Free Gifts to all Subscribers and Something to Suit the Taste of Everybody.

Read This List Carefully, and, When You Find What You Want, Make up Your Mind to Have It.

For several months past we have been negotiating with various parties with a view of purchasing from them choice and acceptable articles, suitable for gifts to our subscribers at the time of the enlargement and change of name of this paper; and we now have the pleasure of announcing that we have perfected arrangements whereby we are enabled to offer

The Most Attractive Inducements to Subscribers Ever Given By Any Paper In the United States!

THE COUNTY PAPER is now the Largest, the Handsomest and the Best paper published in the Six counties of the large cities; it is all that a county paper should be; we can say without vanity that it is a credit to Holt county; and every citizen of the county, without regard to politics or religion, should feel a personal interest in increasing its circulation,—thereby enabling its publisher to maintain it at its present high standard and to add such other improvements as may from time to time suggest themselves. Every copy of this paper which goes abroad will instantly attract the attention of all who see it; and its legitimate size, and the excellence of its reading matter will advertise the fact that in this portion of the West there are intelligent people, who have splendid schools and churches and cosy homes, surrounded by orchards laden with choicest fruits, and fields of fine wheat and corn, and pastures in which roam fat cattle and hogs;—with soils of unsurpassed fertility and a climate famed for its healthfulness,—in whose midst thousands more of good people, who are now wearing away their lives on the rocky hillsides of the East, can find a welcome and own homes of their own for a mere nominal sum. To attract to us good citizens from other States will be one of the main aims of THE COUNTY PAPER, and in this work it hopes to be largely aided by its subscribers. Our citizens are composed of people from almost every State in the Union, and every subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER should send it each week, after reading it, to some friend in the State whence he came, whom he thinks would be likely attracted here to find a home.

Our first aim, however, is to increase our subscription list at home until THE COUNTY PAPER is a welcome visitor to every fireside in Holt county. There are Twenty Five Hundred people in the county who ought to take THE COUNTY PAPER, but who do not. We desire to appeal to each one of these people, in order to show him that it is to his interest to take the paper. The plea of poverty will not avail as an excuse for not doing so, as the inducements offered below are so liberal that, in many cases, the subscriber not only gets THE COUNTY PAPER for nothing, but is actually paid to take it. How we can afford to make these gifts does not concern the general public. "Never look a gift horse in the mouth" is a saying as old as it is wise. Let it suffice that we get everything honestly and that we are willing to share our good fortune with our subscribers.

Below will be found a list of the Gifts we offer to every subscriber who pays Two Dollars in advance for a year's subscription to THE COUNTY PAPER. None of the Gifts are for old subscribers who renew; theirs are for new subscribers. A full explanation of how the Gifts are awarded will be found at the bottom of the List of Gifts.

NO. 1.
A Choice of Books.

Any of the present subscribers to THE COUNTY PAPER who pays up all he now owes and pays Two Dollars in advance for another year will receive, as a free gift, his choice of either one of the following books. They are beautifully printed, on good heavy paper, and are complete and unabridged. They are printed by Harper & Bros., which is a guaranty that there is no fraud about them.

1.—"ENDYMION." By Lord Beaconsfield. This is the new book by the celebrated English author and politician, which has caused such an intense excitement throughout the literary world during the past few months, and for which his publishers paid the author Sixty Thousand Dollars in gold.

2.—"THE HISTORY OF A CRIME." By Victor Hugo. This is a vivid and graphic history, by the great French novelist, poet and historian, of the crime of Louis Napoleon in strangling the liberties of his country.

3.—"THE PLAGUE IN LONDON." By Daniel Defoe, author of "Robinson Crusoe." This is a true history, by one of the most distinguished writers in our language, of the mysterious and awful visitation of the Plague in England.

NOS. 2 AND 3.
Flower and Vegetable Seeds.

Every present subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER who pays all he now owes and pays Two Dollars in advance for another year's subscription, will be presented, as a free gift, with his choice of either of the two following collections of seeds—instead of one of the books above described, if he prefers the seeds to a book. The seeds are grown by a well known and reliable seedsman and are guaranteed to be fresh and true to name. Every package is of the usual size and contains as many seeds as those usually sold in the stores. The seeds will be delivered on the 15th of March, which is early enough for all gardens in this latitude, and will be delivered as soon thereafter as we can receive them from the express.

Seed Collection, No. "A."

Contains ten packages of choice annual Flower Seeds, valued at $1, as follows:

Asters, Double, Choice, mixed varieties and colors.	Pansy, Choicest Varieties, mixed.

Cypress Vine, mixed colors.	Portulacca, Double, choicest colors, mixed.
Helichrysum Monstrosum, Double Varieties, mixed.	Verbena Hybrida, Choice mixed colors.
Lobelia, Basket Varieties, mixed.	Zinnia, Double, splendid colors, mixed.

Seed Collection, No. "B."

Lettuce, Curled Silesia.	Pepper, Large Ball.

Each of the above collections is put up in a neat and attractive box and will contain a sheet of paper, giving the culture and description of each variety it contains, and will also illustrate most of the sorts. By aid of this, every person receiving the seed can act knowingly, and will be sure to have success.

NO. 4.
More Vegetable Seeds.

Every new subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER who pays Two Dollars in advance for a year's subscription, will be presented with the following choice collection of seeds, embracing all the popular varieties and being sufficient to furnish all the different kinds of vegetables usually wanted by any family. These seeds, if bought in the stores, would cost Two Dollars; so that every new subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER gets seeds which are worth as much as he pays for a year's subscription.

Cabbage, Early York.	Water Melon, Mountain Sweet.
Cabbage, Premium Flat Dutch.	Mustard, White.
Carrot, Long Orange.	Okra, Dwarf.
Celery, Dwarf White.	Onion, Weathersfield Red.

Musk Melon, Prolific Nutmeg.	Turnip, Purple Strap leaved.

These seeds, like those described in the other two collections, will be put up in a neat box, containing a paper giving full directions in regard to the cultivation of each vegetable; and will be delivered to subscribers immediately after the 15th of March.

NO. 5.
Pictorial Handy Lexicon.

Every new subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER who pays Two Dollars in advance for a year's subscription, will be presented with either of the books above named, or either one of the seed collections, or if he does not want either of the above we will present him with a copy of the Pictorial Handy Lexicon, containing over 25,000 words and phrases and 250 engravings. This comprehensive little Dictionary will answer questions of spelling, pronunciation and meaning in more than nine tenths of the cases that occur to the average reader, and save time, muscle and patience every day, even to the owner of the big Unabridged. It is neatly bound in cloth and clearly printed on good paper.

NO. 6.
The Midland Farmer.

Any present subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER who pays all he now owes and pays Four Dollars in advance for two years' subscription; or pays Two Dollars for his own subscription and brings the name of a new subscriber for one year at Two Dollars, cash in advance, will be presented with any two of the above gifts he may select, except Nos. 4 and 5; or if he chooses not to take either of them, he will be presented with a year's subscription to The Midland Farmer, a monthly agricultural paper, published in St. Louis and devoted to the interests of Western Farmers. It is an old and well established paper, which has a wide circulation among intelligent farmers and will be sure to please all that class who receive it. The new subscriber will also be entitled to any one of the above gifts he may select, except the Midland Farmer.

Understand that if the old subscriber who brings the name of a new subscriber chooses the Midland Farmer, he gets no other gift. He can either take any two of the above gifts, or he can take the Midland Farmer; but he cannot begin both the Midland Farmer and the two other gifts.

NO. 7.
"Good Literature."

Any present Subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER who settles up all arrearages and pays Six Dollars in advance for three years' subscription; or who pays Two Dollars in advance for his own subscription one year and brings the names of two new subscribers for one year at Two Dollars each, cash, will be presented with any two of the gifts above described; or instead of them, if he prefers, we will present him with a year's subscription to Good Literature, a weekly paper published in New York, every issue of which is filled with first-class reading matter. It is just one-half the size of THE COUNTY PAPER and contains no advertisements. Those who wish to keep up with the times in literature will be delighted with this paper, as it contains full notices and reviews of all new publications of worth.

The new subscribers under this offer will each be entitled to his choice of the gifts above described, except Nos. 6 and 7.

NO. 8.
Books for Every Fireside.

Any present subscriber to THE COUNTY PAPER who will settle up all arrearages and pay Two Dollars for another year's subscription for himself, and also bring us three new subscribers at Two Dollars each in advance, will be presented with his choice of the following collections:

1. All three of the books described under Gift No. 1.
2. Either one of the books described under Gift No. 1, and Gifts No. 2 and No. 3.
3. Gift No. 4, and either of the books in Gift No. 1; or Gift No. 4 and either Gift No. 2 or Gift No. 3 (but not both of the latter.)
4. Gift No. 5 and any one of Gifts No. 1, 2, 3 and 4.
5. Gift No. 6 and any one of Gifts No. 1, 2, 3 and 4.
6. Any one of the following well-known books—each of which should have a place in every family in the land. Every one has heard of these books and almost every grown person has read them. But they are new to the young people and for generations have been regarded as standard works to stimulate a love for reading. They are read with equal pleasure by the child of ten and the grandsire of eighty; and both can always find them instructive, entertaining and amusing.

"BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS." Complete, with very fine illustrations by Barnard and others. Large type; cloth binding in black and gold.

"THE ARABIAN NIGHTS." The wonderful stories of the thousand and one nights' entertainments. Sixteen full page illustrations. Cloth binding in black and gold.

"ROBINSON CRUSOE." Who needs to be told about this book? Full and complete; sixteen full page illustrations; cloth binding in black and gold.

"ÆSOP'S FABLES." Complete, with copious additions from modern authors. Profusely illustrated; printed in large type with cloth binding in black and gold.

"SAYINGS, WISE AND OTHERWISE." A book which will make you laugh, and yet which will set you to thinking. Large type; very tasty cloth binding.

"THE KORAN OF MOHAMMED." Translated from the Arabic by George Sale. It should be in every house, if only to refer to as a matter of curiosity. Neatly bound in cloth.

NO. 9.
"The Perfect Shakespeare"

To any subscriber, new or old, who will pay us $3.50, cash in advance, we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year and also present him with a copy of The Perfect Shakespeare. This edition of Shakespeare's works is by far the best and most complete ever issued. It is carefully prepared from the earliest and more modern editions, selected where commentators have differed as to the sense of obscure or doubtful passages, from those readings which the ablest critics believe to be the most Shakespearean and best suited to a popular edition. Illustrated with 30 Large Engravings, designed by JOHN CONDEN, the celebrated artist and engraver, and a steel portrait of Shakespeare.

We have used the term "Perfect" as applied to this edition, and any one that will examine it will see that it well merits the title; and, indeed, is the only edition that fully deserves the title of "Perfect."

There are numerous editions of this wonderful writer's works, got up in all styles, and at every price. But, unfortunately, they are all more or less faulty. From some editions many of the strongest passages are omitted in deference to squeamish namby-pambyism. In other editions many scenes are transposed, till the plays are made, like Joseph's coat, a thing "of shreds and patches." But in this Edition, the "Perfect" Shakespeare, all the Poems—all the Plays—all the Characters—all the Language—are given unabridged, clear and perfect as they originally sprang from the august brow of this Jove of Poets—the sublime Shakespeare. It is not necessary at this late day to say aught in praise of Shakespeare's works: for they are universally admitted to be the grandest efforts of any human mind. Works that have been eulogized by Ben. Johnson, by Dryden, by Addison, by Milton (Prince of Poets,) who has beautifully written of him as

"Sweetest Shakespeare—Nature's child—Warbling his native wood notes wild," needs no eulogy from meaner men.

They present an epitome of all human passions, motives, actions and expressions. None are too high, none too low to miss being instructed as well as delighted by the play and poetry of Shakespeare. The is in every respect the best edition. Every word of the original is in it. It is printed from new, clear, easily-read type. It is a fine, large, handsome book—an ornament to any parlor table. It is embellished with many striking illustrations. The "Perfect" Shakespeare, in addition to the whole of Shakespeare's Comedies, Histories, Tragedies and Poems—all that he ever wrote—contains the full text of Shakespeare's Will as recorded in the office of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, and also a complete explanatory glossary of all the unusual words or phrases occurring in his works, making one Handsome Quarto Volume, bound in the best English cloth, with artistic designs in black and gold on back and side. The size of the book is 11 1-2 inches high, 9 inches wide, 1 1-2 inches thick, and weighs 3 pounds. A specimen copy can be seen at the office of the editor THE COUNTY PAPER.

When this edition was first issued it was sold at seven Dollars a copy; but we have made arrangements whereby we can give it away to our subscribers in the manner above mentioned. ☞ Any one who wants to procure the Perfect Shakespeare without the payment of any cash, can do so by bringing us the names of seven new subscribers, at two Dollars each, cash in advance. These new subscribers will be given premiums the same as other new subscribers.

NO. 10.
Beautiful Jewelry Casket.

To any subscriber, new or old, who will pay us Four Dollars cash in advance, we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year, and also present him with a Casket containing Twenty Pieces of Beautiful Jewelry. This jewelry is not composed of solid pure gold, but all the parts representing gold are heavily gold-plated and look as well and are almost as good as if they were solid gold. The various articles intended for ladies' wear are really handsome and are as good as are worn by many ladies who hold high heads in the fashionable world. The articles for gentlemen's wear are also nobby and jaunty and stylish. No one, after examining this jewelry, would believe it possible for us to furnish such an amount of really handsome jewelry for the mere trifle at which we offer it in connection with THE COUNTY PAPER; yet we do it, and do it honestly. Some idea of how we struck this bonanza may be gathered from the following statement: About two years ago a firm of jewelry manufacturers in Providence, Rhode Island, received an order from a prominent New York firm of manufacture 200,000 of these Caskets, each containing twenty pieces of jewelry. After disposing of about 100,000 of the Caskets, which sold as rapidly as they could be thrown on the market, the New York firm was overtaken with financial difficulties and were unable to take the remainder. This made it necessary to dispose of them at any sacrifice, and we have secured a few of them for the subscribers to THE COUNTY PAPER.

Each Casket Contains:

1 Ladies' Elegant Imitation Coral Set.	1 Set Alaska Diamond Ear-Drops.
1 Ladies' Elegant Imitation Coral Necklace.	1 Heavy Gold Plated Wedding-Ring
1 Ladies' Imitation Coral Shawl-Pin.	1 Ladies' Jet and Gold Set (Pin and Drops.)
1 Pair Ladies' Imitation Coral Cuff Pins.	1 Heavy Plated Gents' Watch Chain.
1 Gents' Coral Scarf Pin.	1 Gents' Set Alaska Diamond Studs (beauties.)
1 Pair Gold-Plated Bracelets.	1 Gents' Gold Plated Collar Button.
1 Ladies' Elegant Heavy Gold-Plated Cameo Stone Ring.	1 Gents' Lake George Maltese Cross Set.
1 Ladies' Gold plated Veil or Hat Pin.	1 Gents' Set Engraved Gold-Plated Shirt Studs.
1 Pair Amethyst Sleeve Buttons.	1 Gents' Cameo Stone Ring (good as gold.)
1 Pair Engraved Gold Plated Sleeve-Buttons.
1 Set Cameo Stone Ear-Drops.

☞ Any lady or gentleman who wishes to secure one of these caskets without the payment of any cash can do so by bringing us the names of eight new subscribers at Two Dollars each, cash in advance. Each of these new subscribers will be entitled to the gifts they choose, the same as other new subscribers.

NO. 11.
The Peoples' Encyclopedia.

To any subscriber, new or old, who will pay us $8.50 cash in advance, we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year and present a set set of Chambers's Encyclopædia, in Fifteen Volumes of about 800 pages each, fine type, closely but clearly printed, and handsomely and substantially bound in cloth. This is the publication (with the exception of the American Additions) which has been so extensively advertised for the past year under the title of Library of Universal Knowledge. It is a full and complete reprint of the Edinburg, Scotland, 1883 edition of Chambers's Encyclopædia. When, about ten months ago, the American Book Exchange announced their intention of publishing this immense work in fifteen volumes and selling them at Fifty Cents a Volume, people were incredulous and it took several months to convince the public that there was no humbug or swindle about it. The new price was so tremendously lower (being less than one-third of the old price) than the price at which it had formerly been sold, that people could not believe it possible that they could be manufactured for the price named. When the first volume made its appearance people examined it closely, found it to be well and clearly printed on thin but strong paper, and strongly and substantially bound in durable cloth. Still they shook their heads and doubted and predicted that the publishers won't go into bankruptcy before they finished the fifteen volumes. But steadily every two or three weeks a new volume made its appearance, and, as time wore on, people began to gain confidence, the sales increased rapidly toward the last, until now the fifteen volumes are finished and are on our table before us as we write. Notwithstanding the rapidity with which they were rushed through the press there was no slighting of the work, and every volume is a model of mechanical execution. Upwards of one hundred thousand copies have now been sold, and the publishers say that this is but the beginning, as they intend to sell a million copies. Nor is this improbable. These books constitute a library in themselves. Whether a man has other books or not, he should have these, for they contain information upon almost every subject within the range of human knowledge; and, as the subjects are alphabetically arranged, any of them can be turned to in a moment. Formerly the possession of an Encyclopædia like that of Chambers's or Appleton's was reserved for only the wealthy; but since the daring innovation of the Literary Revolution in publishing Chambers's Encyclopædia in fifteen volumes at Fifty Cents a volume (with ten cents a volume added for postage to those who cannot call for them at the publication office) almost any man can become the owner of these coveted books. THE COUNTY PAPER most earnestly wishes that every family in Holt county may have a set of these volumes; and it is proud and happy that it has an opportunity to offer them to its subscribers at a price considerably lower than is charged by the publishers. To demonstrate: The very lowest price in cash at which these books can be bought of the publishers in New York is Fifty Cents per volume—making seven and a half dollars for the fifteen volumes. To this price persons outside of New York city must add the cost of sending them by mail, which is ten cents a volume. This amounts to one and a half dollars,—making the total cost of the Encyclopædia to persons in Holt county, Nine Dollars. And this is the very lowest price at which they can be bought. But by availing ourselves of a very liberal offer made us by the publishers, whereby we are permitted to pay a considerable portion in advertising, we are able to offer the Encyclopædia and a year's subscription to THE COUNTY PAPER for Fifty Cents less than any one else would have to pay for the Encyclopædia alone! In other words, we furnish the Encyclopædia and THE COUNTY PAPER one year, for only Eight and a half Dollars, which is Fifty Cents less than the lowest cash price of the Encyclopædia, postage added. It is not necessary to allude further to this branch of the subject; every reader will instantly see the point, and we hope that hundreds of them will avail themselves of this opportunity to procure books so essential to every intelligent household.—We must add one other thought—though we have already said so much. The editor of THE COUNTY PAPER owns both Appletons' Cyclopædia and Chambers's Encyclopædia. The former is in sixteen volumes and cost him ninety-six dollars. The latter is in fifteen volumes and cost him nine dollars. Yet if he were forced to give up one or the other he would keep Chambers's! It contains more reading matter than Appleton's; the subjects are treated more intelligibly; the print is just as clear; and, the volumes weighing so much less, are vastly more comfortable to handle.

☞ Any one who would like to get the above described Chambers's Encyclopædia without the payment of any cash whatever, can do so by bringing us the names of thirty new subscribers, at Two Dollars each, cash. Each of these new subscribers will be entitled to a gift the same as other new subscribers.

NO. 12.
An Elegant Top Buggy.

For Eighty-Five Dollars, cash in advance, we will send THE COUNTY PAPER one year and also present the subscriber with his choice of three different styles of Top Buggies—a picture of one of which is shown elsewhere—the subscriber to pay freight from Cincinnati, Ohio. Pictures of the other two styles can be seen at the office of THE COUNTY PAPER. These Buggies are manufactured by T. T. Hadock, the celebrated Cincinnati manufacturer, and the lowest cash price at the manufactory is $110 for each. It will thus be seen that we furnish them for $25 less than they can possibly be bought for, and throw in a year's subscription to THE COUNTY PAPER besides. Any one who wants a good buggy will never have a better opportunity than this to secure it for so little money. All these Buggies have Leather Quarters; Rubber Roof and Curtains; Trimmed in Leather or Blue Cloth, as desired; Sarven Patent Wheels, Test Springs and Axles. In short, they are made for service as well as display, and will last well and give satisfaction. The manufacturer gives a written Warrant with each Buggy that if a wheel, spring or axle breaks within one year from date of purchase, on account of bad material, it can be returned to him and he will send a new one.

Take Particular Notice.

All the books offered as Gifts by THE COUNTY PAPER will be ordered by us from the publishers from time to time as we may have call for them. We shall probably order about every two weeks. This plan is rendered necessary in order to prevent us from accumulating books which our subscribers do not want. We have no means of judging in advance what books they will select. Those subscribers who select books as gifts will inform us or our agents what books they want, at the time they pay their subscriptions, and if we do not have them on hand we will send for them in our next order and forward them to the subscribers as soon as we receive them.

Concluding Appeal.

Now, Good People of Holt and adjoining counties, THE COUNTY PAPER is before you. You see what it is and it speaks for itself. We promised that it should be the Largest, the Handsomest, and the Best County Paper in the State. With becoming modesty, we claim that we have fulfilled our promise. No citizen of Holt county will be ashamed to send THE COUNTY PAPER abroad as an index of the intelligence of our people. We confess that we are proud of this paper, and we believe our pride will be shared by all our subscribers.

But not only do we furnish our readers the best county paper in the State; we also offer the most liberal Gifts to subscribers ever presented by any paper in the United States, so far as our knowledge extends. Our object in this is to largely swell our subscription list. We want more subscribers—a GREAT MANY more—and we want our present subscribers to aid us in getting them. We ought to have a thousand more subscribers in Holt county, and we can secure them if our present subscribers will only aid us by showing the paper to their neighbors and telling them of the pleasure they derive every week from reading it. We help appoint every one of our subscribers our agent, and we urge each one to interest himself or herself in our behalf. Just think of this: if each of our subscribers will send us just one name we will have nearly three thousand subscribers; and then we can—and will—make THE COUNTY PAPER still better than it now is, vastly more so. Though we know our subscribers feel kindly toward us, we stimulate their good will by offering them inducements, in the shape of valuable gifts, for all they do for us. These Gifts are so various that, among them all, no one can fail to find just what he or she may want. We offer Gifts for securing all the way from one subscriber up to fifty, and ranging in value from 25 cents up to $110. Good Friends, in helping us you also help yourselves. The more subscribers you get for us, the better we will make the paper for you. And there is not a subscriber on our list who cannot send us at least one new name. And "every little helps." If enough subscribers will send us new names to make an average of one name from each, we will be satisfied. Read over carefully the foregoing list of Gifts; and if you find the name of some thing you want which can be had by securing a few subscribers for us, make up your minds to have it and go to work and get it. It will take very little trouble. No one can look through THE COUNTY PAPER without being pleased with it; and when the further inducement is held out that every subscriber is allowed his choice of a number of valuable gifts, there is not one intelligent man out of twenty who will refuse to subscribe. Try it! Young ladies and gent'emen can, by very little effort, secure a large number of those charming books, the names of which are sure to make them wish for them.

Now, who will help us? We propose to publish, from time to time, a Roll of Honor, containing the names of those who specially interest themselves for us. Shall we not have the pleasure of inserting your name in that list?

Very Droll To Think Of.

If not above being taught by a man, use Dobbin's Electric Soap next washday. Used without any wash boiler or rubbing board and used differently from any other soap ever made. It seems very droll to think of a quiet, orderly two hours light work on wash-day, with no heat and no steam, or smell of the washing through the house, instead of a long day's hard work but hundreds of thousands of women, from Nova Scotia to Texas, have proved for themselves that this is done by using Dobbin's Electric Soap. Don't buy it, however, if too set in your ways to use it according to directions, that are as simple as to seem almost ridiculous and so easy that a girl of twelve years can do a large wash without being tired. It positively will not injure the finest fabric, has been before the public for fifteen years, and its sale doubles every year. If your grocer has not got it, he will get it, as all wholesale grocers keep it. Naver, McCord and Co., wholesale Agts., St. Joseph, Mo.
