DENTAL NOTICE—DR. J. WEST, Practical Dentist, No. 112 St. Charles street, Jones Foydras street.

J. W. would call particular attention to his method of constructing ARTIFICIAL TETH. They are made perfectly natural in form and shape, set with false gums. The original form and expression of the mouth and face is restored, with a natural and distinct articulation of speech. This is effected by having the last of the teeth and gum of a natural form, to which the tongue is readily adapted. This prevents that hissing sound so often observed in persons wearing artificial teeth. The Doctor has been practicing in this city fifteen years, and feels confident that he will give satisfaction to those who may honor him with their patronage. Persons desirous of obtaining his services, would do well to call and examine his specimens.
