Six Frightful Failures.

Six terrible failures of six different doctors nearly sent Wm. H. Mullen of Lockland, O., to an early grave. All said he had a fatal lung trouble and that he must soon die. But he was urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. After taking five bottles he was entirely cured. It is positively guaranteed to cure all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, including Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Blackmore's drug store.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the district court of the 5th judicial district of the territory of New Mexico, within and for the county of Eddy.

Charles H. Bartlett and Ella Bartlett, plaintiffs vs.
Lloyd Jones, defendant } No. 418.

The above named defendant, Lloyd Jones, is hereby notified that a complaint has been filed against him in the district court within and for Eddy county, territory of New Mexico, by Charles H. Bartlett and Ella Bartlett, plaintiffs herein, claiming that they are the legal owners of the nely of sec. 3 tp. 24 s, of rge. 26 e, in Eddy county, N. M., also a one-third interest in and to a water right and ditch right known as the "Riggs Ditch" in said county of Eddy, and that said defendant, Lloyd Jones, obtained what now purports to be a title to said property by fraud and misrepresentations, and ask that any pretended deed executed at Denver, Colorado, on or about Apr 26, 1895, from plaintiff, Ella Bartlett, to defendant, Lloyd Jones, for the property above described, or any part thereof, be by decree of this court declared null and void and of no force or effect whatever, and such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable in the premises.

Said defendant is also notified that unless he enters his appearance in said cause on or before the 22nd day of December 1899, judgment by default therein will be rendered against you.

The name of the plaintiff's attorney is A. J. Mitchell, of Albuquerque, N. M.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the district court of the United States, for the fifth district of the territory of New Mexico.

In the matter of
M. J. Murray, } In Bankruptcy.
Bankrupt.

To the creditors of M. J. Murray, of Carlsbad, in the county of Eddy and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 4th day of October, A. D. 1899, the said M. J. Murray was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at Socorro, New Mexico, in the district aforesaid, on the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1899, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

W. E. KELLEY,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dated at Socorro, New Mexico, this 1st day of November, A. D. 1899.

Notice of Hearing of Administrator's Petition to Sell Real Estate.

In the district court of the fifth judicial district of the territory of New Mexico, within and for the county of Eddy.

J. O. Cameron, administrator of the estate of E. T. Cusenbery, deceased,
vs
W. P. Cusenbery, D. B. Cusenbery, J. S. Cusenbery, R. K. Cusenbery and T. E. Cusenbery.

Whereas, An affidavit has been filed in the office of the clerk of said court showing that the above named defendants are beyond out of the territory of New Mexico, and,

Whereas, the summons issued to the sheriff of Eddy county, New Mexico, directing him to serve the same upon the above named defendants, and the said summons has been returned by the said sheriff of Eddy county, with the endorsements thereon, that after diligent search the defendants could not be found by him;

Now, Therefore, in accordance with the statutes in such cases made and provided, notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in this court by the said J. O. Cameron as administrator of the estate of E. T. Cusenbery, deceased, praying for an order directing him to sell certain real estate situated in the county of Eddy and territory of New Mexico, belonging to the estate of the said E. T. Cusenbery, deceased for the purpose of providing funds with which to pay a balance remaining unpaid upon approved claims outstanding against the said estate, and the said defendants W. P. Cusenbery, D. B. Cusenbery, J. S. Cusenbery, R. K. Cusenbery and T. E. Cusenbery, who are the sons at law of the said E. T. Cusenbery, deceased, are directed to appear before the said court and answer the said petition of J. O. Cameron, administrator, on or before the first day of December, A. D. 1899, and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted, the said first day of December being the day on which the original summons issued herein was made returnable.

In witness whereof the clerk of the said district court has hereunto set his name and the seal of his office on this the 28th day of October, A. D. 1899.

The citizens of Springer have appealed to the supreme court of the United States in the case involving the legality of the act removing the county seat of Colfax county to Raton. The ground for appeal is that the legislature has no right to pass a special act for the benefit of one county.

In all 135 men were discharged at the San Marcial shops. Some of them found employment at Albuquerque, others at Clarkville while the majority will leave the territory.

Senator John J. Ingalls, who is staying at Las Cruces for the benefit of his health, is expected here soon with Major Llewelyn to inspect our gold and copper mines.—Sierra Co. Advocate.

San Marcial Bee: It may be news to one or two shop towns on the Santa Fe system to know that the contemplated plan of the railroad company is to abolish all the small shops and concentrate the works at five points about 500 miles apart. The favored towns are Topeka, La Junta, San Bernardino, and Cleburne, Tex. At all other points the force kept will be similar to that operating at San Marcial.

Governor Murphy, of Arizona, has recently returned from an extended trip east, and says the prospects for statehood for Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico were never so bright as at present. The former territory, he thought, would be admitted at the next session of congress, and in the case of Arizona and New Mexico, enabling acts would be passed, which would ensure their admission immediately after the next presidential election.

The Statehood Outlook.

New Mexican.

Down in Oklahoma the people are hustling for statehood. There is a statehood committee, and a meeting has been called to begin an active campaign. Oklahoma deserves statehood, and there is some probability of the boon being secured by the coming congress. But this will happen only in connection with the admission of New Mexico. On his recent trip to the great event in Chicago Governor Otero met many members of the senate, the house of representatives, prominent cabinet officers and officials from Washington, and representative men from many states. All showed an interest in the affairs and conditions prevailing in the territory. The governor's representations concerning the wisdom and justice of admitting the territory to statehood seemed to be approved by all who discussed the matter with him, and the opinion was general that there will be little organized opposition to admission at the next term of congress. The reputation made by people in their ready call for volunteers for two armies; the improved condition of the affairs of the territory; the growth of the interest in mining; the more liberal feeling that prevails toward all people and all creeds as a result of their mingling in the wars, and the broadened ideas of the power and mission of the United States are all factors tending to secure admission of the territory to full membership in the family of states. An awakened moral sense of the duty of the nation to improve the condition of the people in foreign possessions calls attention to the duty of encouraging the advancement of the population in sections acquired at an earlier date but which have not been given full political recognition and privileges. Their attainment would enable the people to advance more rapidly and hasten the development of the wealth of the territory.

Las Cruces can boast of a real live prodigy. It is a Dona Ana county cowboy 11 years of age, who is, and has been for three years, herding, herding, and driving beef cattle to this and to the Deming market, doing all by him self. His name is Edward Hall.

He Got Away.

Last Friday Officer James Grant arrested Lishie Leslie near Red Lake, on charge of larceny of cattle. Fifty or sixty head of cattle were found in his pasture; a number, it is claimed, belonged to Joe Vega, others belonging to Block Cattle company and—W cattle company were identified. At Red Lake Leslie got on his horse by permission, to ride into the lake and get a bucket of water, the water being cooler out in the lake than near the shore, was the excuse for getting on horse back. When mounted with bucket in hand, and with stake rope only on the horse, not having taken time to saddle and bridle the animal, Leslie started toward the lake, when the horse began plunging and pitching with the rider, who apparently was putting forth every effort to ride him until a hundred and fifty or two hundred yards away, when he fell onto the horse's neck sticking spurs into his sides, and as the boys say, "split the breeze" for parts unknown, with officers in pursuit but out of range. Robert Leslie, Lishie's father, was also arrested here Monday on the same charge and at a preliminary hearing hearing before Justice Steward was placed under a $250 appearance bond.

Brave Explorers.

Like Stanley and Livingstone, found it harder to overcome Malaria, Fever and Ague, and Typhoid disease germs than savage cannibals; but thousands have found that Electric Bitters is a wonderful cure for all malarial diseases. If you have chills with fever, aches in back of neck and head, and tired, worn-out feeling, a trial will convince you of their merit. W. A. Null of Webb, Ill., writes: "My children suffered for more than a year with chills and fever; then two bottles of Electric Bitters cured them." Only 50 cents. Try them. Guaranteed. Almer N. Blazer, son of Dr. J. F. Blazer, lately deceased, one of the oldest of the old-timers, has brought suit against Walter McM. Luttrell, United States Indian agent to the Mescalero Indian agency, to recover damages and to restrain the agent from interfering with the complainant in his possession of certain lands on the Indian reservation. It appears that there are a number of settlers, of whom Mr. Blazer is one, who located lands in that section before the reservation was established, but who while tolerated by the Indian officer have not heretofore been able to secure title; and that the Indian agent, whether or not sanctioned by his superiors at Washington remains to be seen, has undertaken to remove the settlers from the reservation. This suit will determine the status of the lands in question and is of great importance. Messrs. Wade & Llewellyn represent the settlers, and it is presumed the United States district attorney for New Mexico will appear for the defendant.

The district court, Judge Parker presiding, will open its session at Alamogordo Monday. This will prove to be an important term of the court, as it will be the first court held in Otero county since its organization, and it is reported that there is a considerable amount of criminal business to be disposed of. Among the cases are two murder trials and an ugly case of incest. Attorney E. C. Wade will represent the territory in the absence of Major Llewellyn, the district attorney, who is still sick and confined to his bed.

Would You Like This?

The author of "Wild Flowers of California" gives an entertaining account of how the Indians prepare for food a plant that is commonly called Indian lettuce. It will be recalled that formic acid takes its name from the red ant, and that acid was first obtained from the insect.

The Placer county Indians greedily eat the succulent leaves and stems of their "lettuce." Their way of preparing the plant for food is novel. Gathering the leaves, they lay these about the entrances to the nests of certain large red ants. The ants, swarming out, run all over the plants. After a time the Indians shake the ants off the leaves, satisfied that the lettuce now has a pleasant sour taste, equaling that which might be given it by vinegar.

How to Bake Eggs in Tomatoes.

Cut the tops from a number of firm tomatoes and carefully remove the seeds. Break into each a raw egg, dust with salt and pepper, sprinkle with chopped parsley and place in a hot oven until set. Serve each with a spoonful of cream sauce.

AT LENOX.

In her gorgeous courts raiment,
On the club's cuchre-lam court,
Little guessed I that one day meant
More to me than idle sport.
There it was we met in summer,
Up among the Berkshire hills,
Where I went to a mountain,
Seeking rest from care and ills.

She, a belle of many seasons,
Had admirers by the score,
And in vain, for certain reasons,
Numbered me as just one more.
On the drive we met at sunrise
In the morning, then at noon
We would meet again, so full, time
Did not move a whit too soon.

There were hours when I felt lonely,
Calling life a hollow thing
Till we met again, then only—
Time flew by on love's light wing.
At the high teas, receptions, dances,
I was one of many men,
Who, as suppliants for her glances,
Voted all things else a bore.

And I loved her wildly, madly,
Yet my heart I could not stir,
Though I felt that I would gladly
Call the world well lost for her.
Did she love me? Love's a pension
Looked upon as out of date;
Thus I halted in a fashion,
Dating not to learn my fate.

While she smiled on me so kindly,
Was so dear and sweet—but then
I could see, although half blindly,
Twas the same with other men,
Until I, the foolish fellow,
Fell within the net she spread,
And unfortunately I, like
Charles the Second, lost my head.

I proposed and was—rejected.
Though she said that she would be
A dear sister—I, dejected,
Told her I'd already three.
All my summer's joy was ended,
All the brightness passed away,
And the hills, before so splendid
In their green, had turned to gray.
