TEXAS.
A JOURNEY THROUGH TEXAS; Or, A SADDLE TRIP ON THE SOUTH-WESTERN FRONTIER. With a Statistical Appendix. By Frederick Law Olmsted. 516 pages, 12mo., cloth, $1 25.
At a time when Texas is the center of so much interest, and evidently about to be the scene of exciting events, this volume has peculiar attraction and value. The natural resources of that region of country, the characteristics of its inhabitants, and the workings of its institutions, are described in an attractive manner. Statistics with regard to its history, products, and capabilities are included, with much miscellaneous general information bearing upon the anticipated line of operations and the elements of strength for the Union party which is now gathering its energies for one of the most important struggles the world has witnessed.

No. 117 Washington-st., Boston.
Have just published,
MACAULAY'S
HISTORY OF ENGLAND,
VOLUME FIVE.
Price 40 cents, Cloth; 60 cents, Sheep.
The publishers claim for this edition a superiority over every other, inasmuch as it contains, in addition to ALL THE MATTER CONTAINED IN THE ENGLISH EDITION
A BIOGRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL SKETCH OF MACAULAY'S LIFE, CHARACTER AND WRITINGS.
By S. AUSTIN ALLIBONE,
The well-known compiler of the "Dictionary of Authors."
In 1857 Mr. Allibone prepared for the second volume of his Dictionary of Authors (not yet published), a very full sketch of LORD MACAULAY'S literary career, illustrated by copious critical commentaries, favorable and unfavorable, on his writings. As the proof sheets of this sketch were lost by the agency of the author, for near a year before his death, in his lordship's possession, and as he corresponded with Mr Allibone on the subject, the accuracy of the statements therein contained may be considered as fully indorsed.
To this original sketch the author has, within the last few days prepared expressly for our edition of the fifth volume of the History of England, a comprehensive supplement, containing a detailed account of the profound impression produced by Lord Macaulay's sudden and lamented decease, and of the solemn and impressive funeral services at Westminster Abbey. The famous articles of The London Times, The London Athenæum, The Manchester Guardian and the Edinburgh Review, with the papers in the Revue Contemporaine, Illustrated News, &c., and the remarks of M. Guizot, Edward Everett, Robert C. Winthrop and others, are here reproduced, while the Supplement concludes with a Biographical Catalogue Raisonne of Macaulayana to the latest date.
Beside the above, the Boston Edition contains
And all the
ADDITIONAL NOTES TO THE FIRST FOUR VOLUMES WHICH HAVE BEEN INCORPORATED FROM THE LAST LONDON EDITION.
Purchasers of the volumes published by Phillips, Sampson & Co., are informed that this edition is in every respect uniform with that, and is prepared expressly to complete that edition.
We publish uniform in style and price:

THE TRIBUNE for 1861.
PROSPECTUS.
THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is now in its XXth Volume. THE TRIBUNE will be, as it has been, a Political Journal, though not exclusively so. But, while it gives prominence and emphasis to the discussion and elucidation of the great issue of the day, it sinks none of the characteristics of a Business and Family Newspaper. During the past year THE TRIBUNE has been obliged to devote quite a large proportion of its space to Politics, but we hope to be able to limit the space devoted to Political discussion, and devote more of our columns to subjects of less intense, but more abiding, interest. Among these, we mean to pay especial attention to
I.—EDUCATION.
The whole subject of Education, both Popular and General, will be discussed in our columns throughout the year 1861, and we hope to enlist in that discussion some of the profoundest thinkers and the ablest instructors in our country. It is at once our hope and our resolve that the cause of Education shall receive an impetus from the exertions of THE TRIBUNE in its behalf during the year 1861.
II.—AGRICULTURE.
We have been compelled to restrict our elucidations of this great interest throughout 1860, and shall endeavor to atone therefor in 1861. Whatever discovery, deduction, demonstration is calculated to render the reward of labor devoted to cultivation more ample or more certain, shall receive prompt and full attention.
III.—MANUFACTURES, &c.
We hail every invention or enterprise whereby American Capital and Labor are attracted to and advantageously employed in any department of Manufacturing or Mechanical Industry as a real contribution to the Public Weal, insuring ampler, steadier, more convenient, more remunerating markets to the Farmer, with fuller employment and better wages to the Laborer. The Progress of Mining, Iron-making, Steel-making, Cloth-weaving, &c., &c., in our country, and the world, shall be watched and reported by us with an earnest and active sympathy.
IV.—FOREIGN AFFAIRS.
We employ the best correspondents in London, Paris, Turin, Berlin, and other European capitals, to transmit us early and accurate advices of the great changes there silently but certainly preparing. In spite of the pressure of Domestic Politics, our news from the Old World is now varied and ample; but we shall have to render it more perfect during the eventful year just before us
V.—HOME NEWS.
We employ regular paid correspondents in California, at the Isthmus of Darien, in the Rocky Mountain Gold Region, and wherever else they seem requisite. From the more accessible portions of our own country, we derive our information mainly from the multifarious correspondents of the Associated Press, from our exchanges, and the occasional letters of intelligent friends. We aim to print the cheapest general newspaper, with the fullest and most authentic summary of useful intelligence, that is anywhere afforded. Hoping to "make each day a critic on the last," and print a better and better paper from year to year, as our means are steadily enlarged through the generous cooperation of our many well-wishers, we solicit and shall labor to deserve a continuance of public favor.
