New Orleans Daily Crescent.

Louisiana Intelligence.

The Amite City Louisiana Star calls on the merchants and business men of that place to repair the back swamp road, which it says is in wretched condition. Nearly three-fourths of the Amite trade comes over that road, and some of it has been diverted in consequence of its present condition. The establishing and maintaining of good roads is an indispensable element of prosperity everywhere; and the call of the Star upon its citizens might be made and attended to with great advantage in only too many places.

The Star, publishing the labor laws of the late session of the Legislature, says they "are equal and just, and excellent in all their provisions;" and further on says:

These five laws are an imperishable witness to Louisiana's honor, and must add to the growing conviction of the general government that Southmen must be trusted, and that in their hands the interests of the freedmen are secure. The time is near at hand when these laws alone will govern in Louisiana.

Referring to the vagrant law, the Star says:

Numbers of idle freedmen throng our streets daily, while planters are on the busy hunt for laborers. Let this law be enforced at once, and they will not hunt in vain. Let it also be understood that its provisions embrace white as well as black vagrants. We have no use for drones in the hives now, be they white or black. The man who won't labor must be compelled to labor. We trust that our authorities will take the matter in hand at once.

The Planters' Banner, of Franklin, St. Mary's parish, publishes an editorial correspondence from the city. It commences by noting that the writer left home on Friday—an unlucky day—and further on thus reports the accident which befel him on his reaching New Orleans:

As the railroad ferry boat landed on the New Orleans side of the river I missed my carpet-bag, but found another lying in its place. Supposing the owner of the one left behind had taken mine through a mistake, I rushed quickly out to correct the error, if possible. It was about half past seven o'clock P. M. and quite dark. A small lantern—not a brilliant pitchwood—cast a few friendly rays upon the plank passage from the ferry boat to the barge. Thence to the passage from the barge to the wharf which led obliquely across the barge, there was no reliable light, but there was a very unreliable pit made by open hatches. I saw no pit, and supposed there was no danger, and remembered of no fall; but I an credibly informed that I made a fearful plunge down into the bowels of that barge, about eight feet, headforemost. In perhaps ten or fifteen minutes I recognized my friends Van Vinson and B. Berwick by my side taking me to some more commodious harbor. Upon inquiring where I was, I was informed that it was in New Orleans. I could not then remember the name of a hotel in the city, and was taken to the St. Charles. Before I arrived, consciousness was fully restored. A miserable gash was cut from my right eyebrow obliquely across my forehead to the left, and I had a regular bursting headache with vomiting for twenty-four hours or more, but was not scarred or bruised in any other part of the body. I was in bed for sixty hours, but was well enough, as I supposed, to be on the streets on business on Tuesday and Wednesday, and acted accordingly.

The writer pays a merited compliment to the status and abilities of Dr. Choppin, who attended him.

In the same correspondence we find the following items:

Nothing new at Brashear City. The usual complaint was heard that laborers are scarce, and idlers refuse to work on any terms. There is some talk of the railroad changing hands, but the report is generally doubted. There are some prospects of an early time of steamers from Brashear City to the month of the Sabine, thence to communicate with the Houston Railroad by small river boats.

On the railroad to Algiers but little signs of industry. Some say considerable preparation is being made for the coming crops, but I saw no proofs of it. Saw many idle negroes on the route, some miserable huts and shantes springing up and occupied by unthrifty idlers, but no signs of the dawning of old time industry and prosperity. I saw citizens of Terrebonne parish on the cars. They give a gloomy account of prospects in that parish.

The Banner has a couple of articles in reference to the appointment or reappointment of Lieut. Merril as Freedmen's Bureau Agent for St. Mary, which we give below, slightly condensed:

Lieut. Merril had been acting as Provost Marshal in this parish for several months before Col. Jones was sent here, and he gave general satisfaction as a faithful, efficient and energetic agent of the government. He has done more to reconcile the employer and the employed, and to put labor in motion on the plantations of St. Mary than all the other Provost Marshals put together. We believe he has rendered an immense service to both the white and black population of St. Mary. It would be a great misfortune to the parish to lose his services at the present time.

A petition has been set in motion to reinstate Col. Jones as Provost Marshal, and to relieve Lieut. Merril. It had when we saw it, but six or eight signatures, and we hope it will get no more. We do not understand why any of our citizens should wish to set aside a faithful agent of the freedmen's bureau, like Lieut. Merril, for a man of the peculiar character of Col. Jones. He has done just what an honest and sensible citizen of St. Mary would think he his duty to do. He had done all that any one could do to start the plows and hoes of the parish before Col. Jones arrived here. There was a "wheel within a wheel" in Col. Jones's mission to this parish. And we can tell Col. Jones that we would just as soon discuss that little wheel in our columns as not. We have enough of his record to feel that he is not the man for St. Mary, and he can keep our advice and interference for such views if he wishes them, in the most public manner possible.

The Banner says the small pox is at several places on the Teche above and below Franklin, and in some black families in the rear of the town. It seldom troubles the white population. Last year it spread over the parish extensively, remaining for months in the negro quarters of one plantation. The Banner intimates that the disease is sweeping of the improvident, unfortunate negroes at a sad rate.

The Baton Rouge Gazette complains of the annoyance and danger incurred by the discharging of fire arms within the city limits, and refers to a case in which the lives of several persons were endangered by the guard firing at an individual who did not halt on being called on by a sentinel.

The same paper thus paints the lively times being enjoyed by the busy Redstickers:

Our city presents an unusually active and bustling scene at present. The streets and thoroughfares are thronged with the disbodied men, both white and colored, who but recently formed a portion of Uncle Sam's large household, but who now are fast returning to the peaceful walks and pursuits of civil life. Steamers come and go, almost every hour of the day, crowded with passengers and freight. Our merchants, who are having a rich harvest of it, are constantly receiving heavy supplies of goods to meet the wants and accumulating demands of their swarms of customers. Capt. Scott's coal depot is doing a brisk and flourishing business in supplying steamers with bushels of "black diamonds." Everybody seems bent on doing something, and everything the most attractive scenes bound to have everybody come and see it.

The Natchitoches Times, of the 13th instant, has the following paragraphs:

We have no returns of the election of our Senator. Is our friend Dr. S. O. Scruggs elected, or not? Natchitoches has voted en masse for him, but nothing is known from the other parishes.

A conflict exists about the new system of labor between the civil and military authorities. According to our views, we think the military orders ought to govern for the present.

Since our last issue we learn that the planters have entered into their contracts with the freedmen. On many plantations the laborers are already at work. Generally speaking, they have changed hands, few of them remaining at the same places.

We learn that several invoices of cotton from this parish, having not previously satisfied the government duty of two cents per pound, as per new rule, have been stopped by the authorities at Alexandria and Baton Rouge, the boat unloaded, and finally permitted again to be reshipped at the planter's expense. Since the above, we are informed that this cruel order has been repealed.

Many parties from Texas, Mississippi and other points intend to locate on Red River. Several large plantations have been rented already at a fair price. The soil of this parish is very rich and well adapted to the cotton plant. The immigration, which is reported very extensive from the North, ought to inquire about our lands before settling elsewhere. They will find it to their advantage, as the prices asked for lands is smaller in proportion to any other locality, where the sugar cane can be raised. There is plenty room here for any new comers, let them bring us their energy. This is our strong power these days.

A late attempt to subjugate a schoolmaster in Livermore, Maine, resulted in the teacher drawing a pistol and maintaining his dignity vi et armis. The disturbers paid seventy-five dollars to settle the matter.

MEDICAL.

DR. J. WHITE'S INSTITUTE—
127 CARONDELET STREET.
In rear of the City Hall.
The first aim of human beings is happiness, and happiness implies health of body and mind.
Dr. White's experience and success for thirty-one years, in an extensive practice in large cities, have brought to him for treatment a vast amount of every form of disease, both acute and chronic.
His remedies restore the stomach, liver and blood, and all secretions and excretions of the entire system to unhealthy to a healthy condition. Instead of injuring any part of the system or the constitution, they renovate and repair the injuries and wastes of the entire organism; with truly a sound mind in a sound body.
The Institute is established for the cure of all acute and chronic diseases, viz: Rheumatics, Colds, Coughs, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Asthma, Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Liver, Spleen, Stomach, Bowels; Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, King's Evil, White Swellings; all Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancers, Tilas, Fistula, Syphilis and Gonorrhea in all their stages, Mercurial and hereditary taint, all radical impurities of the Blood, Jaundice, Diseases of the Eyes, Brain, Goitre, (Big Neck) Diseases of the Kidneys, Gravel, Diabetis, Tropical Diseases, all Female Ailments, Weakness, Wasting and Nervous Affections; Sick, Nervous and Sun Headache; Depression of Spirits, Hippocondria, Hysterics, Fits or spasms. We repeat, the worst eruptions of the skin, all sorts of ulcers, of whatever nature, to the incipient Cancer, which so grievously afflict humanity, are speedily and permanently cured.
Under two hours spent at the Institute with Dr. White frequently save weeks of fever or other sufferings—often life.
Now that communication is open again, he receives calls personally and by letter as formerly from all parts of the country.
Consultation free—stamps not "forgotten."

THE RICHMOND MEDICAL JOURNAL, Richmond, Va.—This journal will be published as a Monthly Octavo of 80 pages, the January number being issued early in December.
A respectable number of the best writers in this country have promised their support, (an examination display of names is enclosed) and as the Editors offer to pay liberally for articles, it is hoped that the original departments of the Journal will be entitled to respect and confidence.
The pages of the Journal will be devoted to Original Articles, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence, a Retrospect of Medicine and Surgery during the late war, an Eclectic Department, (which will be a prime feature of the Journal.) Reports of Societies, Abstracts, Hospitals, and Clinical Lectures, Reviews and Bibliographical Notices, Medical News, Editorials, Miscellaneous Matter, etc.
Without making special promises, the Editors will endeavor to make the Journal acceptable to its supporters.
Terms—Five Dollars yearly, if paid in advance, or before the expiration of the third month after the date of subscription; if paid after the first period, Ten Dollars per annum.
Advertisements will be inserted on the most liberal terms, and as there are no Medical Journals now published in the Southern States, advertisers will enjoy peculiar advantages.
E. S. GAILLARD, M. D., Richmond, Va.
W. S. MOHLENKEY, M. D., Staunton, Va.
Editors and Publishers.
All letters in relation to the literary or pecuniary interests of the Journal will be addressed to Dr. E. S. GAILLARD, Box 182, Richmond, Va.
