PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of meeting on the street the Hon. John Slidell, the distinguished Senator from this State. It will doubtless gratify his friends to know that he looks hale and hearty. When we passed him he appeared to be in profound reflection, which may account for the fact of his not recognizing us. We hope he may have a good time in working out that little problem which it is said occupies much of his attention about this time.

☞ Weekly Crescent issued this morning.

CONTINENTAL QUADRILLE.—This is the title of a new piece of music composed by Prof. J. Vegas, dedicated to the "Continental Guards" of New Orleans, and published by Mr. L. Gabici, 91 Canal street, to whom orders from the country may be addressed, though it may be obtained at any of the music stores. It is arranged for the piano, with copious foot notes directing the movement of the dance, and embellished by a handsome frontispiece printed in oil colors.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—The first Piccolomini concert takes place to-night, at Armory Hall, and a grand programme is offered, in which the chantress will appear in opera, in which she shines rather than in concert proper, we presume, as in the former her dramatic powers have scope. The comic parlor opera "La Serva Padrona" will be sung. But we refer to the programme, which must attract a crowded house.

OPERATIC.—"La Traviata" will be repeated at the Orleans on Monday night, with M'lle Piccolomini in the role of Violetta.

☞ A very large edition on Monday. ☞

THE QUEEN TO VISIT CANADA, PERHAPS.—The Canada papers state that the Queen will be petitioned by the Provincial Parliament to cross the ocean, and open the first Parliament in Ottawa, the place selected by herself as the future capital of Canada.

THE WANDERER.—The famous yacht Wanderer is advertised to be sold by the U. S. Marshall in Savannah to-day, 12th inst. A rumor was current that fifty of the Africans brought by the Wanderer had been arrested in the lower part of Georgia.

WINTER CLOTHING AT COST.—During this month Messrs. Leighton & Barbet, at the corner of St. Charles and Canal streets, will sell their large, well assorted and stylish stock of winter clothing at cost, to clear out for spring goods. The same reduction of prices will be observed as to under clothing, and the opportunity of replenishing wardrobes thus afforded is so advantageous that all who can will show wisdom by improving it. We refer the whole cost and trousers wearing part of the community to their advertisement.

STEAM ENGINES AND SAW MILLS.—Mr. Edmund R. Ivens, at No. 2 Union street, is general agent for the sale of Mr. Tyler's Manufactory of the widely known "Eagle Machine Works," of Richmond, Virginia, specimens of which are always to be seen on exhibition at his place of business. The work of this establishment has a very loud and just fame throughout the whole South, as being quite unsurpassable for excellence of material and careful workmanship. Their circular and cross saw mills are exceedingly efficient workers, and gored out lumber with marvelous speed, shearing up saw logs into planks almost as fast as they can be fed to the hungry teeth of the saws. Their portable and stationary steam engines are largely in use. We refer persons using or requiring machinery to the advertisement.

NOVEL AND EXCELLENT DENTISTRY, on a new and improved system, which has approved itself admirable as is noticed by Messrs. B. F. Smith, Dostie & Co., dental surgeons, 10 Baronne street. We refer to their advertisement, and assure the reader that they are scientific and successful practitioners.

THE VERY BEST OF BAYOU GRILLON, epicurically considered, may be had at Sam's Saloon, 101 St. Charles street.

PERSEVERANCE FIRE CO. NO. 13.—Members of this Company are referred to notice of a called meeting, published this morning.

MERCHANDISE.—Messrs. G. L. Kouns & Bros. advertise a hundred kegs of assorted bolts and nuts, and a hundred and fifty barrels of No. 2 resin. We refer machinery men and day owners to advertisement.

PEW IN REV. MR. ROLLES' CHURCH, CORNER OF JULIA AND ST. CHARLES STREETS.—J. B. Walton, auctioneer, will sell to-day, at Banks' Arcade, an eligibly located pew in the First Congregational Unitarian Church, for cash. Sale positive.

BOOTS, SHOES AND BROGANS.—The particular attention of buyers is called to the large sale of boots, shoes and brogans, to take place this day, at 10 o'clock, at the auction room of E. Roger & Co., No. 28 Old Levee street. Terms at sale.

DESIRABLE DWELLING ON ANNUNCIATION STREET.—J. B. Walton, auctioneer, will sell this day, at Banks' Arcade, a modern two story frame slate roof dwelling house, at the corner of Annunciation and Edward streets. Terms cash, sale positive. See advertisement.

BENJAMIN KENDIG, auctioneer, will sell this day, at 12 o'clock, at Banks' Arcade, the following valuable real estate.

1. A two-story brick dwelling situated on St. Paul, now Liberty street, between Girod and Lafayette streets.

2. A two-story frame house on the corner of Girod and St. Paul streets, in which there is a well established grocery kept.

3. A two-story frame dwelling on Girod street, between St. Paul and St. Peter streets.

For full particulars, see advertisement in another column.

SPRING STOCK.—Those well known and popular Hatters, Messrs. Johnston & Turner, under the St. Charles Hotel, have already received a lot of hats of the latest spring style. And now that our friend Tom Turner, the popular Junior, has returned, looking if anything better than ever, we are sure persons desiring a good tile could not do a wiser thing than give him a call; if they don't buy, Tom is a good fellow to talk with anyhow.

CATALOGUES OF THE PROPERTY situated in the Second and Third Districts, accrued to the City of Baltimore from the estate of the late John McDonogh, to be sold on the 17th inst., by N. Vignie, City Auctioneer, can be had by applying at the Auctioneer's office. The property is advertised on our eighth page.

SHERIFF'S SALE CONTINUED.—The Sheriff will resume to-day at 10½ o'clock A. M., at the same place, the sale of the movable property surrounded by the Belleville Iron Works Company.

MESSRS. PALFREY & CO. will sell to-day at the Arcade, 50 shares New Orleans Gas Light Company's stock, and other city securities.

BOYS' CLOTHING AT COST.—The extensive and magnificent stock of apparel for young masculines, now offering by L. W. Lyons & Co., at their great emporium, corner of St. Charles and Common streets, is offered at cost. This is something demanding the imperative attention of parents and guardians, with whom the elegant dress of their boys is one object and the saving of money another. See advertisement.

THE SABINE AND GALVESTON BAY RAILROAD.

This road is generally known in Texas as, and almost universally entitled, "The Texas and New Orleans Railroad," and its construction must be considered a matter of much importance to this city, as a glance at the map will show. Running from the Houston "station"—for that is not intended to be its "terminus" South—it tends in the most direct route towards New Orleans, passing through a populous portion of Texas, touching the head-waters of Galveston Bay, and striking the Sabine river boundary line at Madison; thence it is designed that it should extend to the town of New Iberia, on the southeastern border of the Parish of St. Martins, in this State, where a junction with the extension of the New Orleans, Great Western and Opelousas Railroad is contemplated. It will thus drain into its channel almost all of the transportation and travel business of the great Texan country, for but little of either would cross its track, which bounds the sea-board, to seek less speedy, certain and agreeable means of transit and communication. The road, then, occupies a commanding position, and must inevitably divert to New Orleans the major portion of the freight and travel seeking exit from the interior by the way of Texas, and, of course, other roads projected, running eastward, must act as its feeders, and pour their business into it as the grand trunk line. The road will cross five rivers which afford one thousand, three hundred and fifty miles of navigation above its track, and being thus its tributaries, will afford it a vast amount of freight, mostly timber and lumber.

By this road New Orleans will be brought within twelve or fifteen hours of Houston, and be thus in neighborly communication with the rich center of a thriving and marvellously productive region, which is increasing in wealth and population with a constantly accelerated progress that scarcely admits a limit to predictions of its future. We need not look to the ultimate design of the enterprise to show its importance to New Orleans, though the farther it extends Pacifieward through the fertile plains of Texas, the better.

This road then, in the construction of which New Orleans and the State have vital interest, has a favor to ask of our commonwealth, in the granting of which not even an outlay of amiability is required of her legislators. It asks no pledge of aid in money or lands, but merely a recognition of its legal existence within the State, the privilege of crossing the Sabine river, of traversing the territory of Louisiana, and thus adding one more to the sources of her wealth and prosperity without its costing her a cent. Of course it will be granted, for there is no point of objection to constitute the merest point d'appui of opposition. The road is nothing in itself, comparatively, without the privilege of a passage through the State to find a radiating and market terminus, and it will be of little benefit to the State unless this easily allowed but essential franchise is secured. It must go somewhere, and will seek a place of discharge, and pour its treasures into other coffers than ours, if not permitted to enter the State. But the advocacy of what is self-apparent is superfluous.

The Sabine and Galveston Railroad Company is a munificently endowed corporation under the Texas Railroad Land Grant system, and its prospects are so definite as quite to constitute them certainties. We have now before us a document emanating from its Directory, in which it is stated that the work on the entire line from Houston to the Sabine river is under contract, including 'grading, bridges, culverts, masonry, cross-ties, track-laying and ballasting. Up to November last the expenditures of the Company on construction account had amounted to four hundred and eighty thousand dollars—which is "going in deep enough" to show that the parties are in earnest and properly energetic. Available assets to the amount of $4,048,000 constitute the sinews of progress, and deducting from that sum the estimated amount of the cost of the road, $3,220,000, a balance of $828,000 is left to place to account of discount, profit and loss, and land account. Of the available assets, the sum of $1,185,000 is in the subscriptions to the capital stock, which are marked "good" in the schedule; $660,000 is in cash from the State loan of U. S. 5 per cents; $1,500,000 in land grant mortgage bonds; $703,000 realized on 281,600 acres of land, taken by contractors at $2 50 per acre—total, $4,048,000. The Company has no floating debt.

We have thus, in few words, endeavored to give an idea of what our enterprising neighbors of Texas are proposing to do for us and themselves, if we will let them, and of the means which they can command to accomplish their purposes.

TALK ON 'CHANGE.

The weather was propitious for business yesterday—in fact, we have been favored with good weather during the entire week. The talk is, that a large amount of business has been transacted. The good demand for cotton, started on Thursday, continued yesterday. Factors are in the best of humor, and it is reasonable to suppose their patrons and clients will be under similar good feelings when they receive their accounts of sales. The talk is, that the advance in Liverpool since the 15th of February will prove very fortunate for many shippers who have thousands of bales at sea. According to this market at this time, assuming 11½c., which is rather under the market price, cotton must command in Liverpool, with freight at 7-16d., exchange 108, 7 28d.; so if the highest quotations by the Arabia (7¼d.) are maintained, the chances for profit are about even. There is great discrepancy in the advices. The first advices received on Thursday quoted the staple steady and advancing, with the political intelligence represented as peaceful. We said in our talk yesterday it was difficult to limit it. The dispatches received late on Thursday night, and published in yesterday's issue, were altogether of a warlike character—more so than any heretofore received. Napoleon is issuing orders for a campaign; Austria is preparing for defense. The Austrian army in Italy is to be placed on a war footing. All military surgeons are ordered to join their respective corps. Immense quantities of lint is ordered to be prepared. All these various accounts do not bear a very peaceful aspect. As we have said before, a continental war will not be of any serious disadvantage to us or prejudical to American interests. If, however, England should be drawn into it or become involved, then a different and unfortunate state of affairs will arise.

Following the dispatches of Thursday night, our cotemporary, the Picayune, received and published yesterday evening commercial accounts directly at variance in most respects to those received the day before, stating, however, the tenor of the private letters received at Halifax was of a favorable nature, quoting Middling Orleans cotton only 7d., including, it is presumed, the sales of the 26th. However, we shall know the exact position of the markets on the receipt of the private correspondence, say about the 15th. The next advices will be looked for with much interest. The screw steamer City of Washington was to leave Liverpool for New York on the 2d inst. The further talk was on the fine weather for the planting interest, the general easy state of the money market, and the favorable advance of the credit of the city, which was demonstrated in the negotiation of the city bonds yesterday, full details of which will be found in our financial column.

We acknowledge considerable of a talk from a member of the tobacco trade. We have not had time to review the talk he sends us. The circular enclosed to us is etirely different from those we observed published in the West, as emanating from this city. The talk is, that to secure satisfactory inspection, and proper warehouses, legislative action must be appealed to. There has always existed great diversity of opinion relating to the weed, and it is almost idle to look for unanimity among dealers in the matter of storage and inspection.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

THE ST. CHARLES.—Farewell benefit of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, who will play Elvira in "Pizarro," which will be followed by "Toodles," Dellar as Toodles.

THE VARIETIES.—"West End" will be repeated, cast as before. "Out for a Holiday" will conclude the bill.

THE AMPHITHEATER.—Last night but one of the circus, and a grand performance is announced.

ARMORY HALL.—A Piccolomini Concert, with entire opera attachment.

A NOON PERFORMANCE for the benefit of ladies and children will come off at the Amphitheater to-day.

ALABAMA CORRESPONDENCE.

BLADON SPRINGS, March 8th.

Dear Crescent: If you can spare me a corner in your valuable paper, for the insertion of this epistle, I will be greatly indebted to you, as I trust it may reach the eye of some hesitating invalid, and cause him to doubt no longer, but come without delay to these healing springs.

My reasons for indulging in this hope are easily explained, as I can inform any such individual, that he may come in the full assurance of pleasant, settled weather, and comfortable, home-like accommodations. This latter consideration will, I am sure, have great weight, especially to one who knows how attentive both Mr. and Mrs. Cullom can be, even during the rush of summer business, but now, when they have but few calls on them, their kindness is without precedent, and must be experienced to be appreciated. Of course just now I can give you but little news from here. We found the rivers very high, the Tombigbee overflowing its banks for long distances, and it still rising. Speaking of the river, I will mention that the steamer Alice Vivian is now the regular Saturday boat from Mobile, and all who traveled on her last summer, on the Mississippi, will be glad to learn that such a favorite and commodious craft is at their disposal. Of the hunting, I cannot say much, though I am told that wild turkey, quails, etc., are in abundance. The black-tongue, however, made sad havoc among the deer, and the hunters have agreed to give them time to grow and increase. I am assured that from 18 to 20 carcasses have been found in one small pond.

Mr. Cullum is making many improvements this year, clearing the woods and beautifying the groves. He is also about to build a house on the summit of the highest hillock on his place, and proposes naming it after the reigning belle of the coming season. I trust this may serve as an additional incentive to many of our New Orleans ladies—acting, as it will, as a perpetual monument of beauty, grace and wit.

The weather is perfectly delightful, and the dry, balmy air is equally grateful to invalid and convalescent.

Vegetation is in a forward state, peas in blossom and potatoes quite high. Fruit trees also are in full bloom, and the wild flowers form a beautiful contrast with the deep green of the grass.

We all think of you to-day, in the full enjoyment of Mardi-gras and Mystick Krewe, but will wait patiently for your paper; being assured that you will give us a fair account of all that is going on—and if the Carnival has proved too much for mind or body, let me advise a short trip hitherward, to the intense quiet of the country. Yours, etc., J. W. K.

AMUSEMENTS LAST EVENING.

THE ORLEANS.—Well, we've seen her—we've seen and heard the great "talked about," and may say, without derogation of our critical dignity, that we are a Piccolomini man—we are attacked with a mild type of the furore and "Sarsaparilla" would'nt save us. We found a very brilliant and sufficiently full, if not a crowded auditory present, and some little practice of the science of physiognomics during the few minutes time before the curtain rose that was allowed for the scrutiny of faces, satisfied us that the people did not come there with the determination of being pleased, but that the debutante would have to conquer all the approval that she might win. It would not be a free gift, but something claimed and earned. Everybody was chillingly cool. But the curtain rose, and ere its fall on the brief act, Piccolomini could quote "veni, vidi, vici." She is neither very strong lunged nor very beautiful—but she is an exquisite, piquante actress, and this dramatic forte is what renders her so inevitably charming.

Her voice has no great power, but it is sweet and clear as the notes of silver bells; not as soft, liquid and expansive in its tones, as pure and well defined—a sparkling, glittering stream of sound, rather than a broad, flowing river of large volume. It is seconded by constant truth of gesture, attitude and facial expression—therefore she excels in emotional singing, and the auditor must have eyes as well as ears to appreciate her; he must look as well as listen, and catch the music of her aspect as well as of her voice.

The text of "La Traviata" is but a lively dialogue, until the third scene of the first act, where Violetta had the first opportunity it afforded of "going alone" in a brief aria, "Tra voi, sapro dividere," etc., which she gave with requisite melody and great effect, eliciting general applause in the boxes, though the old heads in the parquette carefully held off from a decided demonstration which would commit them.

In "Nu de Fetice," in the fourth scene, the little cantatrice had another chance at the obdurates of the parquette, and they gave strong evidences of succumbing to that beautiful duet between Violeta and Alfreda. In the fifth and closing scene she attached in the most dashing and confidant manner the army of critical habitues, making two such effective charges in "A fora'e lui che l'anima," and "Sempre libera degg'io," that they came down handsomely, and she bounded off the stage amid a broadside of applause so stormy that she bounded back to acknowledge it—was "called out," accepted the challenge, and stood a fire of plaudits. So, seeing that our little friend could get along without us and take care of herself, we left the old Orleans and came up town to

THE VARIETIES, where "The School for Scandal" was on the boards, much to the edification of a fair assemblage, for it was admirably played, with Mr. Henry Placide as Sir Peter Teazle, Mark Smith as Sir Oliver Surface, George Jordan as Charles Surface, Owens as Crabtree, and Messrs. Davenport, Holland, Briggs, Plunkett, Mrs. Boyce, Mrs. Sefton and Miss A. Graham in the cast.

AT THE ST. CHARLES Bulwer's beautiful, unequaled drama "The Lady of Lyons" was on, with Mrs. Hayne as Pauline, Mr. Pope as Claude Melnotte and Mr. Griffiths as Col. Damas. We have seen it vastly better played than last night, but it was worth seeing.

THE AMPHITHEATER.—The circus artists entertained their "catch" in their usual excellent style last night, and sent them all home in fine humor. Dilly Fay was gloriously brilliant, with his fresh and sparkling clownisms.

☞ Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills.—A singular combination, but very effectual, as the following will show:

NEW YORK, November 20, 1852.

Knowing, from experience, the valuable qualities of Dr. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, I have for some time back considered it my duty, and made it my business, to make those articles known wherever I went among my friends. A short time ago I became acquainted with the case of a young girl, who seemed to be troubled with worms and liver complaint at the same time, and had been suffering for some two months. Through my persuasion she purchased one bottle of Dr. M'LANE'S VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS, which she took according to directions. The result was, she passed a large quantity of worms, and thinks that one box more of the Pills will restore her to perfect health. Her name and residence can be learned by calling on E. L. Theall, Druggist, corner of Rutger and Monroe streets.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of Pittsburg, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS. Sold by SCOVILL & MEAD, 111 and 113 Chartres st., New Orleans, Wholesale Agents for the South.

☞ One hour is all the time required to keep the hair of any lady or gentleman of a brilliant brown or black color for the space of ONE YEAR, if CRISTADORO'S EXCELSIOR HAIR DYE be the article used for that purpose. EIGHT MINUTES only are consumed in applying it, and the brilliant and truly natural tint imparted to the hair, whiskers or moustache, lasts at least six weeks. No wonder that this Dye is displacing all others both in this country and in Europe. Sold everywhere, and supplied by all Hair Dressers.

☞ A new Sewing Machine, superior to all others, has been invented, and is now ready to be introduced to the public by the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company. It has been examined by competent judges, and is pronounced to be superior to anything ever invented; in fact, it is the wonder and admiration of every one. Nothing can be more simple, and a child eight years of age can work it with ease. It sews faster than any other machine, and is bound to supersede all others. There is none of the trouble of keeping it in working order that there is in machines of other makers. It does not require the operator to have several pages of printed instructions in order to work it, as is the case with the Wheeler & Wilson machine. There is no leather pad, which is so very troublesome, as in the Wheeler & Wilson machine. It does not require the thread all to be rewound into a complicated little spooler, as is required by the Sloat and Wheeler & Wilson machines, as it sews from the original spools just as they are purchased from the stores. The reputation of the machines formerly made by the Grover & Baker Company, is well-known all over the world. Hundreds of the first families in New Orleans, and throughout the South, bear testimony to the superior qualities of the Grover & Baker machines.

In order to place these useful machines into every family, the manufacturers have introduced a perfect machine, suitable for family sewing, at the low price of Fifty Dollars.

All of the leading patterns of the Grover & Baker machines can be purchased at the Southern depot of the Company, No. 11 Camp street, where purchasers will receive all required information.

They have each expended from three to fifteen hundred dollars with the most skillful dentists for teeth they could not use, and which were never worn with comfort. On the contrary the Plates made by us adhere AT ONCE FIRMLY, do not drop in talking, eat easy, and feel natural. Metallic plates have no sharp edges to wound the muscles and cause galvanic irritation. They are also far more durable, one-half lighter, and the material resisting acids, they are perfectly sweet and clean. The plate covering the roof of the mouth is almost entirely dispensed with, which is a great advantage to public speakers.
