THE MATTER SETTLED.—In our police report of Recorder's 8th's Court yesterday, our reporter mentioned the arraignment of Mr. Thomas Vowell, on a charge of having embezzled $19,000 from the banking house of Messrs. S. Nicholson & Co., and that, under the direction of Judge Hunt, Recorder Soth required him to find bail of $25,000. We were in error, and very much regret the error, in stating that he failed to furnish the bail and had to go to prison—a piece of information our reporter picked up at the Recorder's office. The accused had plenty of friends, among which we claim to rank ourselves, ready to stand any amount of security, and the bail required was furnished immediately. Yesterday Mr. Roselius, counsel for the defendant, appeared in Court, and stated that the prosecution had misconceived their case, and with the Court's leave, would withdraw the charge. Mr. Bradford, of the opposing side, acquiesced in the proposition; but the Recorder refused to dismiss the case without the written declaration of all parties. Thereupon a paper was produced, signed by counsel on both sides, as follows: "In this case the counsel for the accused having represented to the Court that the checks referred to in the affidavit on file were drawn by the accused under a misapprehension of his legal rights, but that he did not intend to commit any offense against the law, and that the claims involved in this case would be referred for settlement to the civil tribunals, by arbitration or otherwise, the prosecution now beg leave to withdraw the affidavit on which the arrest was made, and to discontinue these proceedings." The Recorder thereupon dismissed the case.

PASS CHRISTIAN HOTEL.—This famous summer hotel, under the management of Mr. John McDonnell, is to be thrown open for the summer season on the 15th of next month. A fine band of music will be connected with the hotel, as well as all the facilities for sea side recreation and luxury, which have built up the fame of the place. Mr. McDonnell is an able and experienced host, and has added much to the reputation of the hotel since becoming connected with it.

A CHANCE FOR AQUATIC SPORTSMEN.—The Ripple is for sale—the beautiful Ripple—the wind-winged, wave-skipping, spray-dashing, cup-winning, gazelle-like Ripple! She was built by John Mahoney, of Algiers, and is one of the prettiest and fleetest yachts in the whole country—is, in fact, well known to fame. Gentlemen fond of water-racing will have to wait many a day before such another chance offers to procure a crack water-racer. Mr. R. Millikin, No. 55 Common street, is the gentleman to call upon about the Ripple. See the advertisement.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—Mr. L. H. Duncan, of the cotton factorage and commission house of Duncan & Logan, has sold his interest to Mr. George William Logan, Jr., who will hereafter continue the business under the same name and style as heretofore—that of Duncan & Logan. We call attention to the cards on the subject in another column.

CLOSE OF THE AMPHITHEATER.—The Amphitheater closed for the season in a "blaze of glory" last night. The complimentary benefit to Mr. and Mrs. Marsh was the warmest kind of a compliment, in a double sense—the house being so tremendously jammed, that those who had'nt fans or broad-brimmed hats came near suffocating with the heat and perspiration. We never saw a more brilliant attendance of ladies, in that favorite resort of the better half of creation.

The performances passed off with the usual effect—flowers were showered upon the favorite juveniles of the troupe—Mr. Marsh made a handsome speech of acknowledgment at the close—and the excitement, altogether, was unlimited. The last scene of all, was the presentation by Mr. Marsh of each one of the children to the audience by name. The rank of each of the young ones in public favor was shown by the comparative boisterousness of the cheers and the lavishness of the flowers. Masters George Marsh and Waldo and Miss Mary were greeted with storms of enthusiasm; Miss Louise, and Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, with a perfect hurricane.

Among the boquets thrown to Louise was one of gigantic dimensions, consisting of a magnolia flower in a bed of ripe strawberries, surrounded by fortifications of full-blown roses, with broad streamers of ribbon of red, white and blue—the white ribbon bearing the name of "Miss Louise" in large golden letters.

The Marshes leave for St. Louis this evening. Success to them! Success to them! Success to them!

VESTVALI'S CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—The concert at Odd Fellows' Hall to-night will be one of unusual excellence. The great cantatrice, Vestvali, who gives it, is to sing several of her most famous pieces; and she is to be assisted by M. Delagrave and M. Junca, of the Orleans Opera; Signor Garibaldi, an Italian singer of high repute; Miss Jessie McLean, the American contralto; Signor Macchi, the great clarionet-player; Herr Braum, the famous violoncellist; and M. Flandry presiding at the piano. A concert like this, at the close of the season, will not be missed by any one who has either a soul or an ear for music. The programme and particulars as to securing seats, are published in another column.

A MARRIED WOMAN SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY. In the Circuit Court of Louisville, a few days ago, a woman named Mary Hafer was sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary for stealing a quantity of wearing apparel. She and her husband were German, and could not speak a word of English. There was no evidence against him, and she said that he knew nothing of her crime, but he was held to answer a charge of having goods in his possession, knowing them to have been stolen.

McDONNELL'S RESTAURANT.—The old and popular epicurean headquarters of Messrs. McDonnell & McGraw, No. 147 Common street, is to remain open all summer, and will as ever be found unsurpassed for the excellence of its cuisine and its elegance and comfort in all other details. Families and dealers will as usual be supplied with all kinds of wines and liquors of the best at wholesale prices. See the card in another column.

FOR MEMPHIS AND CAIRO.—The Memphis and New Orleans packet line steamer Belfast, Captain W. Wray, leaves at 5 P. M. this day. The boats of this line connect regularly at Memphis with the different railroads at that point, and offer, via the Charleston, and its connecting railways, a most desirable route to the Eastern cities. Each boat also connects at Memphis with first-class fast packets for Louisville, Nashville, or St. Louis. The Belfast will ticket through to either place. J. H. Fridigh, agent, Memphis packet office, under the St. Charles hotel.

BOYS' HOUSE OF REFUGE.—A Superintendent is wanted for this institution. See the advertisement in another column.

ROSIN.—This article is to be had of A. Kearny, No. 72 Magazine street. See advertisement.

FRAUDULENTLY PACKED COTTON.

We copy the following from the Memphis Avalanche, of the 8th inst:

VILE IMPOSITION.—It is a source of mortification to someone that no less than twenty-five or thirty bales of cotton were returned from New Orleans to this city by the steamer Belfast, upon her last up trip, upon the plea that they had been falsely packed, or, in other words, that they were filled in with some worthless substance which represented so much cotton. Of course this chest is attributable to the planter, and the author of such a vile imposition should be punished most condignly.

Our Memphis cotemporary speaks justice and truth when he says the fraudulent practices in question should be visited with condign punishment. He hits the mark precisely; and all honest cotton planters of every cotton State of the South will agree with him in sentiment and action. The only difficulty in the way is in devising a proper and a practical remedy—a remedy which, while it protects the fair fame and interest of the upright planter, will result in the sure detection and certain punishment of the dishonest planter or packer, who, regardless of every honorable emotion, and seeking his own pecuniary aggrandizement by foul means, recks not of the discredit he may bring upon the most fair, liberal, discreet, irreproachable and important class of agriculturists that exist upon the broad surface of God's globe.

This false packing of cotton is no new thing, nor is it confined to Tennessee. Cotton, if we are not mistaken, has been sent back from Liverpool, or heavy reclamations have been made, owing to the infamous manner in which it was packed. Stones, sand, leaves and trash, have been found in the interior of bales, reducing their actual value to one-half of the apparent value. And the changes through which the cotton had passed—the different owners it had had during its transit from the plantation to the commercial and manufacturing marts of christendom—rendered it well nigh impossible to identify and punish the fradulent planter or planters, packer or packers, and consequently the whole cotton community of the South is blamed, and loses morally and pecuniarily, on account of the vile conduct of a meagre and contemptible few.

We do not know, not being lawyers, whether there are statutes regulating the packing of cotton and providing for the punishment of fraudulent packers. If there are not, there ought to be, and the Legislatures of the staple States should take the matter in hand with a rigid grasp, as soon as they convene. It seems to us that laws can be passed which will not inconvenience or injure honest growers of cotton, and at the same time bring detection and punishment upon those whose ideas of right and wrong hardly soar above those of the meanest penitentiary felon. One of the penalties should be a complete forfeiture and confiscation of the falsely packed cotton, and the perpetrator or perpetrators should also be made to feel the severest consequences that attach to attempted swindling, or actual swindling, of innocent third parties. By such a process as this, or something similar to it, which appears to us entirely practicable, the object in view can be readily and securely attained, the general community benefitted, no honest agriculturist injured, and the reputation of just and upright cotton farmers preserved from blemish or taint, beyond a peradventure.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

SEVENTH DAY.

The Assembly opened yesterday morning with the usual religious exercises.

Dr. Hewitt, of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence made a report relative to a communication from the General Synod of the Free Church of France, and submitted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That when the statistics of the last year are complete, and more particularly those relating to the present revivals of religion, our Moderator be requested to reply to the President of the Synod, at the Free Church in France, expressive of the sympathy, veneration, and affection of this Assembly for that sister church.

Resolved, That if one or more of our brethren shall visit Europe the ensuing summer, our Moderator be empowered to commission him, or them, to represent the Assembly in that Synod.

The report and resolutions were adopted.

The subject of a conference with representatives of the Associate Reformed Church of the South, upon their proposed union with the Church represented by the General Assembly, was called up. After some debate, a resolution of Dr. Van Rensselaer's for appointing a committee of three to ascertain the terms of the union proposed by the Associate Reformed Church, was adopted; and the Rev. Drs. Van Rensselaer, Cunningham and Palmer, were constituted the said committee.

The order of the day, to-wit, the Report of the Board of Publication, was called up. Rev. Mr. Schenck, the Secretary, submitted the report, which showed that the Board had published more new works than in any previous year; that nearly as many volumes had been sold, and that more had been gratuitously circulated. The report protested against the prevalent idea that the publications of the Board were such only as to foster denominationalism. It claimed that the works found upon the Board's catalogue were, to say the least, as well adapted to promote a spirit of intelligent, of truly catholic, and warm-hearted piety, as those found upon any catalogue in any country.

The following statistics were included in the report:

New books published, 45, and an aggregate of 85,750 copies printed; nine new tracts, 24,000 copies; the Presbyterian Almanac, 30,000 copies. Total number of new publications, 139,750 copies. Reprints of former publications, 326,750 copies. Total number published last year, 466,500 copies. The issue of new publications last year exceeded that of the preceding year by 14,500, and is still farther in advance of any other year in the Board's history. The sales made at the publishing-house in Philadelphia during the past year have been 191,993 volumes.

The sales of tracts during the past year have amounted to 790,963. Colporteurs have sold 123,924 volumes, and gratuitously distributed 147,039. The receipts were $126,960; expenditures $106,801. The amount from sale of books, tracts and Sabbath School Visitor, has been $80,842, and from churches $17,150.

Dr. Mitchell, on behalf of the Board of Publication, offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Assembly recognizes and commends the Board as an efficient and honored instrument in counteracting the effects of a licentious and corrupt literature, and in disseminating through the waste places of our Zion the seeds of sound theology and of vital piety, which doubtless will produce in the hearts of God's people, thirty, sixty, and even an hundred fold.

Resolved, That it is subject matter for devout gratitude to God, that although within the past year an unprecedented commercial embarrassment pervaded the country, and brought sorrow and misery to the homes of thousands, the Lord put into the hearts of the members of our churches a spirit of more than ordinary benevolence, in consequence of which (although there was a diminution in the miscellaneous receipts) the amounts of church collections for the colporteurage fund were larger than they had been in any former year, and that this unexpected and happy result was accomplished without the payment of a single cent for collecting agents.

Resolved, That it affords the Assembly much gratification to learn that, notwithstanding the commercial revulsion, the Board, by the discreet and prudent management of its resources during the crisis, not only paid all its pecuniary obligations in the publishing department, but also increased its usefulness by the publication and gratuitous distribution of a greater number of books and tracts than it had published in any previous year.

Resolved, That it gives the Assembly pleasure to learn that the Board, as fast as circumstances justify, are publishing evangelical works in the German language suitable to the wants of the German population.

Resolved, That the humble and self-denying colporteur is doing God's work, and deserves the sympathies of God's people, and that as he visits from house to house the Lord's poor, with Christ's love in his heart and the books of the Board in his hands, he is effectually aiding the missionary of the cross in diffusing Christian light and knowledge where darkness and ignorance prevail.

Resolved, That the Assembly earnestly urge on the churches the importance of increasing their contributions to colporteurage, in order to enable the Board not only to pay off the arrears which during the past year necessarily accrued, but also to expand its operations in a degree commensurate with the demands of the church.

Resolved, That the Assembly express its heartfelt gratification at the laudable and successful efforts which the Board has made to publish works for Sunday school libraries; that this body, believing, as it does, that the books are admirably adapted to the wants of children, would impress on the minds of ministers and members that it is their duty to purchase and circulate the books of the Board rather than those published by any societies not connected with our beloved church; and that wherever Sabbath Schools have funds to expend for the purchase of libraries to present to feeble churches in various parts of the land, the Board should have a decided preference.

The resolutions were adopted.

The Committee recommended that the Rev. S. V. Moore be appointed to preach the sermon before the next General Assembly, on behalf of the Board of Publication, and that Prof. S. J. Wilson be his alternate; also recommended a list of ministers and laymen to fill vacancies in the Board.

The Assembly was then successively addressed, on the matters referred to in the above resolutions, by Dr. Mitchell; Rev. D. Stevenson, of Indiana; Elder Israel Spencer, of Mississippi; Rev. J. Edson Rockwell, of New York; Rev. Thomas Savage, of New Hampshire; Rev. Mr. Cowan, of St. Louis; Rev. J. S. K. Axson, of Georgia; and Elder Thomas R. R. Cobb, of Georgia.

After the recess, Dr. Breckinridge introduced the subject of getting up a Presbyterian Commentary on the Holy Scriptures. He spoke at some length upon the great necessity existing for such a Commentary, and concluded by submitting the following preamble and resolution, or minute, to the Assembly:

Inasmuch as the want of a sound Godly and thorough Commentary upon the whole Word of God, composed in the sense of the constant faith of the Church of God as that is briefly set forth in the standard of the Westminster Assembly, held by the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, has long been felt to be a grievous want, whereby a great lack of due service to God and to his truth occurs, and whereby constant danger arises to men of needless ignorance on one side, and of dangerous misguidance on the other—therefore, be it

Resolved, By the the General Assembly, that the Board of Publication shall, and it is hereby directed to proceed with all convenient dispatch to have such a Commentary composed, prepared for the press, and published. And in the execution of this great work, the following rules and orders, together with such further orders as may be adopted from time to time by the General Assembly, shall be carefully observed by the Board of Publication, and by all others in any way engaged in the execution of any part thereof:

1. The Commentary shall be prepared exclusively by the members of this Church. And in the preparing of it, they shall have all such indulgence as to time as they shall respectively demand. And for their compensation, they and their heirs, shall receive, for the legal term of twenty-eight years, a fair per centum on the price of the work sold, which shall be settled in advance by the Board of Publication, and which shall be uniform, and in lieu of all claims and cost of every sort in any way connected with their said work.

2. The said Commentary shall be fitted for common use by all men; and in the preparation of it free use may be made of all material that may exist, the design being to procure, not so much what may be original, as what may be best, in the way of enlightening and saving men. It shall not be prolix, but so arranged that the whole may be embraced in five or six royal octavo volumes of good print, containing, besides the Commentary, the English text in full, together with the usual accessories thereof, and such other suitable helps to its understanding as plain people need. And the text used in it shall be strictly that of the version prepared by the translators appointed by James the First, King of England.

3. In order to secure the fittest men for this great work, the Board of Publication shall make special application to the General Synods of our Church, at their next stated meetings, respectively; and the said Synods shall, upon careful consideration, nominate to the said Board of Publication any number of their own members, not to exceed five from any one Synod, of such as they shall consider qualified to undertake the work. And the Board of Publication may add not more than four in addition to the whole number thus nominated to it. And it shall communicate the list of names thus obtained by sifting the Church to the General Assembly at its next stated meeting in May of next year; making at the same, and from year to year thereafter, report of its doings under and by virtue of this minute.

The General Assembly of 1859 will take such further order in the premises, especially with regard to the selection of persons out of the list communicated to it, to the distribution of the work amongst them, and to all things needful for its effectual prosecution, as shall seem most expedient.

A lively and learned debate followed, in regard to the above. Different members offered amendments, which were not accepted. Revs. Drs. Rankin, Floyd, and James Hoge, of Ohio, all took strong grounds against it, for different reasons; and Rev. Drs. Junkin, Morris, and Hewitt, joined with Dr. Breckinridge in advocating it. During the debate, which lasted over two hours, all kinds of motions for reference were made by the opposition, and voted upon, but lost. The debate was a very interesting one, but was too long for us to undertake to give even an abstract of it. It was evident that the measure would be carried; but pending the debate, the hour of adjournment arrived, and the proceedings were closed without action being taken.

After prayer, the Assembly adjourned.

TOO LATE.—The Governor of North Carolina a few days since granted a respite to a negro who was sentenced to be hung for murdering his mistress, in Columbus county, in that State. But it arrived too late. He had already been executed.

Your Bitters give general satisfaction. I know their virtues, and have the first case yet to hear of where they do not give entire satisfaction. I could get you numerous certificates were it necessary, but in this community their virtues are fully established. I am positive I sell more of them than is sold of any three patent medicines in this county. In my own case I have received more benefit from them in six months than I have received from the regular physicians in five years. I can therefore conscientiously recommend them, and do say, I would not be without them in my family for any amount.

☞ Weed's Sewing Machine makes equally as good work on the fine fabric or on the heaviest cloth, on either of which, for beauty and durability, it is superior to hand work. They are the best for manufacturers, because they make such beautiful and strong work. They are the best for tailors, because they do better work than his hands.

Extract from a letter written by a gentleman owning a plantation near New Orleans: "Your two Weed's Patent Sewing Machines have been in almost constant use since I bought them, and with the best of practical results. In less than three weeks the two operators on them finished a complete suit of clothes for each of my two hundred and ten plantation hands, and I find the time saved in using them one season has more than paid their cost."

The editor of the Zanesville (Ohio) Courier, says: "There has never been a Sewing Machine in this city that has given such unbounded satisfaction to all who have used it as the Weed's Patent. We have examined them, and must confess our admiration of their simplicity and durability, and can, with perfect confidence, after an examination of all other Sewing Machines, pronounce this to be the best and recommend it to our readers who wish a Sewing Machine, as we are sure it will give them satisfaction."

To the Afflicted.

JEFFRIES' ANTIDOTE,

A Specific Mixture for the cure of Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, and similar disorders. It makes a speedy cure, without the least restriction of diet, drink, exposure, or change in application to business. The proprietor challenges a single case of recent Gonorrhea which this mixture will not cure. Further—the disease cannot be contracted if a dose of the mixture is taken when exposed. Recent experience and long experience have proved that it will radically cure any case which can be produced. This desirable result is obtained in from two to ten days, and as it neither creates nausea nor disturbs the palate, and renders unnecessary any deviation in diet or interruption to usual pursuits, sound sleep or healthy digestion, the nuisance is thus removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure. Its ingredients are entirely vegetable, and no injurious effect, either constitutionally or locally, can be caused by its use.

To Sportsmen.

There is no class of persons more subject to accident than sportsmen. Long experience has taught us this. The young wildfowl will now tempt the sportsmen to the field. You carry powder, ball, fishing-hooks—all edged tools—but have you in your baskets even one box of

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR!

If you have not you are not wise. You don't want to be told its curative virtues, and you know that it is

Lillie Safes and Locks

IN NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 1, 1858.

J. G. Newcomb, Agent:

Dear Sir—It may be of interest to you to know that the store occupied by us was entered by burglars on the night of the 30th ir., by means of false keys, and an attempt made upon the Safe purchased of you—Lillie's Patent Wrought and Chilled Iron. Although the key was taken from a desk and used, and an endeavor made to chisel the door, the superior construction of your Combination Lock, and the unyielding firmness of the door, resisted these attempts, and has left us with a feeling of greater security against burglars and fire by the consciousness of the protection of your valuable Safe and Lock.

We remain, yours truly,

JAS. H. SUYDAM & CO.,

Nos. 62 and 64 Poydras street.

☞ The above SAFES and LOCKS may be seen at No. 90 Camp street. Also, SHEET IRON SAFES of the most approved Patents.
