Morton's Celebrated Gold Pens.—Improvements made in the machinery for manufacturing Gold Pens, and secured to the subscriber by Letters Patent, have enabled him to overcome the many imperfections hitherto unavoidable in their production, and also to bring the cost within the reach of all. The writing public should know the following facts: Constant writing for six months is done cheaper with Gold Pens than with steel, therefore, it is economy to use Gold Pens. The Gold Pen remains unchanged by years of continued use, while the Steel Pen is ever changing by corrosion and wear; therefore perfect uniformity of writing is obtained only by the use of the Gold Pen. The Gold Pen is always ready and reliable, while the Steel Pen must be often condemned and a new one selected; therefore, in the use of the Gold Pen there is great saving of time. Gold is capable of receiving any degree of elasticity, so that the Gold Pen is exactly adapted to the hand of the writer; therefore, the nerves of the hand and arm are not injured, as is known to be the case by the use of Steel Pens. He is now selling Gold Pens at prices varying from 25 cents to $1, according to size, the average wear of every one of which will far outlast a gross of the best Steel Pens. Sold by all dealers in the line throughout the country. Wholesale and retail at the store, No. 25 Maiden-lane, where all orders, inclosing cash or post stamps, will receive prompt attention; and a Pen or Pens corresponding in value, and selected according to description, will immediately be sent by mail or otherwise, as directed. Address
A. MORTON, No. 25 Maiden-lane, New-York.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE,
NEW VOLUME.

On the seventh of September, 1861, THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence; THE DAILY TRIBUNE being some months older and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has labored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to ameliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage useful exertion in whatever sphere, and, to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to expose and commend to-day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing this course, mistakes have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, having in all things incited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or others' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and stimulate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual settlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of immigrants or peculiarly exposed branches from too powerful foreign competition, are among the aims to which this journal has adhered through good and evil report, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and philanthropy.

As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, inexcusable, than was ever before known—a Rebellion in the interest of the new slave power against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and tighten the chains of oppression. Having to see all we could without a surrender of vital principle to avoid the War, and witnessed the forbearance, meekness and long-suffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its terrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen, to stand by the nation and its fairly chosen rulers, and second with all our energies their efforts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Laws. And, though the rebellion has become, through usurpation, deception, terrorism, and apathy, fearfully strong, we believe the American Republic strong, and that the unanimous, earnest efforts of loyal hands will insure its overthrow. But on all questions of objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American People have invested with authority, holding unity of purpose and of expensible in a grave an emergency.

Unlike the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with relations of its more striking incidents. We shall not, however, permit that attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to General Progress, to Crops, Markets &c., &c., which has been a trust, won for THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its cotemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to make a comprehensive newspaper, from which a careful reader may glean a vivid and faithful history of the times, as well as the domain of Action but in that of Opinion also. We strive for acquiring information increase with years, and an improvement in the contents of our journal is our aim, and that, in the variety and fullness of intelligence and ability, we may still hope to "make each day a critic on the day;" it is hope, we solicit a continuance of the generous patronage hitherto accorded to our journal.
