...DERFUL DISCOVERY!

CARBOLINE.

A DEODORIZED EXTRACT OF PETROLEUM.

The only Article that will Restore Hair on Bald Heads.

WHAT THE WORLD HAS BEEN WANTING FOR CENTURIES.

The greatest discovery of our day, so far as a large portion of humanity is concerned, is CARBOLINE, an article prepared from Petroleum, and which effects a complete and radical cure in case of baldness, or where the hair, owing to diseases of the scalp, has become thin and tends to fall out. It is also a speedy restorative, and, while its use secures a luxuriant growth of hair, it also brings back the natural color, and gives the most complete satisfaction in the using. The falling out of the hair, the accumulations of dandruff, and the premature change in color, are all evidences of a diseased condition of the scalp and the glands which nourish the hair. To arrest these causes the article used must possess medical as well as chemical virtues, and the change must begin under the scalp to be of permanent and lasting benefit. Such an article is CARBOLINE, and like many other wonderful discoveries it is found to consist of elements almost in their natural state. Petroleum oil is the article which is made to work such extraordinary results; but it is after it has been chemically treated and completely deodorized that it is in proper condition for the toilet. It was in far-off Russia that the effect of petroleum upon the hair was first observed, a Government officer having noticed that a partially bald-headed servant of his, when trimming the lamps, had a habit of wiping his oil-besmeared hands in his scanty locks, and the result was in a few months a much finer head of black, glossy hair than he ever had before. The oil was tried on horses and cattle that had lost their hair from the cattle plague, and the results were as rapid as they were marvelous. The manes and even the tails of horses, which had fallen out, were completely restored in a few weeks. These experiments were heralded to the world, but the knowledge was practically useless to the prematurely bald and gray, as no one in civilized society could tolerate the use of refined petroleum as a dressing for the hair. But the skill of one of our own chemists has overcome the difficulty, and, by a process known only to himself, he has, after very elaborate and costly experiments, succeeded in deodorizing petroleum, which renders it susceptible of being handled as delicately as the famous eau de cologne. The experiments made with the deodorized liquid on the human hair were attended with the most astonishing results. A few applications where the hair was thin and falling gave remarkable tone and vigor to the scalp and hair. Every particle of dandruff disappears on the first or second dressing, and the liquid, so searching in its nature, seems to penetrate to the roots at once and set up a radical change from the start. It is well known that the most beautiful colors are made from petroleum, and by some mysterious operation of nature the use of this article gradually imparts a beautiful light-brown color to the hair, which, by continued use, deepens to a black. The color remains permanent for an indefinite length of time, and the change is so gradual that the most intimate friends can scarcely detect its progress. In a word, it is the most wonderful discovery of the age, and well calculated to make the prematurely bald and gray rejoice.

We advise our readers to give it a trial, feeling satisfied that one application will convince them of its wonderful effects.—Pittsburg Commercial of October 22, 1877.

The article is telling its own story in the hands of thousands who are using it with most gratifying and encouraging results.

MR. GUSTAVUS F. HALL, of the Oates Opera Troupe writes: "After six weeks' use am convinced, as are also my comrades, that your CARBOLINE has and is producing a wonderful growth of hair where I had none for years."

N. MCCLARRAN, Sixth Avenue Pharmacy, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "The good effects from the use of CARBOLINE are brought to my notice every day in such an extent as to justify me in recommending it to my most intimate friends."

A GRAND REMEDY.

Reuter's Life Syrup

is a double medicine, being both an alterative and a purgative in one; such a medicine has never before been made. Heretofore, persons suffering with any disease caused by bad blood or humors, have always been forced to take a purifier to neutralize the poison, and then to take a purgative to carry it out of the system, but with REUTER'S LIFE SYRUP no such thing is necessary; it does the work of both purifying and purging, moreover, it is by far the best stimulator and invigorator of the liver. It tones, strengthens and cleanses the stomach, and is the easiest, surest and safest purge. It is made from plants and herbs, and is so pleasant to the taste and smell that children and sensitive ladies take it as if it were a delicious beverage.

The STAR is handsomely printed on pure white paper from clear cut type, that makes it easily read, even by a poor light. Readers and men just as you get it out the week before.

The STAR is free from political bias, and gives all the news without fear and favor, so as to enable its readers to form a correct judgment on whatever is passing; and it discusses questions without prejudice, but always in the interest of the producing classes.

MYTHOLOGY.

The Grecian Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed their gods to be of the same shape and form as themselves, but of far greater beauty, strength, and dignity. A fluid named "ichor" supplied the place of blood in the veins of the gods; their meat was "ambrosia," their drink "nectar," and they undoubtedly dressed their hair with Carboline, which stimulates the glands of the scalp into healthy action, prevents the hair from falling out, and promotes its luxuriant growth, rendering it soft, youthful, and glossy. It is prepared from natural petroleum, thoroughly deodorized and delightfully perfumed. Sold by all dealers in drugs and medicines.

The Globe-Democrat.

THE GLOBE-DEMOCRAT OWES ITS UNPRECEDENTED success to the fulness and accuracy of its news reports and the fairness and candor of its criticisms on current events. It is our intention to make these characteristics even more marked in the future than they have been in the past. Recognizing the fruth to be the highest obligation which a newspaper owes to its readers, we shall at all times publish the essential facts relating to public affairs and public officers, and shall reserve the privilege of commenting upon them as they appear to us to be related to right and wrong, rather than as they appear likely to effect the political standing of those involved.

Politically the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT has made a record in defense of the principles and ideas of the Republican party, of which it has just cause to be proud. And in the future it will be found battling on the side on which it has been engaged in the past. As a party newspaper it will support the platforms and candidates of Republicanism, and will use its best endeavors for their election, believing that by their success the welfare of the country can best be promoted. The Republicanism that saved the nation can give the best guarantee of the nation's prosperous existence.

The year 1879 will be an important one in the political history of the United States. The elections of 1878, while strongly emphasizing the popular voice in favor of honest money, and the faithful discharge of all national obligations, clearly pointed out the necessity for hearty accord and unanimity in the councils of the Republican party in order to insure success to the Republican candidate in 1880. In 1879 the debate between honesty and dishonesty will be continued before the people, and the result of the great contest of 1880 will be to a large extent prefigured in the State and local contest of that year. The importance of extending the circulation of a newspaper like the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT, the strongly avowed advocate of honest money and the honest payment of public and private debts, is therefore apparent.

As a record of current events the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT has few equals in the West. With increased energy in the collection of news, involving largely increased expence, we shall endeavor in this respect to improve upon our past reputation. With active and intelligent correspondents at every news center in the country, authorized to use the telegraph to its fullest extent in the transmission of news, we hope to be able to present each morning a faithful narrative of the world's doings for the previous day. Our correspondence from Washington will be full and accurate, and we shall employ a faithfull corps of news gathers to collect all the important legislative features at each Western State Capital during the winter sessions. Our local News will be carefully edited and prepared for the weekly edition, and our Market Reports will, as heretofore, be entitled to the distinction of greater accuracy and more fullness than that of any of our contemporaries of the West.
