MR. BRYAN VISITS BRADFORD COUNTY

Delivered Address in Starke Wednesday Evening.

Hon Nathan P. Bryan, candidate for United States senator, delivered an address at the court house in Starke Wednesday evening.

Mr. Bryan came up by automobile from Gainesville Wednesday morning. He was met at Hampton by a party of friends from Starke and spent a couple of hours there, meeting and conversing with citizens of the town and surrounding country. After a hurried dinner in Starke he left for Lake Butler, accompanied by Messrs. A. V. Long and L. D. Wall, of this city. The party returned late in the afternoon and Mr. Bryan spoke in this city at 8 o'clock p. m. He was introduced by Mr. Long and proceeded at once to the discussion of some of the more important national issues. The address lasted for more than an hour and commanded the close attention of his hearers.

It is impossible for the Telegraph to give the address in full or even a fair synopsis, owing to the very heavy demands on our space this week. It is only fair to Bryan to say, however, that he created a fine impression on his hearers and made new friends among them.

In Honor of Mrs. Miller.

Hampton, Fla., Dec. 7.—Sunday, the 4th inst., Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Miller entertained a delightful party at dinner in honor of their mother, Mrs. M. R. Miller, of Brinson, Ga.

Plates were laid for Rev. J. M. Deveneau and twelve ladies. The dining table was beautifully decorated with roses, carnations and ferns. At each plate was a pretty rosebud, which was pinned to each guest as they took their places at the table, resulting in a most pleasing picture, as all the ladies wore black gowns.

The menu consisted of green peas, roast turkey, Irish potatoes, roast ham, sweet potatoes, fried chicken, rice, bread, preserves, ambrosia cake and coffee.

After dinner the guests repaired to the living room, where a delightful afternoon was enjoyed.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. Deveneau, Mesdames Seals, Wise, Manire, Wiley Jones, Prevatt, Adams, Nimmo, Sally Saxon, Haynes, and the guest of honor Mrs. M. R. Miller.

At the close of the day the guests departed for their homes wishing Dr. and Mrs. Miller many returns of such pleasant gatherings.

Young Folks Enjoyed Candy Stew.

A candy pulling was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lamb, in the northern part of town, last Friday evening in honor of their daughters, Misses Mamie and Josephine Lamb. The entertainment was gotten up by the following young people: Misses Evelyn Andreu, Carrie and Grace Uglow, Freida Raue, Jennie-Maud Hodges, Eva Powell, Ida Stearns, Ruth Wainright, Anna Pinholster; Messrs. Lester Stearns, Ruric Wells, Harry Miner, Joe Traby, Bryant Hodges, —. Dukes, Henry Boseman, Cosmo Alvarez, Fred Campbell, Lorenzo Green. The party was a very enjoyable one.

At the meeting of the council Monday night the following candidates qualified and their names were ordered printed on the official ballots for the election to be held Thursday, December 15th:

For mayor, C. F. Hoover; for aldermen, E. P. Duncan, N. D. Wainright and E. S. Matthews; for clerk, C. A. Futch; for treasurer, A. S. Crews; for assessor, T. W. Sweat; for marshal, L. H. Austin; for night marshal, Ed Burnsed and Silas Kite.

Curious Baths in Penang.

One of the many things that strike the tourist as curious at Penang is the type of baths with which the hotels are provided. Penang is in the Straits Settlements, a British crown colony in the Malay peninsula, deriving its name from the straits of Malacca, which form the great trade route between India and China. From each of the first class rooms opens a dark, cement paved, damp smelling little room which serves as the bath. In it is an immense jar of porous brown earthenware about five feet high, nearly three feet in diameter in the middle and but one and a half feet in diameter at the top. It stands huge and graceful of outline, but dark and uninviting, and is full to the brim with water, not, however, to get into. Near it are a supply of soft soap and a long handled quart dipper. The proper procedure is to soap the body well, then throw several dippers of water over it, repeating the process until satisfied. There is water enough to keep it up for an hour or so, and there is a huge crash towel as large as a sheet to wrap up in when the bath is over.—Detroit News-Tribune.

Ruined by Prosperity.

"Dar now!" exclaimed Brother Dickey. "You see what prosperity does fer a pusson, don't you? Look at dat man yonder. W'en he wus po' he wus happy, but he won a prize er $10, an' fum dat day ter dis he ain't knowed what peace is! His wife wanted ter buy a hat wid de money an' he wanted to go into de bankin' business, an' dars whar de row started. An' it ain't likely dat it'll stop soon either. An' all on account er strikin' sudden riches by winnin' dat ten dollar prize. May de good Lawd keep me po' an' peaceful!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Clever Fish Hawks.

Turks around the Bosporus amuse themselves by playing pitch and catch with the hungry fish hawks. They throw high in the air a lump of raw meat, and the hawks pounce upon the meat, before it strikes the ground and make away with it to the little apes.

A SMALL INCOME

Prudently and systematically cared for will accumulate a competence for a happy old age. A large income, recklessly squandered in high living and for unnecessary expense, will waste a competence, leaving nothing for the comforts and necessities of later years.

An account at a home bank furnishes the EASIEST and SAFEST way to handle your income with prudence and system.

Your account will receive proper attention and be insured at the

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many a Starke Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Starke people testify to this.

Mrs. J. J. Chaplin, Starke, Fla., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a great deal of good. I suffered from a kidney weakness for a long time. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage and my back ached almost constantly, making it impossible for me to find a position that was comfortable. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Starke Drug Co. and began their use. They soon removed the backache and it was not long before the lameness and soreness left. The kidney secretions are now regular in passage and I am feeling better in every way. You are at liberty to publish this testimonial."

A Tale of Three Men Told by a Fourth Who There—A True Story of an Actual Occurrence Words as They Were Spoken.

At the railroad station in a Florida town men recently met and while waiting for the they were all to board discussed politics in eral and the Florida senatorial succession in ticular.

They were all men of intelligence and seemed really interested in the final outcome the present three-cornered fight for senat honors.

One of these men was a commercial trave the usual bright, jolly type; another was a to-do farmer, a worthy representative of best and happiest vocation; the third was a chant, who had ideas and ideals of politics as well as of busin

"Who is going to be our next United States senator?"

The question was put by the drummer. The merchant look the farmer, but was first with the answer. Said the merchant:

"Well, sir, I think it will be Bryan, though, candidly, I think ought to be Stockton."

The farmer still silent, the drummer said to the merchant:

"I agree with you that it ought to be Stockton, but I have decided to try Blount this time. I have voted for John Stock long and so often, always losing my vote, that I have almost cluded there is no chance for him to be elected, and I don't forever be on the losing side."

The merchant was about to reply when the farmer spoke up

"Gentlemen, pardon me, but I think you are both wrong."

"No apologies needed," said both the others; "we want opinion; let us have it."

"Well, gentlemen," said the farmer, "I feel that I have lost a vote in my life, although only twice have I seen my can for president elected. I have voted for John Stockton every could because he stood for the true democratic principle, and pect to keep on voting for him until he is elected. I see reason to drop Stockton than to drop the democratic party of several defeats.

"By holding on and keeping up the demoratic party years we are now almost certain to elect a democratic pres 1912, and by holding on and keeping on voting for Stockton long a time, I feel sure that we will land him in the United senate next January."

"Good for our farmer friend," said the drummer. "I fees that there is logic in his argument."

"More truth than poetry," said the merchant.

After all were seated comfortably in the smoking room train the merchant addressed the drummer thus:

"Bill, we must all confess that what is needed in States senators are just the qualities that John Stockton His ability and energy are unquestioned, his strict integrity mitted even by his political enemies.

"He has made politics a study, as no other man in Fl He is a man of affairs. He could soon be a millionaire if only for himself. But he has been for a quarter of a friend and defender of the common people, and he would doubt, be a godsend to Florida and a credit to the should become United States senator."

"I believe you are right," answered the drummer, Blount and Bryan are both good men, I am sure that Fl ers do not owe to either or both combined what they owe fearless, wise and honest friend, John Stockton.

"Now, let us all three say, here and now and wherever

"'VOTE FOR JOHN STOCKTON.'"

The three men agreed.

Not to let a good example fail of good result, it would all to join in the movement that is gathering momentum and adopt the slogan—

"LET'S PUT STOCKTON IN THIS TIME."
