Arrivals. Boats Due—Weather—Business—a Richmond in the Field"—Rise in Arkansas River—Steamer Gen. Hodges—Clipping from our Exchanges—Departures To-Day, etc., etc.

CRESCENT OFFICE, No. 70 Camp street, Friday, September 21, 1860.

The arrivals yesterday were moderate, though fair for this period of the year. The steamer Edw. J. Gay, from Chicago, came in well freighted. She leaves to-morrow for Memphis and the Bends, and homeward-bound every Alternate Saturday, during the season.

The L. G. Parry, direct from the Ohio river, made her appearance at the levee yesterday, under the auspices of our enterprising young friend, Capt. Henry McDougal. She is a newly built craft, is fully fitted in every department, and if we are not, is destined for the Mobile trade.

The magnificent steamer Mary E. Keene, from the Bends, and the cool passenger Golden Age and Grosse Tete, enhance the balance of the arrived lists.

Boats Due—D. S., Jamison, Emma, Flying Cloud and Planet, from St. Louis.

The steamer Sunny Side arrived at Cincinnati on the 17th.

Capt. Whitney's new Red River packet Fanny Pearson is expected to-day.

The weather yesterday was delightful, and business on the levee was tolerable active appearance.

We are informed by letter that the steamer Genl. Hodges is receiving her machinery, etc., at Louisville. Enterprising men who will be thoroughly fitted and ready to start South. The Genl. Hodges commands the Cincinnati and Louisville packet, which
