Skeptical.
Those who are incredulous in regard to the superiority of Iron Fence as a defence against Fire compared with Wooden Fences, Doubtless will be convinced if they will take the trouble to read the following testimonial:
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1, 1859.
Messrs. Wm. Hunter & Co.—Gentlemen: The Iron Fence you put up around my premises, on the night of the 28th ult., has stood the test of fire, and I am happy to state that it has proved a complete success. The fire was communicated to the fence by the burning of a large pile of cotton seed, which was in contact with the fence, and consumed the entire mass, leaving the fence in a good state of preservation. Yours, respectfully,
JOHN L. CAMPBELL.
