing features are the extent and distribution of the American crop.

Particulars of import sales, etc., of cotton from the 1st inst. to this date inclusive:

	Import.	To Sales.	Amer'n.	Trade.	Spec'n.	Exp't.
Jan. 8	38,271	40,210	38,240	1,970	300	5,500
Jan. 15	57,005	38,440	32,240	3,250	1,310	3,700
Jan. 21	15,481	61,380	45,430	36,870	15,250	4,100
Jan. 29	30,038	67,660	49,500	40,020	11,700	3,300

Stock of American cotton in this port, 196,093 bales, against 191,546 some time last year; and of all kinds, 369,159 against 320,378; Fair Uplands are quoted at 7¾; Middling, 8¾@8¾; Fair Mobile, 7¾c.; Middling, 8¼c.; Fair Orleans, 7¾c.; Middling, 8 15-16c. per lb.

BREAD STUFFS.—With very little exception a general dullness has prevailed in our grain markets since the commencement of the year. Consumers have seen no pressing inducement to operate beyond their current wants, and prices have, for the most part, favored buyers. Present quotations are:

American Wheat—White, 76@86c.; Red, 66@75c. 48.; Oats, 38c. 112 lbs.; Rye, 75c. per 56 lbs.

Western Canal Flour—Ohio, 25c.@34c. 5d. per bbl.

Indian Corn—Yellow, 55c. 64@68c.; White, 55c. to 56c., and Mixed, 51c. per 68 lbs.

NAVAL STORES AND TALLOW.—In Rough Turpentine there is nothing to report, for want of stock; Spirits have been in great request, and have advanced considerably; over 2,200 barrels on the spot and to arrive, finding buyers at 37c., but mostly the former figure. Rosin—Common is in good demand at 6@6½. 14.; Medium is scarce and wanted, 7@7½. 14.; Good, 8@8½. 14. lower. No sales of Tar. For Tallow there continues a good demand, and the stocks of all descriptions being much reduced, extreme prices have been paid; quotations are 68c.@70c. per cask.

We are, very truly, your friends,
J. & D. MALCOMSON & CO.
