THE EFFICACY OF A. A. PEYCHAUD'S TONIC-BITTERS.
A CERTIFICATE.
Having been afflicted for upwards of six years with a gastric, I was constantly in tortures during the period, to the utmost and most painful degree and in the last, exhibited a marine appearance of the skin and face. Nothing could relieve me, the greatest care, my digestion was slow, and I felt a great uneasiness, more so, if I ate or partook of liquor. I have the Bitters, and the effect of the Bitters, as soon as I began to use the medicine in a small glass before and after my meals, that almost instantly removed my uneasiness, and I now feel that my digestive organs are nearly improved.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN—PROSPECTUS.
VOLUME FOURTEEN
Begins Sept. 11, 1858.

Mechanics, Inventors, Manufacturers and Farmers.

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and still continues to be issued from the New York Sun Publication. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the principal towns of the Union. It is not a mere reflect a copy from its title, a dry, abstruse work on technical science; on the contrary, it is done with the great object in view of giving information to practical men, and to place before them in a plain and strictly easy style, the mechanical or artistic wishes to know the best machine to use or how to make any substance employed in the arts. It is also the aim of the editors to give information on the best methods of conducting business, and to place before the reader the most valuable information in the world, and to instruct the mechanic in the best methods of the business he is engaged in
