New Orleans Daily Crescent.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 29, 1862.

New Orleans Money Market.

Commercial Office, No. 10 Camp street, Wednesday Morning, Jan. 29, 1862.

Nothing of an especial character transpired to-day. The general money and paper markets moved along quietly, very quietly. Bank managers in general seemed to be in very good humor, though they did not disclose the extent of their intentions. More than one-half of their income is, however, merely through the renewing process, which has been recognized by the Legislature. The bank act relative to suits against the banks is received with universal commendation. Generally speaking, the money market is strong, with no indications of any changes for the worse.

The President and Directors of the Bank of Louisiana declared a regular half-yearly dividend of 5 per cent. to-day, payable on and after Monday, the 3d of February.

The special election for directors on the part of stockholders was held to-day, which resulted in the following ticket being returned, no opposition ticket being offered:

[illegible] M. Hyams,
[illegible] Kennedy, John D. Marsh,
[illegible] Shepherd, L. P. Genoese,
[illegible] Rogers, William N. Mercer,
[illegible] Jonathan Montgomery,
[illegible] Rogers, William W. Montgomery,
[illegible] Davis,
[illegible] Bogelus, Thorehill and Buckner to outlay station.

We present below the half-yearly statement of the Bank of Louisiana, which shows a surplus of $1,121,826 against $1,119,509 last year. The directors declared yesterday a dividend of the seventy-first, and accordingly of the profits the Ajax has paid its stockholders within the last ten years as follows:

[illegible]	1852	15 Pct.
[illegible]	1853	15 "
