To Farmers and Others.

IONA VINES AND IONA SEEDLINGS.—My stock comprises a full assortment of all the valuable varieties of hardy vines, which have been propagated with the utmost care, to develop all of the qualities that constitute them valuable for hardiness and productiveness in garden and vineyard.
By care and attention, with appliances greatly surpassing those of any other establishment, I have for a series of years been able each year to make some improvement on the productions of the preceding, and the past season I offered as gratifying a degree of improvement as any of those which have gone before. My stock is, therefore, the largest and have gone before. My stock is, therefore, the largest and best that I have ever offered, and the prices are lower than the actual cost would be to produce vines of like quality without the extraordinary facilities which have been provided at Iona Island.
The very great superiority possessed by the Iona vines over all others is clearly proved by the most abundant testimony from all quarters, from years of trial in gardens and vineyards throughout the country.
For full particulars, including also directions for planting, see Descriptive Catalogue, which will be sent for a two-cent stamp.
The Illustrated Catalogue, seventh extensively revised edition, which contains full directions for all that pertains to the preparation of the ground and management of the vine in garden and vineyard, with many explanatory engravings, accurately drawn to a scale from living vines, will be sent for three 3-cent stamps. It is the most comprehensive practical treatise on the vine that has been published in this country. More than twenty new engravings are added to this edition.
IONA SEEDLINGS.
I also offer two new vines, which originated from seed with me, and have been thoroughly tested during the past six seasons in bearing.
One, named IONA, bears a large bunch, with large berries; is of a very peculiar wine color, with few and very small seeds, and is of uniform consistency throughout its flesh, from outside to center, and more nearly resembles the Red Frontignan in appearance and quality than any other grape. It is transparent, fleshy, and tender, like the Frontignan, and is even more spirited and vinous in its flavor, and makes more spirited wine. It does not shrivel, but may be kept all Winter on the shelves in the fruit-room, ripening firmly to the bunch, and drying readily to raisins.
It is an early and profuse bearer, never having failed to ripen a full crop, and has never been affected with rot or any unhealthiness. It bore and thoroughly ripened a great number of bunches the third season from the seed.
The habit of the vine is the very best, and I would not know in what respect to ask to have it altered to make it more valuable.
Season of ripening fully two weeks before the Isabella. By flowering late it avoids danger from Spring frosts.
The ISABELLA is a large black grape, that ripens one week before the Iona, and, like it, is a very late keeper, holding firmly to the bunch, and, when fully ripe, becoming sweet quite to the center. It is very rich, sugary, and vinous, with a very excellent and peculiar flavor.
The vine is very healthy in its foliage, hardy, and productive, and bears early. Plants but one year old are now ripening from four to six large bunches each.
For further particulars see Catalogues.

AUCTION SALE OF
TIMBER LIMITS,
Near Montreal, Canada.
Will be sold by Auction on WEDNESDAY, 30th September, the following valuable TIMBER LIMITS, one hundred and seventy-two square miles, belonging to the late firm of F. Mitchill & Co., in liquidation, and situated on the River Jacques-cartier, behind Rawdon, in the County of Montcalm.
There is a large quantity of PINE which can be made either into saw logs or square timber. It is chiefly of large size and superior quality, owing to the hardwood soil and rolling character of the country. SPRUCE also abounds and from the same causes is of an unusual size. There is besides Tamarac, Cedar and Hardwood timber of various kinds.
The haulage is comparatively easy, and the main river generally favorable for driving.
A great advantage of these limits is that provisions and provender &c., can be delivered at the shanties at Montreal prices, owing to the Rawdon settlement being not further than 25 miles from the greatest body of Pine.
Terms liberal. For inspection of plans and further information apply to COURT & MACINTOSH, Accountants, Montreal.
Sale at 1 o'clock, at the Office of the Subscribers.

THE SIOUX AND WINNEBAGO
INDIAN CHIEFS,
WARRIORS AND SQUAWS, who, though representatives of
THE WARLIKE TRIBES
of the wilds of Minnesota, are, and always have been,
STEADFAST FRIENDS OF THE WHITES.
A most attractive auxiliary is just added to their number in the person of NONAQUATA—GODDESS OF NIGHT;
THE POCAHONTAS OF THE WEST,
an Indian Girl of the Crow tribe, which inhabits the Rocky Mountain regions. She is very beautiful, remarkably intelligent, and with the others makes
THE MOST INTERESTING INDIAN EXHIBITION ever witnessed in the borders of civilization.
They will all be on exhibition at all hours, day and evening, and at intervals give various Dances, Songs, and other representations of the
PECULIARITIES OF INDIAN LIFE.
A SPLENDID GROUP OF MOVING WAX FIGURES,
Imported from Europe, representing
DON CARLOS AND HIS SUITE encamped in the Mountains at old Castile, including the DYING SCENE OF THE SPANISH CHIEF, ZUMALCARREGUI,
Surrounded by his Wife, Sister, Son, Don Miguel, Don Antonio, and other notables, including the Monk, the Cardinal, &c., &c. The most interesting group of Wax Figures ever exhibited in America. The motions of the various figures are astonishingly natural; the dying man's convulsive breathing; the distress depicted on the countenances of the wife and child; the old monk's reading; the sturdy soldiers weeping; are all true to nature, and strike the beholder with awe and admiration.
It is an exhibition at all hours.
